Outstanding Educators

Dr. Richard F. Gottier, Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Harold Darling, Chairman of the Social Science Division, and Dr. J. Leon Winslow, Director of Teacher Education have been selected to appear in the 1970 edition of OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA. Nominated earlier this year, they have been chosen for the awards publication on the basis of their civic and professional achievements.

The Outstanding Educators of America is an annual program designed to recognize and honor those men and women who have distinguished themselves by exceptional service, achievements and leadership in education. Each year over 5,000 of our country’s foremost educators are featured in this national volume.

Nominations for OUTSTANDING EDUCATORS OF AMERICA are made by the presidents, deans, superintendents and other heads of schools and colleges...individuals who have first-hand knowledge of their endeavors and accomplishments.

The educators included in this biographical history receive a high honor. They are chosen for national recognition on the basis of local standards of excellence.

Guidelines for selection include an educator’s talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities and any civic and professional recognition previously received.

We welcome your comments, suggestions and news items.

Vice President Appointed

Dr. Richard F. Gottier, who came to Spring Arbor College in the fall of 1969 as Dean of Academic Affairs, is also now filling the newly created role of Vice President of the college. The new duties began with the September 14 opening of the fall semester.

Strengthening the chain of command and recognizing the accomplishments of Dr. Gottier, in both the academic and administrative fields, the Board of Trustees and the Academic Council agreed that an active vice president such as Dr. Gottier would be a decided asset to Spring Arbor College.

Before coming to Spring Arbor, Dr. Gottier was Associate Professor of Psychology at Findlay College, Ohio and had been Assistant Dean of Students there as well as Lecturer in Pastoral Counseling at Winebrenner Seminary and a Teaching Fellow and Graduate Assistant at Bowling Green University.

Dr. R. F. Gottier Appointed by North Central Association

Dr. Richard F. Gottier, Vice President for Academic Affairs at Spring Arbor College, has been named to a six year appointment as Consultant with North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Specifically, he will be working with the committee on Liberal Arts Education.

His duties will include visiting eight to ten Liberal Arts Colleges in the North Central region as well as assisting in the planning of the annual President’s and Dean’s Workshop which meets in Chicago each Spring. The North Central Agency works at the University, Liberal Arts College, and Secondary School levels in nineteen midwestern states.

As one of seven consultants, Dr. Gottier will assist in evaluating majors and minors, developing the college calendar, and developing curriculum as well as handling other curricular related responsibilities for North Central.

SAC CONTRIBUTORS

Spring Arbor College wishes to recognize and give public thanks to all those individuals and institutions which have contributed financially to the advancement of the college during the past year. These gifts indicate a belief in and a concern for Christian higher education. The operating costs of the college are increasing significantly each year and without this faithful support it would be impossible to keep the college operating from year to year. The following list includes those who have made a gift to Spring Arbor College during the 1969-70 fiscal year which ended July 1, 1970.

Spring Arbor College Update

Volume 50

A Student Reflects

It was just past midnight after the concluding service of the "scheduled revival" when a real spiritual awakening began among the students and community of Spring Arbor. Instead of going to town to grab a bite to eat, a few burdened students decided to stop at the church for a time of prayer - and left only to run back to the dorm to bring others back with them. By 2:00 a.m., a large number of students and faculty were gathered together, sharing in a tremendous shower of God’s power. Each night for the following week, people gathered into the church to participate in services that were saturated with the love and power of Christ. Now, students, faculty and community people are searching God's Word and finding the unlimited possibilities that a person can have in Christ. The volume of prayers that have characterized the past several weeks have reached through to God with unmeasurable power and miracles resulting. Students are meeting regularly in dorm rooms to share in prayer. Praise God for teaching us how to live!

First SAC Students Admitted to Medical School

Ellen M. Brady, a 1970 graduate of Spring Arbor College and daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Kenneth Brady of Millbrook, Michigan, is the first four-year graduate to be accepted in medical school. She began classes at Wayne State University Medical School on September 14, 1970. While at Spring Arbor, Miss Brady majored in Biology and had a minor in Chemistry.

Richard R. Townley, a senior this year at Spring Arbor College, from Troy, Michigan, has also been accepted by the Wayne State University Medical School. He has also applied to other Medical Schools and is presently waiting for their replies. Mr. Townley is majoring in Chemistry and has a minor in Biology.

Spring Arbor College is proud to congratulate these two young people on their achievements and for opening up more doors of opportunity for Spring Arbor graduates.

Operation "HELP"

Several SAC students are involved with a new and important service program in Jackson. The Emergency Counseling Center, a 24-hour open telephone line, is located at Foote Hospital in Jackson and serves the Jackson and Hillsdale areas. It provides a way for people with great pressing needs to telephone in for counseling and encouragement. The line is always manned by two trained volunteers with a professional psychiatrist, psychologist or social worker on call.

Students involved as volunteers go through a 12-hour training program where they learn how to talk to the callers and how to get the caller to relate his real problems and needs. The three general areas of training are in drugs, suicide, and general personal problems.

Students working with this program are finding an opportunity to come face to face with many deep needs of people and of trying to be of service to their fellowmen by showing them that there is a better way to live.

Student Council Officers

The Student Association of Spring Arbor College plays an important part in directing the activities of the student body. The student council is an elected group of students who direct and coordinate the activities of the student association. This year the student council is headed by President Lyn Cryderman, a senior from Spring Arbor. The other members of the council are: Nelson Miller, Vice President, a junior from Cleveland, Ohio; Sue Wakefield, Secretary, a junior from Royal Oak, Michigan; Dave Tjepkema, Treasurer, a junior from Howell, Michigan; Mike Bourdeau, Union Board Chairman, a junior from Davison, Michigan; Merv Webb, Religious Life Director, a junior from Oshkosh, Wisconsin; Phyllis Klop, Social Life Director, a senior from Wyandotte, Michigan; Linda Childs, Citizenship Director, a senior from Taylor, Michigan; Dave Hosmer, Men’s Athletic Director, a sophomore from Boca Raton, Florida; and Shirley Newell, Women’s Athletic Director, a junior from Stevensville, Michigan.
HOMECOMING '70

Homecoming weekend was climaxed by the half-time ceremonies of the SAC vs. Alumni basketball game, which SAC won but only after a close challenge by the Alumni. At the half-time activities nine young ladies representing the classes of SAC were the honored participants. As their Homecoming Queen, the students selected Miss Sharry Hudberg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudberg of Saginaw, Michigan. Miss Hudberg is a music major excelling in both voice and piano. Miss Hudberg is blind, but this has never slowed her down in achieving her goal to perform and teach music. She takes lead roles in college musical productions and spent the past summer working as an accompanist in Ecuador Radio Station HCJB. She was student council representative for her class for two years, is vice president of the college music club, and hopes to return to Ecuador to teach.

The two other senior representatives on the Queen’s Court were Miss Janet Sever, an elementary education major from Farmington, Michigan, and Miss Sharlene Baker also an elementary major and from Twin Lake, Michigan. The junior representatives were Miss Martha Chapman of Constantine, Michigan and Miss Pam McKinney of Southgate, Michigan. Sophomore representatives were Miss Cindy Burgess from North Palm Beach, Florida, and Miss Kristin McCormick of Sherwood, Michigan. Miss Janice Beardslee of Spring Arbor and Miss Barbara Krebs of Charlotte, Michigan were the representatives for the freshman class.

Student MEA

The Student Michigan Education Association is an organization created to acquaint the students who are planning a career in education with the Michigan Education Association. The purpose is to explain how MEA works and to examine the role MEA plays for the individual teacher. Each student receives current literature pertaining to the field of education.

The officers elected for the 1970-71 year are Shirley Tereschuk, president, a junior from Sandusky, Michigan; Sue Wakefield, vice president, a junior from Royal Oak, Michigan; Carla Davis, secretary, a junior from Orchard Lake, Michigan; and Cheryl Cottle, treasurer, a senior from Pickford, Michigan. They represent 130 SMEA members at Spring Arbor College.

The SMEA has not been too active for the past few years but hopes to get all of the members involved in various projects this year. For Christmas, the group is undertaking a project to send elementary books to 1970 SAC graduate Dawna Bucknum in Maui, Hawaii.

Spring Arbor Day

On Sunday, November 8th, about 50 students and faculty visited 42 Free Methodist churches in an effort to tell the Spring Arbor story to our constituency. The caravan of cars clocked over 3800 miles as they wound through the North Michigan and Ohio conferences letting off a student at each church to be visited.

Spring Arbor Day carried a different emphasis this year as the general presentation focused on the recent spiritual victories on campus. Those who participated returned to campus with reports of being able to share in spiritual victories in the churches and of helping to increase communication between the college and our churches.

Do you know any high school students whom you would like to introduce to Spring Arbor College? If so, write to the Public Relations office for information and literature on the programs of study that we offer.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

cross country-

The SAC cross country team is finishing the 1970 season with an excellent record. With seven wins and one loss in dual meets, this has been their best season in the last several years. They have also won two invitational meets and placed second in three. The season was topped by a Homecoming win over the University of Toledo and an invitation to the NAIA national meet in Kansas City in November 21st. Lead runner Terry Valentine, sophomore from Jackson, Michigan, set a new record for the SAC four mile course of 20 minutes and 24 seconds. This fall, Terry, along with Junior Gary Miller from New Haven, Michigan, were chosen for the all district team.

The Cougar Kickers finished their fourth season this year with an impressive overall record of 12 wins, 3 losses and 1 tie. They carried the regular season, however, with 12 straight wins and a tie with Wheaton at Homecoming. This year saw the closing of soccer careers by a number of men. Steve Friebeal, Barry Jackson, Jim Pyke, Dave Redfield, Lloyd Stonehouse, and Bob White were all members of the first team four years ago and enthusiastic players since. Records were broken as forward Bob Imhoff booted 31 goals this season including 4 in a single game. Bob also holds the Cougar's career scoring record. The team and first year coach Gary White were invited to the NAIA regional playoffs, but suffered a close defeat eliminating them from further competition.
1970-71 Basketball

The 1970-1971 basketball season has begun without four super players from last year’s team who together averaged about 68 points and 40 rebounds. This year’s team will be made up of six newcomers and five lettermen including Jerry Neigh who should become the all-time Michigan Collegiate scoring leader when his career is over. Coach Hank Burbridge has indicated that he has some good replacements, lacking basically in some much-needed experience. The Cougars will be hustling after their third straight winning season—how well they succeed should depend on how rapidly the squad matures. The 1970-1971 schedule is as follows:

Seasons Greetings

May peace, joy, and happiness be your gift during this Holiday Season and follow you throughout the coming New Year.

SPRING ARBOR COLLEGE
Science Center in Full Use

After many years of dreaming and planning the Spring Arbor College students and science faculty members are enjoying their first year in the new Science Center. The move meant transferring the entire science department from four rooms into a three-story building with about 36,000 sq. ft. of space.

The second floor houses the chemistry and physical science faculty. Located on this floor is a large lecture hall seating 156 persons, one smaller classroom, four large laboratories, four faculty offices with research labs attached, a chemical stock room, instrument rooms and a seminar room.

The biology department is located on the first floor. There is a large lecture hall seating 132 persons, one smaller classroom, four large laboratories, five offices, a preparation and storage room, a biology research room and a library-study room.

Mathematics and physics courses are taught on the ground floor which has two math classrooms and two physics laboratories. Also located on the ground floor are six offices, a preparation and storage room, a shop, an animal room and a darkroom.

The Natural Science Department has nine faculty and offers majors in Biology, Chemistry, Exact Science, and Mathematics. Minors are given in the same areas plus Physics and Physical Science.

Most of the $1,200,000 building was financed through a grant of $100,000 from the Kresge Foundation, a Ford Motor Fund grant, a Federal grant and loan, and several Jackson area corporations including Consumers Power Company, Hayes-Albion Foundation, City Bank and Trust Company, Hancock Industries, Yard-Man, Dalven Corporation, Commonwealth Associates, Glick Iron and Metal, Glick Investment Trust, General Products, Sparton Corporation, Jensen Corporation and Burroughs Corporation.

$130,000 is still needed to meet the total cost of the entire project.

Alumni NEWS

Deceased, Mr. Clifford Buttleman, husband of Mrs. Eulalia (Snyder) graduate of Spring Arbor High School in 1906. Mr. Buttleman had a distinguished association with the musical world being executive secretary of the Music Educators National Conference for many years and receiving many awards for distinguished service to bands and band music in the United States.

Mr. Buttleman passed away September 8 at his home in Horton, Michigan.

Virginia Huntoon '68 is receiving a master's degree in Secondary Education at Michigan State University in December. She and her family are moving to Belgium for two years where her husband will be working for Clark Automotive.
Delta Wing Completed

The fourth wing of Lowell Hall, Delta wing, was completed this fall and is now home for 120 women. The project was funded through HUD with a long-term 3% loan which is paid from the board fees charged the students. Delta wing is designed to give a new concept in dormitory living. It is arranged as many two-room suites with a study room and restroom between the two rooms. The rooms are also air conditioned, carpeted, and have individual room temperature control.

Doubling Your Educational Dollar

You can be sure that the coming of twins into any family raises a good many questions about the cost of food, clothing, and housing. Another fundamental question is the cost of financing their education. Money budgeted for a single child simply will not cover the needs of two.

No, we are not suggesting that you assist in the personal finances of the twins. You can, however, get double your money's worth out of your educational dollar. If your employer has a Matching Gifts Program, you are in a unique position to double your contributions to Spring Arbor College and assist in the financial task of educating young people... twins included. That's right! If you were to give $50, it would become $100 for Spring Arbor College.

Here's how it works. Your employer will match all cash gifts you make to Spring Arbor College if you notify them that such a contribution has been made. You do so by completing a brief form provided by your employer and mailing it along with your contribution to Spring Arbor College. This form will be certified at the College and forwarded to your employing company. Your employer will then remit the proper amount to Spring Arbor College.

Matching gifts have played a vital role in meeting the financial demands in higher education. During the year of 1969, Spring Arbor College ranked third in the nation for the allocation of funds from the Ford Matching Gifts Fund.

African Chief at SAC

Attending SAC this year is Newton Osborne Ambuyo, chief of the Baluyia tribe of Buniyore, an area in Kenya, East Africa. Chief Ambuyo became a tribal chief after Kenya won independence in 1963. Out of an original 41 applicants he was finally elected to the position by receiving 75 percent of the total votes. At the time he applied for the job, he was teaching in a junior and senior high school and was pastor of a Church of God.

His country is about the size of Michigan and is populated by about one million people. Since becoming ruler, Ambuyo has directed construction of a hospital, several junior and senior high schools, a boarding school and nursery schools in all 80 villages for the purpose of educating the young as well as the old. He also gained electrical power for the schools in his area, although it is not in general use in private homes.

Spring Arbor College was chosen for his education as the result of a friendship with Rev. Charles Gallup, a missionary in Kenya and an alumnus of Spring Arbor. To fill his position while he is away, Ambuyo's ten assistant chiefs elected his uncle to rule in the interim.

Chief Ambuyo came to this country to gain knowledge which will benefit his country. He is considering four alternatives for the time when he returns home. He might become a school official, remain chief and administrator of his tribe, join the central government as an administrator or do independent missionary work.

Chief Ambuyo's wife is attending a teacher's college in another part of Africa. Their children are being cared for by one of his brothers.

SAC Business Manager Honored

Mr. Kenneth R. Beardslee, Business Manager of Spring Arbor College, was reelected as President of the Board of Directors of the Midwest Association of Business Administrators of Christian Colleges at the annual conference held in Chicago on October 27 and 28. Attending the conference with Mr. Beardslee were Richard G. Hawes, Assistant Business Manager, and Lyn Cryderman, Student Association President of Spring Arbor College.

In addition to presiding over the conference Mr. Beardslee, along with Mr. Cryderman, participated on a panel discussion entitled, 'Student-Administrator Relationships In a Time of Tension.' The conference was attended by 81 administrators from 61 colleges representing 19 states and four Canadian Provinces.

Long Range Planning

Spring Arbor College is participating in long range academic planning with the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges (CASC). The planning involves projecting future major and minor program additions, faculty needs, and facility requirements. Spring Arbor is being represented in the conferences by Dr. Ellwood Voller, president; Dr. Richard Gottier, vice president for academic affairs; David Gines, director of development; and Kenneth Beardslee, business manager.

The conferences involve collecting extensive historical data regarding faculty and student characteristics, graduates, and fiscal expenditures. Prime consultants in the research project have been Dr. Earl McGrath, Director of the Center for Higher Education at Temple University, and Dr. Sidney Tickton of the Academy for Educational Development.

Fourteen of the 93 schools belonging to CASC are involved in the initial planning which is an attempt to strengthen the Liberal Arts programs in small colleges nation-wide. The project is being funded by Xerox and IBM Corporations.

Spring Arbor College Investment Plan

Recently the Board of Trustees authorized the college administration to establish a plan for friends to invest savings in the college to assist in meeting its financial needs.

The plan provides for an individual to lend to Spring Arbor College a minimum of $1,000 and any larger amount in multiples of $500. The college will pay 63/4% interest per year on your investment with the interest payable monthly or semiannually. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College, but enjoy greater returns on your savings than you can receive at most banks and savings and loan companies, plus you receive your interest check monthly.

Interest on your investment is calculated from the 1st of the month if it is deposited by the 10th of that month. An investment received after the 10th will begin earning interest on the 1st of the next month. For example, if you deposit $5,000 in the plan before the 10th of February, you would receive a check for $27.08 early in March and each month thereafter.

Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor College also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice. The amount that the college will accept for investment will be limited to the amount that the college needs.

If you are interested in this Investment Plan, please send in the form on page two of this UPDATE for more information and an application.

TOWN & GOWN

On February 26th the Spring Arbor College Town and Gown Series will present the Johann Strauss Ensemble of the Vienna Symphony Orchestra. The ensemble was established to simulate the kind of orchestra with which Johann Strauss, Jr. was associated. The Director of the ensemble, Professor Walter Puschacher, is the concertmaster of the Vienna Symphony.

The Field Service program of Spring Arbor College this year is under the direction of Rev. William Cryderman. Several singing teams have been organized and have carried their ministry to over 50 services and other presentations so far this year. Following a program of versatility, the combined teams have musical presentations, that have been given at churches, rallies, retreats and Civic organizations. They are committed to the goal of communicating Christ by using music. The individual members also carry a vital testimony to the love of God.

A new and well accepted part of Field Service this year is a drama troupe named the Logos Players. Holding the same basic philosophy of communicating Christ, they present short dramatic productions with a direct spiritual meaning or to produce discussions on moral issues.

All teams are sent out upon request made to the college and ask no minimum charge. The organization is asked to take an offering for the students to help meet their expenses. If your church or organization would be interested in having a team, write well in advance to Field Service, c/o Rev. William Cryderman, Spring Arbor College, Spring Arbor, Michigan 49283.

Mr. Moore earned his BA degree from Bethany Nazarene College, his bachelor of Divinity degree from Nazarene Theological Seminary and his master's degree in Philosophy from Kansas State University.

Alumni Day Change

The Board of Directors of the Alumni Association of Spring Arbor College is recommending the possibility of changing Alumni activities from two events during the year, fall Homecoming and Alumni Day during commencement weekend, to one Homecoming event in October. Activities of both present weekends would be combined on the one October weekend. Each alumus should have received information concerning the change along with a ballot. Please consider this matter and return your ballot by March 30, 1971.

Grant Aids Physical Education

The Spring Arbor College physical education department has received a number of pieces of equipment provided through a grant from the Samuel Higby Camp Foundation of Jackson, Michigan. The freshman physical education course, "Orientation to Physical Education," is designed to teach the students the importance of total health and physical fitness including an understanding of the relationship between physical inactivity and degenerative and stress-related diseases. The equipment will add more meaning to this course and other courses in the department.

Included in the equipment purchased through the grant are a portable Electrocardiograph, Monark Bicycle Ergometer, tapping boards, steadiness tester, impulse counter and six volt power supply, mirror tracing assembly, athletic performance analyzer and electronic metronome.

Medical Technology Program Added

Spring Arbor College is in the process of carefully examining the present course offerings to determine what present programs need to be revised and expanded in order to meet the needs of students in today's world. One result of this curricular expansion is the establishment of a medical technology program which was recently approved by the faculty and administration. It was determined that this important area of medical service could be added without the addition of new courses or much adjustment in the students' schedules.

A student interested in the program will take three years of work at Spring Arbor majoring in chemistry or biology and getting a broad background in the other divisions of study. The student will then take 12 months training at an approved school of medical technology. Upon completion of the training and passing a certification test, the student will receive his BA degree from Spring Arbor. More details can be obtained from the chairman of the Division of Natural Science.

INFORMATION

SA C Centennial

With the Spring Arbor College Centennial approaching in 1973, plans are underway for an archives presentation containing coherent bits and pieces of Spring Arbor College history from its origin through to the present time.

President Voller is asking that if you have a bit of memorabilia, pertaining to the school in any period of its existence, you will contact us about sharing it with the public during this time of centennial commemoration.

We also ask that you share any ideas or pertinent incidents with us that might make Spring Arbor College history the richer for the telling. Please discuss this with your friends and relatives for it is often a chance remark that unearths the buried, nearly forgotten, treasures of the past.

Contact may be made with the Centennial Committee by addressing:

President Ellwood Voller announced the receipt of a check for $100,000 to be applied to the new science building, from the Kresge Foundation of Birmingham, Michigan. In May of 1969, the Trustees of the Kresge Foundation approved the grant for the building with the provision that the college raise matching funds before receiving the money.

Miss Connie Clendenan, a sophomore at SAC, has been selected by the Youth for Christ organization to be one of seven college young people who will make up a Teen Team to tour France. Miss Clendenan was selected for her outstanding performance on the trumpet.

Dr. Leon Hynson, Associate Professor of Philosophy-Religion, and Mr. Kenneth Dickinson, Associate Professor of Education, left on February 24th for a ten-day tour of the Holy Land. The tour is being led by The Reverend Ford Philpot.

Do you know any high school students whom you would like to introduce to Spring Arbor College? If so, write to the Public Relations office for information and literature on the programs of study that we offer.

Summer Field Station

Spring Arbor College and Greenville College, Illinois, have joined with Taylor University of Upland, Indiana, in a summer Field Station program of science courses. It is an effort by the science faculty of the three colleges to make some courses more meaningful by teaching them on site rather than through text and classroom only. The courses will be taught by several faculty and will include "General Biology," "Astronomy and Geology," "Michigan Flora," "Aquatic Biology," "Entomology" and "Conservation."

The station is located near Mancelona, Michigan and was started by Dr. Harold Snyder of Taylor and other interested friends as a non-profit summer camp for boys.

Registration is being handled by the Teacher Education Department at Spring Arbor College.

Alumnus Defined

Often people wonder how long they have to attend Spring Arbor College to be considered an alumnus. The present policy of the Alumni Board is that anyone attending for one semester or more is included on the alumni list. When alumni are referred to in the UPDATE, a letter s before the year indicates that they did not receive a degree from Spring Arbor.
Donald McDonald
Spring Arbor College
1945 - 1971

TEACHER: of math and of life; always encouraging students, helping students, urging them to give their very best to everything they did - his life being an example of what he taught.

COACH: of men and of teams; giving everything he had and expecting the same in return; interested in every aspect of the lives of "his boys."

COMMUNITY LEADER: vitally interested in his community; always promoting community events; active Kiwanian; continually striving to bring college and community together.

FRIEND: to everyone; his constant smile; his cheery greeting; his interest in people; his great love of life.

ABOVE ALL: "Mac" was fully committed to Jesus Christ and completely dedicated to Christian service through education. His desire was that he might always let God live through him. His life was lived with the welfare of others always in mind. He was direct, forceful, yet humble, with his Christian acts of love reaching countless numbers of people and these acts known only by the receivers. Literally thousands of lives had contact with "Mac" over the past 26 years at Spring Arbor - each one being influenced in some way to become a better person. We are indebted to him for playing a large part in the total progress of the college and for the influence of Spring Arbor College on its students and the community.

Professor - Coach
Dies of Injuries

Spring Arbor College has been deeply saddened by the death of Donald McDonald on March 21, 1971. Mr. McDonald had suffered head injuries in a car-train accident in Jackson on March 3rd.

"Mac" devoted the past 26 years of his life to Christian education at Spring Arbor, serving as mathematics teacher and coach in both the high school, junior college and college. He was basketball coach at Spring Arbor High School when it first began interscholastic competition in 1948. He retired from this position in 1958 but came back to coach the final team in 1961 before the high school was discontinued. His basketball teams compiled 155 wins and 50 losses. His 1955 team had a 20-1 record, the 1952 team, which went to the state Class D quarter-finals, 19-5, and the 1958 club 18-3. The track and cross country teams also won numerous district and regional honors under his direction.

During all 26 years at Spring Arbor, "Mac" taught math in the high school, junior college and college. His high school coaching career included thirteen years with basketball, twelve years track, seven years baseball, five years cross country, and nine years with intramural football. When Spring Arbor moved from a junior college to a four-year college, he assumed the coaching responsibilities for golf, retiring from that position at the end of last season.

"Mac" was also an alumnus of Spring Arbor, graduating from both the high school and the junior college. He completed his bachelor's degree at Eastern Michigan University, earned the master's degree from the University of Michigan, and did advanced study at the University of Michigan and Wayne State. During World War II, before coming to Spring Arbor, he taught airplane mechanics and mathematics at Henry Ford Naval Training School at Dearborn, Michigan.

His church and community were also a very important part of his life. He was an active member of the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church, and the denomination recently honored him for his many years of service to Christian education. He belonged to the Spring Arbor Kiwanis Club, serving as its president for one year and constantly promoting community activities.

"Mac" is survived by his wife Nathalie (Shoff) an alumnus of Spring Arbor Junior College, a daughter, Mrs. Beth Garn, a graduate of Spring Arbor High School and Junior College and wife of Dr. Dennis Garn, English professor at Spring Arbor, and a son Larry, residing in Covina, California. Students have found fellowship and counsel at the McDonald home which has always been open to them. Participating in campus events and sponsoring classes has been a "McDonald Team" effort.

On March 24, 1971, services were held at the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church. Hundreds of students, faculty, friends and alumni paid tribute to him with their presence. Following are a few excerpts from a tribute given by President Ellwood Voller:

"Although my professional relationship with Don, here at Spring Arbor, has been a brief three years, my remarks this afternoon are based upon a warm personal acquaintance which span more than three decades of friendship. 'Mac' as we all knew him was the senior member of our college faculty and has been an extremely effective member of the Spring Arbor College Family since 1945. We have been made aware time and time again of his achievements and positive Christian influence upon the lives and goals of countless young people. As teacher, coach, friend, Kiwanian and father, we have marveled at his continuous ability to relate so informally, personally, and warmly to individuals of all classes.

All of his friends here today know of "Mac's" wide-spread concern for others but even those closest to him were unaware of the hidden forces of his Christian acts of love for those in need. Only in the past eighteen days have many of us become so keenly aware of the magnitude of his image as the unexpected touch of his greatness has now broken into our view.

Numerous persons, heretofore unknown even to the family, have come forth and said, "It was 'Mac' who made it possible for me to continue in college," or "It was 'Mac' who gave me that extra encouragement when I needed it most."...

One unmistakable measure of any man's personal qualities and depth of Christian character can be most accurately evaluated by the depth of devotion observed within his own family circle. The past few days have been filled with continuous anxious hours for members of the family, but, what a testimony of Christian love, hope and God's sustaining grace. The uniqueness of the spirit that prevailed during those many anxious hours were so well expressed by the physician who attended him every day, who said, "My own personal life will never be the same. As I observed the spirit and concern of this family day after day, I marveled at the depth of their faith." God only knows the splendor of the hidden life that "Mac" has lived and the depth of his Christian influence which will continue to be fleshed out in the lives of hundreds of students and alumni of the college..."

Spring Arbor College Investment Plan

Recently the Board of Trustees authorized the college administration to establish a plan for friends to invest savings in the college to assist in meeting its financial needs.

The plan provides for an individual to lend to Spring Arbor College a minimum of $1,000 and any larger amount in multiples of $500. The college will pay 61/2% interest per year on your investment with the interest payable monthly or semiannually. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College, but enjoy greater returns on your savings than you can receive at most banks and savings and loan companies, plus you receive your interest check monthly.

Interest on your investment is calculated from the 1st of the month if it is deposited by the 10th of that month. An investment received after the 10th will begin earning interest on the 1st of the next month. For example, if you deposit $5,000 in the plan before the 10th of February, you would receive a check for $27.08 early in March and each month thereafter.

Jeffry and Ronald Marlowe are leaders of the young generation of American duo-pianists. The identical twin brothers have consistently thrilled audiences and won top press acclaim at the important music centers. At their New York debut at Town Hall, the New York Times found them "A formidable two-piano team."

The two pianos of the Marlowes have been heard by tens of thousands of music lovers since a pair of prodigious eleven year olds made their debut on a coast to coast telecast with Milton Berle. Natives of Philadelphia, the Marlowes made their orchestral debut, also at the age of eleven, with the Philadelphia Orchestra. Scores of television appearances and six seasons of sold-out, cross-country recital tours have followed, as well as engagements with the New York Philharmonic and many other symphony orchestras.

Ralph A. Carey, Associate Professor of History at Spring Arbor College, has completed all of the requirements for the doctor of philosophy degree in History at Michigan State University. His major field of study was in United States Intellectual History with related studies in Modern Europe, Modern England and American Literature. His research centered on a history of popular religious thought in America as reflected in best selling religious literature. The research indicates that the religious thought of best sellers such as Ben Hur, In His Steps and the books of Harold Bell Wright, is strongly anti-creedal, anti-dogmatic and anti-institutional, and emphasizes a heart religion over the religion of the churches.

Dr. Carey received his AB degree from Greenville College, Illinois, and his MA in History from Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio. Before coming to Spring Arbor College in 1964, Dr. Carey taught at Bay High School, Bay Village, Ohio and was a graduate assistant in the Department of History at Michigan State University.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Karen Michelle born February 19, 1971 to Penny and Gary '66 West; residing in Mt. Morris, Michigan.

A son, David Jonathan born March 1, 1971 to Virginia and James '58 Sims; residing in Detroit, Michigan.

A daughter, Tammy Renee born March 8, 1971 to Philip '69 and Kathy (Wirth '69) Lehman; residing in Tucson, Arizona.

A son, Jim Elliot, age 2 1/2, and a daughter, Nicole Yvette, age 1 1/2, adopted March 27, 1971 by Rodney and Judy (Eastman '61) Johnston; residing in Leslie, Michigan.

Because of his humble, reverent spirit; because of his kindness to and thoughtfulness of others; and because he lives the beautiful religious life that he teaches and preaches, we the Echo staff dedicate this 1960 Yearbook to Mr. Oscar Griswold.

These words of tribute adequately sum up the life of Professor Oscar C. Griswold who passed away in his home on May 1, 1971 as the result of a heart attack. Professor Griswold was dedicated to Christian Education and served Spring Arbor College in various capacities for almost thirty years. He is survived by his wife, Mildred, and two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Cowles and Mrs. Eloise Densmore, both graduates of Spring Arbor High School.

Feeling called into Christian service, Professor Griswold enrolled at Greenville College in 1919. He then went to Chesbrough Seminary in New York State (now Roberts Wesleyan College). Combining pastorates and education for the next several years, he received his bachelor’s degree from Eastern Nazarene College, Massachusetts, and his Master of Arts degree from Boston University. During that time he pastored Free Methodist churches in Wellsboro, Pennsylvania, Penn Yan, New York, and Nazarene churches in Canastota, New York and Cambridge, Massachusetts.

In 1937, while pastoring the Free Methodist Church at Glenns Falls, New York, Professor Griswold received a letter from Spring Arbor’s President Lowell inviting him to join the faculty. Except for one year taken to continue his education, he served as Dean and Registrar from 1942 through 1951, as well as teaching subjects in Religion and Social Science. He then served as Registrar at Roberts Wesleyan College for three years. The rest of his career was spent at Spring Arbor College teaching in the areas of Religion and History.

While teaching at Spring Arbor, Professor Griswold continued his preaching ministry by occasionally ministering to area churches. His knowledge of the Scriptures and his ability to relate them with meaning and excitement, made him one of the most outstanding Sunday School teachers in the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church. By combining his hobbies of travel and photography, he created slide presentations that have inspired hundreds of viewers.

Professor Griswold formerly retired in the Spring of 1965, but continued to teach a few courses during the past few years. At the time of his retirement, he was honored at the annual Board of Trustees - Faculty dinner by being promoted to the rank of full professor—a rank only given normally to persons holding an earned doctorate degree. In 1966, the student council held a special “This is Your Life” program for him and presented him with money from faculty, students and friends to be used to take a long-desired trip to the Holy Land.

Following are some parts of the tribute to Professor Griswold on behalf of the college:

Here at Spring Arbor College we are heavily dependent upon the commitment and spirit of the individual faculty member... Professor Griswold did link himself completely with the pur-
Miss Olive E. Johnson — 1971 Alumnus of the Year

"I came to Spring Arbor with about $50, barely enough to go to school, and faith and courage. My greatest ambition was to get an education and make something of my life."

So begins the story of Miss Olive Elizabeth Johnson, the 1971 Spring Arbor College alumnus of the year. Encouraged by her parents and by the lives of several great Negroes, she left Brantford, Ontario, Canada in 1920 to enter Spring Arbor High School. Needing financial help, she worked in the school laundry her freshman year and then worked for a teacher for her room and board for two years. At the end of her junior year, she was hired by a wealthy woman in Jackson who was interested in helping Negroes. Sensing a great potential and a willingness to work, the lady paid all of Miss Johnson’s expenses for her senior year in high school.

After a year’s rest because of ill health, she enrolled at Greenville College, Illinois and four years later was the first Negro woman to receive her B.A. from Greenville. Again her benefactor took care of the expenses and Miss Johnson returned to Jackson summers to work for her. Because of her excellent performance in college, again her benefactor sent her to the University of Michigan where she earned a master’s degree and a teacher’s certificate. During this time she also received naturalization papers and was sponsored for citizenship by her benefactor.

After teaching a year in Atlanta, Georgia, she returned to Jackson to be a housekeeper for her benefactor while she tried to find a school system that would hire a Negro teacher. During this time she became the first Negro Girl Reserve advisor in the Jackson Y.W.C.A. and began to feel a desire to help disadvantaged youth. She was active in groups trying to get Negroes accepted into more professional professions.

poses and inspiration of the Christian faith ... was a Christian scholar who denounced any kind of academic mediocrity and at the same time proclaimed unwavering and unshaken faith in the Gospel of Christ ... well read and competent in his field of specialization ... simple trusting faith in God permeated his thoughts, actions and teachings ... was an example of ‘Service for God above self’ ... commitment to serve young people in Christian education almost unparalleled in the history of the college ... encouraged and assisted many students and faculty ... quality of his administration always firm, but kind ... quality of his teaching never waivered from the lack of preparation or interest ... God chose Oscar Griswold for the rich ministry of teaching and he has fulfilled his calling with dignity and distinction.

was involved with church work and started the Jackson Library on its celebration of Negro History week.

In 1941, the chance to teach she had been waiting for opened up and she moved to Inkster, Michigan. For seven years she taught various elementary and high school grades and then in 1948 became the social worker for the entire school system which then included eight different schools. She continued in social work for the system until her retirement in 1967. She worked on a case work basis at school and cooperated with various social agencies such as the Juvenile Court in Detroit and Inkster, the Children’s Aid Society, the Child Care Bureau and several psychiatric clinics where she assisted in diagnostic work with the children. Her work was with children with emotional and behavioral problems and with economically deprived youth who needed encouragement and motivation to improve themselves. Her home became a refuge for many sad children, and lunch hours, evenings and weekends were spent washing and mending children’s clothes. Much time was spent with the children’s parents in an attempt to help them to understand their children and to give them special help when they needed it.

While teaching and doing social work, Miss Johnson did further graduate study at Fisk University, Eastern Michigan University, Wayne State and the University of Chicago taking courses such as mental hygiene, orthopedics, mental retardation, counseling and guidance, that would help her in her work. She has served as president and treasurer of the Wayne Out-County Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children, as secretary for the Public Affairs Committee for the Dearborn area Y.W.C.A., and has held membership in numerous academic and social work organizations. In 1969, she was honored as "Woman of the Year" by the Zeta Nu Zeta Chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority of Inkster.

Miss Johnson enjoys writing and has been guest lecturer at many events including chapel and a colloquium at Greenville College, annual Women's Day observances at various churches, and the State Convention of the Inter-Racial Department of the Free Methodist Church. Since retiring in 1967, the Inkster school system has involved her twice in special government sponsored studies. The first was a project to improve the level of pupil achievement, attitudes, behavior and self-concept. Miss Johnson edited the report and served as consultant to the project. She just recently completed some writing and all of the editing for a K-12 Sex Education Handbook for the system.

Literally hundreds of lives have been touched and inspired by their contact with Miss Johnson. Many of her "children" today who are outstanding doctors, lawyers, judges, educators, mothers and fathers, give her credit for encouraging them to reach beyond themselves to attain goals they thought were impossible.

Spring Arbor College stresses a three-fold purpose for its students: to become a well-educated and informed citizen, to be committed to Jesus Christ, and to be active in serving mankind.

No one has lived out these purposes any more than has Miss Olive Johnson and, therefore, Spring Arbor College is most proud to have her as our Alumnus of the Year.

Charles E. Hawkins, Ph.D.

Charles E. Hawkins, Assistant Professor of Physics at Spring Arbor College, has completed the requirements for the doctor of philosophy degree in physics from Dartmouth College, New Hampshire. His research was done on the topic, “On the scattering of beam electrons in a beam-plasma interaction.”

Dr. Hawkins attended General Motors Institute, Spring Arbor Junior College and graduated from Greenville College, Illinois in 1964. He began graduate study at Dartmouth that year and remained there until he came to Spring Arbor College in 1969. While at Dartmouth, he assisted in several courses in the physics department.

With the completion of the new science center, additional facilities and equipment are now available for the physics program. Dr. Hawkins has added some new courses to the department and is in the process of reviewing the program in order to strengthen it. At the present time, the college offers a minor in physics.
Grant Received For Environmental Studies

Dr. Ellwood A. Voller, president of Spring Arbor College, is pleased to announce that the college has been awarded a $5000 grant by the Kellogg Foundation under the Foundation's new College Resources for Environmental Studies program (CRES).

Dr. Robert E. Kinsinger, vice president of the CRES programs, and Dr. George Hanson, coordinator, explained that the grant to Spring Arbor is one of approximately 300 similar grants being made to small, private liberal arts colleges throughout the United States as part of the Foundation's continuing program of support for activities aimed at finding solutions to environmental problems throughout the nation.

"The realization that man is faced with unprecedented crises precipitated by rapid and profound population growth, environmental deterioration, and depletion of the planet's natural resources has evoked a growing concern," said Dr. Kinsinger. "The Kellogg Foundation believes that the nation's small, private liberal arts colleges can make a substantial contribution toward solving these problems by strengthening their programs of environmental studies."

Dr. Eldon E. Whiteman, Chairman of the Natural Science Division, acted as chairman of the environmental studies committee made up of ten other faculty members and two students. Dr. Whiteman has been teaching a course in Environmental Conservation for the past 16 years and in 1963 he introduced the first six weeks summer course on Ecology and Environmental Conservation at Spring Arbor College. The committee is planning for the introduction of studies in Atmospheric Pollution, Hydrospheric Pollution and Control, and Soil Pollution. The plan is to use the Kellogg Foundation grant for the procurement of instructional equipment and additional holdings of audio-visual materials and reference books.

New Major Added

The faculty of Spring Arbor College has recently passed a new academic major in Contemporary Ministries. The Division of Philosophy and Religion offers the Contemporary Ministries Major as a significant innovation providing challenging opportunities for committed Christian students in several spheres of Christian activity. Through this program the student may gain practical experience in the inner city, campus, prison, hospital ministries, and other ministries.

Designed to introduce areas of service which many young people have heretofore envisioned as being outside ordinary vocational considerations, this program provides a planned series of courses in religion, philosophy, psychology, sociology, and communications. This interdisciplinary program is complemented by a sophomore experience which permits a practical investigation of an area of interest.

A senior professional semester (or a summer term) provides the capstone for this program. Comprising six-eight weeks of in-depth training in the area of special interest (inner city, youth ministry, etc.), the semester is concluded with work in communications, Christian Education, and readings.

Directed by the Division of Philosophy and Religion, the Contemporary Ministries major draws upon the strengths and insights of several other disciplines.

Dr. J. Leon Winslow

Dr. J. Leon Winslow, Director of Teacher Education at Spring Arbor College, was named to the Michigan Council for Higher Education recently established by John W. Porter, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the Michigan State Board of Education.

The three members of the council were elected from the Deans and Directors of Michigan Teacher Education Institutions. This council, made up of Dr. Winslow and directors from Ferris State College and the Saginaw Valley College, will first work in the area of the periodic review required by the 1967 teacher certification code change. They will determine the standards of time, reviewing body, and depth of the review program for all Michigan teacher education institutions and work out other unresolved details pertaining to the change over.
Spring Sports In Review

Coach Hank Burbridge's baseball squad finished the season with a 15–13 record, marking the seventh straight winning baseball season and the seventh straight bid to the NAIA post season tournament. The young diamondmen, with only one senior in the starting lineup, got off to a fast start, winning 6 out of 8. A bad slump followed with SAC losing 7 out of 8, before the Cougars closed the regular season with a rush, winning 8 of the final 10 games. Sophomore Robin Eberle set a new season batting record with a .418 average while Terry Robe hit over .300 for the fourth straight year.

The Cougar golf team recorded its best season ever, posting a 9–8 record. Coach Denny Cam's squad was small in number (five) but large in talent. In addition to their dual match record the Cougars placed an excellent 4th in the Bethel Invitational, missing second by only one stroke and trailing the winning team by seven shots. Senior Bill Childs posted the top average and set a new SAC 18-hole record with a 71. In the final match of the season the Cougars set a new school record with a score of 303 (top 4 individuals), breaking the old mark, set earlier in the season, by seven strokes.

Coach Charles Carey's tennis squad came on strong at the end of the season. The netmen, led by senior captain Bill Cooper, compiled a respectable dual match record against a suicide schedule. The tough competition paid off when the Cougars entered the Grace College Invitational and knocked off five Indiana colleges to win the tournament. In the NAIA District Championships SAC held a very close fourth place. The Cougars were in the lead at the end of the first day and missed finishing second by only 3 points.

The SAC track team posted a 5–4 dual meet record, marking the second straight winning season for the cindermen. Coach Ted Comden's charges swept a triangular meet in the final outing of the season to push the record above .500. In the NAIA District Meet the Cougars performed well, with Gary Miller winning the half-mile, while Nate Lake (triple jump) and Terry Valentine (three-mile) finished in runner up spots. New records set during the season were: 220–22.3 by Howard Housen; two-mile–9:30.0 by Terry Valentine; three-mile–14:42.5 by Terry Valentine; six-mile–32.67 by John Megyeri; high jump–6'6 5/8" by Del Littlejohn; and triple jump–42'8 1/2" by Nate Lake.

UPDATE '71

Spring Arbor College
Annual Report
1970 - 71
FROM THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

In this issue of UPDATE we recognize you, the many loyal friends of Spring Arbor College. Our warmest thanks and most sincere appreciation to each alumnus, foundation, business, friend, and Church listed in this report. It is because of your generous giving that this report can state that the college's general and operating budget is in balance. Spring Arbor College is among the few private colleges to report an income in excess of expenditures during the past fiscal year.

We are indeed fortunate that all of you who have supported Spring Arbor College so liberally sense the relevance of its educational perspective in today's world for renewing the life of the individual and his society. The term "Christian Liberal Arts" has taken on fresh meaning and significance in this decade. In a time of national crises, the renewal of society is dependent upon the motivation, the commitment, and the values men share. The Christian commitment and concern that renews men and society is the focus of the Christian perspective at Spring Arbor College.

Through your support we have been able to sustain and accelerate our programs. Evidence of this acceleration in our building program this past year is the Delta Wing addition to the Lowell Residence Hall complex and completion of the Science Center. Increased corporate and foundation giving has provided the basis for an accelerated academic program.

These past months of excitement and challenge have become the foundation for new dimensions of excellence in the development of Spring Arbor College in its pre-centennial years. Now we are optimistic about the 1971–72 academic year because of the increase in student enrollment, the innovations in the curriculum, and the addition of enthusiastic administrative and faculty members.

The splendid giving by all of you is a tangible expression of confidence in the college and its mission. It is you who supply the margin of excellence and distinction which makes Spring Arbor College a leader in Christian Higher Education today.

Contributing to the Annual Fund signifies support for the aim of Spring Arbor College: superior educational facilities and opportunities for students within the Christian framework. Contributors to Spring Arbor College demonstrate an active faith and concern in the future of Christian higher education. Contributions to Spring Arbor College encourage the efforts of the college faculty and students as they strive for excellence in the total programming of the college.

It is with gratitude that we recognize the following individuals and institutions for their financial support of the college. To emphasize the significance of their participation in the progress of the college, contributors during the 1970-71 fiscal year which ended July 1, 1971 are respectfully listed in this report.

SPRING ARBOR COLLEGE
INVESTMENT PLAN

Last spring the Board of Trustees authorized the college administration to establish a plan for friends to invest savings in the college to assist in meeting its financial needs.

Provisions for the Investment Plan

The plan provides for an individual to lend to Spring Arbor College a minimum of $1,000 and any larger amount in multiples of $500. The college will pay 6½% interest per year on your investment with the interest payable monthly or semiannually. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College, but enjoy greater returns on your savings than you can receive at most banks and savings and loan companies, plus you receive your interest check monthly.

Interest on the Investment

Interest on your investment is calculated from the 1st of the month if it is deposited by the 10th of that month. An investment received after the 10th will begin earning interest on the 1st of the next month. For example, if you deposit $5,000 in the plan before the 10th of February, you would receive a check for $27.08 early in March and each month thereafter.

Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor College also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice. The amount that the college will accept for investment will be limited to the amount that the college needs.

If you would like to participate in the Investment Plan, please send the form below to Spring Arbor College Development Office for additional information and an application.

PLEASE SEND MORE INFORMATION ON THE SPRING ARBOR COLLEGE INVESTMENT PLAN.
I AM INTERESTED IN THE POSSIBILITY OF INVESTING $_____________ IN THIS PLAN ON OR ABOUT __________________, 1971.

DR. RICHARD F. GOTTLIER
VICE PRESIDENT FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS
DELIVERS FALL ACADEMIC CONVOCATION ADDRESS:
"A VISION OF HOPE"
Dr. Richard Gottier:
“A VISION OF HOPE”

Dr. Richard F. Gottier addressed the Fall Academic Convocation in the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church on September 15, 1971. Dr. Gottier is the Vice President for Academic Affairs at Spring Arbor College. The following excerpts are taken from his Convocation Address.

... For years those of us in higher education have said, “Give us the resources to improve our educational facilities, our faculty, and our instruction, and we will show you that we can improve the world and change it for right and good.” The unfortunate thing is that the world hasn’t cooperated. Norman Cousins, in this year’s first issue of Saturday Review, put it this way: “Again, today, most of the bulging facts are with the pessimists. A mood of hopelessness lies like an incubus over the land. The evidence is strong that human society is in a stage of comprehensive breakdown. Life is no longer the highest value. Sensitivity to suffering and indignity is being dulled. People adjust all too easily to violence, major and minor. The humiliation and indignity of poverty no longer ignite resentment. The need of social justice fails to galvanize”....

... “But the final, qualitative difference between this and all previous lifetimes is the one most easily overlooked. We have not merely extended the scope and scale of change, we have radically altered its pace. We have in our time released a totally new social force--a stream of change so accelerated that it influences our sense of time, revolutionizes the tempo of daily life, and affects the very way we “feel” about the world”....

Spring Arbor: The Challenge to Create a Model Christian College.

... The basic option open to Spring Arbor today is this: will we change just enough to ensure our survival, or will we be on the forefront of creative planning and dreaming? Can we create a model Christian college in which students are deeply grounded in the liberal arts, but simultaneously are assisted in reaching the World of the Seventies with the transforming Good News of Christ? Christian colleges have not been noted for their flexibility—the challenge is momentous....

... not the pressure of realities but the absence of dreams.

... Cousins goes on: “The case for hope has never rested on provable facts or rational assessment. Hope by its very nature is independent of the apparatus of logic. What gives hope its power is not the accumulation of demonstrable fact but the release of human energies generated by the longing for something better. The case for hope, therefore, rests on the phenomenon of hope. What holds men back today is not the pressure of realities but the absence of dreams. If the dreams are good enough, no realities can stand against them”....

... What about Spring Arbor 1971-72? The facts are clearly on the side of the pessimist and the road ahead will not be easy for any private college. Members of the larger Spring Arbor Community deserve to understand that point. But I see clearly before us a Vision of Hope as well. Of all the institutions in our world that clamour for a hearing, there is no institution that can bring the resources to bear on the problems of life as can the Evangelical Christian college. We alone have the insights and wisdom of our excellently trained faculty, the perspective and power of Christ in our lives, and a concern for the world born of Divine Love....

... Spring Arbor has been entrusted with a great dream of what an excellent Christian college can be. The facts may rest with the pessimists, but the case for hope never rests upon the facts. To the extent that we are capable of indignation at injustice, to the extent that we are capable of caring about our world, to the extent that we are capable of bringing our training and our knowledge to bear upon the world’s problems, to the extent that we are capable of being sensitive to Divine Revelation for our day, to the extent that we are capable of allowing the Redemptive Love of Christ to flow through us, to that extent, then, I offer you “A Vision of Hope.”
Astronaut Alfred M. Worden who piloted the command module "Endeavor" during the flight of Apollo 15, presented a special assembly in the Spring Arbor College auditorium on October 20.

The assembly presentation featured his showing of the film "In the Mountains of the Moon," a NASA production. Astronaut Worden, a former Jackson resident, also commented on his moon flight during an informal question and answer period. He stressed man's dependence on other men for survival. He stated, "When I saw the earth from the moon, the planet earth no longer had any political, religious, or racial divisions. Every man on the earth was dependent upon every other man for his survival."

At the conclusion of the assembly, Astronaut Worden presented a momento of his flight to Spring Arbor College. The composite display of mounted photographs depict the launching of Apollo 15, the exploring of Astronaut James Erwin on the surface of the moon, and the maneuvering of the Lunar Rover.

Kellogg Foundation Grants $21,600 to Spring Arbor for Environmental Studies

Spring Arbor College has received a $21,000 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek through the foundation's "College Resources for Environmental Studies Program." The course is designed to show different habitats and site usage at representative areas throughout Michigan. The project will begin in the summer of 1972 and continue through two additional summers.

Dr. Robert B. Kinsinger, Kellogg Foundation Vice President, explained that the grant to Spring Arbor is one of approximately twenty-five similar grants made to small, private liberal arts colleges throughout the United States.

Kinsinger then added: "The Foundation hopes that its support to these special projects will encourage the small college and their students and faculty members to consider, in a practical way, unique means by which the results of the continuing insults to the environment may be modified or reversed."

The Second Kellogg Grant

The grant is the second Spring Arbor has received from the Kellogg Foundation. The first grant, received earlier this year, was a $5,000 resource grant to be used for the purchase of instructional resources for the library and classroom.

The McDonald Scholarship fund
(by Kenneth R. Beardslee, Director of Business Affairs)

The vision for and dedication to the cause of Christian education at Spring Arbor College was at an exceptional level with Don ("Mac") McDonald who was called from this scene of action March 21, 1971. Mac was always intense in whatever he gave himself to, whether with the athletic team, in the classroom, or any other endeavor.

Indications of Mac's dedication included untold hours of his time with his students and athletes, contributions of his earnings to current college needs, and investment of an annual contribution in an insurance policy premium with the college named beneficiary. It was his expressed hope that many more friends of the college would do likewise, thus assuring the college of a substantial dollar contribution at some future time.

Following Mac's decease, the family, with college concurrence, decided the most appropriate use of the funds provided would be to establish the McDonald Endowment Fund, the earnings of which would be directed to the support of the rather limited college athletic scholarship fund. A number of Mac's "boys" and other friends have also given to the fund so that it now totals $15,000. Others are also urged to contribute to this fund as a lasting tribute to a dedicated man and a continuing investment in the lives of youth for the present and future.

In his student years at Spring Arbor Junior College, he was student body president and a member of Alpha Kappa Sigma. Dr. Chapman has served Spring Arbor College as Dean of Men (1956), as coordinator of public relations (1961), and as Dean of Students (1964–67).

In July of 1970, Dr. Chapman was appointed President of West Liberty State College in West Virginia. His inaugural ceremonies occurred in September of 1971.

In accepting the "Young Leader Award," Dr. Chapman stressed how people at Spring Arbor College made a direct impact on his life. He particularly noted the concerned attitudes of his cross-country coach, the late Donald McDonald; the assistance of the college business manager, the late Clarence DeCan; and the inspiration of LeRoy M. Lowell, a former President of Spring Arbor College.

"None of these men are great by the world's standards," stated Dr. Chapman, "but they stand as great men in my memories because they were able to relate themselves to the student level. At that level they could see my problems, my concerns, and my goals for the future."

In closing, Dr. Chapman stated that his award is to be shared by the entire Spring Arbor College community since Spring Arbor has played such a vital role in forming his destiny.

FOCUS ON MID-YEAR SEMINAR

COMMENTARY: DR. E. P. COLESON AND THE FREE MARKET

PERSPECTIVES

IN MEMORY: MARY ANN GOULD

FACULTY WINTER WORKSHOP:

The Approval of a New "Christian Perspective in the Liberal Arts" Curriculum
Dr. Edward P. Coleson: A STRONG SUPPORTER OF THE FREE MARKET

Dr. Edward P. Coleson is Professor of Social Science at Spring Arbor College. Coleson was the subject of an article in the November 27, 1971 edition of the Jackson Citizen Patriot. The article, entitled "Free Market has Strong Supporter," was written by Mr. Melvin D. Barger and it appeared in the "Opinion" column. The following excerpts are taken from Mr. Barger's article. Reprints of the entire newspaper article are available from the Spring Arbor College Publications Office.

Editor's Note.

... I always think of Ed Coleson when somebody complains that the entire academic community is hostile towards the free enterprise system. They should know Ed. He has been a member of the academic community for most of the adult portion of his 58 years, and he is one of the best defenders the free system will ever have. Better yet, he makes his defense on moral grounds, the very basis that is often used by those who attack the system.

His balanced approach to issues is well-known on the Spring Arbor Campus.

Ed is not a "cause" guy, however, and you'll never find him buttonholing people during an election campaign or making fiery speeches in prediction of impending disaster. He is a thoughtful, quiet man who spends much of his time writing and teaching. His fair-minded, balanced approach to issues is well-known on the Spring Arbor campus, and he was honored by students several years ago as a highly respected, beloved faculty member.

...As a historian he also has a keen eye for examples in which religion turned out to be the saving grace for societies that seemed headed for the ashcan. The outstanding example was the Wesleyan revival which revitalized England and led to numerous reforms during the latter eighteenth century...

Ed's strong belief in the free market is not the typically conservative position. He doesn't, for example, exalt the businessman to the detriment of the working class. In fact, Ed believes that the free market is the only reliable road to the economic well-being and social harmony which so many nations desperately seek but fail to find. Most economic disasters, though often blamed on private individuals, come about because of interventions in the market place and such immoral practices as inflating the currency or granting certain groups monopoly privileges.

A Return to God's Law

How does Ed Coleson feel about the chaos and growing troubles of the larger society? About this, he has the optimism of his faith. Writing recently on the world's economic woes, he said, "I am not... discouraged: the very bankruptcy of modern man's utopian schemes has left a vacuum which someone will try to fill. What better time to urge a return to ethical standards, freedom under law, personal responsibility and the values which made Western civilization great? We launch space ships according to God's Law; then why not consult Him about reordering this chaotic world down here below?"
PERSPECTIVES

IN MEMORY: Mary Ann Gould

"This is not funeral-time, this is coronation-time" — these affirming words describe the mood and tone shared in victorious Christian faith by loved ones, relatives, friends, classmates, and faculty-staff at memorial services held in Michigan and Ontario for Ann Gould following her death at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor, Michigan, Friday evening, January 21, 1972.

Daughter of the Reverend Alton A. and Phyllis M. Gould, former Free Methodist missionaries in Hong Kong, now serving in the South East Asian Field of the Christian Children's Fund, Inc., Ann was to have graduated this June with a major in English from Spring Arbor College. She was to have been married this summer.

Ann was buried in Haley, Ontario. Hospital, medical, travel and funeral expenses have been enormous and much beyond the financial resources of the Gould family to meet. However, through a major assistance from the Department of Special Services of the State of Michigan and the many and generous contributions of relatives, friends, churches, students, faculty, staff and other groups, the total expenses are being met.

The parents, Rev. and Mrs. Alton Gould and family, have requested that a living memorial be established at Spring Arbor College in memory of Ann, called the Ann Gould Memorial Scholarship Fund. From this fund scholarships will be given to assist missionary children and students preparing for missionary service in their educational pursuits at Spring Arbor College. Some contributions have already been received for this purpose. Contributions are encouraged. Make checks payable to Spring Arbor College, designating the amount for the Ann Gould Memorial Scholarship Fund. All monies received will be receipted for tax purposes.

A Commitment to Foreign Students

Spring Arbor College's concept for serving the educational needs of youth from various backgrounds also involves the challenge of involving a number of foreign students in the campus family. These students enrich the campus community as they share insights from their different cultural perspectives.

These students are worthy and needy of financial assistance. Students from outside Canada and the U.S. are typically excluded from any kind of government grant or loan. Present aid for the foreign students is limited to about $400 annually from the college, plus the opportunity for part-time employment.

These foreign students present a real opportunity for the investment of "missionary dollars." Friends of the college who have interest in assisting these gifted students should contact Mr. Kenneth Beardslee at the college business office for additional information.

Credit Card System Initiated

As a special service to college donors, Spring Arbor has recently initiated a credit card contributions system. The system provides the donor with the opportunity to utilize credit cards in making college contributions. The system has been established in cooperation with Master Charge, Michigan BankAmericard, and BankAmericard.

The credit card system enables the donor to conveniently space out his contributions.

SECURE
Giant--majestic.
A rock so hard and protecting
A tiny fern--hidden so deep.
Roaring winds, sweep and torment.
Waves lash and reach cruel fingers.
Raindrops--like sharp pins drop down.
But the fern--tiny, frail
So protected
Within the rock is safe.
Secure.
Hold me so--protect against
The winds of today.
The lashing waves of foolish people.
And teardrops of trouble--sharp rain.
My rock is strong--so big
Holding so tightly in Love.
A Haven.
Secure.

(This poem "SECURE" is part of an unpublished poetry collection written by Mary Ann Gould.)
Dr. Richard F. Gottier, Vice-President for Academic Affairs, directed the mid-January Faculty Workshop Sessions. Dr. Gottier was assisted by Dr. Harold R. Darling, Professor of Psychology, who served as chairman of the Christian Perspective in the Liberal Arts (CPLA) Curriculum Steering Committee. Two particularly significant innovations resulted from the 1972 Workshop: a modified semester calendar was approved and a new CPLA Curriculum was confirmed.

The modified semester calendar features two 14-week semesters with a 4-week Interim Period. The new Interim will provide each student with the opportunity to select one subject in keeping with his major interest. The student will earn credit for a complete course in the short, concentrated term.

An announcement of the new CPLA Curriculum will be formally released later this winter.
The Calendar Committee, under the leadership of Dr. Leon O. Hynson, Associate Professor of Philosophy-Religion, planned for efficient use of the academic year in the new modified semester calendar.

The Interim Committee led by Mr. Charles Carey, Associate Professor of Mathematics, developed guidelines for four-week courses that will provide creative instructional approaches for the January term.

The Christian Perspective of Man committee under the direction of Dr. Ralph A. Carey, Associate Professor of History, presented recommendations for a series of intra-divisional, team taught courses emphasizing the Christian Perspective of Man in each academic division.

The Bank Courses Committee, steered by Mr. Stephen R. Smiley, Assistant Professor of History, recommended which supporting courses in the new curriculum should apply toward general educational requirements.

In the Communications Committee, Mrs. M. Celestine Trevan who is Associate Professor of English, led in the exploration of ways to develop facility in written and spoken communication.

The Re-working of Majors Committee, directed by Dr. Charles E. Hawkins, Assistant Professor of Physics, determined the role of present courses in the new curriculum.

The Transition and Transfer Committee, led by Mr. John M. Newby, Registrar, probed the problems which are inevitably faced in a change-over to a new program.

The Institutional Resource Committee, directed by Mr. Carl Jacobson, who is Associate Professor of Education and Director of Media Services, placed Spring Arbor's resources in perspective with the new curriculum.
Students Explore "Identity in a Troubled World"

Spring Arbor students explored the crises of "Identity in a Troubled World" during the 1972 Mid-Year seminar. The concentrated Seminar Week began on January 24. Dr. Lucy J. Maddox, Professor of English and Director of the Spring Arbor College Library, served as Chairman of the Mid-Year Seminar Committee.

Students viewed the problems of identity from the perspectives of several outstanding guest lecturers. Lecturers who participated in the mid-year dialogue were Dr. Chaim Potok, Dr. U. Milo Kaufmann, Dr. Thomas T. Howard, Dr. LaMont Okey, and Dr. Vernard Eller.

Dr. Chaim Potok discussed "The Problems of Identity of Orthodox Jews." He is currently editor of the Jewish Theological Society of America. His novel, THE CHOSEN is a best-seller.

Dr. U. Milo Kaufmann presented a lecture, "The Child as Father of the Man." Dr. Kaufmann is author of THE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS AND TRADITIONS IN PURITAN MEDITATION. He is Associate Professor of English at the University of Illinois.

A lecture-reading, "The Quest for a Mask," was presented by Dr. LaMont Okey. Dr. Okey is Professor of English at the University of Michigan, noted for his course in Oral Reading of the Bible.

Dr. Thomas T. Howard presented a lecture, "Fie on Innovation." Dr. Howard is best known for his two latest books CHRIST THE TIGER and THE ANTIQUE DRUM. He is Assistant Professor of English Language and Literature at Gordon College.

Dr. Vernard Eller addressed himself to the issue of "Who in the World Are You?" Dr. Eller is widely known for one of his recent books, THE TEN COMMANDMENTS SEEN THROUGH THE EYES OF MAD MAGAZINE which "Christian Herald" named among the top five paperbacks Protestants were reading in 1970. Dr. Eller is Professor of Religion at LaVerne College (California).

In the final seminar session Dr. Richard F. Gottier who is Vice President for Academic Affairs at Spring Arbor College discussed "Identity Crises and My Self-Concept."

Dr. Okey's interpretative readings reflected the tone of the seminar explorations. "In this space age," he commented, "we have become so involved with things that we lose sight of selves as individuals. As an individual we must examine our mask again, and see if it reflects the thoughts, the actions, and the voice of what we believe ourselves to be."

Participate in the Spring Arbor College

Investment Plan

Last spring the Board of Trustees authorized the college administration to establish a plan for friends to invest savings in the college to assist in meeting its financial needs.

Provisions of the Investment Plan

The plan provides for an individual to lend to Spring Arbor College a minimum of $1,000 and any larger amount in multiples of $500. The college will pay 6.5% interest per year on your investment with the interest payable monthly or semiannually. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College, but enjoy greater returns on your savings than you can receive at most banks and savings and loan companies, plus you receive your interest check monthly.

Interest on the Investment

Interest on your investment is calculated from the 1st of the month if it is deposited by the 10th of that month. An investment received after the 10th will begin earning interest on the 1st of the next month. For example, if you deposit $5,000 in the plan before the 10th of February, you would receive a check for $27.08 early in March and each month thereafter.

Participation in the Investment Plan

Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor College also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice. The amount that the college will accept for investment will be limited to the amount that the college needs.

If you would like to participate in the Investment Plan, please send the form below to Spring Arbor College Development Office for additional information and an application.

DR. RICHARD F. GOTTIER: "BACCALAUREATE LEVEL OCCUPATIONAL PROGRAMS--DILEMMA FOR THE LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE"

SNOW FESTIVAL WEEKEND '72

ANNOUNCING THE SPRING ARBOR COLLEGE 1972 SUMMER SESSIONS
Those of us with strong commitments to Liberal Arts Education have been subjected to so much analysis, criticism, and dissection in recent years at professional meetings and in scholarly journals that we have been threatened with death on the diagnostic table at the hands of our friends. While with Twain we have emphasized that the reports of our death are greatly exaggerated, there are large enough doses of truth in these diagnoses to give us pause. I need not remind you of the spiraling costs that accompany inflation until one must run hard just to stand still; nor of increasing competition with public and vocational-technical schools for students; nor of external pressures from various constituencies to change in a multiplicity of directions.

Re-Evaluating the Role of a Liberal Education

Perhaps the most terrifying problem of all, however, is the distinct possibility that the young people of today may not require our services at all. Emphasis of the NOW generation calls for immediate applicability of all learning for it to be worth the effort. Our visions of a liberal education as preparatory for life, with strong emphasis on principles that endure across centuries, and values that focus on people seem all so remote. And so the vocational and technical schools, the underground schools, and the on-the-job training offered by many business firms seem very attractive.

Faced with this dilemma, most Liberal Arts faculties tend to opt for one of two defensive and extreme positions. On the one hand is the stance that the Liberal Arts have been relevant for centuries, and we will not sacrifice their purity by making them applicable to a specific age or problem.

The opposite position is typified by the faculty that recognizes the problem, scans the horizon frantically for any model of success they can find, and then hustles off to ape that program, whether or not they are prepared to implement that model.

It is not my purpose this morning to offer you new models which you can "buy" prepackaged and cart home. Rather, I hope to do three things: 1) raise some questions about the nature and purpose of the Liberal Arts College (an identity search, if you will); 2) review for you briefly steps taken on our campus to face these problems; and 3) suggest certain criteria for developing alternate programs.

Perhaps a few of the "hard" questions which we have debated might stimulate your thinking. Have not our notions of a "Liberal Education" been obscure at best? Could your faculty write behavioral definitions of a Liberal Educated person? Has not academe often judged the quality of an institution's "Liberal Arts Preparation" by the percent of graduates moving on to graduate programs? Might it not be equally important to know what happened to the student during his four years with us? Are there not professional programs that could benefit greatly by the liberalizing influence of an undergraduate liberal arts program?

Whether the Liberal Arts College continues as a viable force in Higher Education for the Seventies, or becomes a curious relic in the Museum of Higher Education will depend on our creative planning now! If we can offer our students strong Liberal Arts Programs together with options for meeting critical needs of our world, we are on the way.
"BUILDING THE COMMUNITY OF BELIEVERS":
CHRISTIAN COMMITMENT WEEK ’72

Mr. Jimmy DiRaddo (at left) and Rev. Dave Pollack led the 1972 Christian Commitment Week.

APPOINTED
OF ESTATE PLANNING

Spring Arbor College
College Appoints
Charles H. Webb
As Director of Planned Giving

Charles H. Webb has completed his studies at the Kennedy Sinclaire Educational Gifts Seminar and begins his public service program this fall. Mr. Webb studied estate planning, testamentary and living trusts, life insurance trusts, annuities, life income agreements, and tax discount plans. He received his B.A. degree from Spring Arbor College and attended Asbury Theological Seminary. He received his M.A. degree in counseling and student personnel from Western Michigan University.

The Board of Trustees of Spring Arbor College has appointed Charles H. Webb to serve as Director of Planned Giving. Mr. Webb has structured a long-range planned gifts program, concentrating on wills, trusts, and bequests. The program will be primarily one of education, information, and consultation. It will expand to reach hundreds of alumni and friends who will be encouraged to consider the college by means of bequests or trusts in their wills, and in various life insurance or life income plans.

FINANCIAL ESTATE PLANNING

The purpose of the planned gifts program is to show alumni and friends how they can utilize tax advantages provided in federal tax laws with carefully planned gifts—gifts which are essential to Spring Arbor's continued growth and development.

Financial estate planning is of value to everyone and particularly to the person of substantial means. Few large estates are well-planned. As a result, thousands of dollars are lost that could be used by the family.

One of the major reasons for this loss is failure to keep an estate plan up to date to fit the revisions in tax and other laws and changes in family circumstances and property situations. Mr. Webb commented, "We know that if we had the opportunity to talk to many of these people, we could help them with their estate planning problems. In doing so, we might show them how their estates could be planned for the financial protection of their family and at the same time allow generous provisions for religious and educational causes."

He added that few people realize how proper planning would enable them to give to the college economically, even now or in the future, sums that they would not have thought possible. He emphasized that a study of an individual's complete financial picture often points out just how a donor can make a sizeable gift to the college without sacrificing financial security.

Mr. Webb will consult with persons who wish to make gifts to Spring Arbor College. However, final action, in all cases, is taken only in collaboration with the donor's own attorney.
Is it desirable to have a will? Regardless of what alternate techniques a person may use to settle his estate, the overwhelming evidence from advisors and from literature on the subject points to the desirability of having a will as the final instrument in estate planning. It should take into account any actions, prior plans, or situations that would make for consistency within this final instrument, the will, and eliminate legal conflict. Joint ownership with right of survivorship has been assumed by some to eliminate the will. This may be partially true. Taxwise, joint ownership may become very complex when the estate is large. The advantages of having a will are as follows:

*Within the laws of the state a person through a will determines who is to receive his property in the event of his death.

*He is able to choose who is to manage his affairs after death, and, as a rule, the administration will be simpler and more economical than if a state-appointed administrator has charge of the estate.

*In addition, he is able to take advantage of tax-saving devices, especially if the estate is substantial.

Without a will, his estate is distributed according to the laws of the state. This distribution is designed to be logical but it is inflexible. Certainly it is without regard to the wishes of the deceased.

Are you sure your present will takes full advantage of tax savings possible through trusts, bequests, and lifetime gifts to charity? Tax laws change over the years. Through proper estate planning a person can leave more to his beneficiaries and to Christian education.

CASC WORKSHOP '72
“Alternative Futures for Small, Private Liberal Arts Colleges”
1 HIGHER EDUCATION IN THE FUTURE: Joseph P. Cosand, Deputy Commissioner for Higher Education in the U.S. Office of Education (at left) presented the Workshop Keynote Address on "Higher Education in 1980." Dr. Eilwood A. Voller, Spring Arbor College President, welcomed Mr. Cosand to the Spring Arbor campus.

2 STUDENT PANELISTS: Students were also given an opportunity to voice their concerns about the future of higher education. The student panelists discussed "The Future College" from their perspective. Panel participants included Sam Riggelman, Student Body President at Spring Arbor College (at left).

3 ACADEMIC INNOVATIONS: Dr. Richard F. Gottier, Vice President for Academic Affairs at Spring Arbor College lead a discussion on "Paraprofessional Programs for Liberal Arts Colleges." Dr. Gottier is a member of the CASC Special Advisory Planning Committee.

Joseph P. Cosand Delivers CASC Workshop Keynote Address

Spring Arbor College hosted the 1972 summer workshop of the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges (CASC).

The workshop featured in-service training programs for major administrative officers of small, private, four-year liberal arts colleges. Delegates from eighty-eight colleges participated in the workshop.

The week of workshop sessions began August 7 with a keynote address by Mr. Joseph P. Cosand, Deputy Commissioner for Higher Education in the U.S. Office of Education. Mr. Cosand stressed the necessity of cooperation between small colleges.

A highlight of the opening session was also a message sent by President Richard M. Nixon who said, "Recognizing that the future of the small private college depends on sound management, you have seized this unique opportunity to study the problems at hand and look for possible solutions."

Dr. Roger J. Voskuyl of Washington, D.C. presided during the workshop sessions. He is the Executive Director of CASC. He was assisted by Dr. James O. Baird, President of CASC and President of Oklahoma Christian College.
Summer Session Travel Courses Provide Unique Study Experiences

The 1972 Summer Session included two major travel-study programs. Four faculty members and 35 students were involved in the two programs.

Assistant Professor of Psychology, Mr. John Allen, headed up a "Summer Session in the Mountains" in the Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks area. Dr. Anna Leatherman, Professor of Biology, and Mr. Ken Dickinson, Associate Professor of Education, were also involved in teaching in this program. Students had the opportunity to select two or three courses from the five that were offered including: "Flora of the Rocky Mountains," "Field Geology of the Tetons and Yellowstone," "Human Behavior Control," "Backpacking," and "Mountain Climbing."

Under a grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, Dr. Eldon Whiteman, Professor of Biology, conducted a travel course in "Environmental Studies." The grant will also allow the course to be taught during the next two summer sessions. The course concentrated on giving students a first-hand look at many environmental problems and to also observe many of the techniques that are being employed to solve these problems.

After one week of background instruction on campus, the Environmental Studies class left for a three-week tour of Michigan. Their stops included: the Kellogg Bird Sanctuary, Allegan Forest and Game Area, Pallisades Nuclear Power Plant, Morton Salt Company, Ludington Pumped Storage Power Plant, Packaging Corporation of America, Platte River Fish Hatchery, Lamprey Research Station, Abitibi Paper Company, Houghton Lake Natural Resource Area, and Dow Chemical Plant.

Environmental Studies class ready to leave on three-week study-tour through Michigan.

Environmental Studies class camped at the Kellogg Bird Sanctuary. The Kellogg Foundation grant assisted the college in purchasing the needed camping equipment.

Environmental Studies students were interviewed on a morning radio broadcast in South Haven, Michigan.

Everyone managed to gain a little weight from the delicious outdoor cooking.

At Spring Arbor, students participating in the intercollegiate and intramural programs are more than just a vital statistic. The physical education concept at Spring Arbor stresses the importance of developing skills and then utilizing these skills in later life as a means of developing the whole person.
“Spring Arbor’s academic program is a balance between the traditional and the “new”... the conventional and the innovative... the theoretical and the practical... between education and training.”

THE CENTENNIAL FOUNDERS' OBSERVANCE

EXPLORING THE JANUARY INTERIM

ALUMNI ACCENT

TERRY VALENTINE NAMED SPRING ARBOR'S FIRST ALL-AMERICAN ATHLETE
The Founders' Observance marked the official beginning of the Spring Arbor College Centennial Year. Activities began at 2:00 p.m. in the afternoon with a showing of the Centennial Slide/Film production "Shaping Another Century." Over 350 distinguished guests arriving on campus were greeted by Dr. and Mrs. Ellwood A. Voller during the President's Reception. The Founders' dinner at 7:00 p.m. climaxed the day's activities.

The dinner featured a keynote address by Dr. David L. McKenna, former student, teacher, and president at Spring Arbor College. Following the dinner, service awards were presented to Spring Arbor's past and current board members, faculty, and administrators who have made outstanding contributions to Spring Arbor College.

Tools For Shaping Another Century

In his keynote address at the Founders' dinner, Dr. McKenna stressed the two tools which are needed for "Shaping a Second Century" at Spring Arbor College. He noted, "One tool is a sense of history; the other is a sense of destiny. A sense of history, according to Trueblood, saves us from either complacency or despair by showing the continuities of the past upon which the future must be built. A sense of destiny, on the other hand, is a life-support system into which the changes of Toffler's speeding, changing and shocking future can be plugged. Continuity and change, then, are the raw materials which must shape our future with the tools of our history and our destiny."

He declared that it is most appropriate that Spring Arbor's Centennial Year should begin with the publication of the history of Spring Arbor College. "The history," he noted, "highlights continuities which can be traced through one hundred years of institutional existence." He emphasized three continuities which are particularly important for shaping Spring Arbor's new century: the century-long commitment to educational quality; the continuity of a Christian perspective in the liberal arts; and the continuity of a campus environment that is conducive to serious study and Christian living.

Then, turning to Spring Arbor's sense of destiny, Dr. McKenna stressed three changes that must be anticipated as Spring Arbor shapes a second century. "Organizationally, there will be decreasing support from a pluralistic society and increasing conflict with the values of a secular society. Institutionally, there will be decreasing involvement in accidental functions..."
and increasing participation in educational and evangelistic networks. Educationally, there will be decreasing dependence upon institutional religious responses and increasing responsibilities for individuals in Christian theology, ethics and practice."

Dr. McKenna concluded his remarks by stating, "Clark Kerr has noted that many rich institutions of higher education are suffering from 'inspirational poverty.' Clark Kerr also says that the hope for renewal in higher education will come from 'old, private institutions which have prided themselves on the control of their destiny or from the totally new campuses of the state university.'

A Sense of History and Destiny

With the opening of this Centennial Year, Spring Arbor College now qualifies as an 'old, private institution which has prided itself on the control of its own destiny.' Furthermore, because its purpose is inseparable from the promises and the prophecy of the Word of God, it is rich in inspiration. Therefore, with a sense of history and a sense of destiny as the sharpest tools in our hands, the shaping of the second century can begin with hope."

(1) Dr. Ellwood A. Voller, current SAC president met with Dr. David L. McKenna and Dr. Roderick Smith prior to the Founders’ Dinner.

(2) Dr. David L. McKenna, current president of Seattle Pacific College, presented the Founders’ address: "Shaping Another Century."

(3) Dr. Hugh A. White was honored for his forty years of outstanding service to SAC. Mrs. White pauses to join the group in honoring her husband.

(4) Dr. White presented service awards to members of the Board of Trustees. Bishop Marston and his wife are at speaker's left.

(5) Mrs. Eulalia Buttleman (class of 1906) was honored for her listing in "Two Thousand Women of Achievement," published by the Melrose Press Limited in London this fall.

(6) Dr. Stanley S. Kresge and his wife were recognized for their dedication to Spring Arbor's Christian youth.
Terry Valentine: Spring Arbor's First All-American Athlete

Terry Valentine receives the All-American award from his coach, Ted Comden and Dr. Voller.

Terry Valentine, the greatest cross country runner in the history of Spring Arbor College, made his final Cougar appearance the most rewarding one by capturing All-American honors at the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) national championship. He finished 12th in a field of 400 runners who competed in the national meet in Liberty, Missouri. The top 15 finishers received All-American Certificates. Terry, a senior from Jackson, Michigan, is Spring Arbor's first "All-American" athlete.

Rigorous Training

Coach Ted Comden says of his first All-American, "Terry is truly a fine athlete. His willingness to drive himself and train rigorously—often by himself—has made the real difference in his performances over the past two seasons. He is quick to recognize and acclaim the achievements of others—both teammates and opponents. It has been a privilege to work with Terry and is satisfying to see him achieve a well-deserved honor."

Terry came to Spring Arbor in the fall of 1969 after achieving an All-State award as a member of East Jackson High School's 1968 state championship cross country team. During both freshman and sophomore seasons he was the front runner on strong Cougar harrier squads, leading the team to a 7-1 record and three invitational trophies in 1970.

As a junior, Terry ran stronger than ever and set the home course 4.0 mile record at 19:48 and concluded the season with an 80th place finish in the NAIA national championship race. During the track season that same year, Terry really came into his own as one of the top collegiate distance runners in the state. His "personal bests" during the outdoor track season would stand as school records at many larger schools across the country. His mile time of 4:14.0 set a Spring Arbor College and NAIA District 23 record. In the two mile event his 9:09.2 was stepped off in a race in which he beat some of Michigan State University's and Central Michigan University's finest runners. A 14:20.9 three mile time also set a Spring Arbor College record and qualified Terry for competition in the 5000 meter event in the 1972
NAIA Pre-Olympic national track meet in Billings, Montana.

As a senior in the fall of ’72 Terry provided leadership and inspiration to his fellow runners—not only on the Cougar squad, but also among many of the athletes from competing teams. His respected Christian witness combined with an intense desire to achieve his full potential as a runner combined to make him a most appreciated campus leader.

Terry Sets Course Records

In three out of the first four meets of his senior season Terry set course records while winning on the road—at Olivet College, at Hillsdale College and at Albion College. His best effort on the home course set the Spring Arbor College varsity record for 5 miles at 24:56. Terry’s best five mile time was a 24:32 at Adrian College and on the tough Eastern Michigan course his 24:59 placed him sixth on the all-time best performance list ahead of such well-known runners as Olympians Dave Wottle and Dave Ellis.

The Climactic Race

As a fitting climax to a very successful cross country career at Spring Arbor College, Terry overcame a late-season injury to run a strong 12th place in the NAIA National Championship Meet.

On campus, Terry is a Resident Assistant in Beta Hall and a Bible study leader. He has also been active in the Jackson street ministry. Named to the Dean’s List,

Terry is a social science major and a physical education minor.

Since Terry was the only senior on the ’72 cross country team, Coach Comden will be looking for strong performances from junior Frank Dusett of New Haven, who placed an excellent 26th in the ’72 National Meet.

Continued improvement from juniors Marc Willis of Deland, Florida and Dan Roggenbaum of State College, Pennsylvania; sophomores Lowell Rose of Rockville, Maryland and Dale Blain of Oxford; and freshmen John Rose of Rockville, Maryland and Jeff Evoy of Romeo will assure continued success in the long tradition of Spring Arbor cross country.

Mayor Lugar to Present Centennial Commencement Address

Richard G. Lugar, Mayor of the City of Indianapolis, will present the Centennial Commencement address on Saturday, May 19, at 10:00 a.m. in the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church.

Mayor Lugar is a graduate of Denison University (1954). He received the B.A. and M.A. degrees with honors from Pembroke College, Oxford, England, where he was a Rhodes Scholar (1956). The students at Pembroke College elected him president of the student body.

Following his tour of active duty in the United States Navy, Lieutenant Lugar and his wife returned to Indianapolis where he assumed management of Thomas L. Green and Company and Lugar Stock Farm, Inc. The voters of Indianapolis tapped Mr. Lugar for membership on this Indianapolis Board of School Commissioners. He served on the Board until 1967, when he resigned to run for Mayor of Indianapolis. Following a vigorous campaign, he was elected Mayor of Indianapolis in 1967, defeating the Democrat incumbent by 8,994 votes.

Evidence of his growing national reputation as an articulate and prominent spokesman for urban America may be found in his activities on the national scene. These activities include serving as Vice Chairman for the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, as a member of the Advisory Council of the United States Conference of Mayors and as a member of the Board of Directors of the National Service to Regional Councils.

Mayor Lugar has become one of President Nixon's foremost advisors on urban problems. The Washington Post characterized him as "President Nixon's favorite mayor" in September of 1970, and columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak describe him as "a rising young Republican, closer to Mr. Nixon than any other Mayor."

In 1972, Mayor Lugar served as a delegate to both the Indiana and National Republican Conventions. Richard G. Lugar was one of three keynote speakers during the 1972 National Convention at Miami Beach.
Sheri Hudberg: Overcoming Obstacles

Sheri Hudberg, a 1971 graduate of Spring Arbor College, has been blind for several years. Too much oxygen can cause this in a newborn infant. Robert and Beverly Hudberg discovered this when their firstborn child grew and developed. Within and without the family circle many questions were asked—the most evident one being, “Why?”

As the years passed, Sheri’s parents, with God’s guidance, tried to help her become an independent individual, abling her to successfully relate to and work in society. Sheri was also taught by her parents the most important lesson of her life. They, with prayerful guidance, taught Sheri to become totally dependent on God for her directions in life.

Upon completion of high school, Sheri attended Spring Arbor College. It was during her college years that she began to understand and find herself. She discovered and worked diligently to perfect her inborn God-given talents and as a result chose a major in music. Through music she was able to give expression of her inner faith, thoughts, and feelings. As a result of her singing and her guitar and piano playing, she found that the Holy Spirit was working through her to speak to individuals.

A Term in Missionary Service

During her college years Sheri applied and was accepted to a summer student missionary program. Her assignment sent her to Quito, Ecuador to work at radio station HCJB. As a result of her summer experience, Sheri felt a compelling desire to return to Ecuador as a missionary musician where she would produce music that would reach an audience in several countries around the world.

On March 15, 1972, God provided the way for her to fly to Ecuador thus beginning her first term in missionary service.

Sheri’s life has become a beautiful living example of how God is able to surmount and suppress even the most difficult situations and circumstances when we place Him in the center of our living.

Development Office Sets Annual Giving Goal

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees it was requested that the College Administration tighten their belts and reduce the 1972-73 budget because the College did not attain the student enrollment level this fall that was needed. As a result the budget was reduced by $56,000. They also requested the Office of Development to raise an additional $64,000 above the level of giving attained from alumni and friends last year.

The Development Office, under the leadership of Mr. David L. Gines, has set a campaign goal of one-half million dollars this year. This represents an increase of $103,000 over last year’s giving level.

Realizing the significance of closing another year with a balanced budget, the Board of Trustees have already pledged $47,000 toward a goal of $60,000 established for themselves. This goal includes a challenge gift of $20,000 from one of the trustees, challenging the remainder of the board to give $2 for every $1 he gives up to $20,000.

It is also significant to note the college faculty is working toward a giving level of $33,000 this year. This is about 10% above their giving level of 1971-72. We commend them for their dedication to the college.

Two early, significant grants have been encouraging to the college towards the attainment of this year’s annual campaign goal. The Sage Foundation has awarded an unrestricted grant of $10,000 and the Robert S. Marx Testamentary Trust has awarded an unrestricted grant of $25,000 which will be paid in two installments, the first installment now and the second payment in the spring of 1974.

Part of the total annual fund campaign is a $50,000 drive in the Jackson business community. An $8,000 kick-off grant presented by a local businessman has already been received for this campaign.

The Spring Arbor College alumni have always been responsive to the annual fund drive and their support will be significant again this year to attain the one-half million dollar goal set by the college. Already many alumni have increased their gifts and fifty new alumni have already given this year. Last year the alumni contributed $73,665 to Spring Arbor. This year a goal of $100,000 has been established. To attain this giving level many new alumni gifts and increased alumni gifts will be needed.
January Interim Expands Educational Experiences

Spring Arbor College students are reaching out beyond campus to gain new educational experiences. During the four-week January Interim, students were involved in concentrated courses on-campus or in the study of subjects located elsewhere in the world.

Mr. Kenneth M. Dickinson, Associate Professor of Education conducted a seminar in comparative education in Haiti and the Dominican Republic. Mr. George E. Kline, Assistant Professor of English, headed an on-location study of Charles Dickens' literature in London. Sociology students attended sessions at the Urban Life Center in Chicago under the direction of Mr. Lowell L. Noble, Associate Professor of Sociology. A study of politics and institutions in Washington, D.C. drew students to the nation's capital.

Mr. Stephen L. Couch, Instructor in Political Science, accompanied the group.

The January Interim continues to provide innovative educational experience for Spring Arbor students. Plans for additional study tours for Interim '74 are already in progress.

Mr. Lambert T. Dolphin, Jr., Senior Physicist, Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park, California, will be featured as speaker for our Centennial year's Thomas F. Staley Staley Distinguished Lecture Series, April 25-29, 1973. This is the third successive year Spring Arbor College has been privileged to participate in this program sponsored by the Thomas F. Staley Foundation of New York City. The Staley Lectureship was established in the fall of 1969 by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Staley of Rye, New York, in memory of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Staley and Judge and Mrs. H. H. Haynes, of Bristol, Tennessee.

Being firmly persuaded that the message of the Christian Gospel is always contemporary, relevant and meaningful to any generation, the chief concern of the Staley Foundation is the student world. To help reach that world it offers its resources to support evangelical spokesmen who are unashamed in their testimony and who love and effectively communicate the Gospel of Jesus Christ in its historical and scriptural fullness. As Distinguished Scholar, Mr. Dolphin will give a series of evening lectures and chapel messages and lead classroom discussions, special group sessions, student "rap" sessions and be available for personal consultation.

Spring Arbor College is among Michigan's independent colleges which will have an additional $400 available to each of their students, based on need, from the state of Michigan. Governor William G. Milliken recently signed into law the bill that will increase the maximum state tuition grant from $800 to $1200.

He continued graduate work at Northwestern University where he received the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1962. Following his post-doctoral training as a staff psychologist at Research Hospital in Galesburg, Illinois, he joined the Oakland University staff. Now in his tenth year at Oakland University, Dr. Coffman is currently the university ombudsman and Associate Professor of Psychology.

The State of Michigan tax credit has been amended to provide a maximum of $200 for a man and wife filing jointly, effective January 1, 1973.

Former conditions or limitations for individuals remains the same:—one-half of the amount of the contribution, or—20% of the taxpayer’s state tax liability for the year, or—$100.

The production was based on Howard A. Snyder's book One Hundred Years at Spring Arbor: A History of Spring Arbor College, 1873-1973. The pageant script was written by Mrs. Myrtle (Thompson) Zimmerman, a Spring Arbor alumna now residing in Detroit, and Dr. Gilbert Roller who is Professor of Music at Spring Arbor College.

The pageant utilized drama, visual projections, pantomine and music to highlight the College's one hundred years of existence. All pageant actors and actresses were faculty, alumni or students of SAC.

First copies of the centennial history, written by Howard A. Snyder, were released during the pageant. Dr. Hugh A. White, Chairman of the Board of Trustees; Dr. Ellwood A. Voller, President; and Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Snyder, parents of the author, received the first copies.

Spring Arbor Centennial Logo

The Spring Arbor College Centennial Logo focuses on an arrangement of seven hexagons. The seven hexagons represent the seven pillars of wisdom referred to in Proverbs 9:1, "Wisdom hath builded her house; she hath hewn her seven pillars."

This also represents the idea of a complete liberal arts curriculum which, in the Middle Ages, comprised the quadrivium (arithmetic, geometry, astronomy, and music) and the trivium (grammar, logic, and rhetoric). The seventh hexagon features Spring Arbor College. The focus is on the Flame of Truth.

In addition to his teaching responsibilities at Spring Arbor, Dr. Campbell is Director of the Christian Perspective Studies. He is also currently pastor of the Zion United Methodist Church of Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cooper Present Gift to College

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cooper of Horton, Michigan, have recently deeded 101 acres of land to Spring Arbor College. The land, which is located four miles south of the College, was deeded through a modified annuity arrangement made with the College. The 101 acres is currently part of the 300 acre Springbrook Farms and will be called Springbrook Park.

It is the Coopers’ wish that Springbrook Park be used as an outdoor laboratory for the biology department of the College. It will also continue to be used as a camping area for Boy Scouts and other organized groups as it has been in the past. If the proposed revision of the campus radio station broadcast facilities is realized, then the WSAE remote transmitting tower will also be located on this property.

Springbrook Park will serve as the perfect site for the new biology laboratory. The Park consists of a series of ponds, various types of terrain including meadows, hills, and wooded area, with the Kalama-zoo River running along one side of the property. The land will be left in its natural condition, making it a home for wildlife and an area for outdoor study of nature.

In addition to contributing Springbrook Park, the Coopers have also included Spring Arbor College in their will.

Mr. Cooper, now retired from the excavating business, is still involved in house construction and some gravel sales.

During the years in which he owned and operated his business, Mr. Cooper frequently prepared the sites for several buildings on the Spring Arbor College campus.

A 1923 graduate of Spring Arbor High School, Mr. Cooper and his wife, Alice, have long been friends of the College, interested in its growth and development.

Yearbook Dedication

The Spring Arbor College student body dedicated the Centennial Yearbook to Dr. Edward Coleson, Professor of Social Science. The dedication was announced by Bradly Vibber of St. Louis, Echo editor, during a special chapel program. In the yearbook dedication text, the student body noted: "Dr. Coleson is one of the most concerned and devoted people in Spring Arbor. He is devoted to teaching, and devoted to Spring Arbor College, but most of all he is devoted to mankind."

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh A. White of Bloomfield Hills were honored with a special "This Is Your Life" program on May 12, during the annual Spring Arbor College Faculty-Staff Appreciation Dinner.

The program focused on the outstanding leadership Dr. and Mrs. White have provided in Christian Higher Education, in business, and in church affairs. The presentation featured remarks from Dr. and Mrs. White's family, family friends, business associates, and church leaders.

Dr. White is a member of the Spring Arbor semi-centennial class of 1923. He is currently serving in his 40th year as member of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. and Mrs. White have been closely associated with the growth and development of Spring Arbor College. In 1964, Dr. and Mrs. White, through the Hugh A. White Foundation, donated Beta House, a three-story men's dormitory. They also were partially responsible for donating the Hugh A. White Library in 1963. Recently, the Whites awarded the funds for the construction of the Logos Gardens on campus.

The Reverend Virgil L. Raley, who is Conference Superintendent of the South California-Arizona Free Methodist Conference, was among those to pay special tribute to Dr. and Mrs. White. He remarked: "Many others have spoken of their monumental leadership and contribution to Christian Education through Spring Arbor College, and of their untiring labor of love for the manifold ministries of the Free Methodist Church world-wide, but I want to salute them as outstanding laymen of the Free Methodist Church. There are many countless thousands world-wide who will put the right accent on living because of the Christian life and love exemplified by Dr. and Mrs. White."

Dr. Voller presented a Certificate of Appreciation to Dr. and Mrs. White at the conclusion of the "This Is Your Life" program.

During the commencement ceremony, Dr. Voller conferred an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on Mayor Lugar.

Supplement to Jackson Citizen Patriot
... the basis for a substantially improved level of learning, living and commitment.

Spring Arbor's Centennial has become a vantage point; a place from which to view the accomplishments of the past, the conditions of the present, and the opportunities of the future.

From a small school of twenty-eight students, founded in 1873, Spring Arbor College has become a significant institution of higher learning in the State of Michigan. Our alumni have cast an important influence over Jackson County, across the United States and into many corners of the world.

The cornerstones of service, purpose and quality, have matured a private college which is soundly based and people oriented. From the beginnings we have purposed to provide a total educational experience; to educate the whole person, through a Christian perspective, for meaningful and productive service in our contemporary world. Education for heart and mind remains the focusing goal of our academic process.

Armed with the total learning experience of the Spring Arbor educational concept, our graduates are proudly taking their places in business, industry and the professions.

Our accomplishments must be shared with a dedicated faculty, a challenging student body, loyal friends and supportive corporate constituencies. Without these, our task could not be realized. I would solicit your expanded involvement in this important $7.8 million Capital Funds Campaign. Together we can extend the influence of Jackson County's only four-year liberal arts college. On behalf of our students, our faculty and your community, I thank you for your considerations and support as partners in this free enterprise system.

Sincerely,

Ellwood A. Voller
President
into a second century of service and purpose

"I know that at Spring Arbor the student is accustomed to an atmosphere of human understanding, and that he is helped to an understanding of his fellow man; of his faults and virtues, of his failings and of his promise, and of his moral purpose. And it is through this understanding of the moral purpose of man that perhaps best of all the students here will learn that science is the servant of man and not his master. It is he who will master science, and will keep it in the service of mankind."

Beginning the march forward

Vision and planning have been a continuing hallmark of Spring Arbor’s development. While it seemed that both curricular and extra-curricular needs continually out-stripped existing facilities, attempts were made to build the new for both the present and the future. As a result, many of the older facilities have been renovated and reassigned to meet expanding needs.
Building on yesterday for today and tomorrow

In harmony with the long-range plans for both academic and facility development, eight major structures valued at more than $4.5 million, have been added to the campus since 1963. Increases in student enrollment, and the expansion of academic programs demands that facilities be continually upgraded. Spring Arbor today boasts a modernized and serviceable facility for the education of its constituencies' youth.
Our primary focus . . . . teaching for living and learning

True education is a preparation for service and continued learning. The Spring Arbor educational concept speaks of a unique ideal for academic development. We are a community of learners distinguished by our serious study of the liberal arts. Our faculty, 42 per cent of which have earned Ph.D's, work individually with our students to challenge them in becoming continuing scholars. We believe that the person and teachings of Jesus Christ presents a unique moral and ethical framework within which to undertake this serious study. We emphasize the necessity of active participation in the affairs of the contemporary world. Faculty and students alike are found involved in the needs of the community. The Governor's Award for Outstanding Volunteer Service indicates the depth of our service orientation. Serving students make serving alumni — our product is a whole person anxious to contribute to the making of a whole world. Our Spring Arbor concept demands a design that shapes a curriculum, builds a campus and develops a climate for learning.

Big Sister-Little-Sister — One of SAC's volunteer programs

Potential for the years ahead . . . .
the students are participants in the total life of the college rather than auditors and spectators in a depersonalized educational environment . . . this better prepares them for a full life as participants in the affairs of a contemporary world.

Support for the private college is a cause well worth the effort... not just for the college itself, but for the good of the nation it was founded to serve.

The financial problems confronting the private college today is a national one. We prefer to cope with it within the resources of the private sector of American society... we believe it can be done.

Priority Project

Student Activities Center
Central to expanding our philosophy of educating the whole man is the proposed student and community activities center. This innovative facility will play a vital role in creating concepts and appreciations, through organized experiences, that will help develop the total individual and integrate the physical, intellectual and spiritual aspects of man. The present Smith Gymnasium, while adequate in earlier days, no longer meets the increasing demands of the growing campus. The proposed facility will provide 69,000 square feet of floor space to be utilized for classrooms and other physical multi-purpose facilities. Spring Arbor College intends to continue its tradition of community service by making these facilities available to the Jackson County constituency for expanded physical education usages.

Spring Arbor College to Launch Capital Development Campaign

Campaign Kick-off Slated for April 23

Spring Arbor College will launch its $7.8 million, seven-year capital funds drive on April 23 at the key leadership and kick-off dinner to be held at the college. Over 400 volunteers and workers are expected to attend.

Campaign Cabinet Announced

The campaign has been organized and designed by the campaign cabinet members who represent the various segments and interests of the college's constituency. A. H. Aymond, president of the board of Consumers Power Company, is the honorary chairman of the funds drive. O. B. Falls, former president of Commonwealth Associates of Jackson, is the campaign cabinet chairman. Having just returned from eighteen months in Geneva, Switzerland with the United Nations, he has now been asked to serve as a consulting engineer to President Nixon concerning the fuel crisis.

Other members of the campaign cabinet include: Richard Hatt, executive director of the Y Center of Jackson, who is serving as campaign director; Dean Edwards, president of Midwest Bank; W. Anson Hedgecock, vice-president of Consumers Power Company; Dr. Edward L. Davenport, Jackson dentist and SAC alumnus; Stephen M. Hill, vice-president and treasurer of Securities Counsel, Inc.; Robert G. Schwartz, Jackson attorney; Fred C. Janke, president of the board of I.T.T. Hancock; and Michael K. Blombach, general supervisor of public relations services at Consumers Power Company. Also included on the cabinet are: Dr. Ellwood A. Voller, president of Spring Arbor College, and David L. Gines, director of development.

Phase One: Construction of Student Activities Center

The $7.8 million campaign is to be divided into three phases with the priority project in Phase One being the student activities center.

On November 1, 1973 at the annual Spring Arbor College Board of Trustees meeting, the Board unanimously approved a recommendation to begin construction on the activities center in the spring of 1974. The Board also voted to set their goal at $150,000 with the Alumni Board increasing their goal to $150,000.

The College has become increasingly challenged by the enthusiasm and dedication of the campaign cabinet who are donating their time and efforts in support of the campaign.

A total of $2.6 million will be the over-all goal for Phase One which will be used for the construction of the fieldhouse, the indoor track, and Olympic style pool. The remainder of the funds from the Phase One goal will be applied toward scholarships, endowments, and general campus development programs.

The Consumers Power Company of Jackson has played a vital role in the campaign and has assisted the college significantly. Mike Blombach, general supervisor of public relations for Consumers Power Company, a member of the campaign cabinet, will serve as a consultant to the college throughout the seven-year duration of the over-all campaign drive.

BLOCK ONE
PRIORITY PROJECT

Student Activities Center
Central to expanding our philosophy of educating the whole man is the proposed student and community activities center. This innovative facility will play a vital role in creating concepts and appreciations, through organized experiences, that will help develop the total individual and integrate the physical, intellectual and spiritual aspects of man. The present Smith Gymnasium, while adequate in earlier days, no longer meets the increasing demands of the growing campus. The proposed facility will provide 69,000 square feet of floor space to be utilized for classrooms and other physical multi-purpose facilities. Spring Arbor College intends to continue its tradition of community service by making these facilities available to the Jackson County constituency for expanded physical education usages.

He has authored five books including The Bamboo Cross and Out of the Jaws of the Lion and his travels have taken him to every continent in the world.

Mr. Dowdy is the recipient of several awards including the National Award of the American Political Science Association and a national citation from the Associated Press.

In addition to his responsibilities with the Mott Foundation and his writing career, Mr. Dowdy serves on the board of directors of several organizations. The Spring Arbor College women’s volleyball team and basketball team both had outstanding seasons this year. The volleyball team finished with a 9-1 won-loss record. The Spring Arbor team defeated such schools as: the University of Michigan; Albion; Saginaw Valley; Hope; and Adrian. The basketball team finished the season with a 5-7 record. Basketball victories included a 40-34 win over Albion; a 38-27 win over Kalamazoo; and a 57-40 win over Hillsdale.

The Women’s Athletic Program at Spring Arbor continues to expand under the leadership of Mrs. Kay Dunckel, Director of Women’s Athletics.

This year’s Cougar cage team, under Coach Bill Bockwitz, set a new school record for wins (21) and received the college’s first post-season playoff berth in basketball. In the playoff game, Spring Arbor lost by one point in overtime, to the eventual district champion, Grand Valley State.

Capital Campaign Reaches $1 Million

Campaign Launched on April 23

The Spring Arbor College Capital Campaign, launched on April 23, has reached the $1 million mark toward the $2.6 million Block One goal. The Block One goal will be used for the construction of a student activities center, for faculty development, for scholarship development, and for endowment. The overall $7.8 million campaign has been divided into three blocks and will extend to 1980.

During the kick-off dinner, Mr. O. B. Falls, who is the Chairman of the Capital Campaign Cabinet, stated that he hopes the major portion of the first phase will be completed within 90 days. Mr. Falls added that the purpose of the entire campaign is to provide facilities and equipment to support and take care of the growing number of students at Spring Arbor College. Falls said the College is one of the few in the area with growing enrollment, adding:

"The fact that the College is a private institution, Christian-founded, the only four-year college in Jackson County, and because of the quality of education provided in the past, I believe attracts more students here. And I think Spring Arbor College will continue to grow in the future."

Mr. Falls, who has recently returned from an 18-month assignment with The International Atomic Energy Agency, an agency of The United Nations, is presently a consultant to the World Bank.

Mr. Glenn E. White, Vice President for Management Services for Chrysler Corporation and Spring Arbor College Board of Trustee member, was the keynote speaker at the dinner. Mr. White told the campaign workers that their involvement in the drive would help "preserve private higher education, an important part of the educational system for many years."

President Voller Comments on Progress

Dr. Ellwood Voller, President of Spring Arbor College, stated that he is extremely pleased with the progress of the campaign and that although Block One has been set as a three-year drive, he is very optimistic that the goal will be reached within a few months. He further stated that several corporation and foundation proposals are under consideration with more to be presented.

As a result of the extremely favorable reaction the Campaign has been receiving in Jackson County, Voller added that this has opened several doors to national foundations as many have expressed an interest in the Campaign because of the local support it has been receiving.

INVESTMENT PLAN

What is Spring Arbor's Monthly Interest Plan?

It is a transaction in which Spring Arbor College borrows money in units of $500 with an initial investment of $1000 and pays monthly interest as long as the contract is in force.

How does this plan work?

Suppose you deposit $12,000 in the Spring Arbor Monthly Interest Plan before the 10th of January. Early in February, and each month thereafter you get a check for $65. You do not wait three months as you do with other savings accounts, or need to appear in person to withdraw your interest. Your interest check comes regularly each month to your home. It is like having a second income.

When does the interest start?

Deposit your money before the 10th of the month, and the interest begins from the first day of that month. Funds received after the 10th will begin to bear interest the first day of the following month.

Why does SAC offer this new Income Plan?

Simply this: We can save considerable amounts in interest by using our alumni and friends' funds, our building program instead of borrowing from regular lending institutions. We can afford to pay you a higher interest rate than most banks and building and loan companies and still effect substantial savings in borrowing. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College but enjoy greater returns on your savings in month after month receipts.

Does SAC keep the money indefinitely?

No. Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice.

What is my security?

Spring Arbor's Monthly Interest Plan is backed by the good faith of your College, and a long record of financial soundness. A cash reserve has been established to meet the requests for repayment.

☐ Please send me information on The Investment Plan.

How long will this plan be available to the investor?

For a limited time only. We do not want to borrow more than is required to meet our current needs. (Approximately $1,000,000.) Contracts will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis with a minimum investment of $1,000 required.

We are accepting loans in multiples of $500 (that is: $1,000; $1,500; $2,000; $2,500; $3,000; $3,500; $4,000; $4,500; $5,000; etc.)

By transferring a part of your savings into the program, you enjoy a 6 1/4% per annum return, PAYABLE IN MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS, over semi annually without sacrificing the security or liquidity of your funds. All moneys transferred to our care and all transactions involving these funds will be handled in strictest confidence.

What benefit does this plan have for me?

Not only is there a generous return of your investment but you have the satisfaction of knowing that your money is helping Christian Higher Education.

Kresge Grant Boosts Capital Campaign

The Trustees of the Kresge Foundation have awarded a $300,000 Grant to Spring Arbor College toward the construction of the College's new Student Activities Center. Dr. Ellwood Voller, President, stated "we are deeply appreciative of the Kresge Foundation's financial support toward our new facility."

Dr. Voller continued by stating "this is the fourth Kresge Foundation grant received by the College." The last Kresge grant was toward the construction of the new Science Building which was completed in 1970. However, this is the largest Kresge grant ever awarded to Spring Arbor College.

Contribution's Exceed $1.3 Million Mark

"The $300,000 grant will be significant in reaching the $2.6 million Spring Arbor College capital funds campaign presently underway," stated O. B. Falls, campaign chairman. Campaign contributions have now exceeded the $1.3 million mark, with the fund drive expected to be completed by the end of 1974. Students participating in the Summer School in the Mountains sessions, pause in a flower-covered meadow above South Leigh Canyon during a trip which combined back-packing and geological studies. The major Teton peaks are in the background.

During a geology day-hike experience, students hiked 6 miles and gained 4,000 feet in elevation to reach this point on Table Mountain.

Summer School in the Mountains

The Summer School in the Mountains Program was held from July 15 - August 17. The session featured courses in geology, backpacking, and mountain climbing. Most of the 12 students who participated in the session took all three courses and studied six days a week under the direction of Dr. John L. Allen, Associate Professor of Psychology, who directed the program and taught backpacking; Dr. Charles Hawkins, Associate Professor of Physics, who taught geology; and the EXUM Mountaineering School who directed the mountain-climbing experiences.

Highlights of the trip were stops at Yellowstone, Grand Teton National Park, Madison River Canyon, The Black Hills, and Craters of the Moon.

Summer Travel Course in Environmental Studies

Under a grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, Dr. Eldon E. Whiteman, Professor of Biology, conducted a summer travel course in “Environmental Studies.” The course gave students an opportunity to take a first-hand look at many environmental problems and to also observe many of the techniques that are being employed to solve these problems.

After one week of background instruction on campus which focused on the resources and geography of the state, the group left for a three-week tour of Michigan. Some of their stops included: the Kellogg Bird Sanctuary, Allegan Forest and Game Area, Palisades Nuclear Power Plant, Lamprey Research Station, Abitibi Paper Company, and Houghton Lake Natural Resource Area.
Students Arrive on Campus for 1974-75 Academic Year
The freshmen who enroll at Spring Arbor College this fall will be participating in a unique “Freshman Year Program”. The program is structured to enable college personnel to give much personal attention to new students during their first year in college. It features special counselling and testing services within the framework of both individual sessions and small group sessions. The Freshman Year Program is being directed by Dr. Charles Campbell, Assistant Academic Dean.

The Freshman Week Orientation Activities which launched the Freshman Year Program, were coordinated by Mr. Robert L. Husband, Dean of Student Affairs. Highlights of the week’s activities included special orientation sessions for parents, academic advisement for students and special social and spiritual events.
Memorial Gift Presented to Spring Arbor College

A Yamaha Baby Grand Piano was presented to Spring Arbor College specifically as a memorial gift for the Dorrice Ogle Commons on June 14, 1974 in honor of Mrs. Helen McKenna of Ypsilanti, Michigan. The presentation was made by her son, Dr. David L. McKenna, President of Seattle Pacific College and former President of Spring Arbor College, and her daughter, Mrs. James Seraydarian (Pat) of 18246 University Park Drive, Livonia, Michigan.

The memorial gift was officially dedicated and presented to Spring Arbor College by Dr. McKenna and Mrs. Seraydarian at a special luncheon on June 14, 1974 in the Dorrice Ogle Commons following the memorial funeral service of Mrs. McKenna in the Ypsilanti Free Methodist Church (interment was at Spring Arbor).

A unique part of the dedication service was the playing of the piano first by Dr. McKenna and then other guests. In his presentation remarks, Dr. McKenna said that such a memorial gift to the dining commons area of Spring Arbor College in honor of their mother was most important for the following reasons: (1) Mrs. McKenna’s great love for music made it a big part of her life. The piano was at the musical heart of their home; (2) Her manifest love for Spring Arbor College demonstrated over a period of years in a most practical way through financial contributions to the College; and (3) Her own work in the area of food services which made it most appropriate that the memorial gift be an essential part of the life of the dining commons area of the college.

Institutional Research at Spring Arbor

For the third consecutive year, Spring Arbor College will be participating in a special project which is resulting in the establishment of an Office of Institutional Research on campus. The project which is headed by Bill Shoemaker who is CASC (Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges) Task Force Director, is sponsored by a grant from the United States Office of Education to assist small colleges in the creation of Institutional Research offices. Spring Arbor College is one of 16 colleges selected from throughout the United States to participate in this program.

Purpose of Institutional Research

The purpose of this CASC-directed project is to create an Office of Institutional Research on each of the 16 campuses and to enable each office established to develop a “Management Information System” which will enhance the decision-making processes in each of the college structures.

Training personnel to manage an Institutional Research Office is also a major project goal, and during the 1973-74 academic year, Spring Arbor was represented at these CASC-sponsored workshops: “Research Design, Statistics and Personnel” (San Francisco); “Market Analysis and Fund Raising” (St. Louis); “Academic Research and Planning” (St. Louis); “Business Management” (San Antonio); “President’s Institute” (Boston); and “Student Retention” (Cleveland).

Dr. John M. Newby, Vice President for Administrative Affairs, is Director of Institutional Research at Spring Arbor College. Mr. George Kline is Assistant Director and Mrs. Uretta Ward is the Research Assistant.

One of the outstanding contributions of Spring Arbor’s Office of Institutional Research has been the publication of the Databook which presents a factual profile of the entire college.

INVESTMENT PLAN

What is Spring Arbor's Monthly Interest Plan?
It is a transaction in which Spring Arbor College borrows money in units of $500 with an initial investment of $1000 and pays monthly interest as long as the contract is in force.

How does this plan work?
Suppose you deposit $12,000 in the Spring Arbor Monthly Interest Plan before the 10th of January. Early in February, and each month thereafter you get a check for $65. You do not wait three months as you do with other savings accounts, or need to appear in person to withdraw your interest. Your interest check comes regularly each month to your home. It is like having a second income.

When does the interest start?
Deposit your money before the 10th of the month, and the interest begins from the first day of that month. Funds received after the 10th will begin to bear interest the first day of the following month.

Why does SAC offer this new Income Plan?
Simply this: We can save considerable amounts in interest by using our alumni and friends funds for our building program instead of borrowing from regular lending institutions. We can afford to pay you a higher interest rate than most banks and building and loan companies and still effect substantial savings in borrowing. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College but enjoy greater returns on your savings in month after month receipts.

Does SAC keep the money indefinitely?
No. Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice.

What is my security?
Spring Arbor's Monthly Interest Plan is backed by the good faith of your College, and a long record of financial soundness. A cash reserve has been established to meet the requests for repayment.

How long will this plan be available to the investor?
For a limited time only. We do not want to borrow more than is required to meet our current needs. (Approximately $1,000,000.) Contracts will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis with a minimum investment of $1,000 required.

By transferring a part of your savings into the program, you enjoy a 6 1/2% per annum return, PAYABLE IN MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS, or semi annually without sacrificing the security or liquidity of your funds. All moneys transferred to our care and all transactions involving these funds will be handled in strictest confidence.

What benefit does this plan have for me?
Not only is there a generous return of your investment but you have the satisfaction of knowing that your money is helping Christian Higher Education.

For Spring Arbor College, this is a special time of thanksgiving: the 1973–74 budget was balanced. For the continuing progress that has been recorded this past year, we are grateful for the financial support provided by the Fellows, alumni, trustees, faculty, staff, students, foundations, corporations, parents of students, friends, and churches. It is your continued support which enables us to create excellence in the total Spring Arbor College program."

Announcing the New Spring Arbor College
Investment Plan Interest Rates

Interest Rate Increases to 8%
Spring Arbor College is providing you with a new opportunity to share in Spring Arbor’s Investment Plan which is now paying 8% interest per annum on a monthly basis. The previous interest rate was 6½%.

What is Spring Arbor’s Monthly Investment Plan?
It is a transaction in which Spring Arbor College borrows money in units of $500 with an initial investment of $1000 and pays monthly interest as long as the contract is in force. Suppose you deposit $12,000 in the Spring Arbor Monthly Investment Plan before the 10th of January. Early in February, and each month thereafter you get a check for $80.00. You do not wait three months as you do with other savings accounts, or need to appear in person to withdraw your interest. Your interest check comes regularly each month to your home. It is like having a second income. (Upon special request, interest is payable semi-annually or annually.)

Why does SAC offer this new Investment Plan?
Simply this: We can save considerable amounts in interest by using our alumni and friends’ funds for our building program instead of borrowing from regular lending institutions. We can afford to pay you a higher interest rate than most banks and building and loan companies and still effect substantial savings in borrowing. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College but enjoy greater returns on your savings in month after month receipts.

Does SAC keep the money indefinitely?
No. Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice.

What is my security?
Spring Arbor’s Investment Plan is backed by the good faith of your College, and a long record of financial soundness. A cash reserve has been established to meet the requests for repayment.

What benefit does this Plan have for me?
Now only is there a generous return of your investment but you have the satisfaction of knowing that your money is helping Christian Higher Education.

Dr. James L. Chapman J'54, President of West Liberty State College, will be part of a delegation of 21 state college and university presidents from across the nation invited to visit the People's Republic of China from April 1 to April 21.

The purpose of this tour, according to Dr. Chapman, is to visit educational institutions in China in order to explore curriculum development for career education, and the possibilities for exchange of faculty, students and publications, as well as to improve understanding of the People's Republic of China in U.S. colleges and universities.

This invitation was extended to the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU), of which West Liberty State College is a member, through the efforts of Senator Henry M. Jackson of Washington who visited the People's Republic of China last year. AASCU represents 317 public colleges and universities which enroll some two and a half million students.

Dr. Chapman holds membership in the American Association of Higher Education; serves on the public affairs committee of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities; and is the institutional representative for West Liberty to the American Council on Education.

Gilbert H. Roller Accepts New Position

Dr. Gilbert H. Roller has been appointed Professor of Music at Asbury College (Wilmore, Kentucky). Dr. Roller has been a member of Spring Arbor's faculty for the past twenty-five years. He has taught in the high school, the junior college, and the senior college in the areas of math, art, and music. For the past six years he has also served as Chairman of the Humanities Division.

Dr. Roller has been pianist for the "Light & Life Hour," the official radio broadcast of the Free Methodist Church, for the past nine years. He has also been pianist for the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church for the past ten years. The Roller family has joined together to serve in the area of home missions. The family spent several summers together involved in VIA (Volunteers in America) projects sponsored by the local Free Methodist Church.

Two of Dr. Roller's music compositions have recently been accepted for publication. "Breath of the Spirit" has been published by Singspiration (words and music by Dr. Roller) and "O, Love Divine" (music by Dr. Roller) will be published in the Free Methodist Hymnal.

In addition to his teaching responsibilities, Dr. Roller is a gifted artist. Several of his paintings have been exhibited in various art shows in the Jackson area. He has also been an active adjudicator for the piano section of the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association Festivals.

His wife, Nadine (Jeri), has also been actively involved in Spring Arbor College. She taught English courses during the 1951-52, 1954-55, and 1962-63 academic years. She was registrar in 1952-53. Jeri joined the admissions staff in 1966, and she is currently Assistant Director of Admissions.

The Rollers have four children: Jana (Roller) Hertzler, who resides in Goleta, California; David, a '75 graduate of Spring Arbor College; Leonard, a '75 high school graduate who will be technician for the "Free Spirit" Free Methodist team; and Jonathan, who will be a high school student in Wilmore.
Ralph was relentless in his quest for academic excellence in the Christian college, mastering well the fine art of being a critic from within. It is reasonable to assume that Ralph's methods were not always received appreciatively in our community. It was never safe to be smug or dogmatic about one's pet project when Ralph was present. His questions were always incisive and direct - cutting quickly to the heart of a problem and baring those things which would rather remain covered. Ralph's questions often seemed threatening, and so they should, for he was a tireless enemy of the status quo. Seen through his eyes, the Christian community is a place of creative tension formed through the fire of interaction, the dialectic of scholarly opinion, and the critique of everything which seems too easy or too sweet.

We conclude with these words, spoken by Ralph one year ago, before the congregation of his church on Layman's Sunday:

"In recent years I have found a renewed sense of purpose and direction as I have observed, and to some extent participated in, the larger church's ministry. When one encounters a Faith Community, made up of all ages, tongues and races, that proclaims a gospel of service to all men and resists the powers of evil, then one is less apt to discredit God's presence and power. For all the church's shortcomings, universally and locally, it has still been for me a 'community' - a place to learn about and participate in the reconciling and liberating work of God."

His memory burns bright. Our thoughts and prayers continue for his wife, Ruth, and their children, Jim and Liz.

On November 1, 1974, Dr. Ralph Carey would have been 38 years old; he died on October 4, a victim of cancer. The Spring Arbor Community misses Ralph Carey; he was at the center of the "Spring Arbor Concept" which stresses these goals: (1) academic excellence in the liberal arts; (2) commitment to Jesus Christ as a perspective for learning; and (3) a critical participation in the world.

Lowell L. Noble, Associate Professor of Sociology at Spring Arbor College, received the Specialist in Arts degree in international studies from Western Michigan University in April.

Mr. Noble received the B. A. degree in missions from Seattle Pacific College and a second B. A. degree in anthropology from Wheaton College. He earned the M. A. degree in religion from Seattle Pacific College and a second M. A. degree in anthropology from Hartford Theological Seminary. He is currently a member of the NAACP Executive Council, and he also assists in directing the ministries of the Francis Street Interracial Church in Jackson. Mr. Noble is beginning his seventh year on Spring Arbor's faculty.

Dr. Wash has been a member of Spring Arbor's music faculty for thirteen years. Dr. Wash also serves as Music Director of the "Light & Life Hour," the international radio broadcast of the Free Methodist Church. He is also Minister of Music at the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church.

Announcing the New Spring Arbor College
Investment Plan Interest Rates

Interest Rate Increases to 8%
Spring Arbor College is providing you with a new opportunity to share in Spring Arbor’s Investment Plan which is now paying 8% interest per annum on a monthly basis. The previous interest rate was 6½%.

What is Spring Arbor’s Monthly Investment Plan?
It is a transaction in which Spring Arbor College borrows money in units of $500 with an initial investment of $1000 and pays monthly interest as long as the contract is in force. Suppose you deposit $12,000 in the Spring Arbor Monthly Investment Plan before the 10th of January. Early in February, and each month thereafter you get a check for $80.00. You do not wait three months as you do with other savings accounts, or need to appear in person to withdraw your interest. Your interest check comes regularly each month to your home. It is like having a second income. (Upon special request, interest is payable semi-annually or annually.)

Why does SAC offer this new Investment Plan?
Simply this: We can save considerable amounts in interest by using our alumni and friends’ funds for our building program instead of borrowing from regular lending institutions. We can afford to pay you a higher interest rate than most banks and building and loan companies and still effect substantial savings in borrowing. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College but enjoy greater returns on your savings in month after month receipts.

What is my security?
Spring Arbor’s Investment Plan is backed by the good faith of your College, and a long record of financial soundness. A cash reserve has been established to meet the requests for repayment.

What benefit does this Plan have for me?
Now only is there a generous return of your investment but you have the satisfaction of knowing that your money is helping Christian Higher Education.

Does SAC keep the money indefinitely?
No. Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice.

Institutional Research and Planning

The 1974-75 academic year marked the third and final year of Spring Arbor's participation in the Institutional Research Consortium Project directed by the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges (CASC). The project was funded by a Title III grant from the United States Office of Education. Its purpose has been to assist fifteen selected colleges in developing an Office of Institutional Research and Planning on each campus. Spring Arbor was one of the fifteen CASC-member colleges selected to participate in the program. The colleges represent geographical regions throughout the United States.

In the first year of the project, a series of training seminars were conducted to assist the fifteen colleges in establishing an Office of Institutional Research on each campus. The second year of the project focused on the development of on-campus studies which would give expertise to the Institutional Research Office function. In its third year, the project concentrated on disseminating Institutional Research study information which had evolved from project studies during the two previous years.

In addition to his responsibilities as Vice President for Administrative Affairs, Dr. John Newby is also Director of Institutional Research and Planning with responsibilities on both the local and the national level.

The on-campus projects have included an attrition study, program cost-studies, retention studies, and continuing follow-up studies of Spring Arbor graduates. A major goal for the third year has been to initiate the guidelines for a planning and budgeting cycle. The objective of the cycle is to develop an annual long-range plan based on five-year projections and an annual budget.

Future Plans

The 1975-76 year marks the first year in the new Planning and Budgeting Cycle. Planning materials are scheduled to be in the hands of the planning units September 10, 1975.

On the national level, Dr. Newby has been chairman of the national CASC committee on "attrition", and he has recently been selected to chair two of twelve CASC national committees which are being established over another three-year period. National committees are being formed to continue the study of "Attrition and Retention" and a committee is being formed to develop an instrument for measurement of "Student Learning Outcomes." The funding for these committee projects has been provided by the Carnegie Corporation.

Mr. George Kline is Assistant Director of Institutional Research and has served as chairman of the CASC national committee on "futuristics." Mr. Kline is also Assistant Professor of English. Mrs. Uretta Ward is the Research Assistant and Mrs. Linda Schultz is secretary for both the Vice President for Administrative Affairs and the Office of Institutional Research and Planning.

Dr. Wash Accepts New Position

Dr. N. Hubert Wash has been appointed Professor of Music at Golden West Junior College in Huntington Beach, California. Dr. Wash has been a member of Spring Arbor's faculty for the past thirteen years. He has taught on the high school, junior college, and college levels, including Central College in McPherson, Kansas, and Seattle Pacific College in Seattle, Washington.

Dr. Wash has been director of music and soloist for the "Light and Life Hour," the official radio broadcast of the Free Methodist Church, for the past twelve years. He has also been minister of music for the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church for the past two years.

In addition to his teaching responsibilities, Dr. Wash and his wife, Georgia, have produced musicals annually as a part of their contribution to Spring Arbor's fall activities. Direction of the Oratorio Society, involving both college and community, was another of Dr. Wash's contributions, as was his yearly production of the "Messiah."

Mrs. Wash has also been actively involved in Spring Arbor College. In addition to co-directing the college musicals, she has worked both in the college library and the business office.
Fall Enrollment — Another Record

The Spring Arbor College 1975-76 academic year has proven to be another record-breaker. For the third consecutive year, the College fall enrollment has been the largest in history.

Dr. Ellwood Voller, President, announced a fall enrollment of 862 students. This figure compares with last year’s enrollment of 820, representing a 5% increase.

To provide necessary housing for the incoming students, two of the five married housing apartment units are being used for approximately sixty upperclass girls. A total of thirty-three girls are living in three off-campus houses owned by the College.

Baseball Players Honored Nationally

Jim Hopkins and Jeff Seifert, two members of the 1975 Spring Arbor College baseball team, had the honor of being named to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) United States All-Star Team. This noted team toured Japan, Korea, Taiwan, and Hawaii this past summer. Hopkins, a ‘75 graduate, noted that the fans were the greatest he had ever seen while Seifert, a current senior at Spring Arbor, added that all the games were televised with attendance ranging from 10,000—20,000 and the people treated them as celebrities.

Pitcher Hopkins and Catcher Seifert led Spring Arbor to a 24—6 won-lost record last spring, which brought them the NAIA State Championship. Both were chosen to the Michigan All-State team, and Jim was named All-American, being the first SAC baseball player to receive this honor. Jim broke the school record for season strike outs with 131 while walking only 32. He ended the season 12—0, breaking the school record, with an E.R.A. of 1.94. Jeff broke the school one-year record for home runs with 12, while hitting .344 and driving in 33 runs.

This fall, Spring Arbor College welcomed four new full-time faculty members in addition to several part-time members.

SAC Receives Publications Awards

Spring Arbor College has received three national publications awards in the 1975 CASE (Council for the Advancement and Support of Education) Awards Competition. The awards were presented to Erma Rutgers, former Director of Publications, in July at the CASE National Assembly held in Chicago. Miss Rutgers, a 1971 honors graduate of SAC, has coordinated Spring Arbor’s publications program for the past four years.

Spring Arbor College received the Grand Award in the Total Publications Improvement Category. The coveted first-place honor involved a $500 grant from the Weyerhaeuser Paper Company to SAC. The entries were judged for total improvement in concept and design, and effectiveness of methods used to improve the publications.

The College also received the Exceptional Achievement Award in the Newsletter Publishing Program Category for creating a series of Admissions Newsletters. SAC was one of five colleges to receive recognition in this category.

Both entries were evaluated by over 200 communications experts representing 1,500 CASE-member colleges.

Announcing the New Spring Arbor College Investment Plan Interest Rates

Interest Rate Increases to 8%
Spring Arbor College is providing you with a new opportunity to share in Spring Arbor's Investment Plan which is now paying 8% interest per annum on a monthly basis. The previous interest rate was 6¼%.

What is Spring Arbor's Monthly Investment Plan?
It is a transaction in which Spring Arbor College borrows money in units of $500 with an initial investment of $1000 and pays monthly interest as long as the contract is in force. Suppose you deposit $12,000 in the Spring Arbor Monthly Investment Plan before the 10th of January. Early in February, and each month thereafter you get a check for $80.00. You do not wait three months as you do with other savings accounts, or need to appear in person to withdraw your interest. Your interest check comes regularly each month to your home. It is like having a second income. (Upon special request, interest is payable semi-annually or annually.)

Why does SAC offer this new Investment Plan?
Simply this: We can save considerable amounts in interest by using our alumni and friends' funds for our building program instead of borrowing from regular lending institutions. We can afford to pay you a higher interest rate than most banks and building and loan companies and still effect substantial savings in borrowing. By depositing your money with us, you not only help your College but enjoy greater returns on your savings in month after month receipts.

Does SAC keep the money indefinitely?
No. Your entire investment, or any part of it, will be returned at any time at your request upon 60 days notice. Spring Arbor also reserves the right to return your funds upon 60 days notice.

What is my security?
Spring Arbor's Investment Plan is backed by the good faith of your College, and a long record of financial soundness. A cash reserve has been established to meet the requests for repayment.

What benefit does this Plan have for me?
Now only is there a generous return of your investment but you have the satisfaction of knowing that your money is helping Christian Higher Education.
