Believing that pleasant memories compose a legacy of unmeasured worth to their possessors, the ECMO staff has endeavored at once to preserve tokens of precious associations and of the sublime spiritual atmosphere which has pervaded the lives of the faculty and student body of Spring Arbor, imparting to us Divine grace, the presence of which shall cling to us always.

DEDICATION

Dedicated to the principles of democracy, which are the very foundation stones of our nation. Principles which, though trodden in the dust by none, yet rise again by reason of their innate grandeur. Those principles which are rooted in the teachings of the Divine Philosopher, Christ Jesus, and which are endurable as our own Rocky Mountains.
1- Do you want some, Ole?
2- That's not what you do with a broom!
3- He's grown up now, Lois!
4- Scrub Hard!
5- All for a nickel.

We seeds have been planted here in S. A.
And as 14 little Freshmen begin school so gay,
Through sunshine and rain we are now growing fast,
But soon our first year will all be in the past.

Miss Carr, our advisor so loyal and true,
Helped us just when we needed a cue.
We intend to make our lives a success—
Physical, mental, and spiritual growth we'll stress.

Who is it whose colors are red and white?
Who is it who's in to win the fight?
Basketball, baseball, ping pong, too—
What wouldn't these daring young Sophomores do?
Their pass word seems to spell—Victory!

Who is it that has zest anew?
These are the ones that have zest anew.
14 Sophomores and Prof. Tillotson, too—
They're in for everything—they always will be—
Physical, mental, and spiritual growth we'll stress.

DEPARTMENTS
MUSIC

In times such as these when nearly every nation is engaged in some sort of warfare, it is very difficult for one to find a common place where all people meet. Music seems to come the nearest to that place. Perhaps music can be called the great correlator of human affections. I doubt very much if you could find any nation or race of people who do not show an emotional response to the stimulus of music. Carlyle says, "The meaning of song goes deep. Who is here that, in logical words, can express the effect music has upon us? A kind of the infinite, and let us for moments gaze into that."

Music in Spring Arbor holds a very high place.

The School of Music of this school, under the capable direction of Mrs. Helen D. Lowell, wife of our President, has quite a group of students in it. The department includes Musical Theory students (such as Harmony, Sight-singing, Rhythmology), piano students and voice students who were under the direction of Professor Laurence Woods last year and Mrs. Beulah D. Natelle this year.

Two of the main attractions of the year are a fall and spring recital given by the School of Music in which piano and voice students participate.

Lord, what music hast thou prepared for the estate in heaven, when thou hast prepared so much music on earth... Isaac Walton.

WHERE ELSE IS IT FOUND?

The natural life is so empty without at least a little of the richness which is in store for everyone that wills. We are glad that God has saved His gems to polish the pearls that drop in Spring Arbor. "There is only one religion, 'thou there are a hundred versions of it.' If you desire to become a good church member, you can study Church History. If you desire to be a good Sunday School teacher, you can take Old Testament History. In case you are to be a minister, Homiletics is offered. Many have left this small, but inspiring, spot on the Michigan map to face the world without following the modern trend; also with associate degrees of which many are given every year.

President Lowell and Professor Griswold have always inspired youth to respect and admiration of the Divine. Their lives are examples which may have chosen to follow, and the usefulness of their frequent hints to young preachers have been well attested by numerous letters of thanks from former graduates now serving on pastorates or on the mission fields.
In the business world today there is a great demand for young men and women with special training for this type of work. Our school is doing its best in trying to enable students to meet these demands.

This department is one of the largest found in the school. Under two very capable instructors, Miss Stone and Marvin Galbreath, we realize that those preparing themselves in this field are receiving splendid training. All are trying to find their place in life; one that will lead them on to success. They know that a place at the top is waiting for them if they can fit themselves into it.

ACTIVITIES
THE FUTURE OF AMERICA

Youth! Youth! How much they are emphasized these days. Yes, they are our future. They will take on the responsibility of our government and church. Much is to be done and the youth are doing it. But what background do they have? How do their ideals compare with those of our prominent forefathers, Moses, Abraham, Washington, and Lincoln?

"If you would learn self-mastery, begin by yielding yourself to the One Great Master." "A man who puts aside his religion because he is going into society is like one taking off his shoes because he is about to walk upon thorns." These facts are realized by the Y. P. M. S. members and the ultimate goal and aim is the one ulterior concern of the FUTURE OF AMERICA.

Girls Quartet

Music is the medicine of the broken heart. — A. Sullivan.

Music is the child of prayer, the companion of religion. — Chalmers.

This year, the first alto did not return, but the other three have carried on nobly, traveling with Mr. DeCan whenever circumstances permitted. The trio has been kept very busy singing at home and abroad. The fact is that these ensembles have been as much a blessing to those who listen as to the singers.

Girls Trio

Music is the child of prayer, the companion of religion. — Chalmers.

Music is the child of prayer, the companion of religion. — A. Sullivan.

Music is the highest place and honor. And we see how David and all the saints have wrought their godly thoughts into verse, rhyme, and song. — Luther.

MALE QUARTET '41

Spring Arbor is gifted with talented singers. Consequently there have been groups of young people who have sung together, both for recreation and religious work. The Male Quartet is one of these. The quartet of 1940-41 traveled with the business manager, Mr. DeCan, throughout the territory supporting Spring Arbor. They have gone almost every week-end in the interest of the school.

BANNER GOSPEL TEAM

The Banner Gospel Team, which is comprised of the quartet and Marvin Galbreath, the evangelist, has been engaged in many young people's services, revival services, and quartet concerts. In a more secular field they participated in high school assemblies, also a program of entertainment for the soldiers at Port Custer, near Battle Creek. Incidentally, they won first place in the amateur contest, which was sponsored by the sophomore class. Spring Arbor may be proud of the work done by these young men.
W. Zebley had Arbor's String broken bridge? Fletcher, and just who could cases, and to R. C. Pikes, on the map yet.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB

Music has chance to soothe the savage breast, to soften rocks, and bend the knotted oak.

STRING TRIO

The String Trio (reading from L. to H. C. Fikes, R. Fletcher, and W. Zebley) had ambitious ideas and began well, but circumstances altered cases, and just who could play a solo with a broken bridge? Well—the kids still have plenty of ambition, and hope in far from dead—so Spring Arbor's String Trio will doubtless find a place on the map yet.

Girl's Glee Club

Under the competent direction of Miss Carr, a group of musically minded young ladies enjoyed many pleasant seventh hours filled with vocal gymnastics—intentional and unintentional.

Sweet strains of music will echo into our "Echo" and into many other hearts because of this training.

ORCHESTRA

Although singing and theory study are the main musical pursuits in Spring Arbor, there are a number of students who are interested in instrumental music. On their own initiative they gathered together and practiced for their own pleasure whenever time permitted. Instrumental music study in groups and individually is one activity which should be a major part of the music program of any school.

Mrs. Miller with vigor directed this group,
She took them to Pittsford and Stockbridge too;
But alas for this talented debating team--
They unfortunately failed to accomplish their dream:
Evelyn Cochran gave to it life
Dora Whims added some spice,
Some laughter came from Marilyn Green;
"Babe" Cutler's the spark plug of any machine.

For clowning and joking they looked to Mulholland,
While Williamson added a bit to its volume;
But we would be seriously minded, instead,
If we knew the hard work that these students did.

HIGH SCHOOL EXPRESSION CLUB

Whispered among the spruce trees, dancing in the breeze, and skipping across the campus of Spring Arbor, tiny little thoughts assembled to express their daring idea—A High School Expression Club—a club whose object was to make its members familiar with the fundamentals of oral speech. Who was to make up its members? Those who take high school speech constituted its charter members, each of us being required to prepare and deliver a five-minute speech—the entrance fee. Besides working toward a higher goal, trying to improve our ability of speaking and debating, we find real fun playing educational games after our business meetings, which are held twice a month.

EXPRESSION CLUB

THE LITERARY CLUB

Becoming aware of the fact that there was literary talent lying idle on our campus, a small group of students decided to put it to use. The Club was organized on November 25, 1941. We realized that before progress could be made, we must have a set of rules by which to be guided. Therefore, a committee was appointed to draw up a constitution which defined the purpose as a promotion of a more thorough study and a deeper appreciation for literary art.

We accepted as our motto "Discipuli hodie, scribae eorum," which, interpreted into English, means "Students today, writers tomorrow." We immediately set out to attain that goal and we have had fine cooperation from all of the members.

For our project we have been working on a pamphlet of religious poetry, scripture verses, and other interesting matter for fellow-friends in the army.

We are hoping that this organization will see a long life through many more years among our student body.
The Ping Pong Club originated in 1941 with Virgil Kingsley as President and Vincent Myers as Secretary-Treasurer. Their one accomplishment was the building of a new Ping Pong table and buying a new net. Such an improvement as this is of the highest benefit to our students’ enjoyment. It has continued for a second year with increasing interest.

Student Faculty

In this time of stress and strife among the races of the world, we Americans enjoy the thoughts and realities of a democracy. President Roosevelt has named the war this country is participating in, the "War for Survival" not the survival of the fittest, but the survival of democracy.

Spring Arbor has a democratic government. An organization which has been formed and designated to do a specific task along this line is the Student Faculty Committee. This committee endeavors to represent the students and faculty and to find ideas which might make a better Spring Arbor. The committee is composed of a representative of each class and two faculty members who examine and refer to the faculty recommendations which they feel are worth while. Yes, Spring Arbor is democratic.

The enjoyment of electric and gas service depends, much like an education, on the degree to which it is used. Wires and mains, like brain cells and nerve centers, are full of potential energies needing but to be called upon to bring to you new realms of convenience, helpfulness and comfort.

These services are aiding in creating standards of living, in shortening and lessening domestic labor and through the allowing of more time for relaxation, leisure and recreation, such services contribute to health, and longer and fuller lives.

These advantages, both economic and personal, are yours for but a few cents a day—one of your soundest investments.
