WE DEDICATE...

this annual to our Business Manager, C. D. DeCan, who, for six years, has worked unceasingly to bring Spring Arbor to the status of a successful, thriving school. Constantly keeping his one goal in mind, he has, with unselfish sacrifice, pursued his course with determination and dependability. With deep appreciation, the student body of Spring Arbor Seminary and Junior College wish to dedicate this ECHO.
“Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go keep her; for she is thy life.”
Proverbs 4:13
Among our number are those whose Christian lives constantly spur us on to better things. To overestimate the value of the faculty is impossible. It is to them we turn for help in time of discouragement and in them we find inspiration for our search after deeper and richer planes of living.

Wilfred came to Spring Arbor in the fall of 1937, filled with eager anticipation, the anticipation that every young person experiences as he enters college life for the first time. Placed under a handicap from the first, Wilfred let his light shine to spread cheer when, seemingly, there could be no cheer for him. It was this quality, so deeply imbedded in his personality, that endeared him to the student body as a whole. As he lived with us in the school family, and took his part in school activities, his spirit was to be admired. We honor you, Wilfred!

"Study to show thyself approved unto God; a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth."

Can it be possible that our "College Freshman days" are coming to a close? It seems only yesterday that we were meeting for the first time our fellow classmates.
And yet, when we stop to think, many events have taken place since that first day of school at Spring Arbor.

The picnics, parties, class hikes, sleigh-rides and "what-not" were greatly enjoyed by all. Our advisor, Professor Schwarzentraub, has done nobly by our class. The basketball games, too, created much enthusiasm; and rightly so, for both the girls' and boys' teams scored very high at the end of the tournaments, the boys winning the championship. Truly every member of the class willingly co-operated in making this a pleasant year.

However, some of our activities were of a different nature. We would not forget the prayer-meetings in which the presence of God was really manifested. These were times when we were confident of being drawn closer to our Master. Yes, ours was a spiritual class.

We first anticipated—then enjoyed the reality—and now are gazing back on the trail behind us—Freshman days at Spring Arbor. What happiness these memories afford us! Perhaps our paths will lead in different directions and we will be sep­ parated from one another for a time; but even so, we will always remember our associations together—mere acquaintances which ripened into undying friendships—congenial atmosphere—all that goes to make school life more enjoyable.

Graduates 1940

Graduates 1940
It was September again, and once more Spring Arbor's campus was the scene of much activity. After the registration was over, we found ourselves with fourteen wide awake Sophomores, some old members and a few new ones.

One of the first things that we did after organizing our class was to choose a class advisor. We considered ourselves very fortunate in securing Miss Williams for this position, who was a great help to us throughout the year.

This year seemed to go faster than last year: hikes, studies, games, and meetings occupied all of our time.

So once more we find ourselves ready to leave Spring Arbor, having advanced another big step in our educational building program.

HIGH SCHOOL SOPHOMORES 40

Our Sophomore year started off with seven boys and two girls. We chose Miss Stone as our class advisor, and we feel that she has helped us very much by her untiring efforts and spiritual living.

We stood well up in school representation, one of our members winning the High School Declamatory Contest. Because of the smallness of our class, we had to help the Juniors out in the athletic contests.

And so with these events holding the spotlight for us, together with our studies and spiritual work, the year passed rapidly.

Once more we must say good-bye to friends and faculty members. But after spending two years in Spring Arbor, we feel that we must come back next year and seek for something deeper, that will help us in our educational project.
We arrived in Spring Arbor the second day of September to begin our school life. By the end of the first week we were well adjusted to our new surroundings, as the activities of the school got under way. We feel we made a very wise choice in picking Mr. and Mrs. DeCan as our class advisors. They have been a great help to us during the year. Now, here we are, ready to close our first year in Spring Arbor. Our Freshman days are over; but now that we have tested Spring Arbor life, we are awaiting with much anticipation for the reopening of school in September so that we may continue our days here in Spring Arbor.

It was with much anticipation that we started our school life in Spring Arbor. At the beginning of the year, green as we were, we feel that we made an excellent choice by choosing Mr. and Mrs. DeCan for our class advisors. From the opening of school, we found that there was plenty to do, and very soon adjusted ourselves to Spring Arbor life. After a very full first week, we settled down to a year of "hard" study, and with the activities of the school, spiritual, social, athletic, we found the weeks slipping into months. Now, we find ourselves at the end of our first year in high school. Behind us lies many pleasant memories of good times spent in Spring Arbor. We are all looking forward to many more happy years here.

Activities In Spring Arbor

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The music interest at Spring Arbor plays an important part in the activities of the school. The student learns to appreciate the real value of a high quality type of music, not only in piano work, but also in voice. The A Cappella Chorus and other vocal interests attract many students as well as the music department. Yes, the music interest here at Spring Arbor is very high.

RELIGION

We feel that the religious life in Spring Arbor is a very complete one. Our Y. P. M. S. has a very large enrollment. The county farm, and jail services, as well as a small Sunday School, give us an excellent chance to spread His Word. The noon-day prayer meetings and Student prayer meetings have indeed been a great inspiration to every student.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

Debating and Speech are the only interscholastic activities in which the school participates. The high school has had a very excellent team the past two years. Alpha Sigma Theta, the College debating organization, has been a great help to those students who have been interested in the development of debating and speaking ability.

ATHLETICS

Athletics, likewise, play a very important part in the activities of our school. Although we do not have interscholastic sports, we do have some very interesting interclass games. During the past two years we have enjoyed many exciting games on the athletic field as well as in our gymnasium. Basketball, soccer, indoor baseball, tennis, track and volley ball are the outstanding sports played at Spring Arbor.
MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The appreciation for the higher and nobler things in life has been waning. Everyone seemingly is satisfied with the cheap and frivolous offerings of this world. Music of this age proves this to be true. Music is the expression of our emotions and thoughts. It comes spontaneously from within. The purpose of our music department is to help cultivate a desire for higher type Music, to appreciate the better things offered in music, not this “jazzy,” “swingy” noise of this age; not only to cultivate desire for the better type of music, but training with a purpose—preparations for service.

Spring Arbor Seminary and Junior College has been interested in training her young people to be able to sing correctly. To make it more interesting, definite goals have been set before them. The A Cappella has proven to be a strong incentive to many. Not only this, but quartets, women's, men's and mixed, trios and solo work, many have found to be profitable and interesting. This year, with the return of the A Cappella, the focus of the students' attention seems to be wholly in this direction.

Knowing how to sing correctly is not the only phase of music that is taught, but the technical side as well. Solfege and harmony courses have drawn attention to those more musically minded.

The piano department has increased rapidly. The value of this course cannot be estimated, but continues to pay dividends.

Once again the A Cappella Chorus has become a living factor in the campus life at Spring Arbor. For three years, breaking a precedent established for nine years, the Chorus ceased to hold the place of prominence that it once had in the number of extra-curricular activities.

It becomes extremely difficult to put a true estimate upon the value of the Chorus to an active member. The depth of meaning carried throughout each of the hymns, imbued with the Holy Spirit, is of such a nature that its grip upon the human heart is not soon forgotten. A person's nature is irresistibly drawn closer to Him, the source of all life's melody.
MALE QUARTETTE

For a year and a half, the Male Quartette has represented S. A. throughout the five patronizing conferences that compose our territory. Traveling with our Business Manager, Brother DeCan, we have enjoyed the privilege of singing the gospel to one hundred and fifty different congregations within a radius of five hundred miles. This entails a sizeable amount of traveling, our total for this period being 12,000 miles. Work of this nature affords many ups and downs with many and varied experiences accompanying them. Some high points to be remembered—meeting new people, and above all, the response of the heart to a musical and spiritual contribution. Many, many services have been climaxed by the blessing of the Lord "which maketh rich, and He addeth no sorrow with it."

Probably the favorite numbers would be:

Sacred—"On the Jericho Road"
Secular—"The Story of a Tack."

In an era where everyone enjoys the right to speak for himself, the ability to fit our opinion into the dominant pattern is the pertinent demand today. Co-operation in every walk of life is essential for our lives which are too interwoven to make it possible for anyone to expect his will to be carried out without question. Webster says, "Co-operation is the association of a number of persons for their common benefit, or collective action in pursuit of common well-being." At Spring Arbor Junior College we seek the best good of all if backed by a motive for the well-being of all concerned. Therefore it is fitting that we have a student-faculty co-operative governing body.

This select group consists of a representative group of both students and faculty. Two members of the faculty are elected by the faculty to co-operate with a group of students, one from each class, who are chosen by popular class elections. In this manner students are given the opportunity to propose legislation. This method of government helps students and faculty alike to get a better perspective of the problems constantly confronting the other group. This organization has functioned well in the past, having been of mutual aid to the students and faculty.

We are glad for the Y. P. M. S. and for what it means to each young person. It has offered a place for spiritual development. As in our physical development, we not only have to eat, but we also must exercise in spiritual things. The young people of Spring Arbor are blessed with rich preaching, Regionals, revivals, and many other special services. Plenty of food, and then how great the need for exercise. The Y. P. M. S. is for this very purpose, an outlet so that we might develop spiritually. Every Christian young person is given, as nearly as possible, a chance to take part in the Sunday evening programs. Prayer meetings at noon and pre-service prayer meetings are sources of strength and help. The county farm and jail services have not only been a blessing to the inmates of these institutions, but to the young people going to them. Much definite work has been done among these people. Our jail services have been marked with the presence of God, resulting in conversions. Other services are also held outside the school, which have proven to be of great benefit. These things enumerated are only a few of the outlets we have to do actual service in the Vineyard of God.

The executive committee of 1940 wishes to express its appreciation for the cooperation of our superintendent, Mrs. Cutler, Rev. Cunningham, the local pastor, and the student body.

The Bible Department is composed of a large group of consecrated young people who feel a call to some special religious work and others who feel the need of Biblical knowledge to meet the arguments of modernism and skepticism.

Professor Griswold has proved to be not only an excellent teacher in his various subjects, but also a wonderful inspiration and uplift to all the young people of the school.

President Lowell continues to be the blessing he has been in the past years in digging “nuggets of gold” out of the Word of God. Surely the presence of the Master Teacher has been with our teachers of the Word of God.

John Ruskin said, when speaking of the Bible, “I count it very confidently the most precious and, on the whole, the one essential part of all my education.” And we, the members of the Bible Department, feel that the knowledge and inspiration received from the Bible and Godly instructors of Spring Arbor will be the ground work for profitable service when we go out to the fields, which are truly “white already to harvest.”
The purpose of the Alpha Sigma Theta Debate Club, since its organization, has been the development of debating and speaking ability. Just what do these words, Alpha Sigma Theta, mean to us? Each word carries a connotation that is necessary to lend a greater meaning to the name of our illustrious organization. Theta stands for thought. Emerson says, "Thought is the seed of action." Without thought the world would be in chaos. It is our aim to fit young people for future life by teaching them to think out their own perplexities and problems.

Sigma, the second word, is linked with the first. From the pen of Byron, "Constant thought will overflow in words unconsciously." Speech is but the process of thinking in an audible manner, culminating in action which is suggested by the word Alpha. Action has been the theme word in various enterprises that the club has sponsored. This year, the Club undertook a regular debating schedule, meeting such schools as Fordson, Flint, Jackson, Muskegon and Bay City. Participating in the Pi Rho Phi meet at Detroit, the team carried off several honors.

At our regular weekly meetings, we have enjoyed some intensely interesting and enlightening programs. Breakfast hikes and sleigh rides have added their bit to make the years most enjoyable. All in all, we feel it a very worth while and educational organization.

It's good to learn to think on one's feet. Debate develops one's ability to think in defense of his own beliefs; to understand both sides of a question. Its values are priceless! The experience one receives in itself is sufficient to warrant one's taking debate, and it will more than pay for the hours spent in studying the material.

In looking back over the last two years of debate in Spring Arbor, we find that they have been very successful. Last year our team went up to the first eliminations of the State tournament, having won all of their preliminary debates. This year's team repeated the performance, except they were defeated by Albion in a regional tournament. These teams brought home two handsome trophies awarded by the Detroit Free Press for excellence in high school debating.

Betty McConnell, Virgil Young and Jean Brewer composed the first team of last year. This year's team included DeForest, Cutler, Betty McConnell and Evelyn Cochrane.

Mrs. Miller was coach of these two splendid teams. She has worked wonders with the team, coaching in delivery and instilling a confidence in ourselves. We have gained valuable experience and learned the essentials of good speaking.
BOYS' BASKETBALL

Soccer and indoor baseball have their places, but basketball is the game which takes first place in the student's heart at Spring Arbor. This year was no exception when it comes to a sensational season. The College Sophs came through with a blameless record, having a high-scoring aggregation in Wickens, Graybill, West, Kenney and Blood. The result—they took the championship after two hard-fought games with the College Frosh.

1940

The College Frosh have stolen the prize this year. The combination of Palmer, Jackson, Smothers, Anderson, Rauch and Spencer really "clicked" and the season ended with the Frosh sitting on top of the heap with nine straight games to their credit. The elimination tournament with the College Sophs finally getting the nod to battle it out with the Frosh. You guessed it—the College Frosh took the first two games.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Basketball takes co-operation and teamwork to produce a winning team. That is just what has happened in the Girls' Basketball tournament, both in 1939 and 1940.

In 1939 the College Freshman girls tried to defeat the teamwork of Green, Cramer, Smith, Jones, Whims, Young and Ormston. But in the finals it proved to be a run-away, the Seniors winning in two straight games.

1940

In 1940 the Seniors, coached by Edward Mustard, again succeeded in holding the limelight. The combination of Hicks, Whims, Herald, Richards, Williamson and Wolbert went through the season undefeated, winning the championship in two games by defeating the College Freshman girls. The forward combination of Whims and Hicks seemed to baffle all of the opposing teams.

Despite the fact that these teams won in an easy fashion, many close and interesting games were played on our gym floor in 1939-40.
Presenting a story of life in Spring Arbor of those people and events that make this life more meaningful is the aim of the 1940 Echo. In order to accomplish this, many reverses, spurts and more reverses have been dealt to us by circumstances. From this, the Echo staff has experienced many happy times in preparing this Echo for your enjoyment. It is the Staff's sincere wish that this yearbook will bring an ECHO of the two years '39 and '40.

TO THE ADVERTISERS

Who have contributed much to the success of this book... The Business Staff of the Echo expresses its gratitude.

As evidence of appreciation

The Staff solicits the liberal patronage of Echo readers.

The enjoyment of electric and gas service depends, much like an education, on the degree to which it is used. Wires and mains, like brain cells and nerve centers, are full of potential energies needing but to be called upon to bring to you new realms of convenience, helpfulness and comfort.

These services are aiding in creating new standards of living, in shortening and lessening domestic labor and through the allowing of more time for relaxation, leisure and recreation, such services contribute to health, and longer and fuller lives.

These advantages, both economic and personal, are yours for but a few cents a day—one of your soundest investments.
