Lansing. Shown above are some of the students and faculty surrounding the speakers' table.

Local Church Holds Missionary Convention

The Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church will be holding a missionary convention with the theme, "That the World May Know," during the week of November 15. Featured speakers at this convention will be Doolittle Raider, Jacob DeShazer, and Dr. C. I. Armstrong, World Missionary Statesman. Mr. DeShazer will be speaking from Sunday to Thursday, and Dr. Armstrong from Thursday to Sunday.

Jacob DeShazer was one of the Doolittle Raiders who bombed Tokyo in World War II. After being forced down over Japanese-infested China, he was condemned to death, but the sentence was later suspended by Emperor Hirohito.

While in prison, he was converted, and after the war he returned to preach the Gospel to his former enemies. Today Jake DeShazer is the best-loved missionary in Japan.

Other missionaries to be featured at the convention are Donald Cryder from Transvaal, Africa, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dickinson from Portuguese East Africa, Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Snyder from Japan, and Rachael Smiley from the Dominican Republic.

Carlton Eldridge, Tenor, Presents Tonight's Lyceum

Mr. Carlton Eldridge, tenor concert, radio, and oratorio vocalist, will present tonight's lyceum program at 8 p.m. For the past fourteen years he has been in charge of vocal work at Springfield Junior College.

Although being without sight, he does not consider blindness a handicap, merely an inconvenience. All of his work, including the direction of choral music, is done from specially prepared Braille scores.

popular of Gilbert and Sullivan's operettas.

Other leading characters include Dave Andrews, Jeanette Rosser, Norm Arendel, Duane Benson, and Leroy Hibbard.

Homecoming Weekend Focuses On Theme "New Horizons"

Spring Arbor College is looking at new horizons; although some are in the distance, yet others can be seen quite clearly. This 1964 Homecoming Weekend will focus attention on the theme "New Horizons".

Curiosity and excitement have already been evidenced as the four classes prepare their displays. Mr. Marvin Moran, who is directing the Homecoming activities, has announced the cash prizes to be awarded in various areas.

For the class which has the best display, $25 will be given; the runner-up class will receive $15. For the respective residence halls two cash prizes of $15 and $10 will be offered to those carrying out the Homecoming theme best. In each dorm a $5 award will be given for the room which best represents the theme. Three opportunities are thus open for student participation.

Another way in which the students' voices may be heard is in the selection of the 1964 Homecoming Queen and her court. The attendants from the freshman through junior classes will be chosen and presented in chapel today; the top three senior candidates will be chosen also. Saturday night at Spring Arbor's fourth coronation, the Homecoming Queen will be announced.

A full schedule is awaiting for November 13-15. Friday evening at 8 p.m. the A Cappella and Vesper Choir members will present H.M.S. Pinafore.

Saturday's activities begin at 10:30 a.m. with refreshments served in Muffitt Lounge. Open House observance begins at one, the same time at which present students will challenge the alumni to a girls' basketball game. That afternoon at three will be the dedication of Beta House.

Two Alumni teams will compete in basketball at 6:30 p.m. Then at eight the Spring Arbor College Alumni will play the Varsity (details on sports page). Half-time will feature the annual Homecoming Queen Coronation. A reception will be held after the game.

To conclude and climax this week-end will be the Sunday services. The guest speaker is Rev. Jacob DeShazer, former Jimmy Doolittle pilot who helped in the bombing of Japanese cities. Testifying to his conversion and returning to Japan not as a bomber pilot but as a messenger of God, Rev. DeShazer will speak at 10:45 Sunday morning. He will also continue his stay throughout the week's Missionary Convention.

This week-end's activities will unite alumni, present students, and prospective students with special emphasis for each. The participation of every student predicts certain success and enjoyment.

Music Dept. Presents Operetta

November 12 and 13, the music department will present "H.M.S. Pinafore" at 8 p.m. in Hart Memorial Chapel under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wash.

The story is based on a love theme, complicated by differences in stations of life. Some time before Act I opens, Ralph (Doug Smith) has fallen in love with Josephine (Sue Maxwell), the daughter of his commanding officer, Captain Corcoran (Jim Fisher). Likewise, Little Buttercup (Freeda Fisher), a peddler-woman, has fallen in love with the Captain himself. Class pride, however, stands in the way of the natural inclinations of both the Corcorans to return Ralph's and Buttercup's affections. The Captain has, in fact, been arranging a marriage between his daughter and Sir Joseph Porter, First Lord of the Admiralty (Dave Colver) who is of the social class above even the Corcorans. How the dilemma is satisfactorily resolved, makes "H.M.S. Pinafore" the most

Think Before You Say It

How long has it been since you last complained? Was it yesterday or this morning, or does this article surprise you in mid-sentence of a classic example?

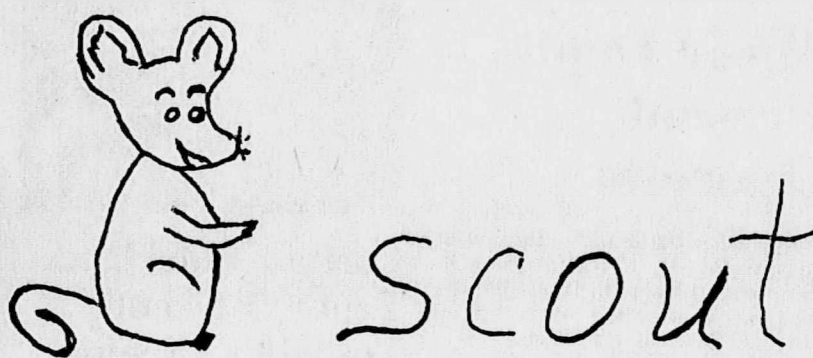

Experience confirms that it is those whom we love the best that we criticize the most. Likewise, we make criticisms and complaints about those things with which we are most familiar and best acquainted. Since we have full knowledge of these areas, we therefore realize all the faults present. Human nature then sorts out the bad for derogatory remarks and accepts the good without praise as merely the appropriate.

We at Spring Arbor are guilty of following these tendencies. Since our contact with it is three times each day, twenty-one times each week, the food receives a major portion of these remarks. Teachers similarly may fall under critical discussion. As a result of the close living situations, each student on campus also gets his share of critical observation. Finally, activities specially planned or of informal types can be slowly torn to shreds. The problem is that almost all of these are accomplished without intention of malice.

Complaining is a result of thoughtlessness. Too often the effect that words can produce is simply not realized before the offending words "just pop out." When someone else begins the conversation in a critical trend, others who have not previously had any intention to so speak find themselves nevertheless carried along in the conversation. Extreme criticism can also be attributed to selfishness—wishing everything to be pleasing to self and complaining about anything's so failing.

As Homecoming approaches, let's concentrate on guarding our thoughts and words. Alumni will be interested in the advances Spring Arbor has made, while prospective students need encouragement to make Spring Arbor their choice.

Nothing is accomplished from unpurposeful criticism; everything is to be gained from positive thinking and speaking.

Go To Hell?

by Don Crocker

On his deathbed, Sir Thomas Scott said, "Until this moment I thought there was neither a God nor a Hell. Now I know and feel that there are both, and I am doomed to perdition by the just judgement of the Almighty."

It was Voltaire, the noted French infidel, who said to his doctor, "I am abandoned by God and man! I will give you half of what I am worth if you will give me six months' life. Then I shall go to Hell and you will go with me. Oh Christ! Oh Jesus Christ!"

And the atheist M. F. Rich cried, "I would rather lie on a stove and broil for a million years than go into eternity with the eternal horrors that hang over my soul! I have given immortality for gold, and its weight sinks me into an endless, hopeless, helpless Hell."

While at death's door these three men proclaimed a line of truth that I would to God could be indelibly embedded in the minds and hearts of every collegian on this campus. It's a line of truth that too many a man glibly passes over as a sort of "big joke" and leaves it at that. Until life was nearly ended, these men thought the same, and it took the ugly pangs of death to shake some common sense into their intellectual blocks.

God forbid that it will take this cause us to be absolutely assured of the reality of Hell, for then it may be too late!!

The Indwelling God

Go not, my soul, in search of Him
Thou wilt not find Him there,
Or in the depths of shadows dim,
Or heights of upper air.

For not in far off realms of space
The Spirit hath His throne,
In every heart He findeth place
And wait to be known.

Thought answereth alone to thought
And soul with soul hath kin,
The outward God he fineth now,
Who finds not God within.

Dear Editor

Greetings from the sunny Northwest to my former schoolmates on the Crusader staff.

I would like to compliment you on the last issue. It was very pleasant to read of the current events in Spring Arbor. Your paper was one of the nicest that the Falcon office received in my estimation. Your photographer did a fine job on the photo of Gary and Sharon in rehearsal for the play; my best wishes to Cal for a successful year with the paper.

I appreciated the news from S.A. so much that I would like to receive a copy of the Crusader for myself. My roommate Dave Baker also enjoys the news, so we will share the paper . . .

I am working this year as photographer for our paper, the Falcon and am kept very busy, as we put out a paper every Friday. This causes many rush assignments for pictures in order to meet those dreadful, but necessary deadlines.

Best of luck to the Crusader staff for a successful year . . .

Sincerely yours in Him,

THE VIEWPOINT • by Kathy Hedglen

As Homecoming approaches, we elect a queen, and the guys are left out. How about it, S.A.C.'ers? Should a king be elected too?

El Kelly: I have been in several situations where a king has been involved along with the queen for a banquet. I would be very much in favor of this election of a king because it adds so much to the election and to the unity of the school.

Kathy Cole: A queen with a king is truly a queen! I agree with several conversations I've heard at Post House—we should have a Homecoming king. Why? Because I know certain sharp would-be candidates! If anyone wants to know what a king's qualities should be, just let him stop in the hall and ask any of us maids-in-waiting. We can conjure up a king's qualities quick-as-a-queen!

Max Terman: I personally do not think a king would be appropriate because for one thing, I have never heard of a Homecoming "king," and also, I think that Homecoming should honor the special girl who is queen, since it is for her and her court.

Sharon Meads: Chalk up my answer as affirmative. All Homecoming activities at a coed college should include the boys as well as the girls, even to the homecoming court. The queen is the girl chosen as the best all-around gal on campus. Believe me, there are some good all-around guys here at Spring Arbor, too. The honor of being chosen Homecoming king would be one way for the students to acknowledge this personality-plus, super-sportsman, Christian male. After all, what queen wouldn't like to be escorted by a king? A Homecoming king and queen belong together at a coed college.

Intramural Roundup

By Mike Dapprich

Are you a physical wreck? Do you gasp for air? Are you a puny runt? Do you sag in the middle? Then you haven't been participating in intramurals.

In case you are one of those unfortunate individuals, here is the wrap-up of the fall intramural program for you.

This past week concluded the season for both football and speedball. The four teams battled it out through rain, snow, and opposing teams, but determined effort produced victors in each sport. The Speedball Championship went to DELTA GAMMA PHI and Captain Carolyn Brooks; and KAPPA SIGMA CHI, led by Don Roth, took the Football Championship. Here are the standings:

Speedball				Football
DGP	2	0	1	KSC	6	0
AGP	1	1	1	TPD	4	2
TPD	1	2		DGP	2	4
KSC	1	2		AGP	0	6

Congratulations to the Champions and to all the teams who contributed to the fall program.

If you missed out on these intramural sports, you still have a chance to participate (and to improve that physical condition). Watch for announcements about the next intramural activities, and then use these opportunities to get in shape, to increase your pep and vigor, and to enjoy your college days to the fullest.

Harriers Facing Tough Competition

By Barry May

The Spring Arbor Blue Jays traveled to Ann Arbor and encountered a tough University of Michigan squad on Saturday, October 24, at the U. of M. golf course. SA placed three men in the top five, but it was not enough as the Wolverines edged the Spring Arbor Harriers 26-29.

Brian Kelly from U. of M. placed first in the dual meet with a fine time of 20:11 for the four-mile course. Barry May, of SA, led throughout most of the race but had to settle for second place as Kelly kicked past him with two hundred yards remaining in the race May's time was 20:16. Richard Knapp was the next man in for SA as he placed fourth with a time of 20:51. Jerry Smith followed close behind with a time of 20:45, placing fifth. The next Bluejay runner to cross the finish line was Mike Dapprich as he placed eighth with a time of 22:11. The fifth man in for the SA Harriers was Gary Baird with a time of 22:31 to place tenth in the meet. Bill Robson placed eleventh with a time of 22:50. U. of M. displayed fine team balance as they placed first, third, sixth, seventh, and ninth for their total of 26 points.

The Blue Jays placed three men in the top ten to place second among four teams in the second annual Olivet Invitational Cross Country Meet held on Tuesday, October 27 in Olivet, Michigan.

Barry May was the first man across the finish line for the Spring Arbor Harriers with a time of 22:26 to break the old course record of 23:07 held by Tony Mifsud, a former SA runner. May placed first among the 27 runners competing as he was sixteen seconds ahead of the second place finisher over the 4 and 3-8 mile course. He was followed across the line by Jerry Smith as he toured the course in 23:03 to place fourth. The next man to hit the tape for SA was Richard Knapp, who placed fifth with a

Varsity Basketball To Face Alumni

The Spring Arbor College varsity basketball team under the direction of head coach, Mr. Henry Burbridge, and assistant coach, Mr. Darrell Dunkel, will open the 1964-65 season with the Alumni, Saturday, November 14. The varsity began practice the first week in October and has been working hard ever since the opening day.

Emphasis this year will be placed on developing a tough defense combined with getting the opponents to play our type or our style of ball game. The team will concentrate on a pressing defense which they hope will force the opponents into making mistakes, such as bad passes, fumbles, and poor shooting. The team will vary their defense by sometimes throwing a full court press and alternating this with a half court press. The team is working on several types of offense, which they will again alternate in order to keep the opposing team off balance.

The men returning from last year's squad include Rocky Kent, the leading scorer and rebounder on the team last year, Steve Robbins, Mike Dapprich, Gary Myers, and Max Terman. Other men include Jerry Hoskins, a transfer student, Joe Jordan, Ron Seager, and Ken McRuer. Ellis Bates, Sam Nichols, Bob Smith, Dale Heimberger, Gary Baird, Bill Robson, and Bob Wakeman are the new freshmen who are working hard for starting positions.

The Alumni teams will be organized by the SAC/Sons a group of local members who are interested in promoting intercollegiate athletics at Spring Arbor College. The SAC/Sons have created enough interest on the part of the Alumni that there will be two organized games during Homecoming night. In the first game the Alumni who graduated before 1957 will be playing one another, with the graduates from the even numbered years playing the graduates from the odd numbered years. In the second game, the Alumni who have graduated since 1957 will be playing the Spring Arbor College varsity. Mr. Bob Delamarter will be coaching the Alumni in the game with the varsity. Also of interest, the Alumni will provide a cheerleading squad made up of six women cheering their team to victory.

The following are some of the men who will be participating on the Alumni team which will be playing the SA varsity: Burton Kingsley, Gerald Tomasello, Robert Bonser, Herb McLachlan, and Paul Tjepkema.
