Welcome to my morning, welcome to my day,
I'm the one responsible, I made it just this way to make myself some pictures and see what they might bring.
I think I made it perfectly,
I wouldn't change a thing.

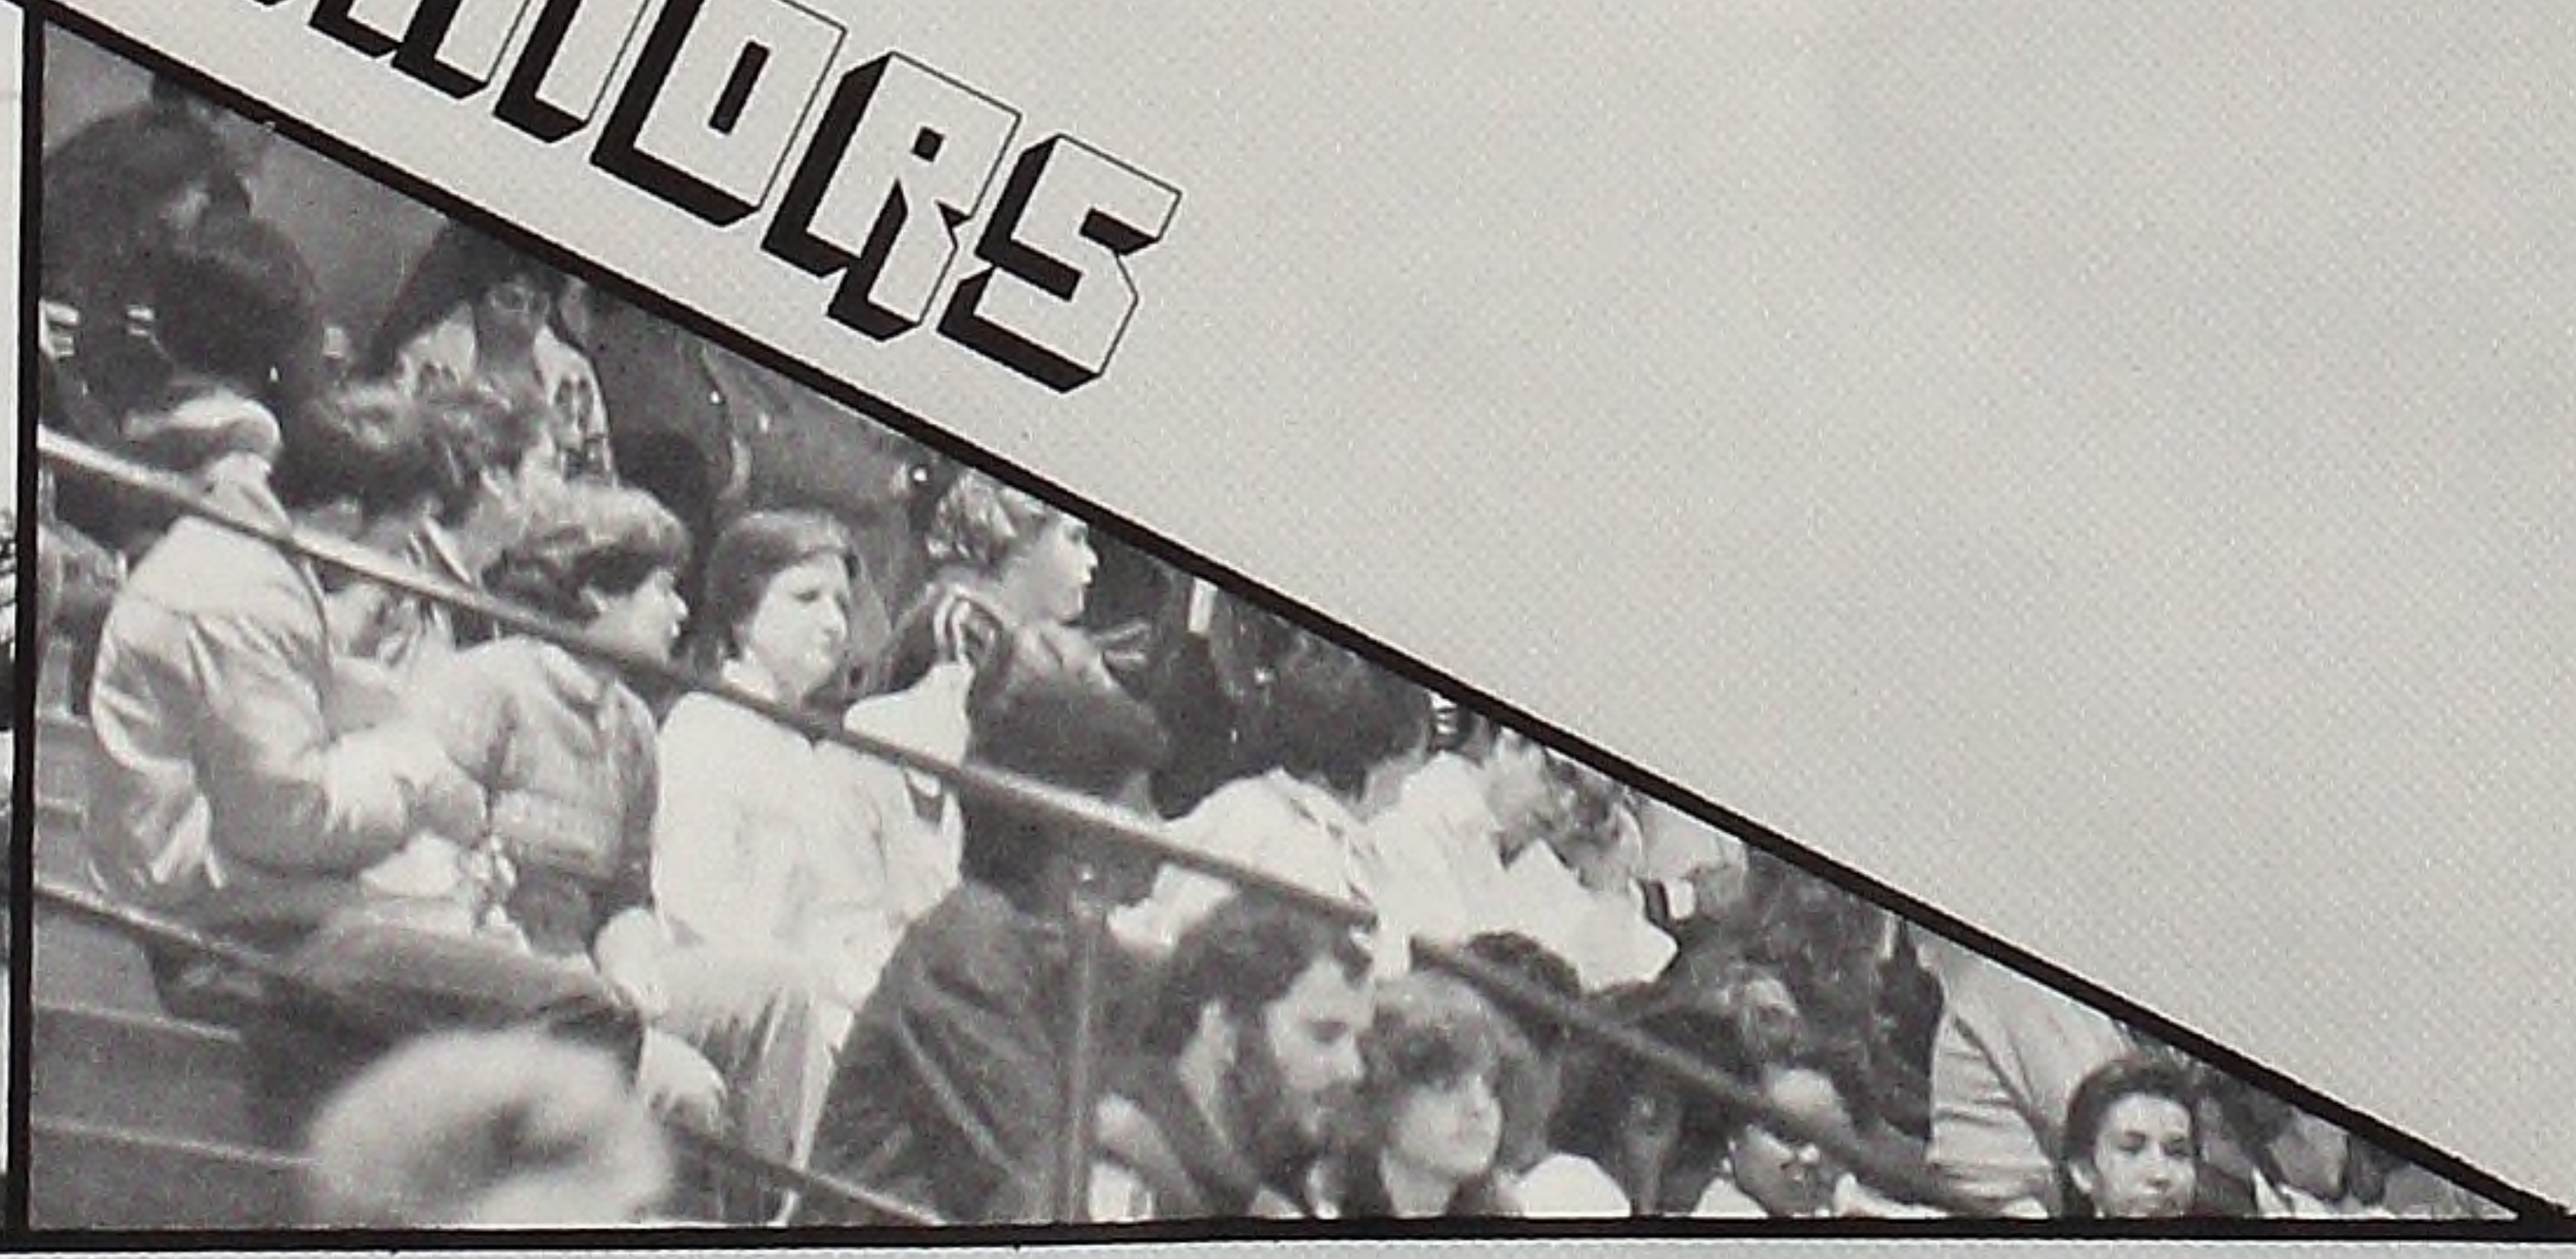

Spring Arbor College — more than just an institution for learning. It stands for commitment, integrity, growth, change, and is a Christian community. There are many sights and sounds at Spring Arbor — whether it be playing foosball in the game room, or seeing Matt Kulaga at work in the snack bar, or an art show or “Camelot”. Whether you are involved in sports or concert band, Common Bond or student government, or nothing. Spring Arbor evokes many different memories for different people and means many different things, but it all adds up to this place which is our home for nine months a year. Welcome to this year's Echo, which we hope sparks many memories and thoughts of your particular world at Spring Arbor.

Graduation And Baccalaureate

May twenty-six brought another chapter of Spring Arbor College history to a close. The class of 1985 stepped through the doors of the field house students and exited alumni with bright futures. The past became a fond memory and attention focused on what was to come. All graduations "seem" the same, but for the some 270 graduating seniors, this was their moment to shine.

Baccalaureate featured Robert Halverson, Chaplin for the United States Senate. Commencement was highlighted by musical performances by Steve Flint and Carolyn Lewis singing an original composition, "Best of Friends," written by Kevin Smith, and a senior ensemble singing the appropriate song, "It's time for movin' on."

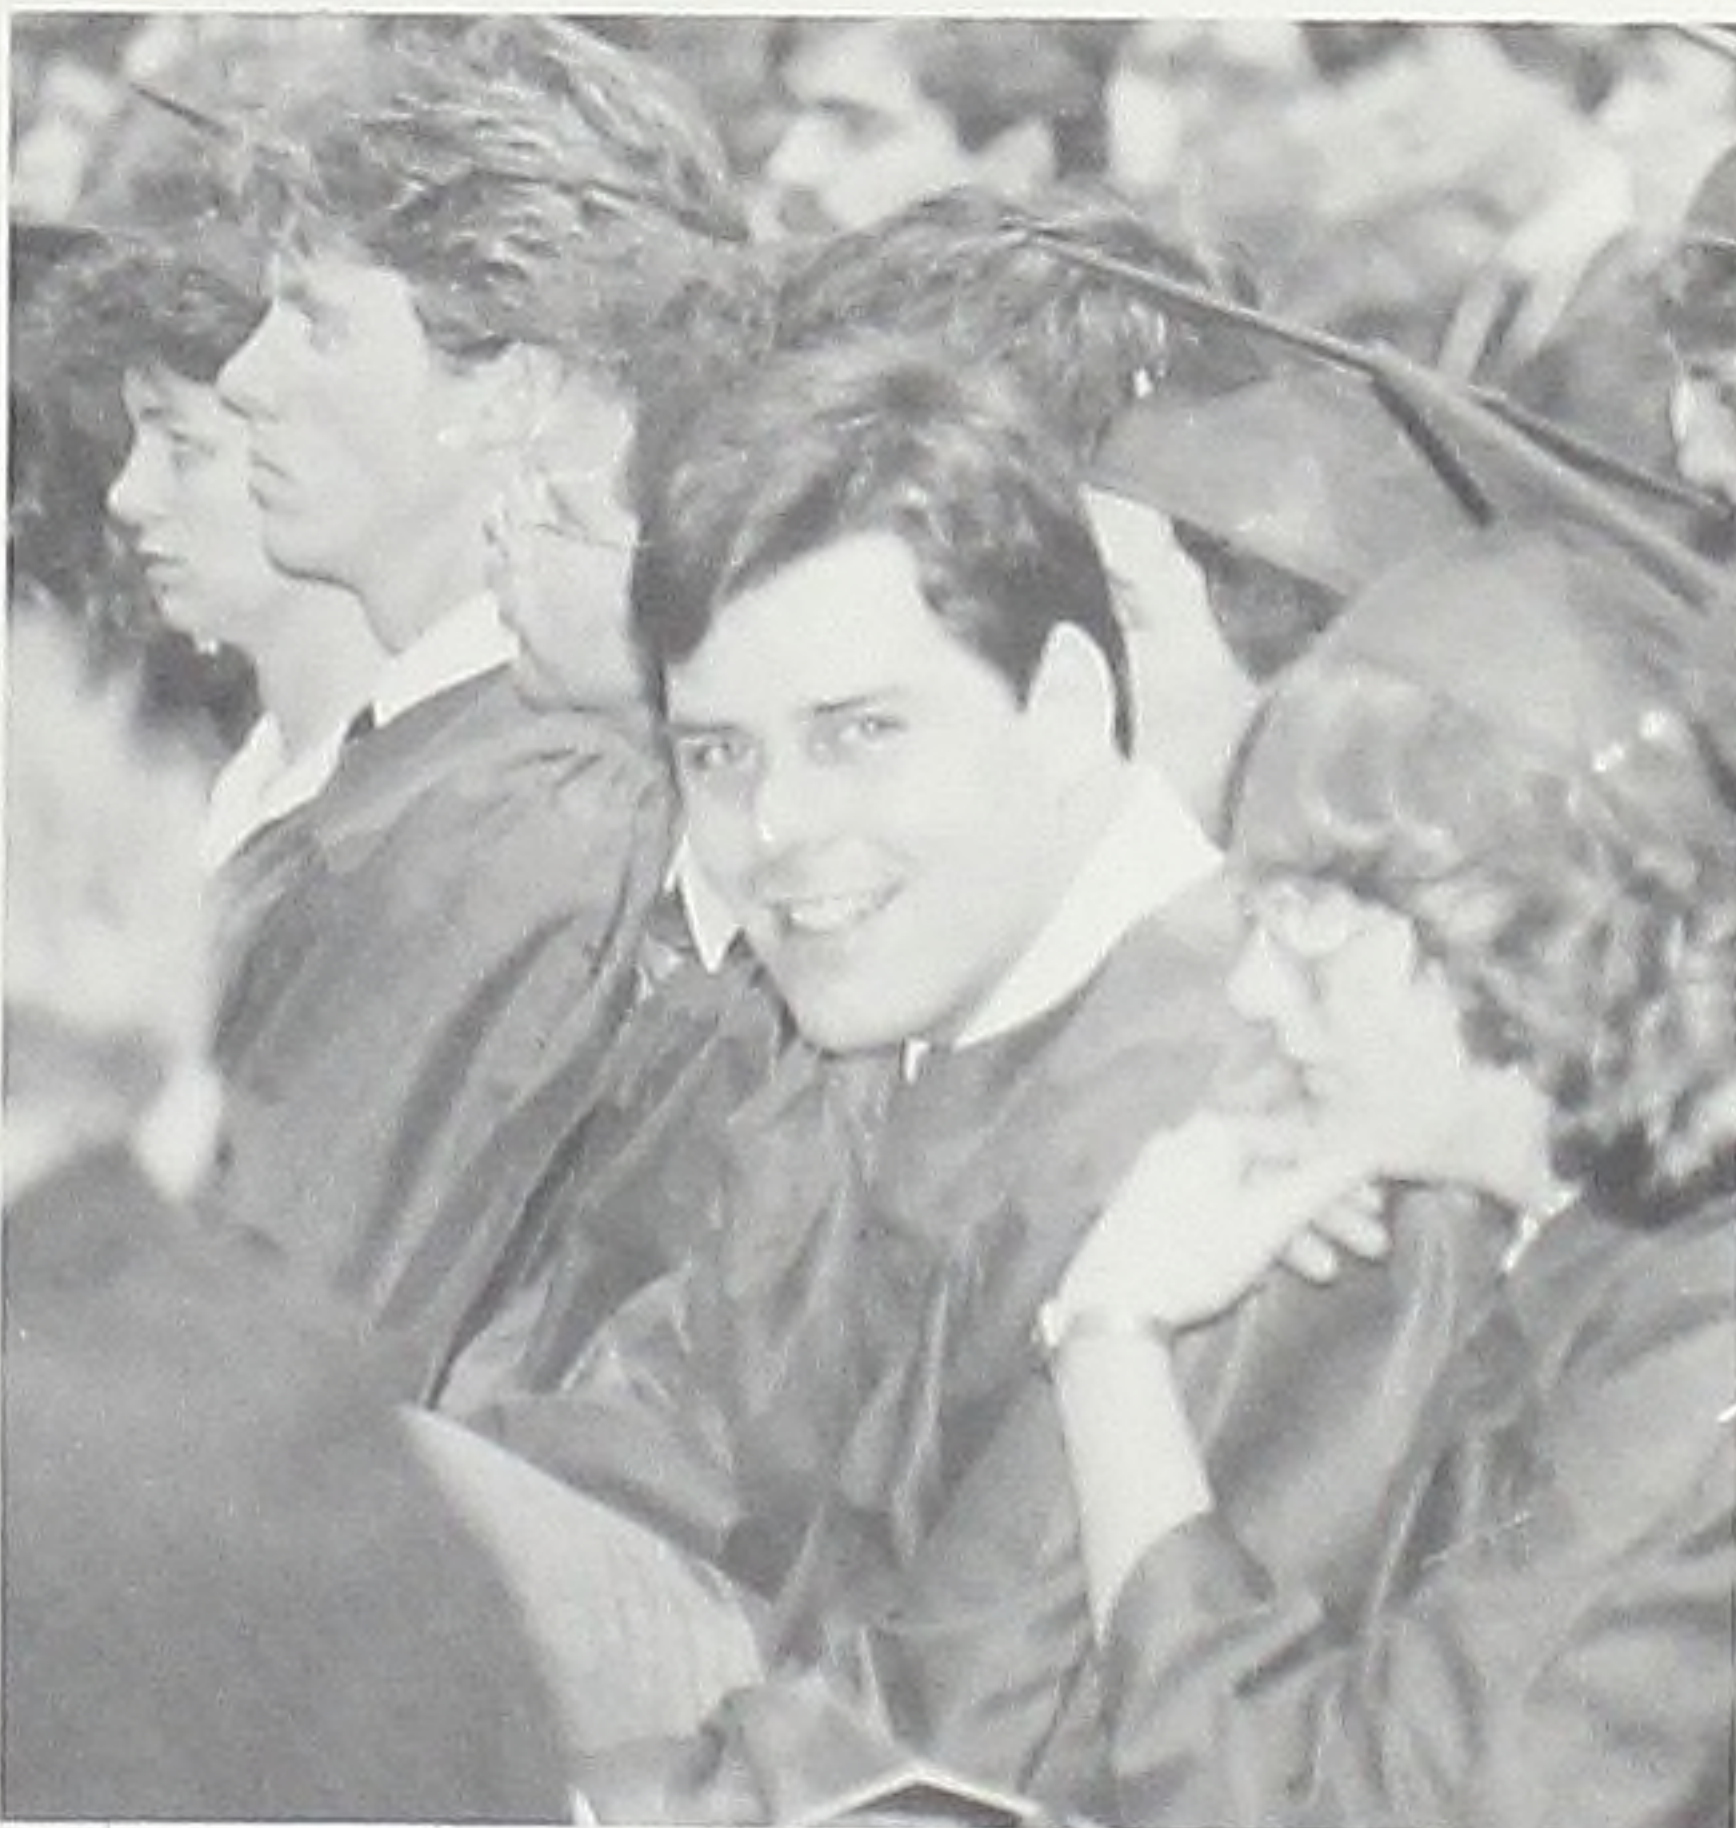

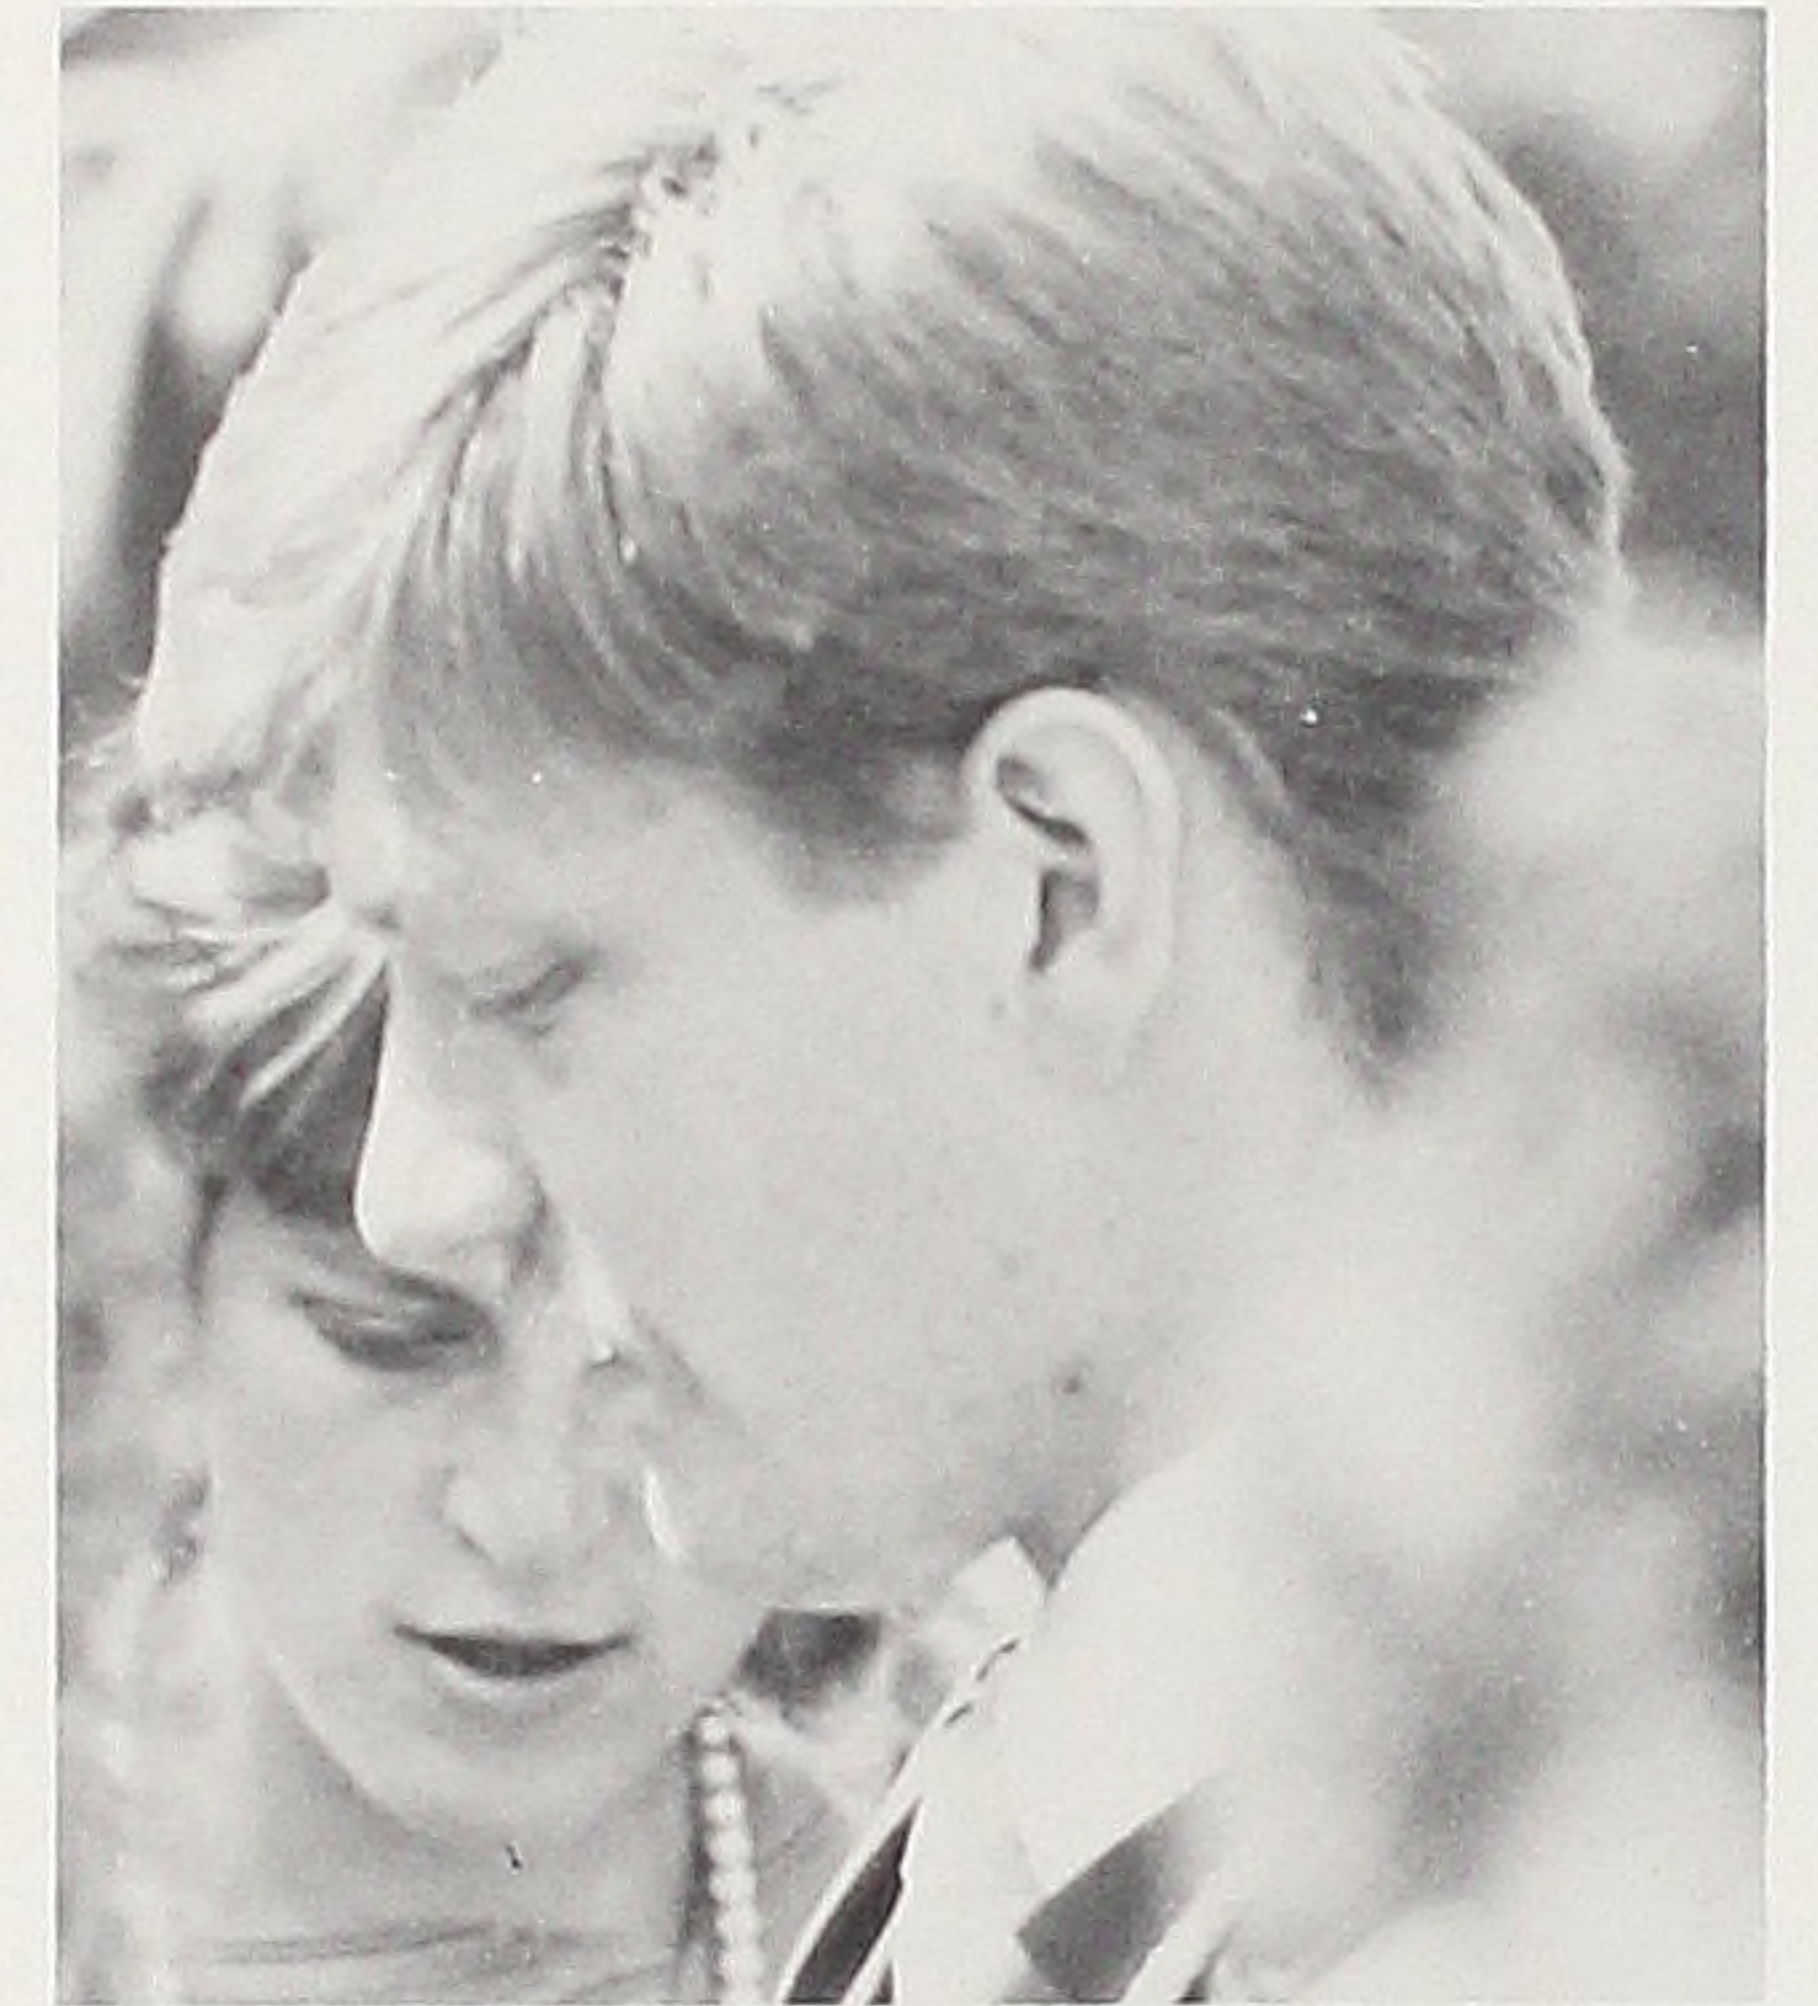

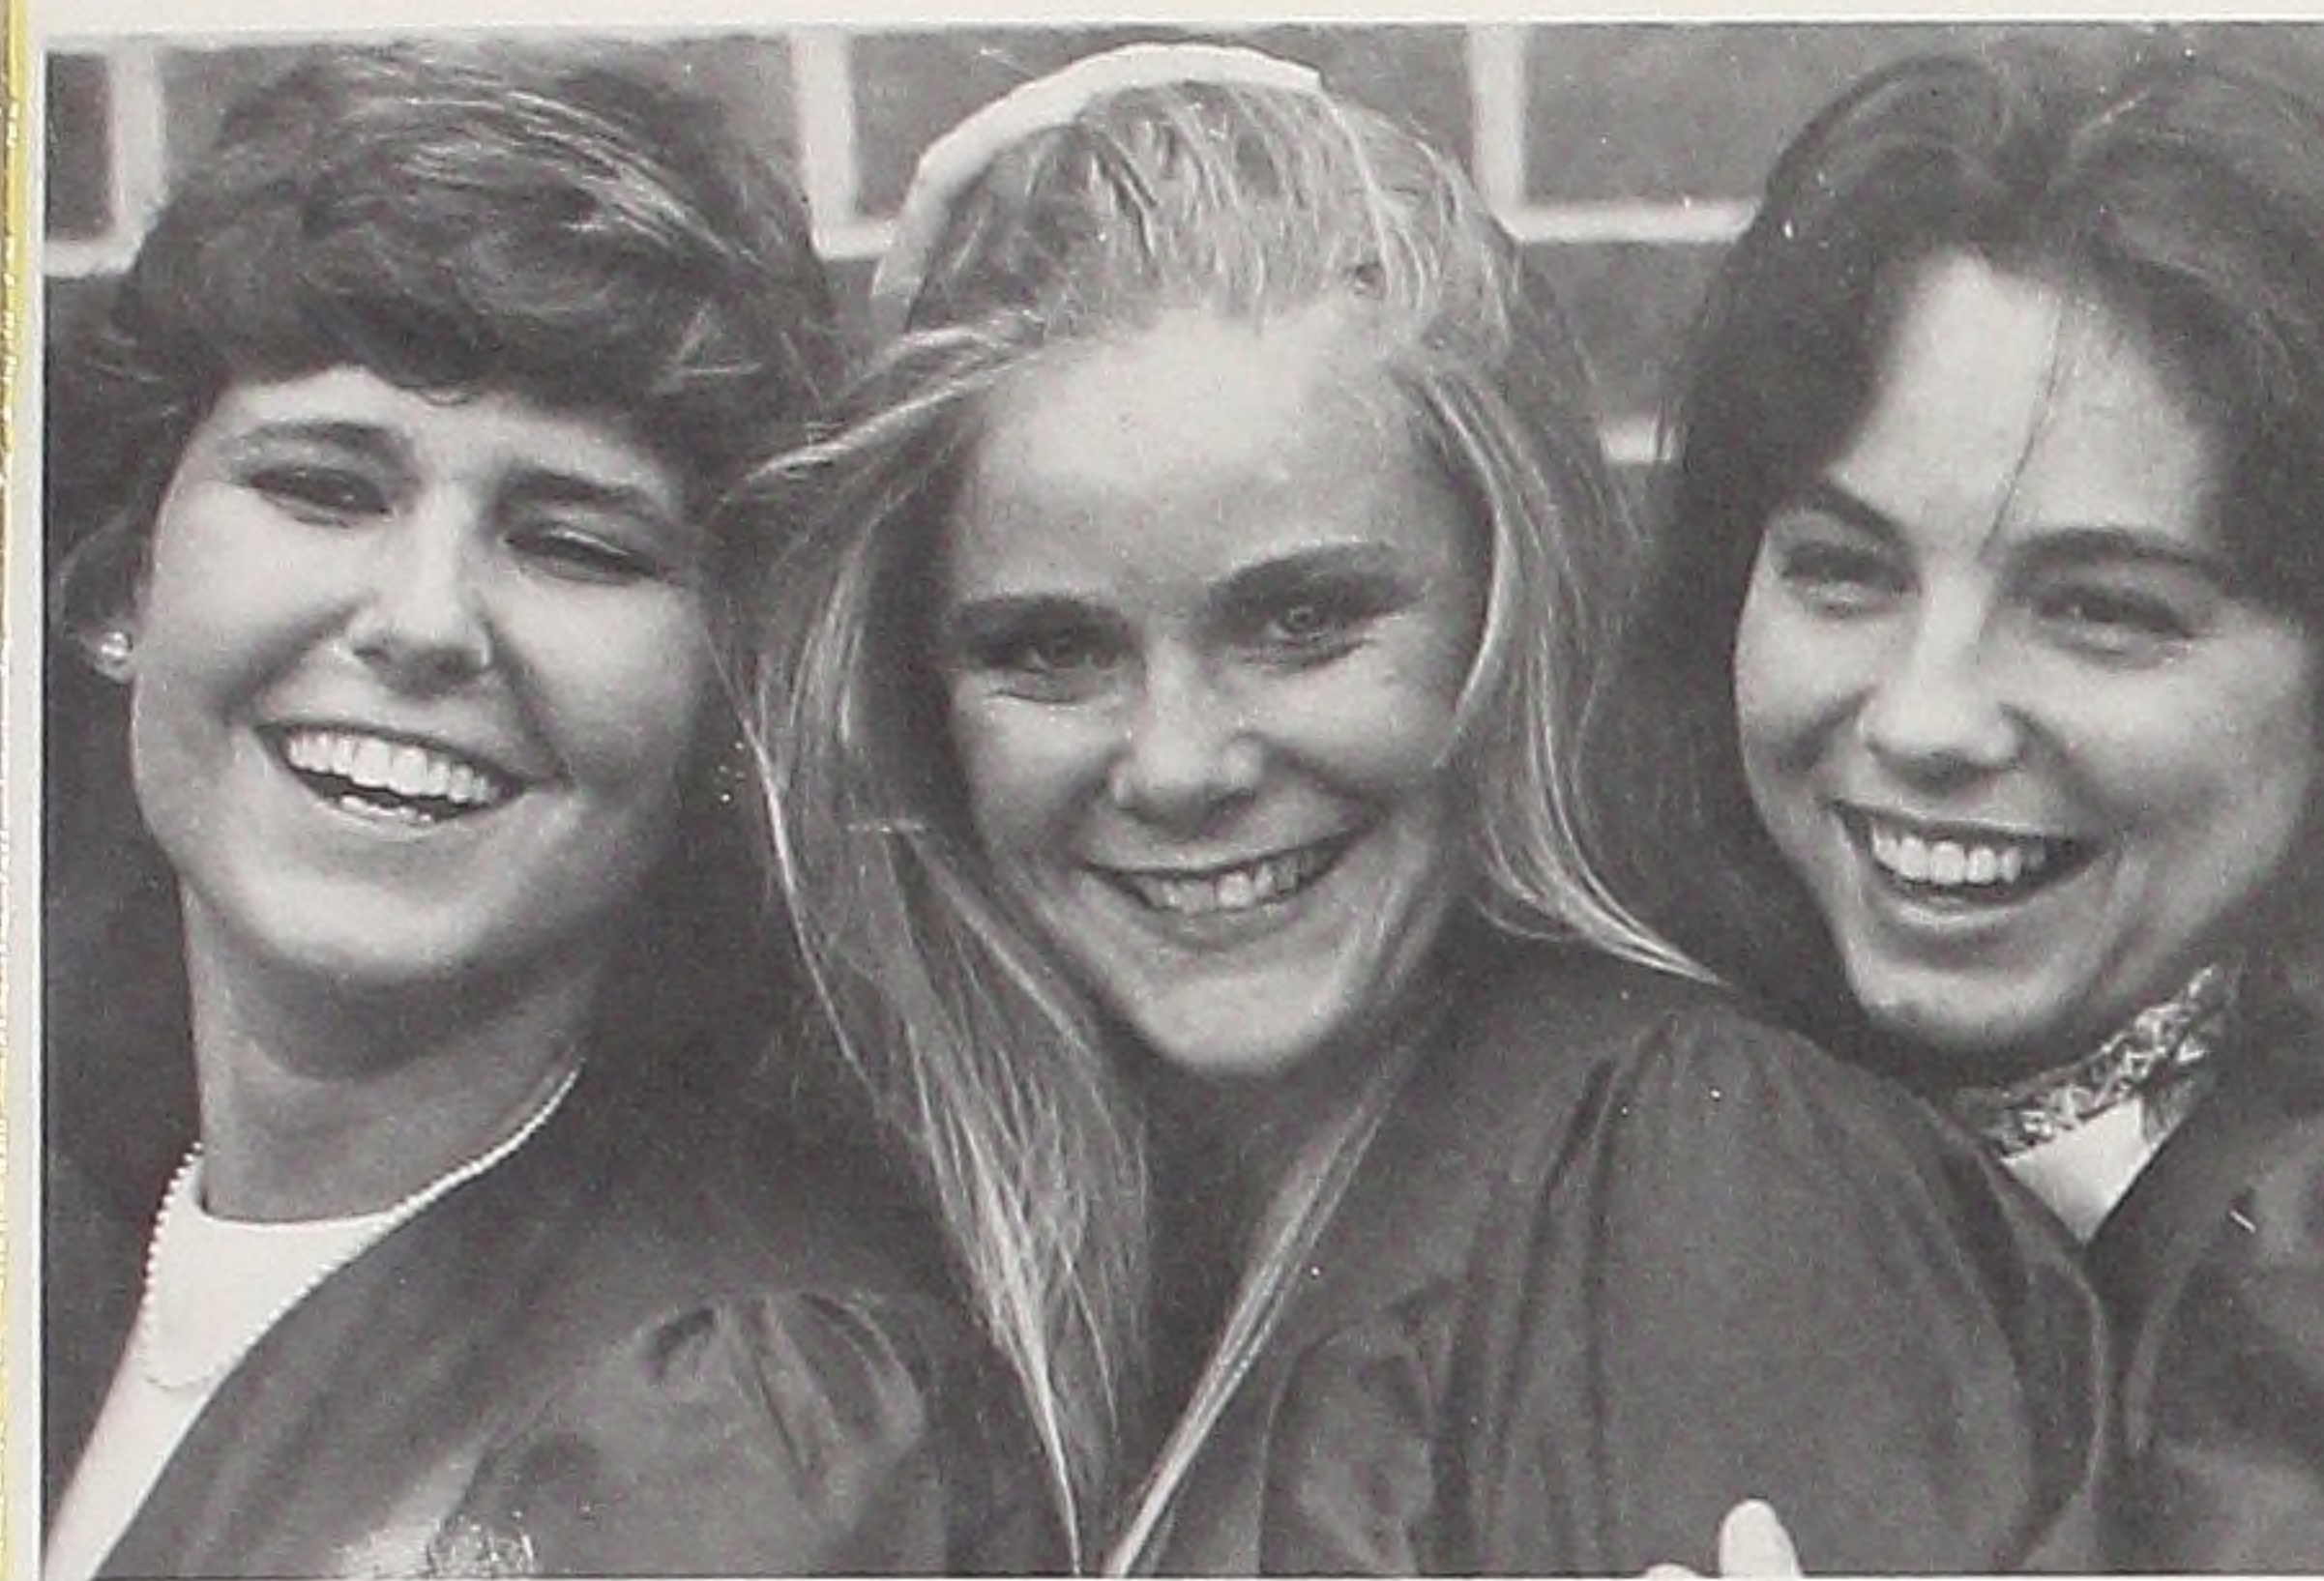

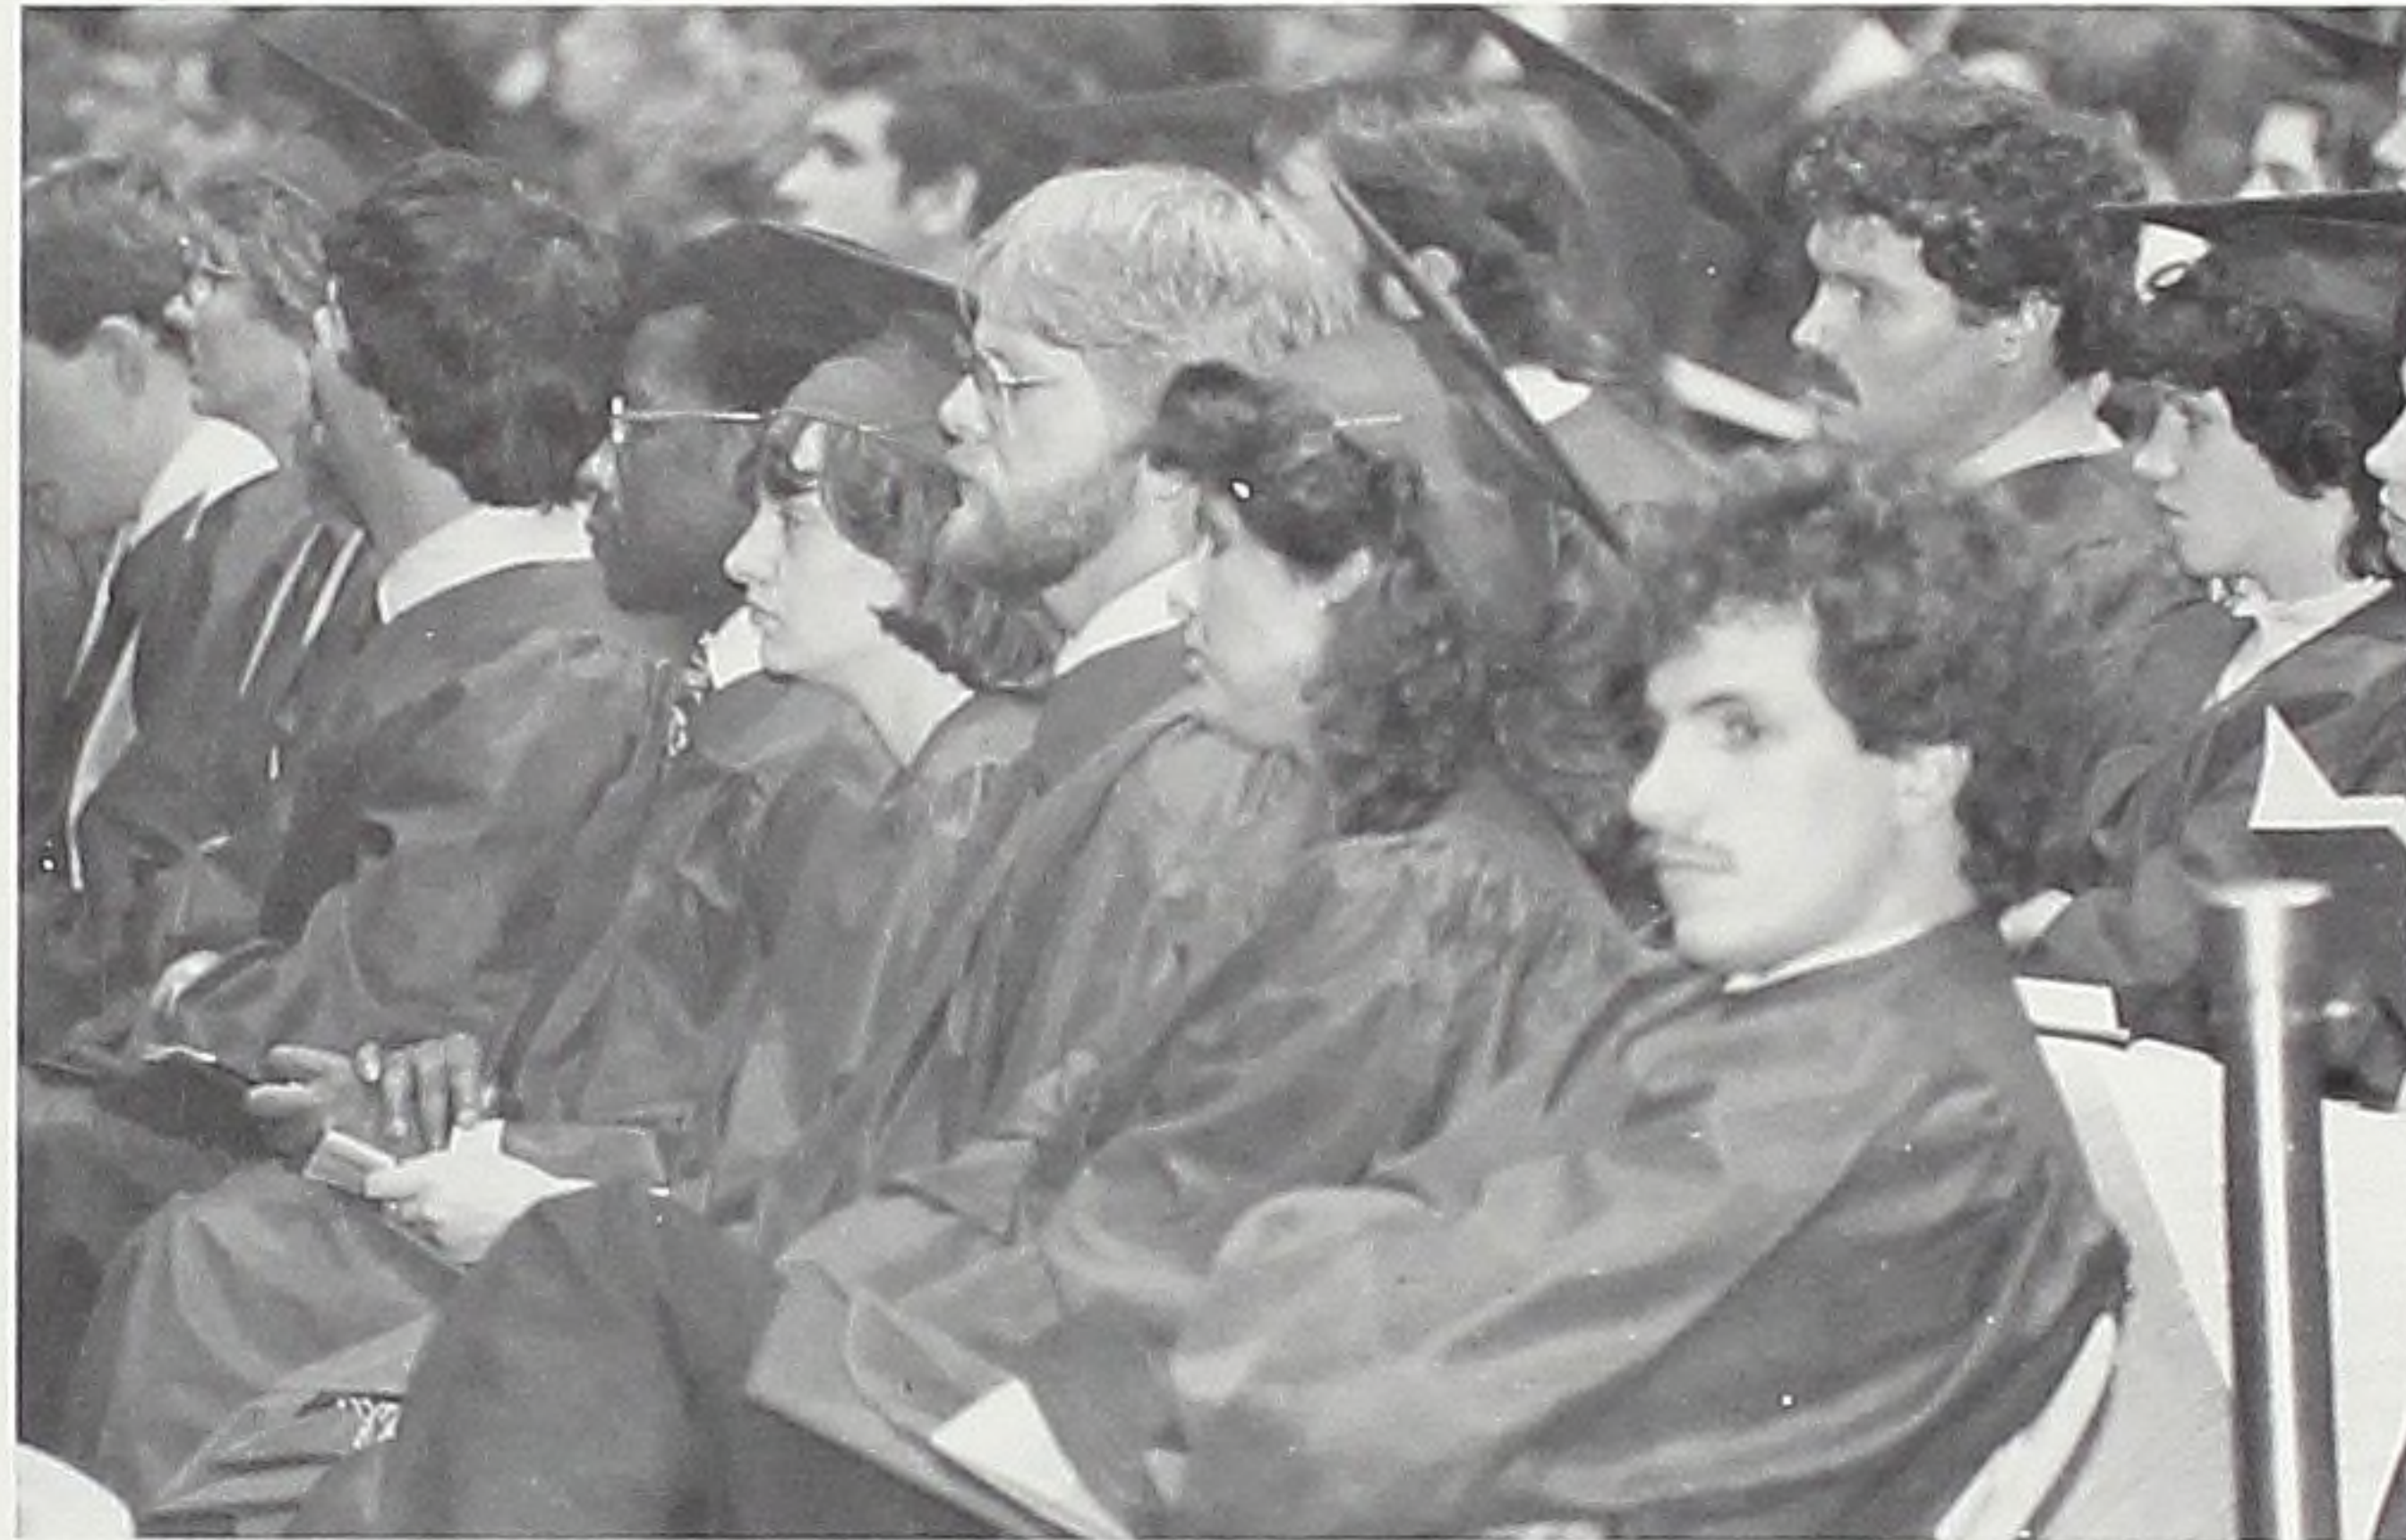

Time waits for no one. This fact, for some of the seniors, was a welcomed one. But for some, sadness mingled with the excitement. Spring Arbor often becomes the proverbial "Home away from home" school literature claims it to be. Friends are made here — some that last a lifetime. And so, with the passing of this class goes a little piece of the Arbor.

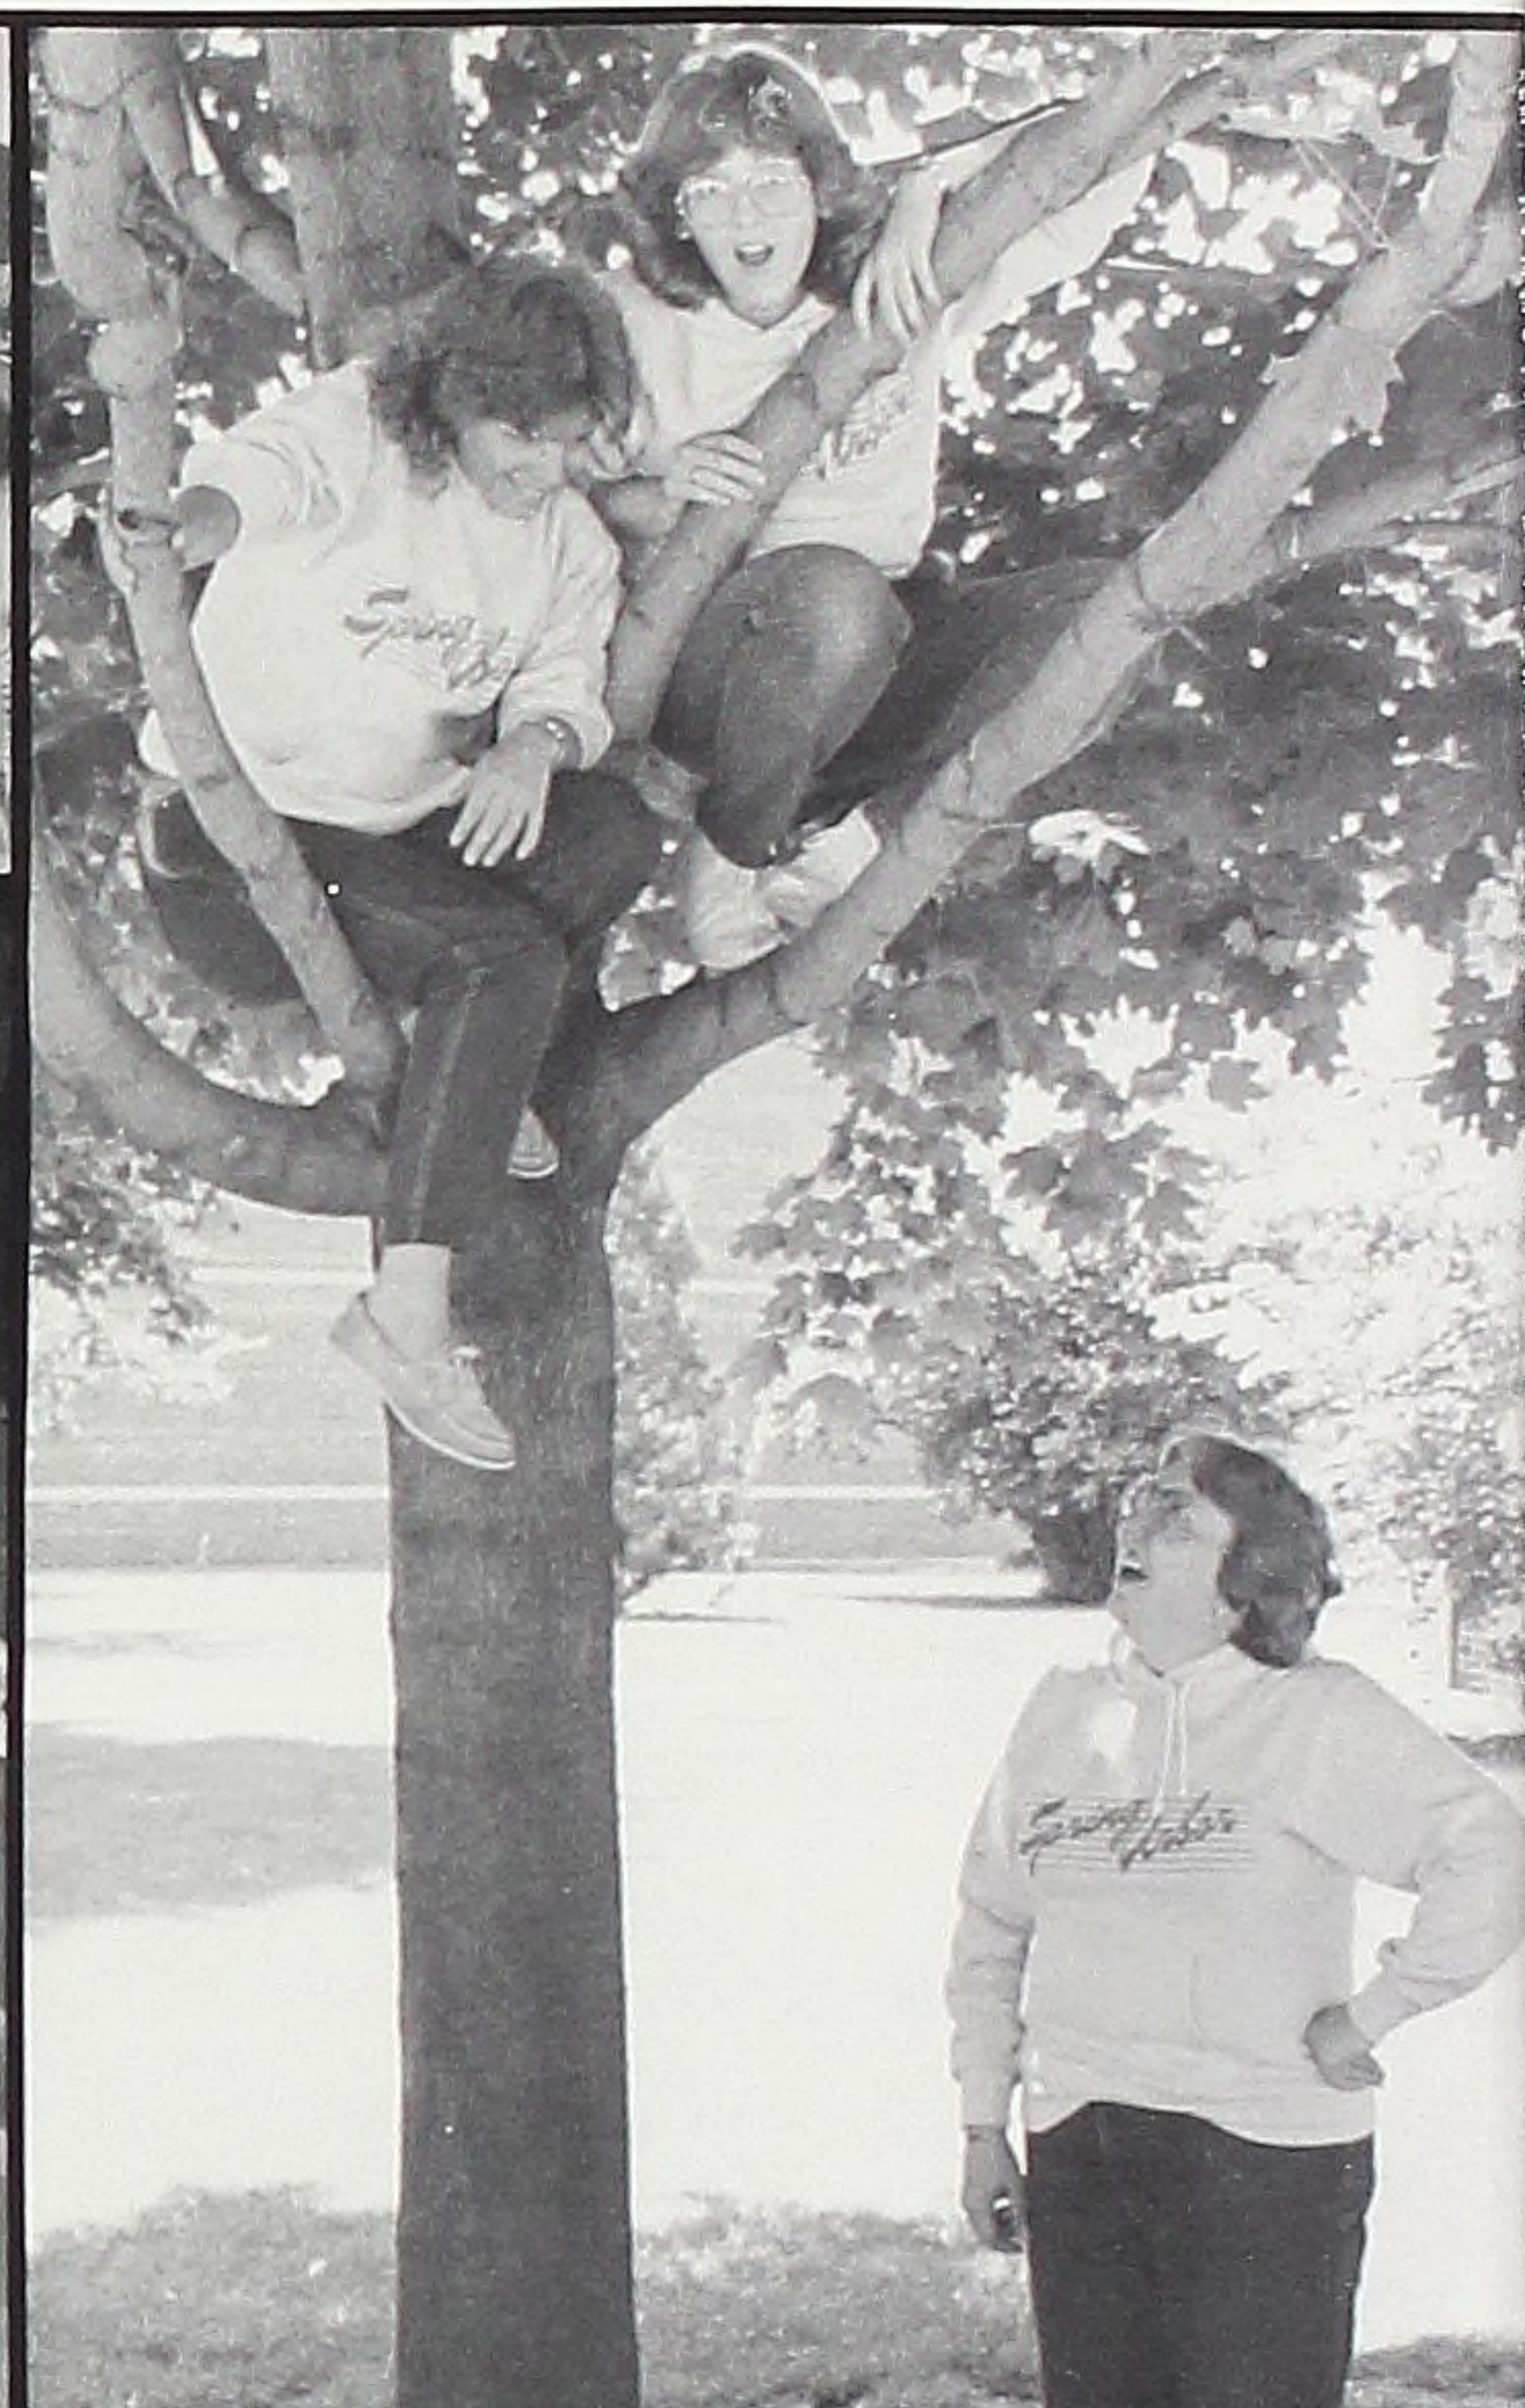

We who remain wish the Graduating Class of 1985 much success and happiness.

Intramurals . . .

... where it doesn't really matter if you win or lose, just how many points you get.

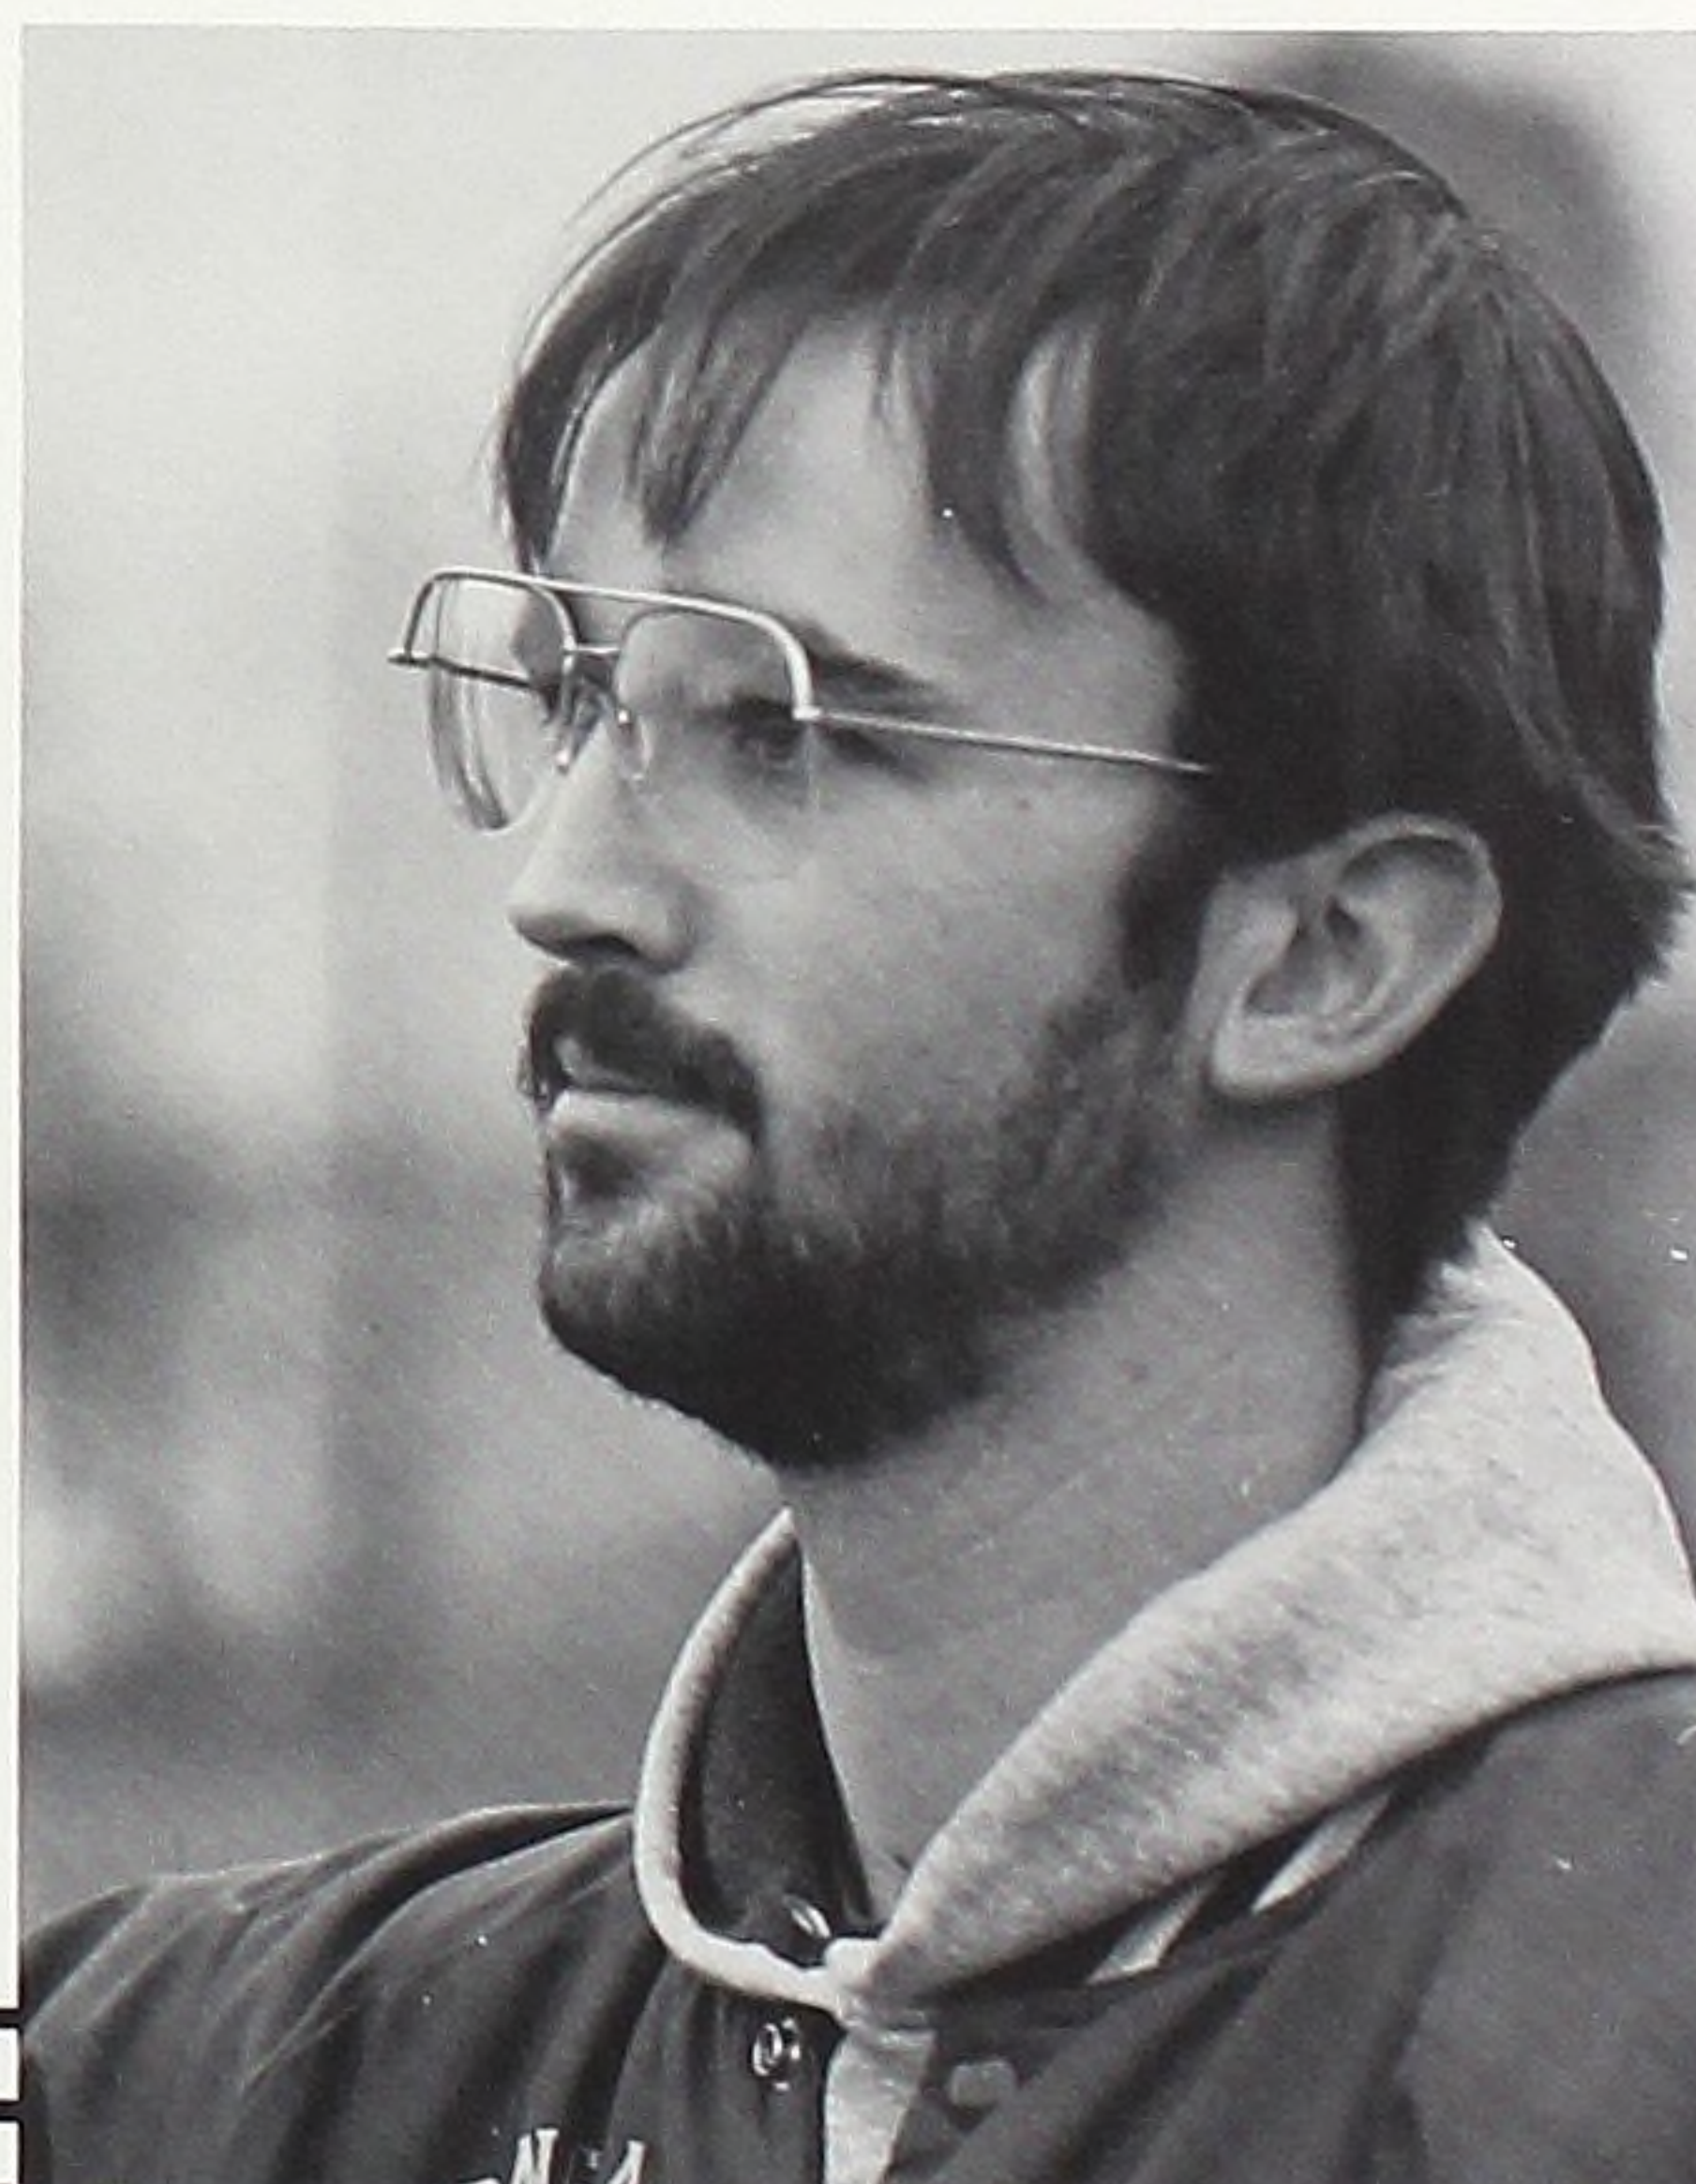

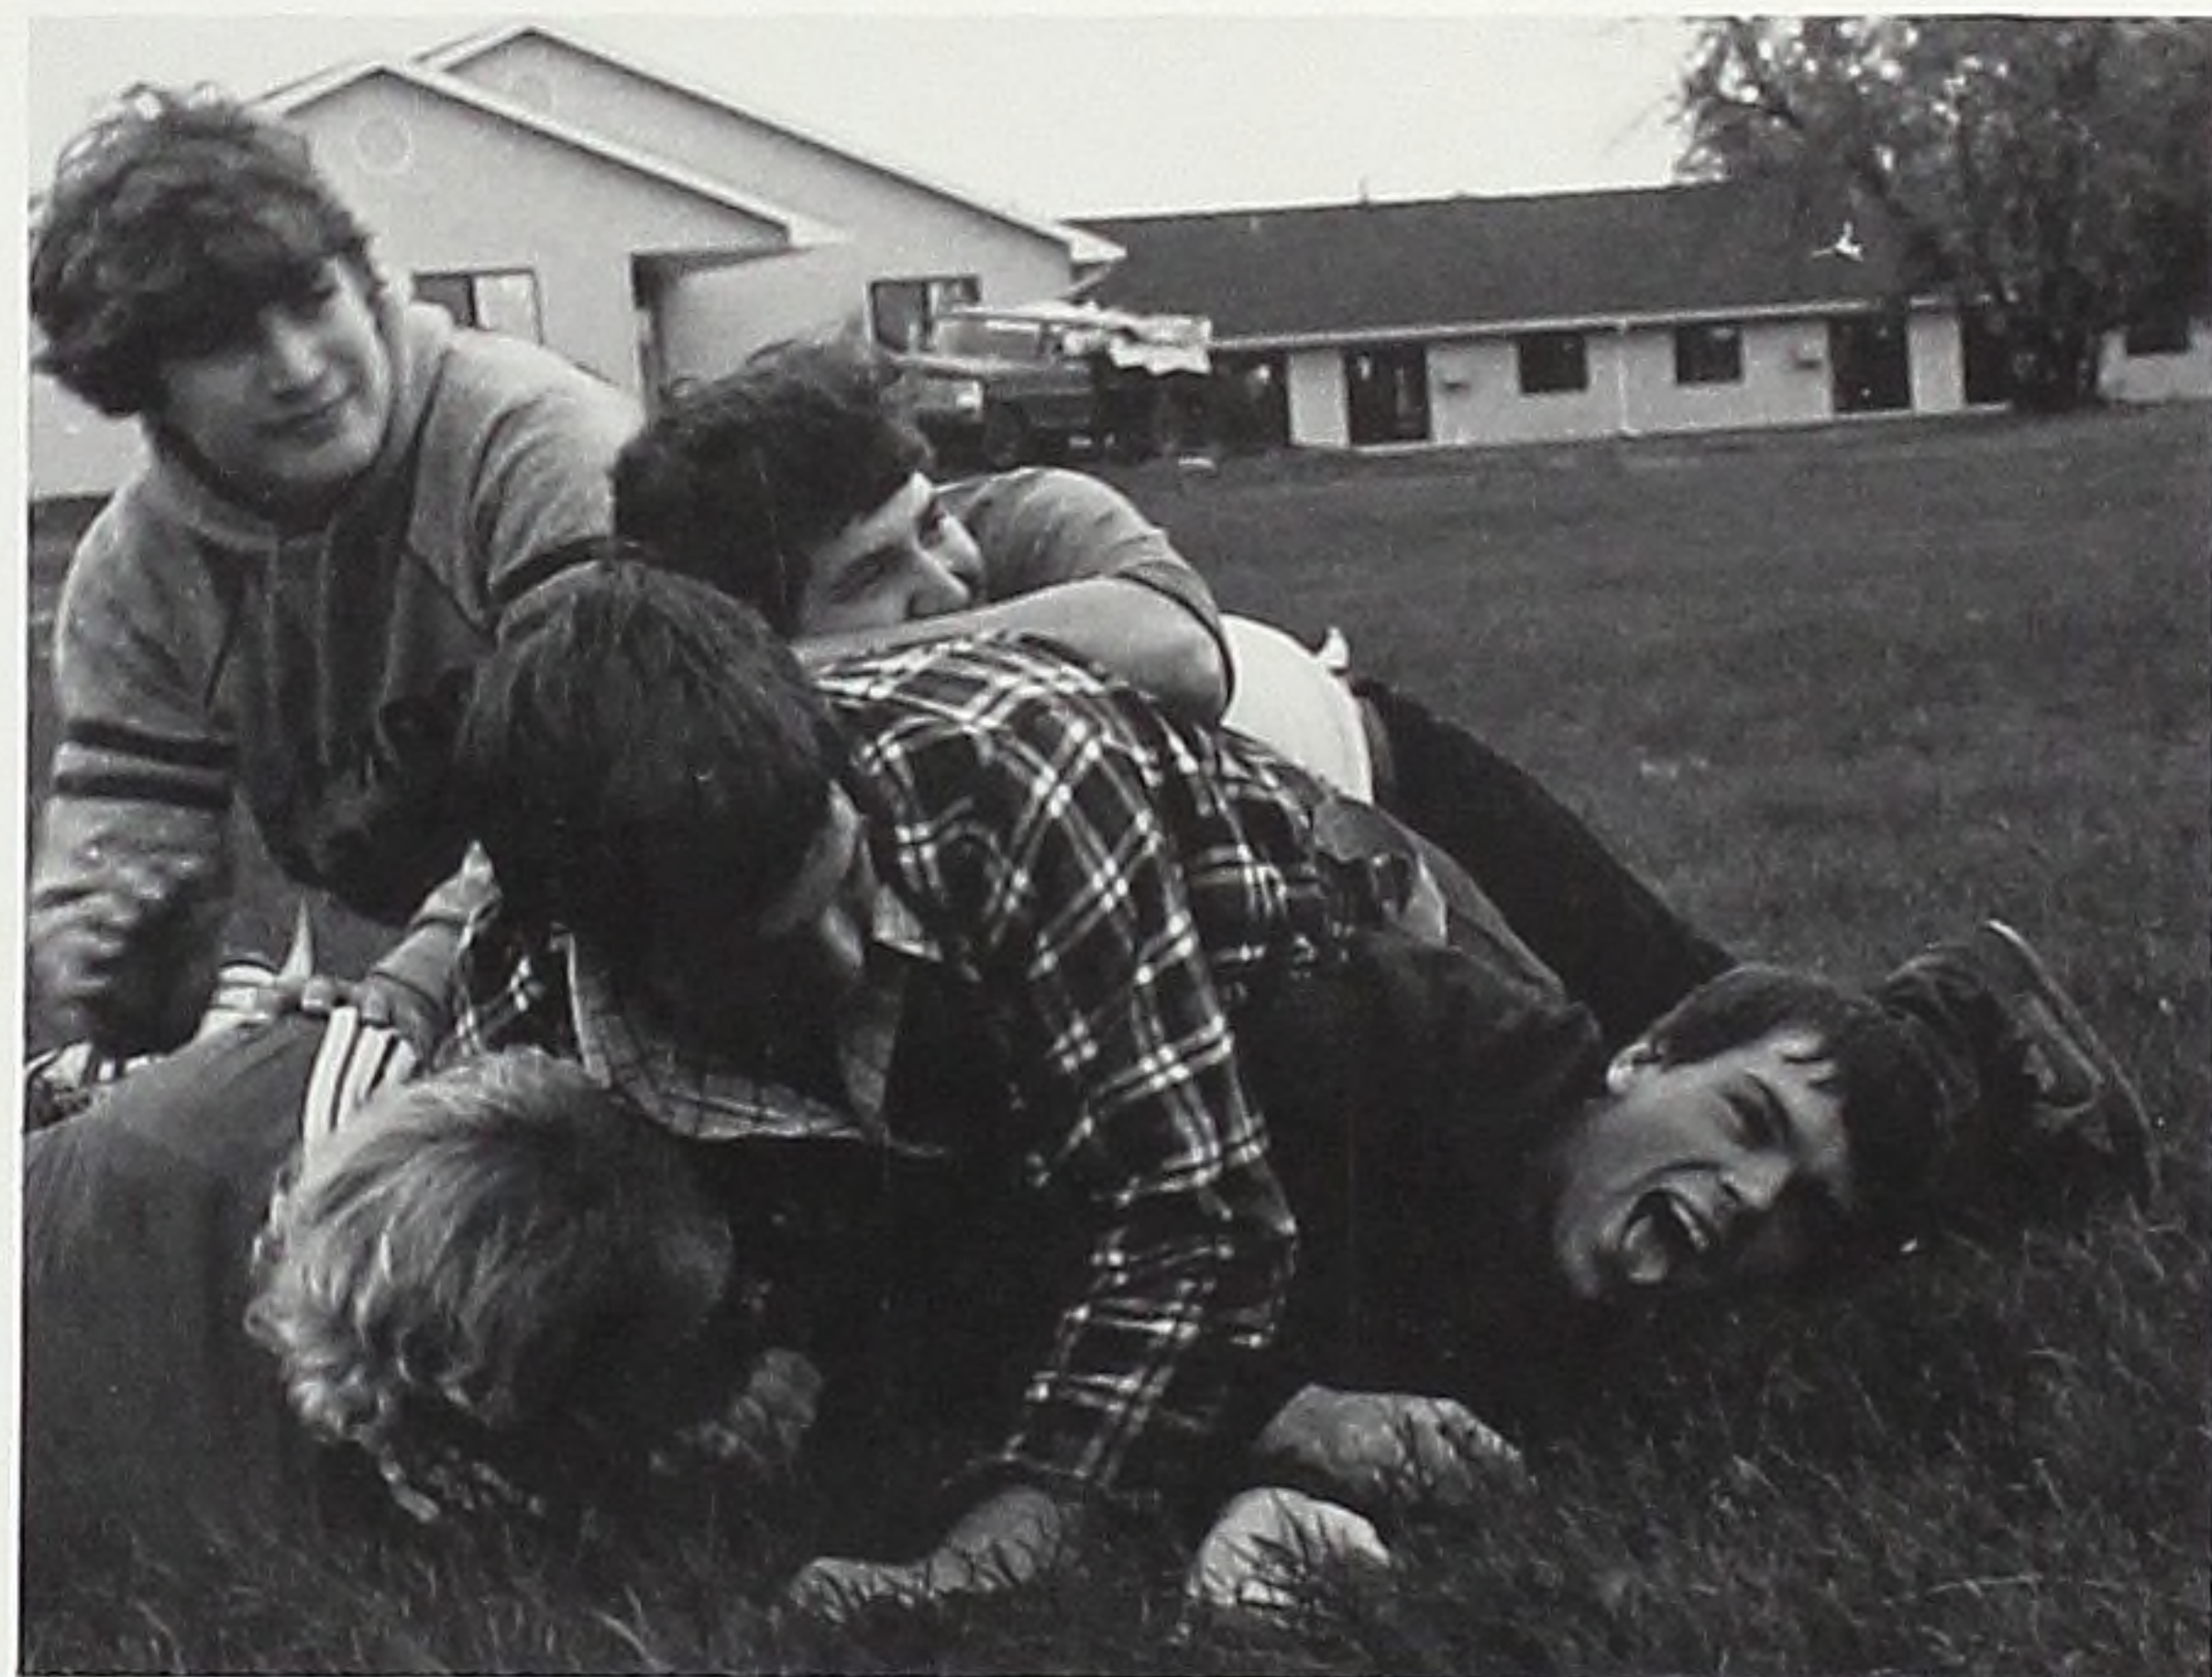

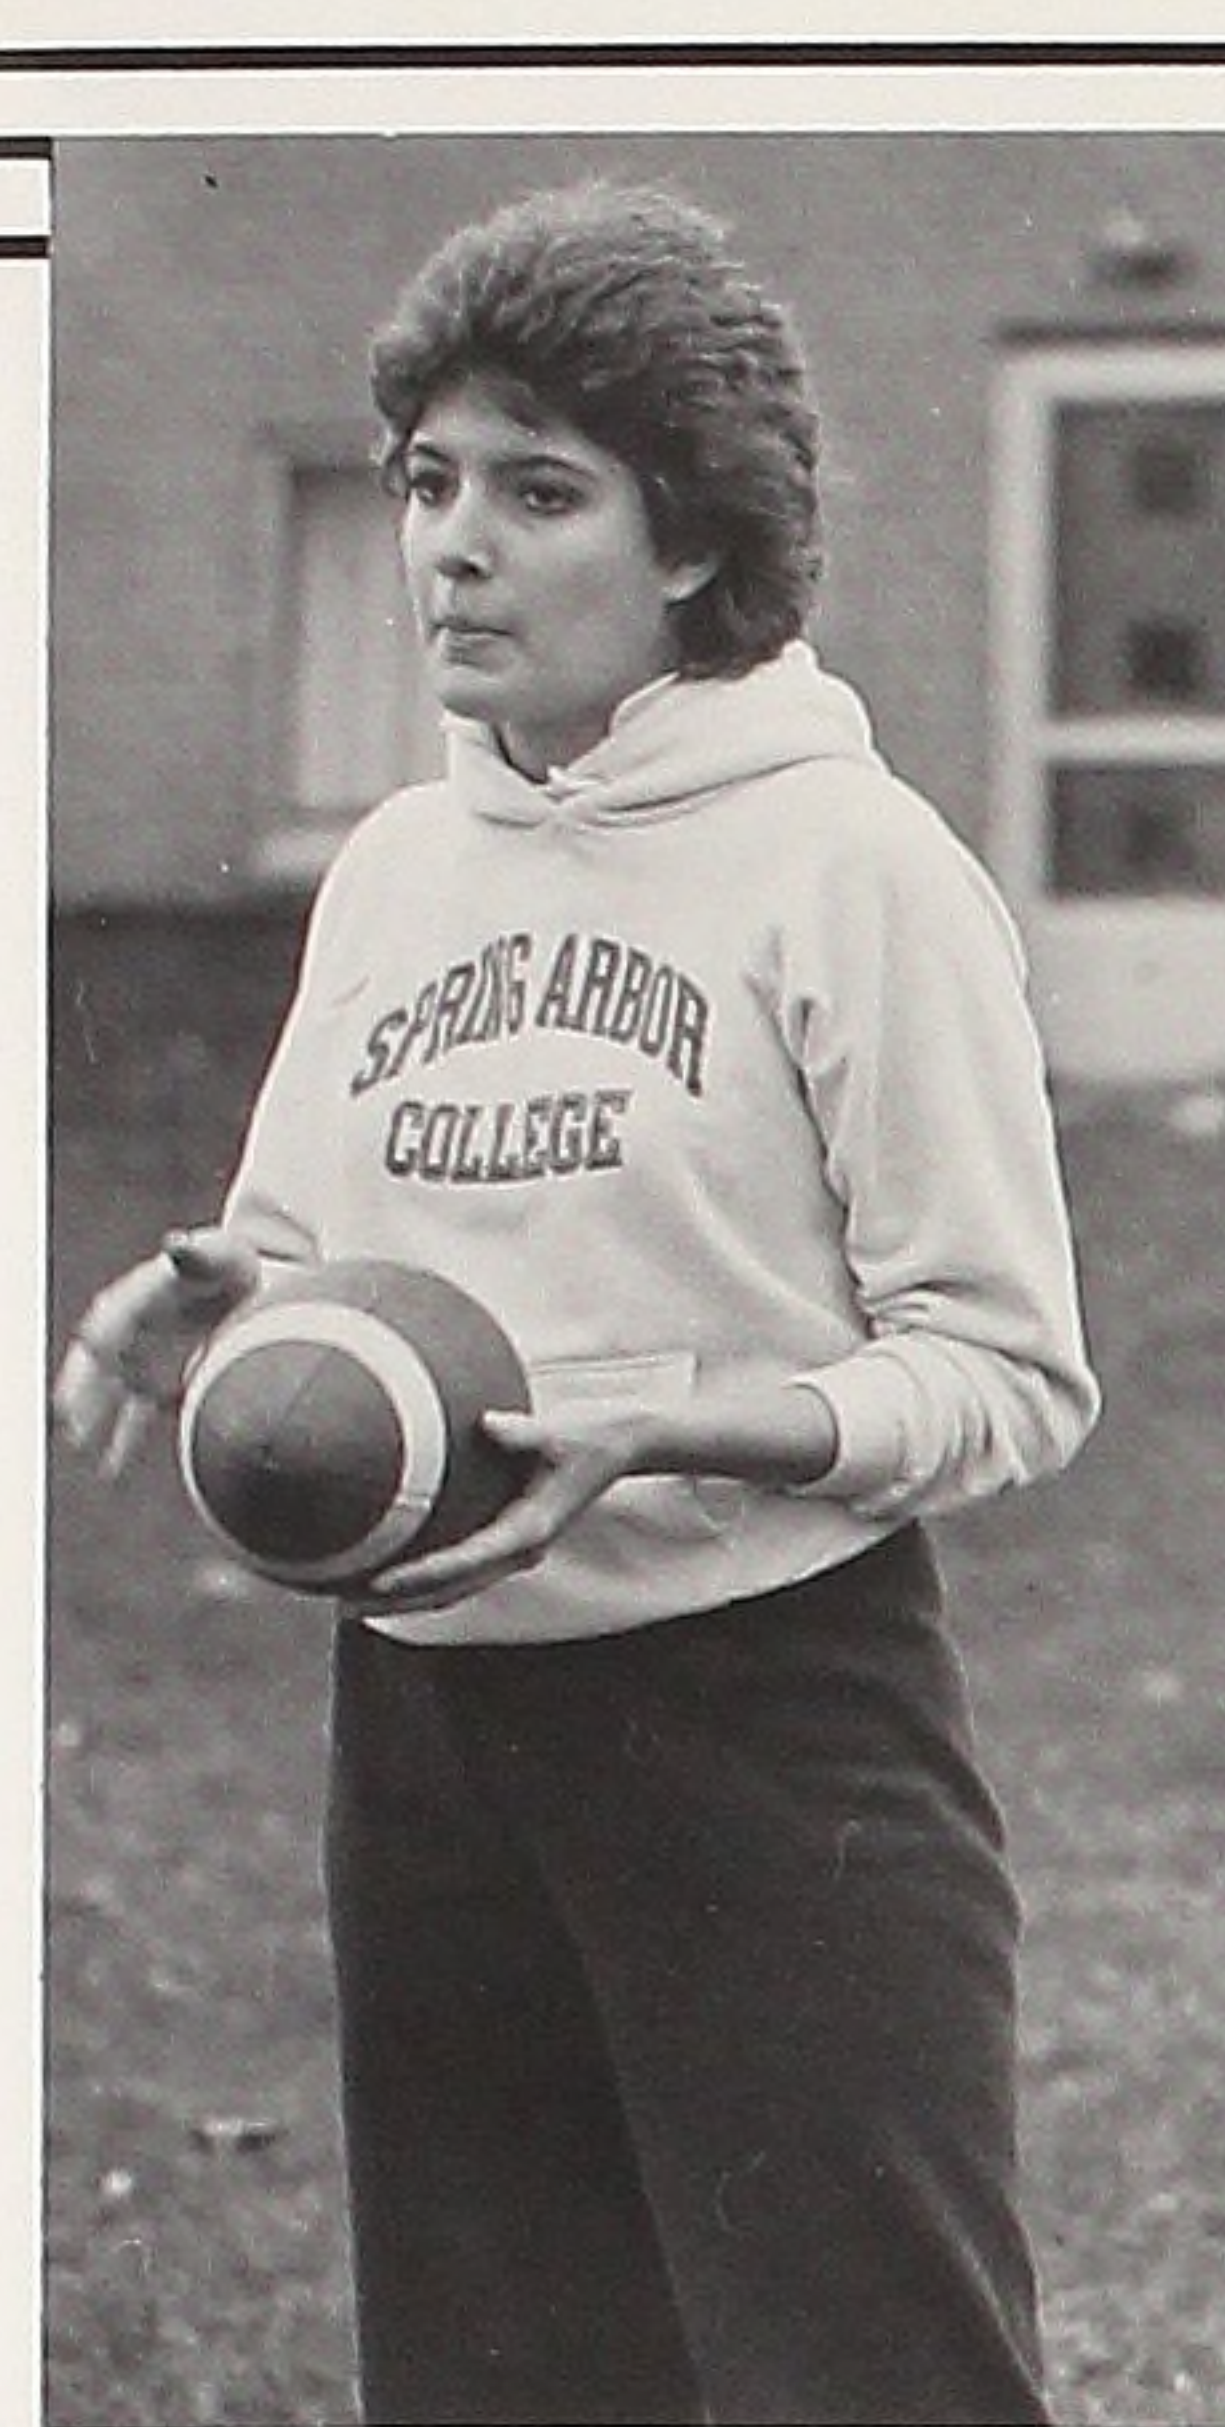

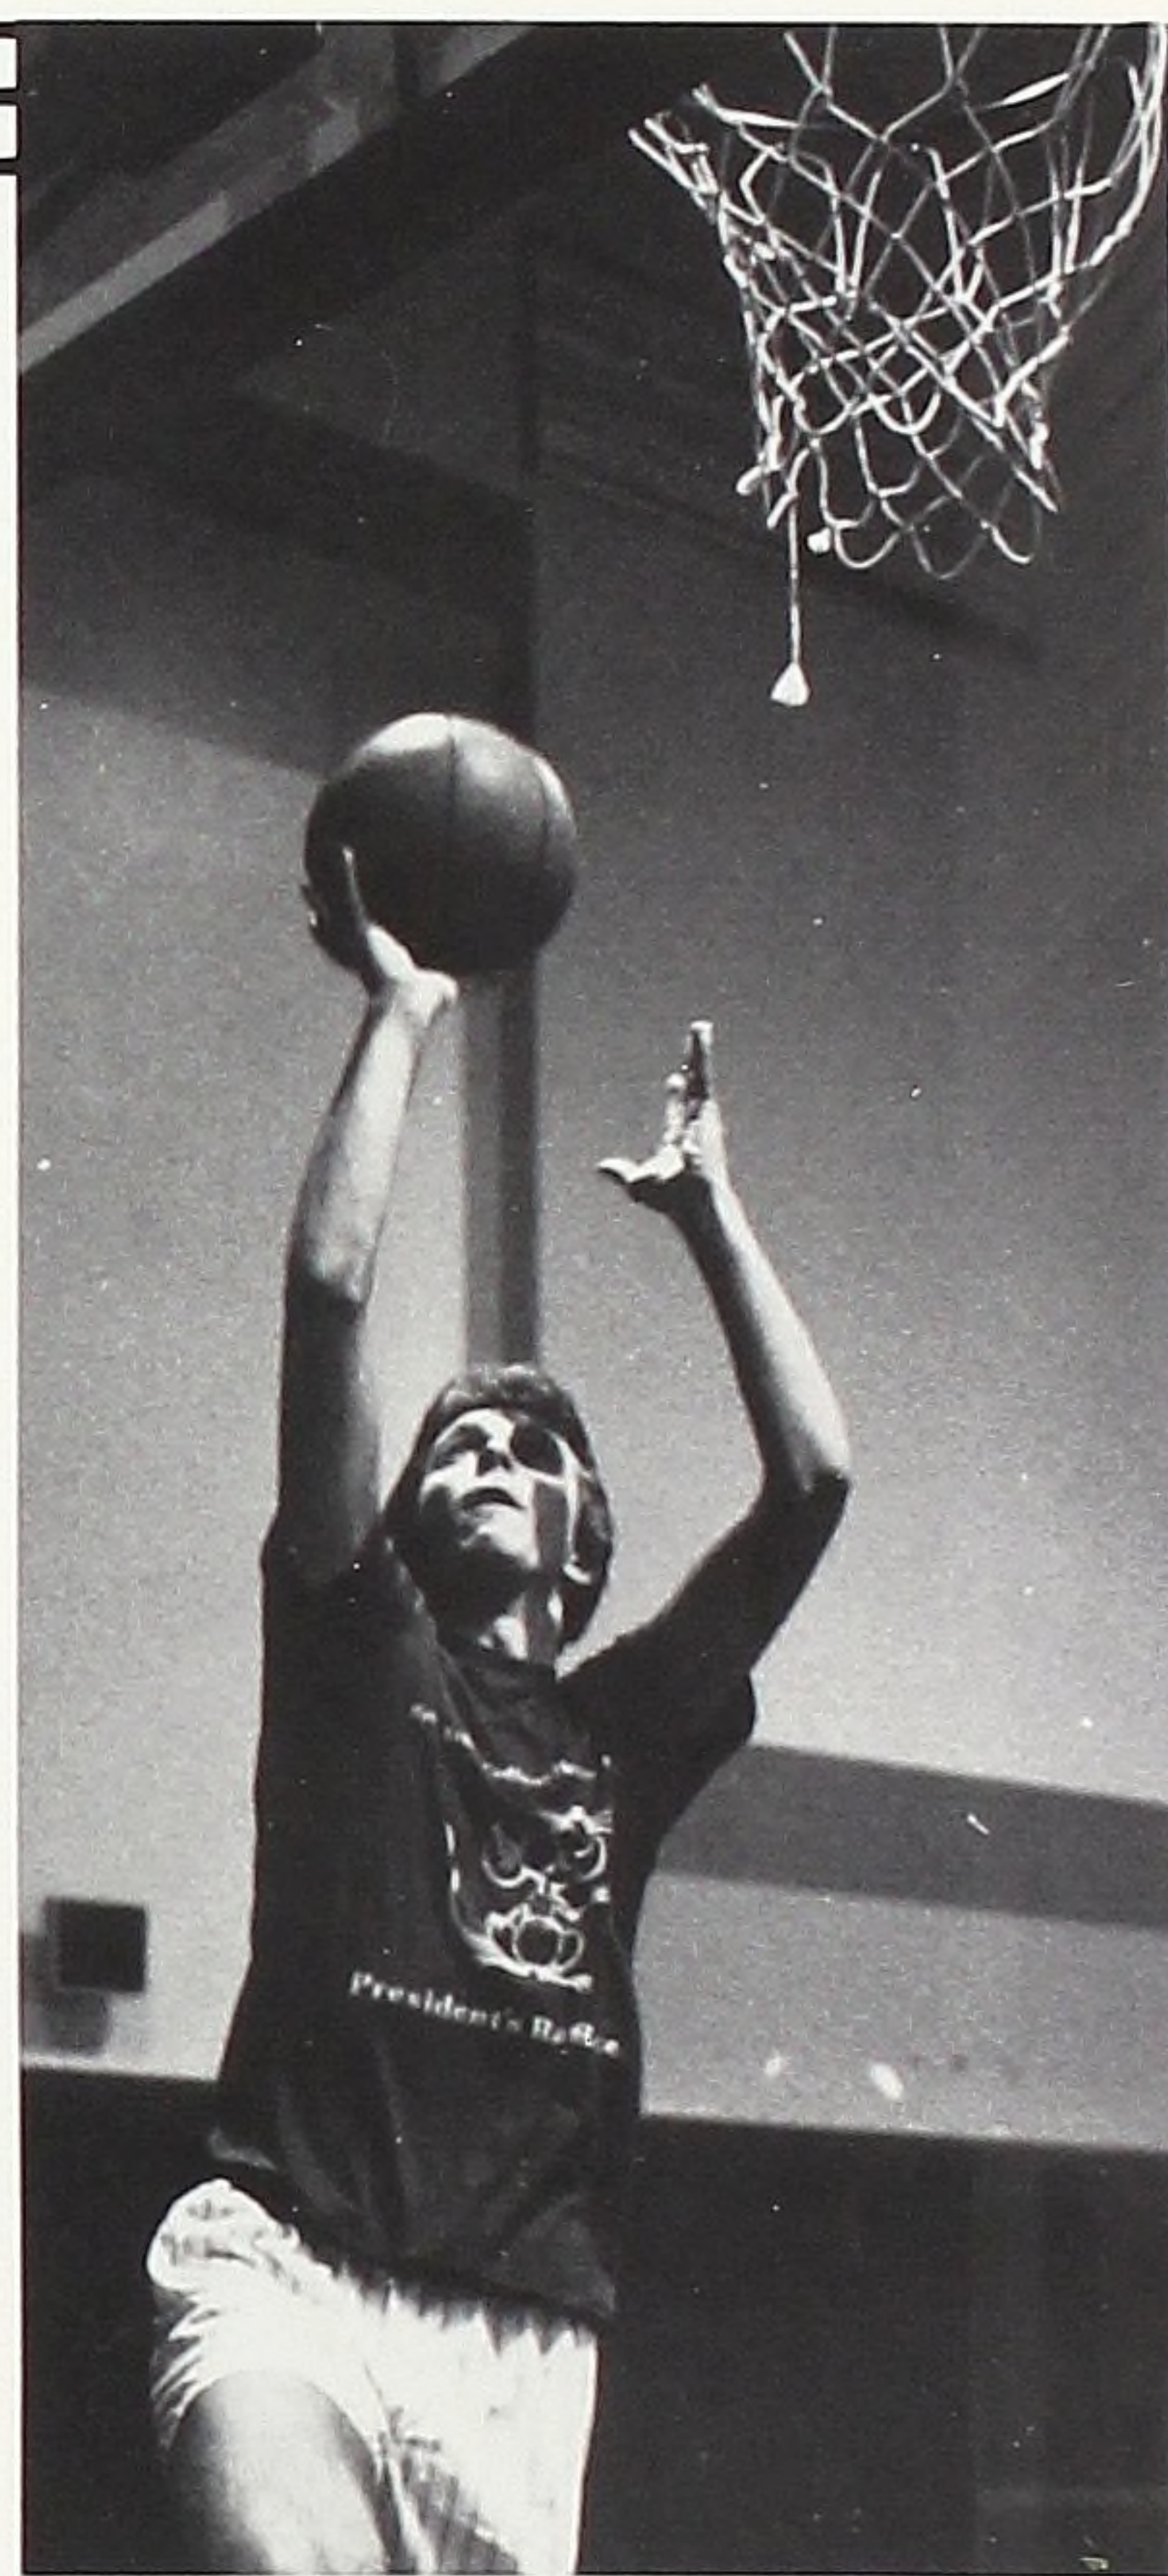

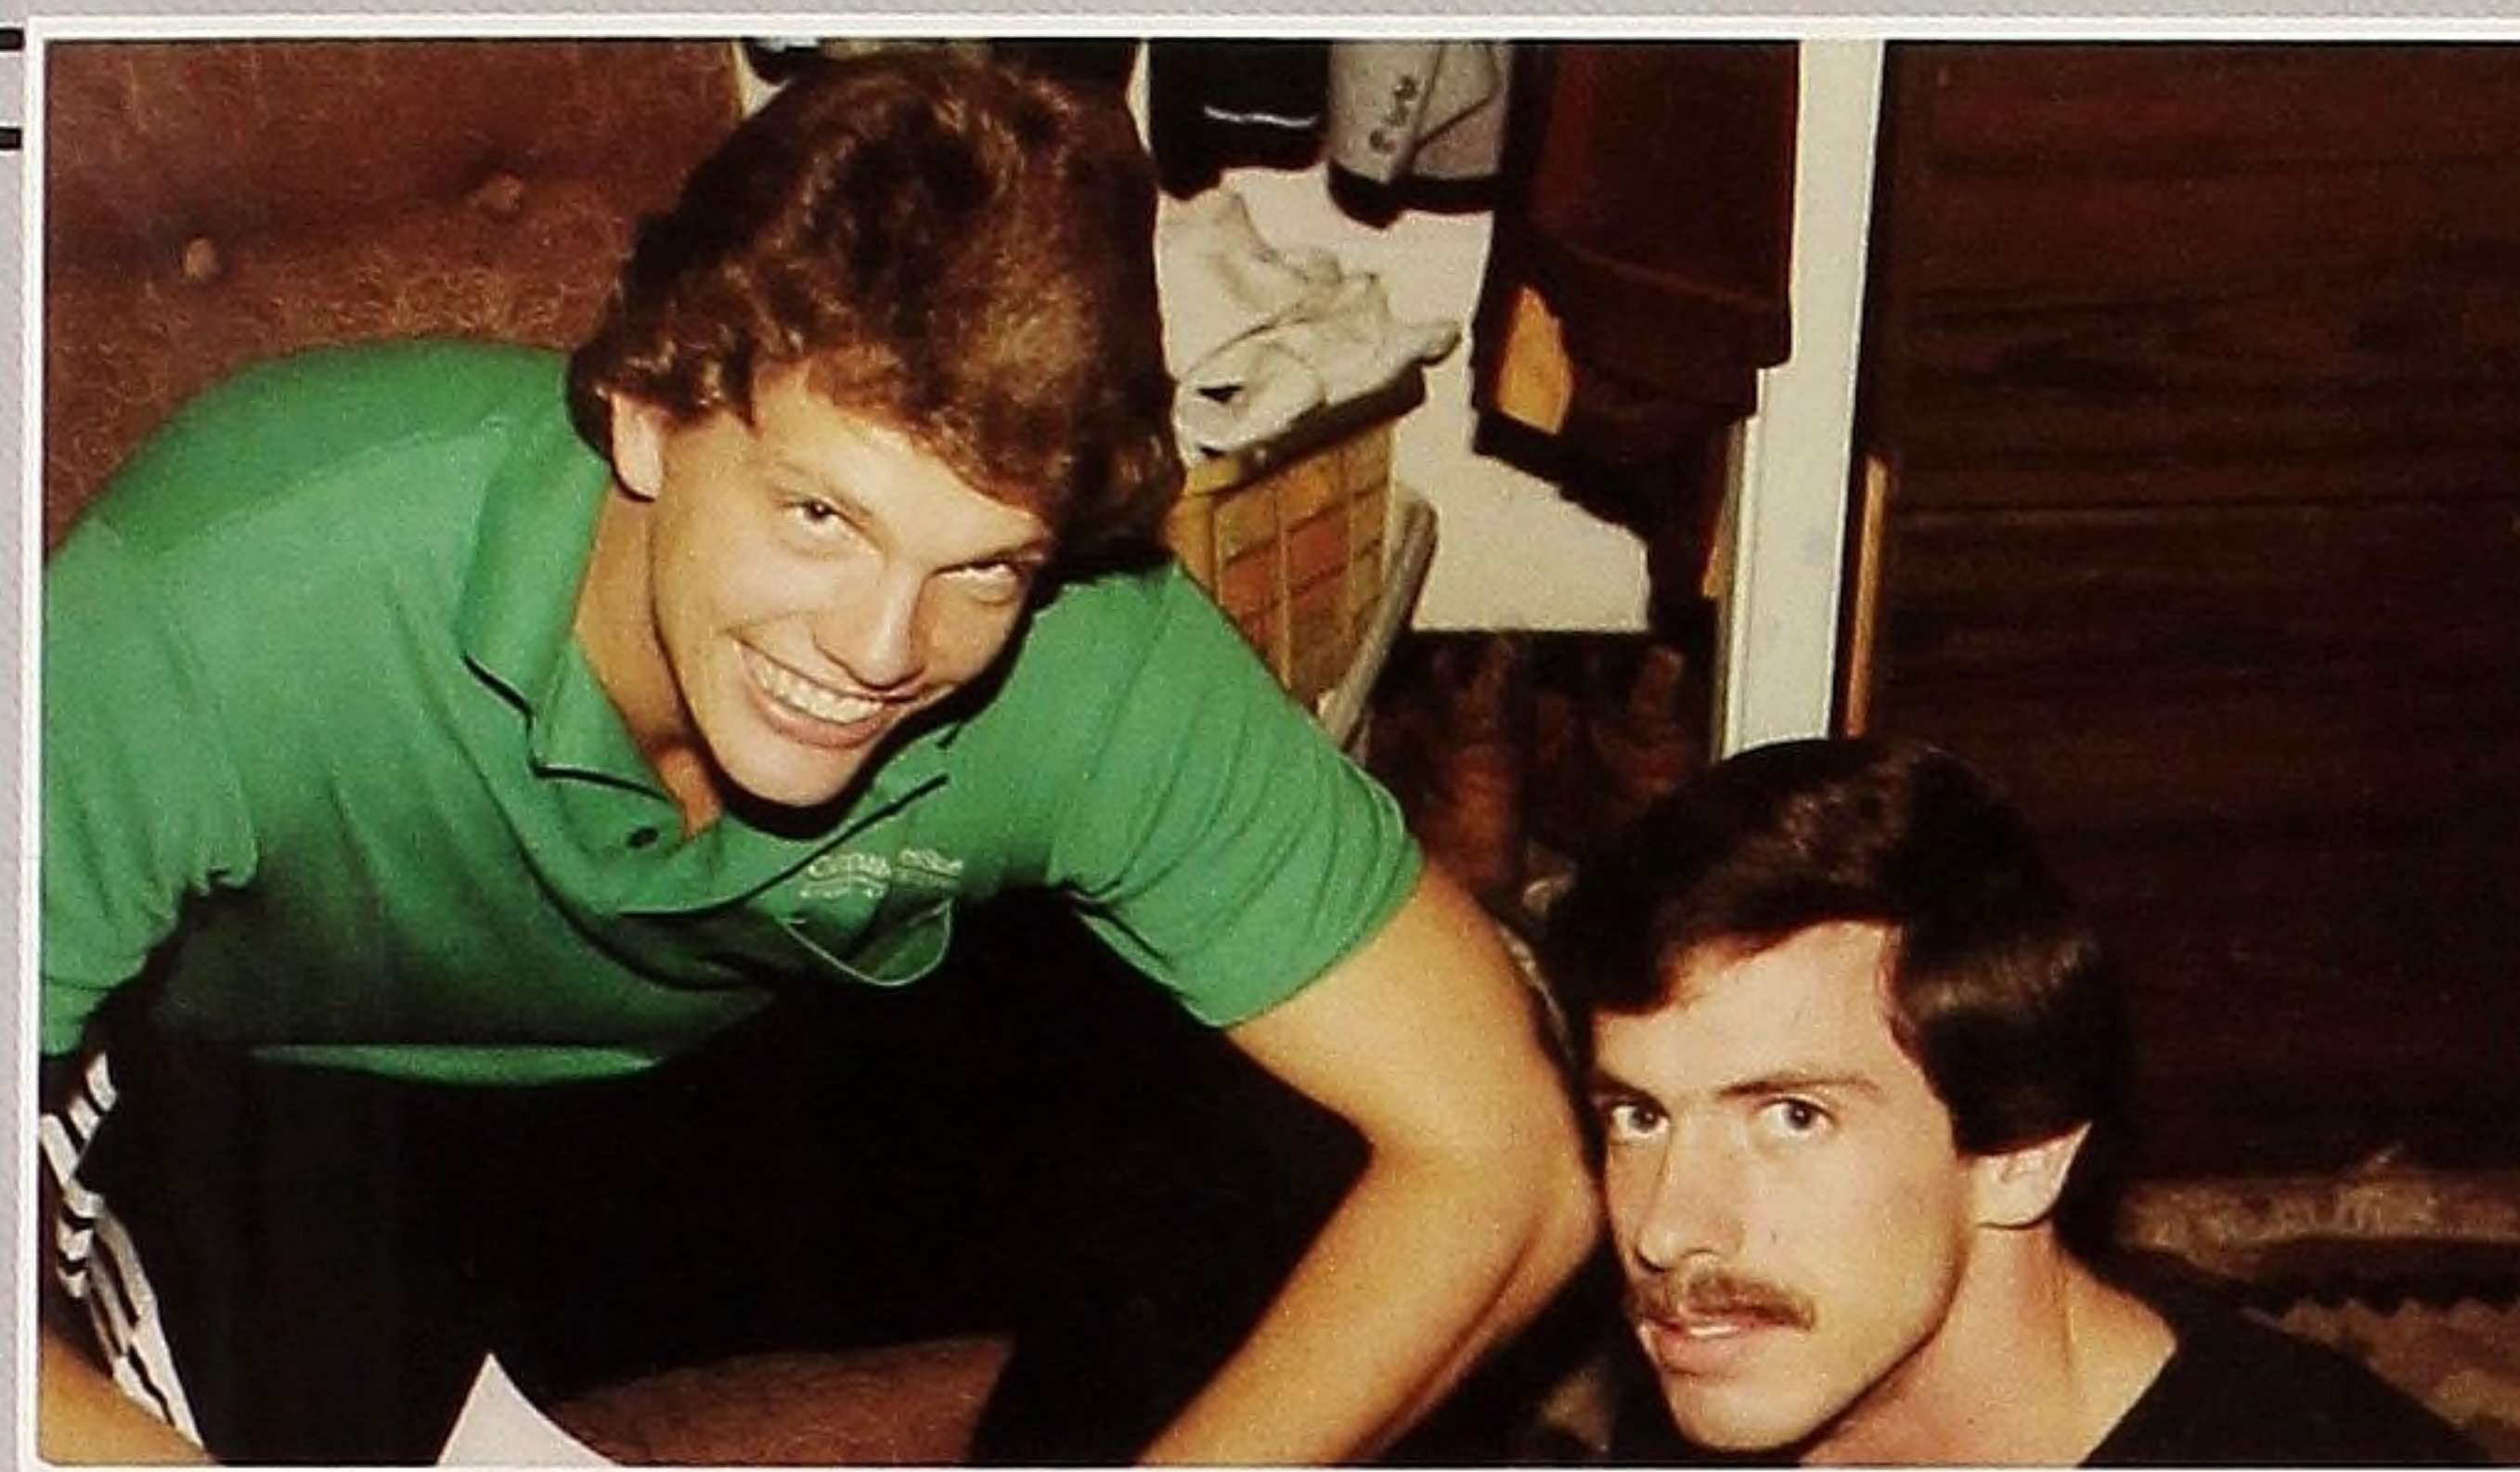

"It's great to be great, but it's greater to be human."

Will Rogers

Intramurals

Intramurals typifies the thrill of agony — as illustrated by the Towns' brothers (lower right corner) — and the victory of defeat ... because everyone had a good time anyway. Guy's and girl's football, soccer and a guy's softball tournament won by Beta One highlighted autumn intramurals.

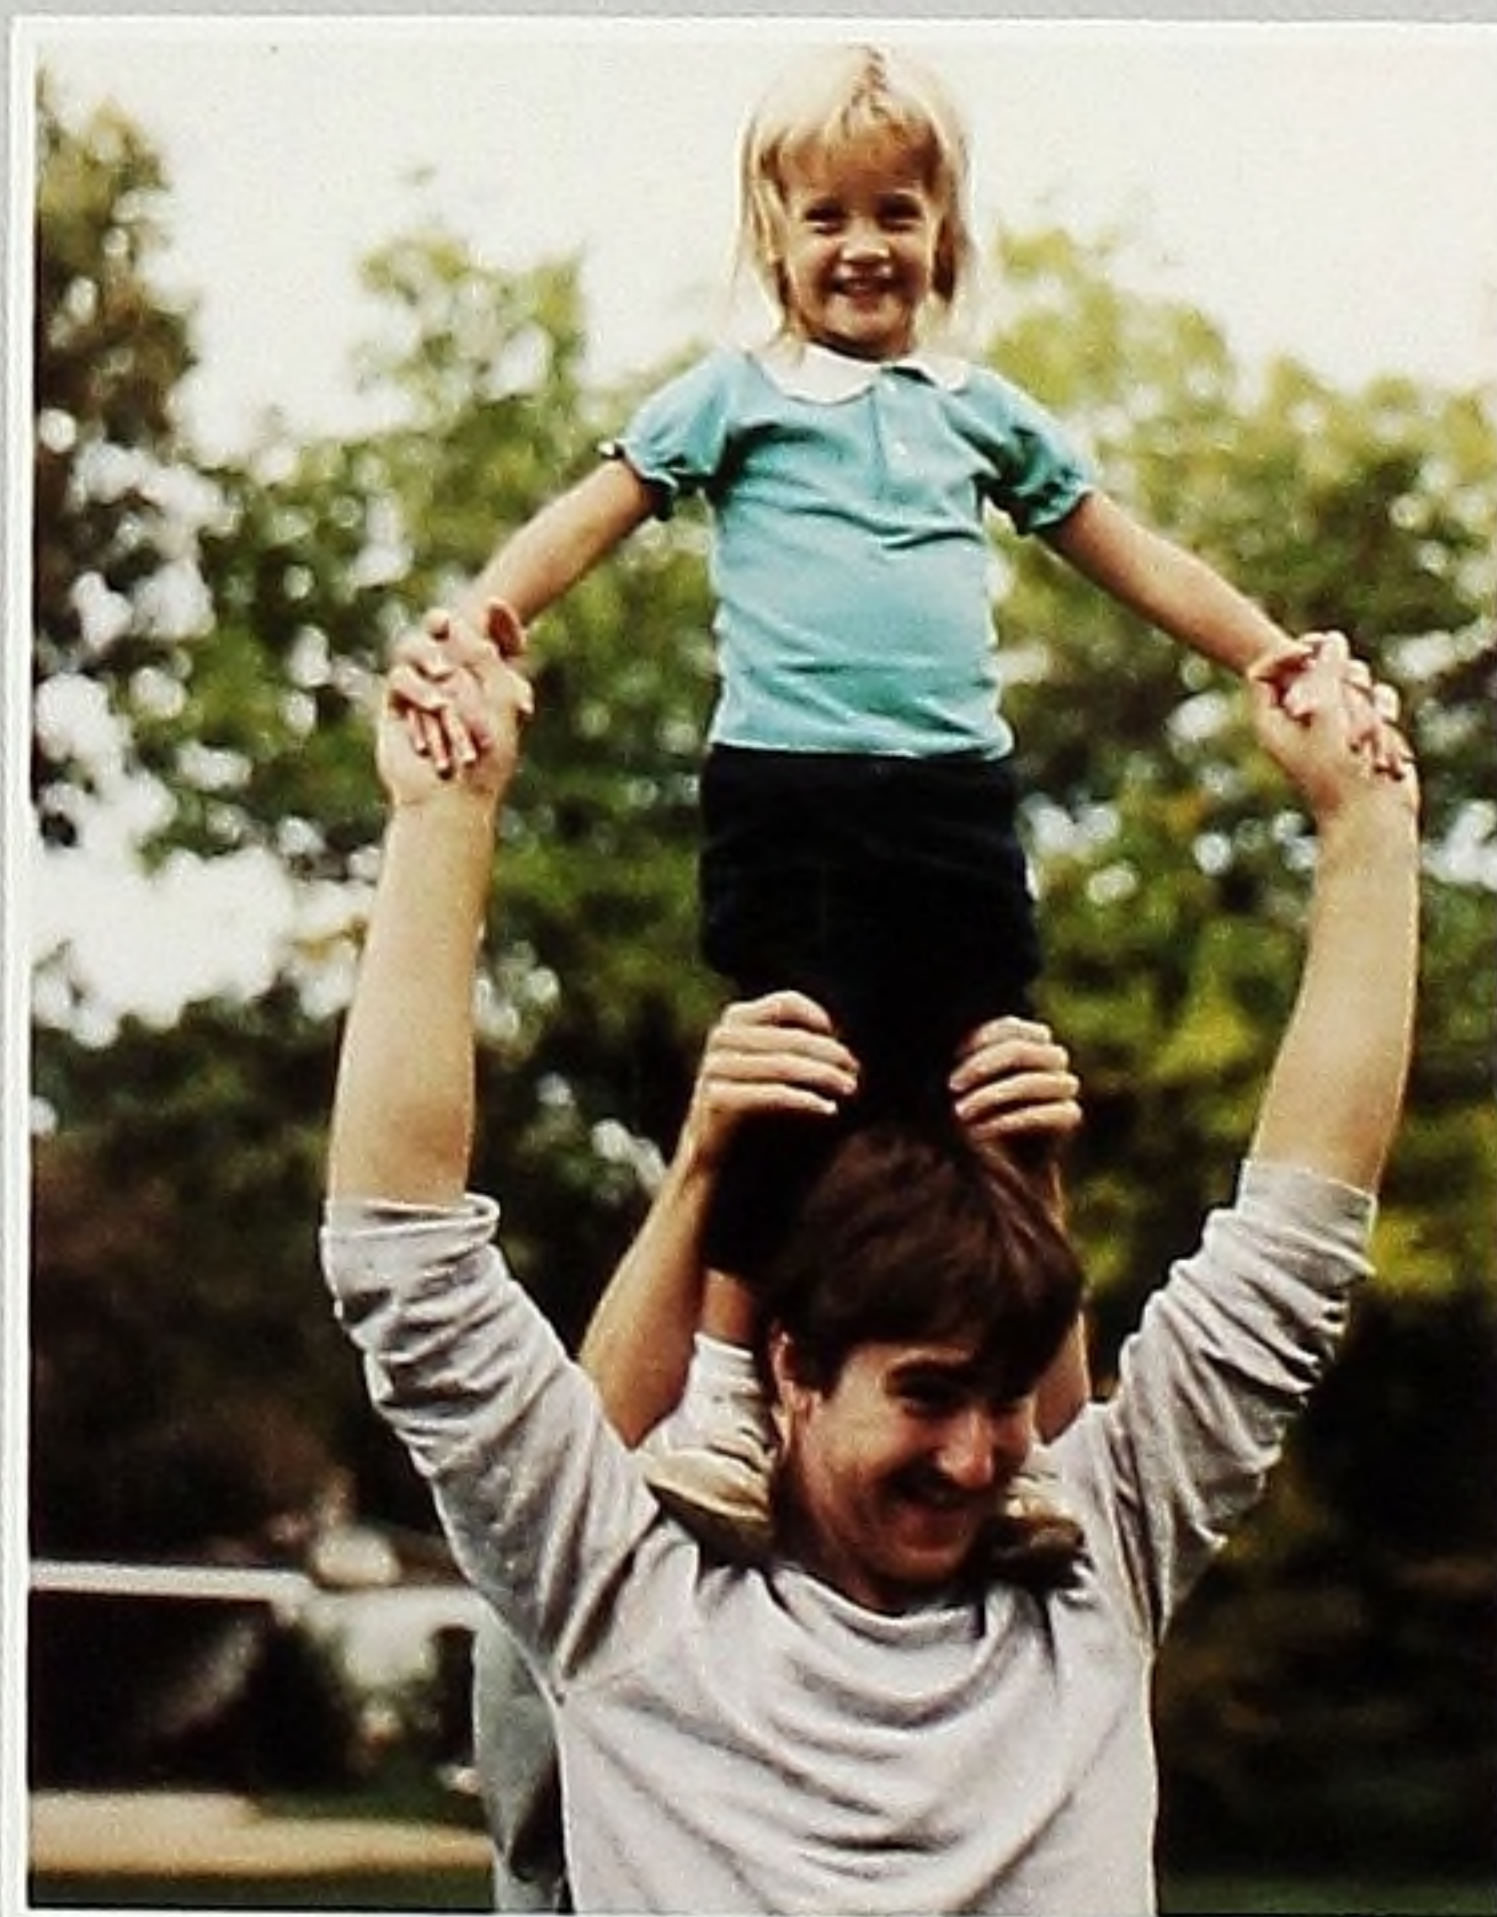

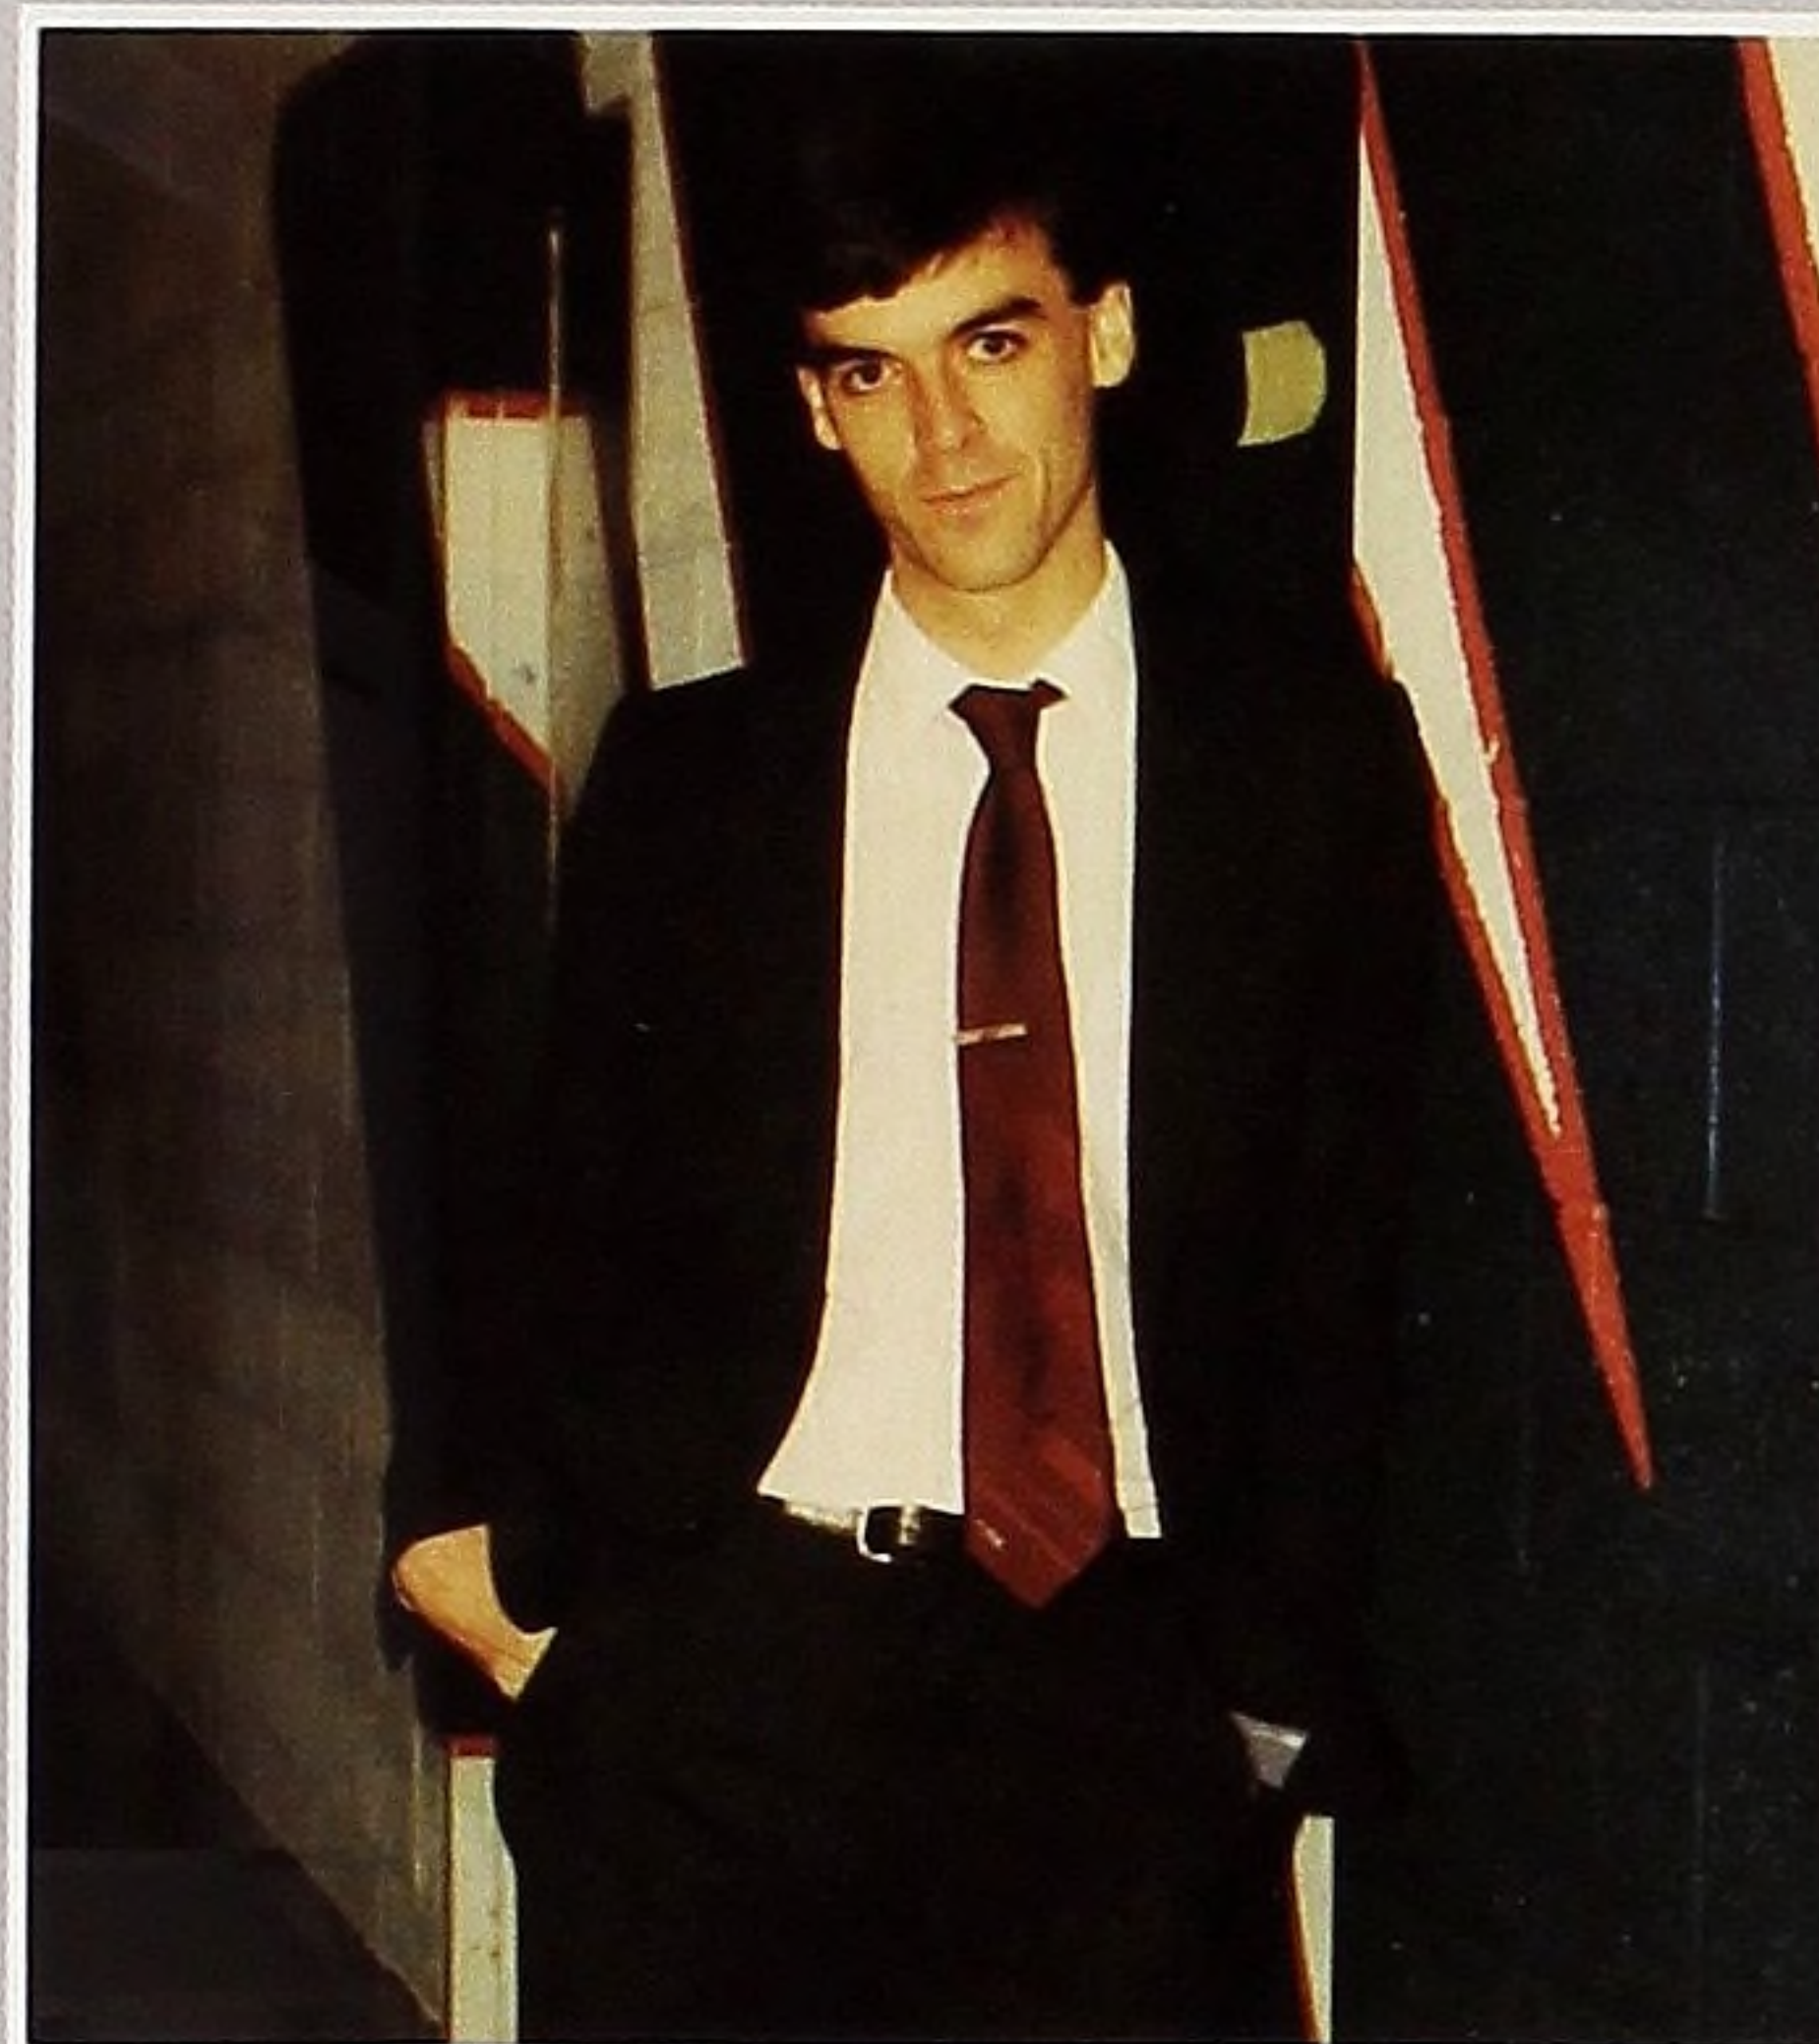

Friendship defies age and ignores distance.
It weathers the hard times and shares the good.
Together we have found this.
Our friendship provides acceptance and understanding in a world that pushes people apart.
But I will always remain with the memories of the times we have shared knowing how fortunate I am to be able to call you my friend.

— Cindy Yrun

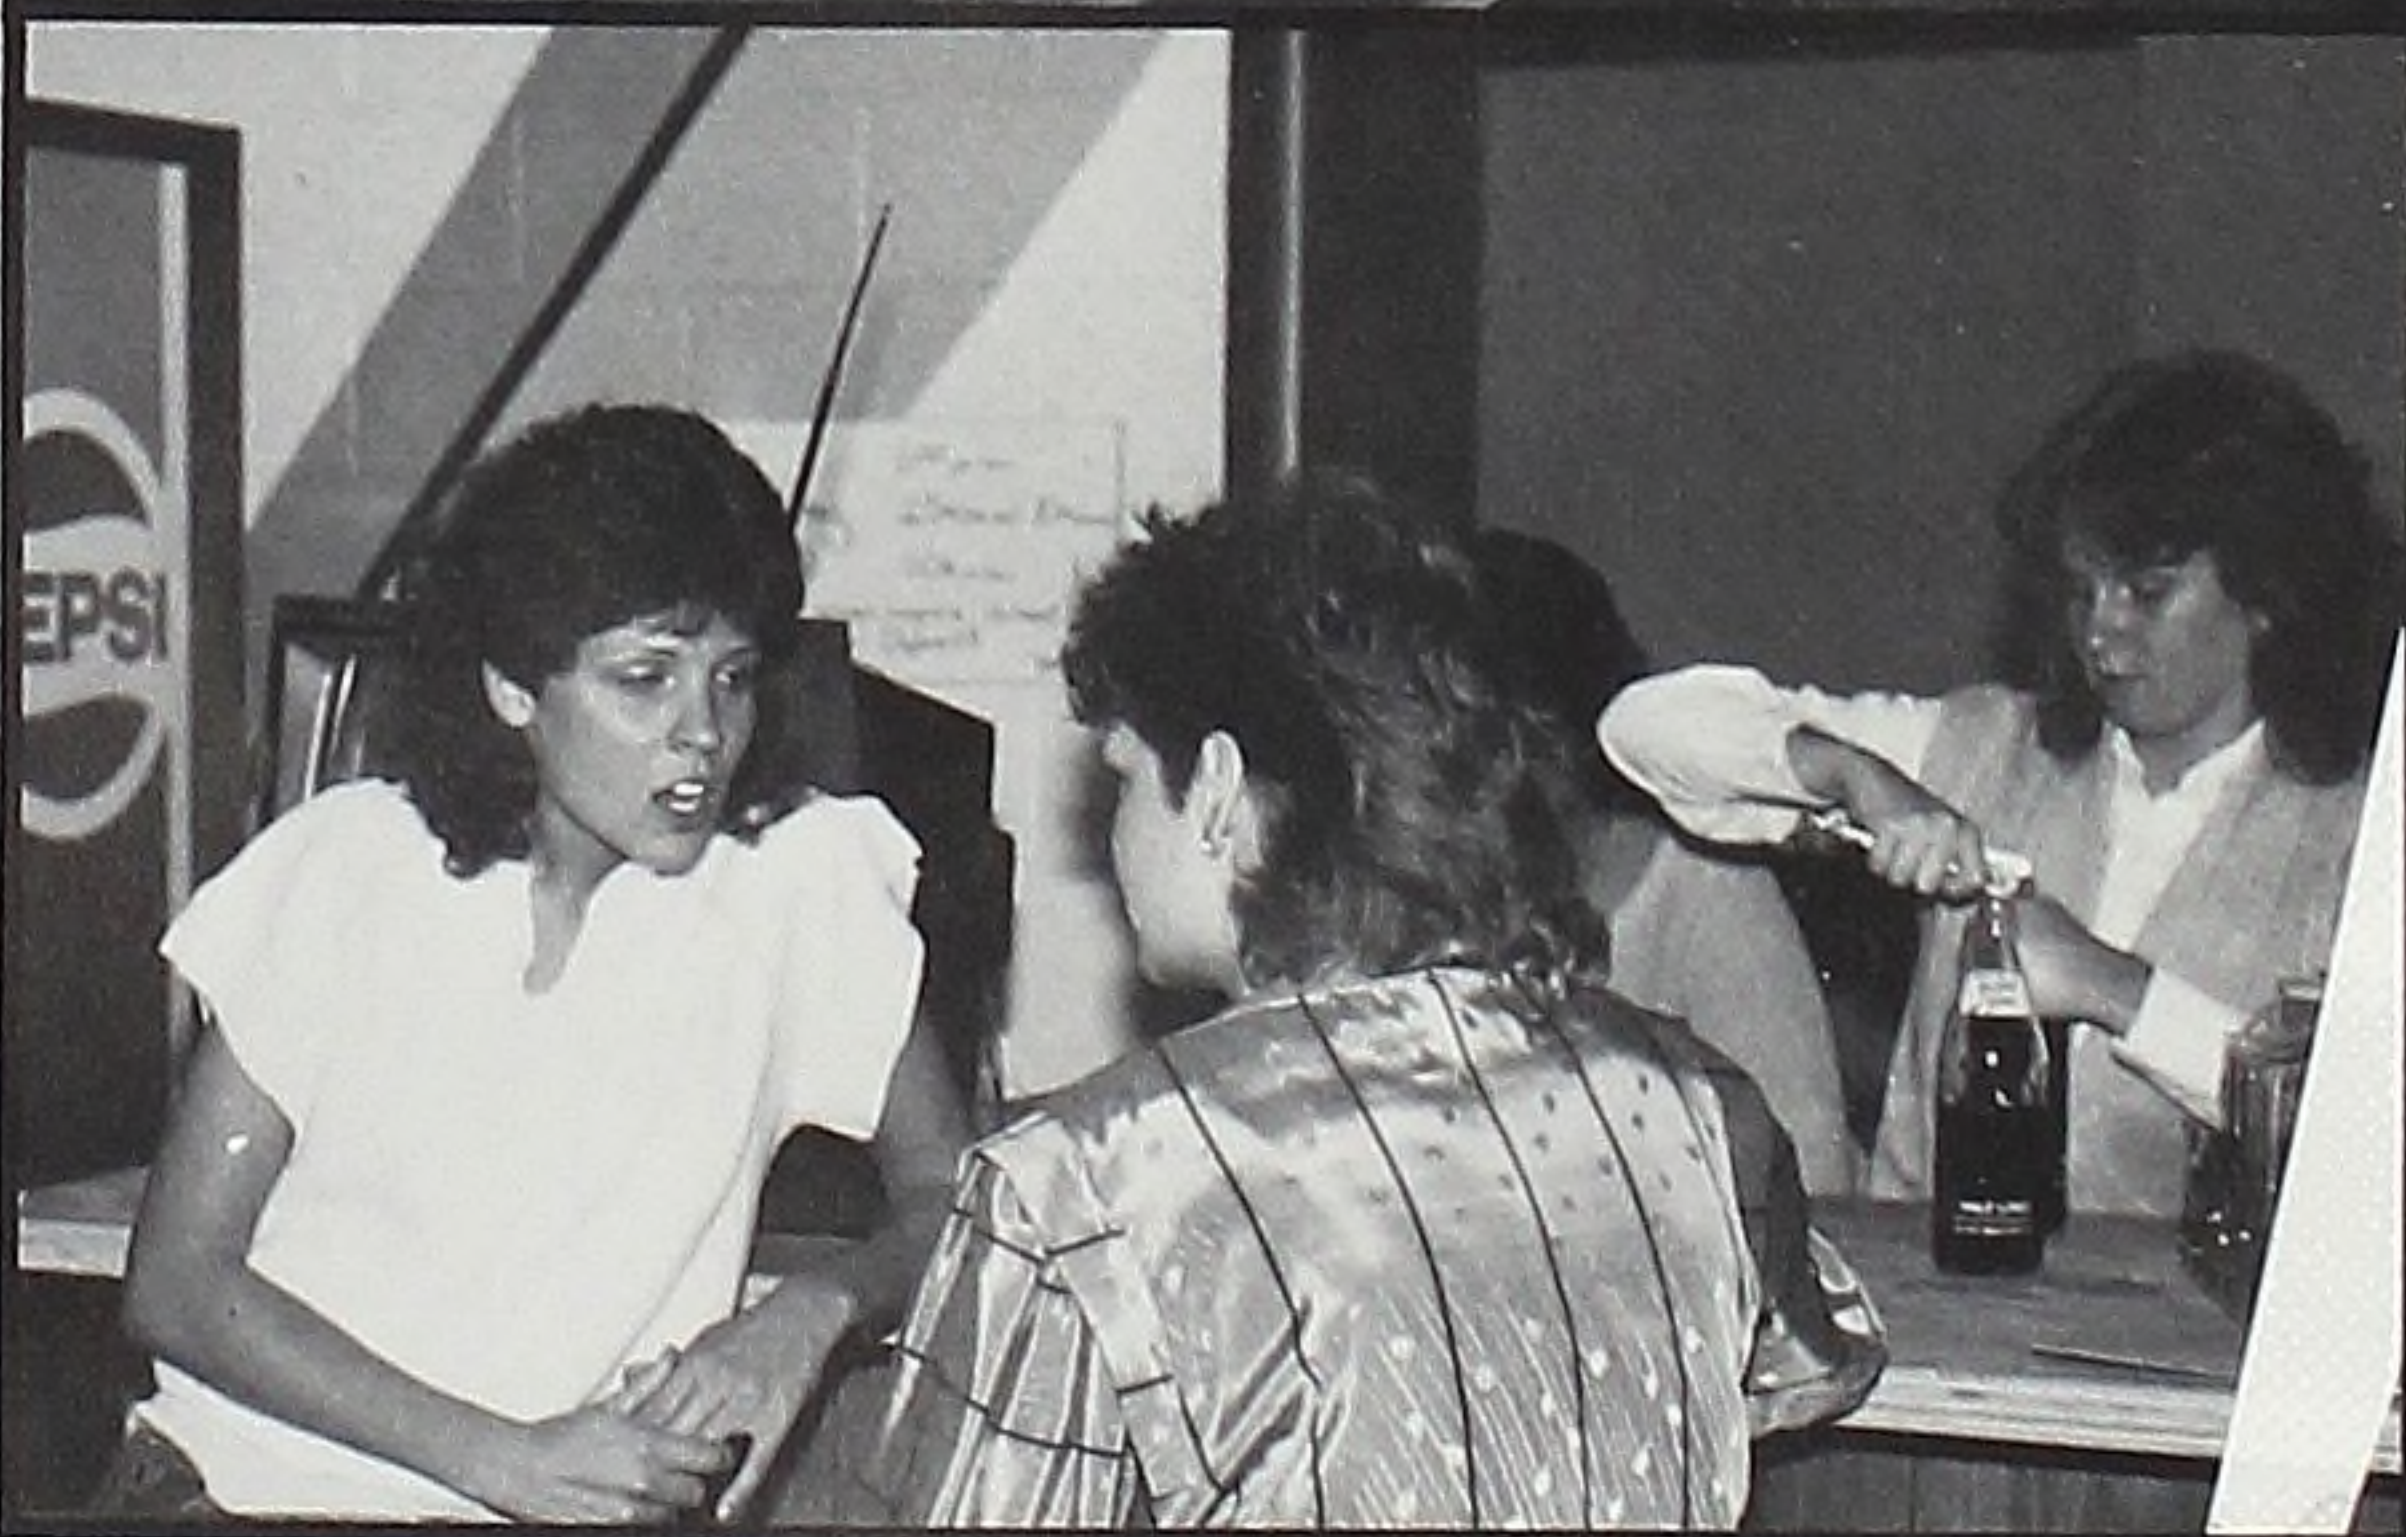

We Are One

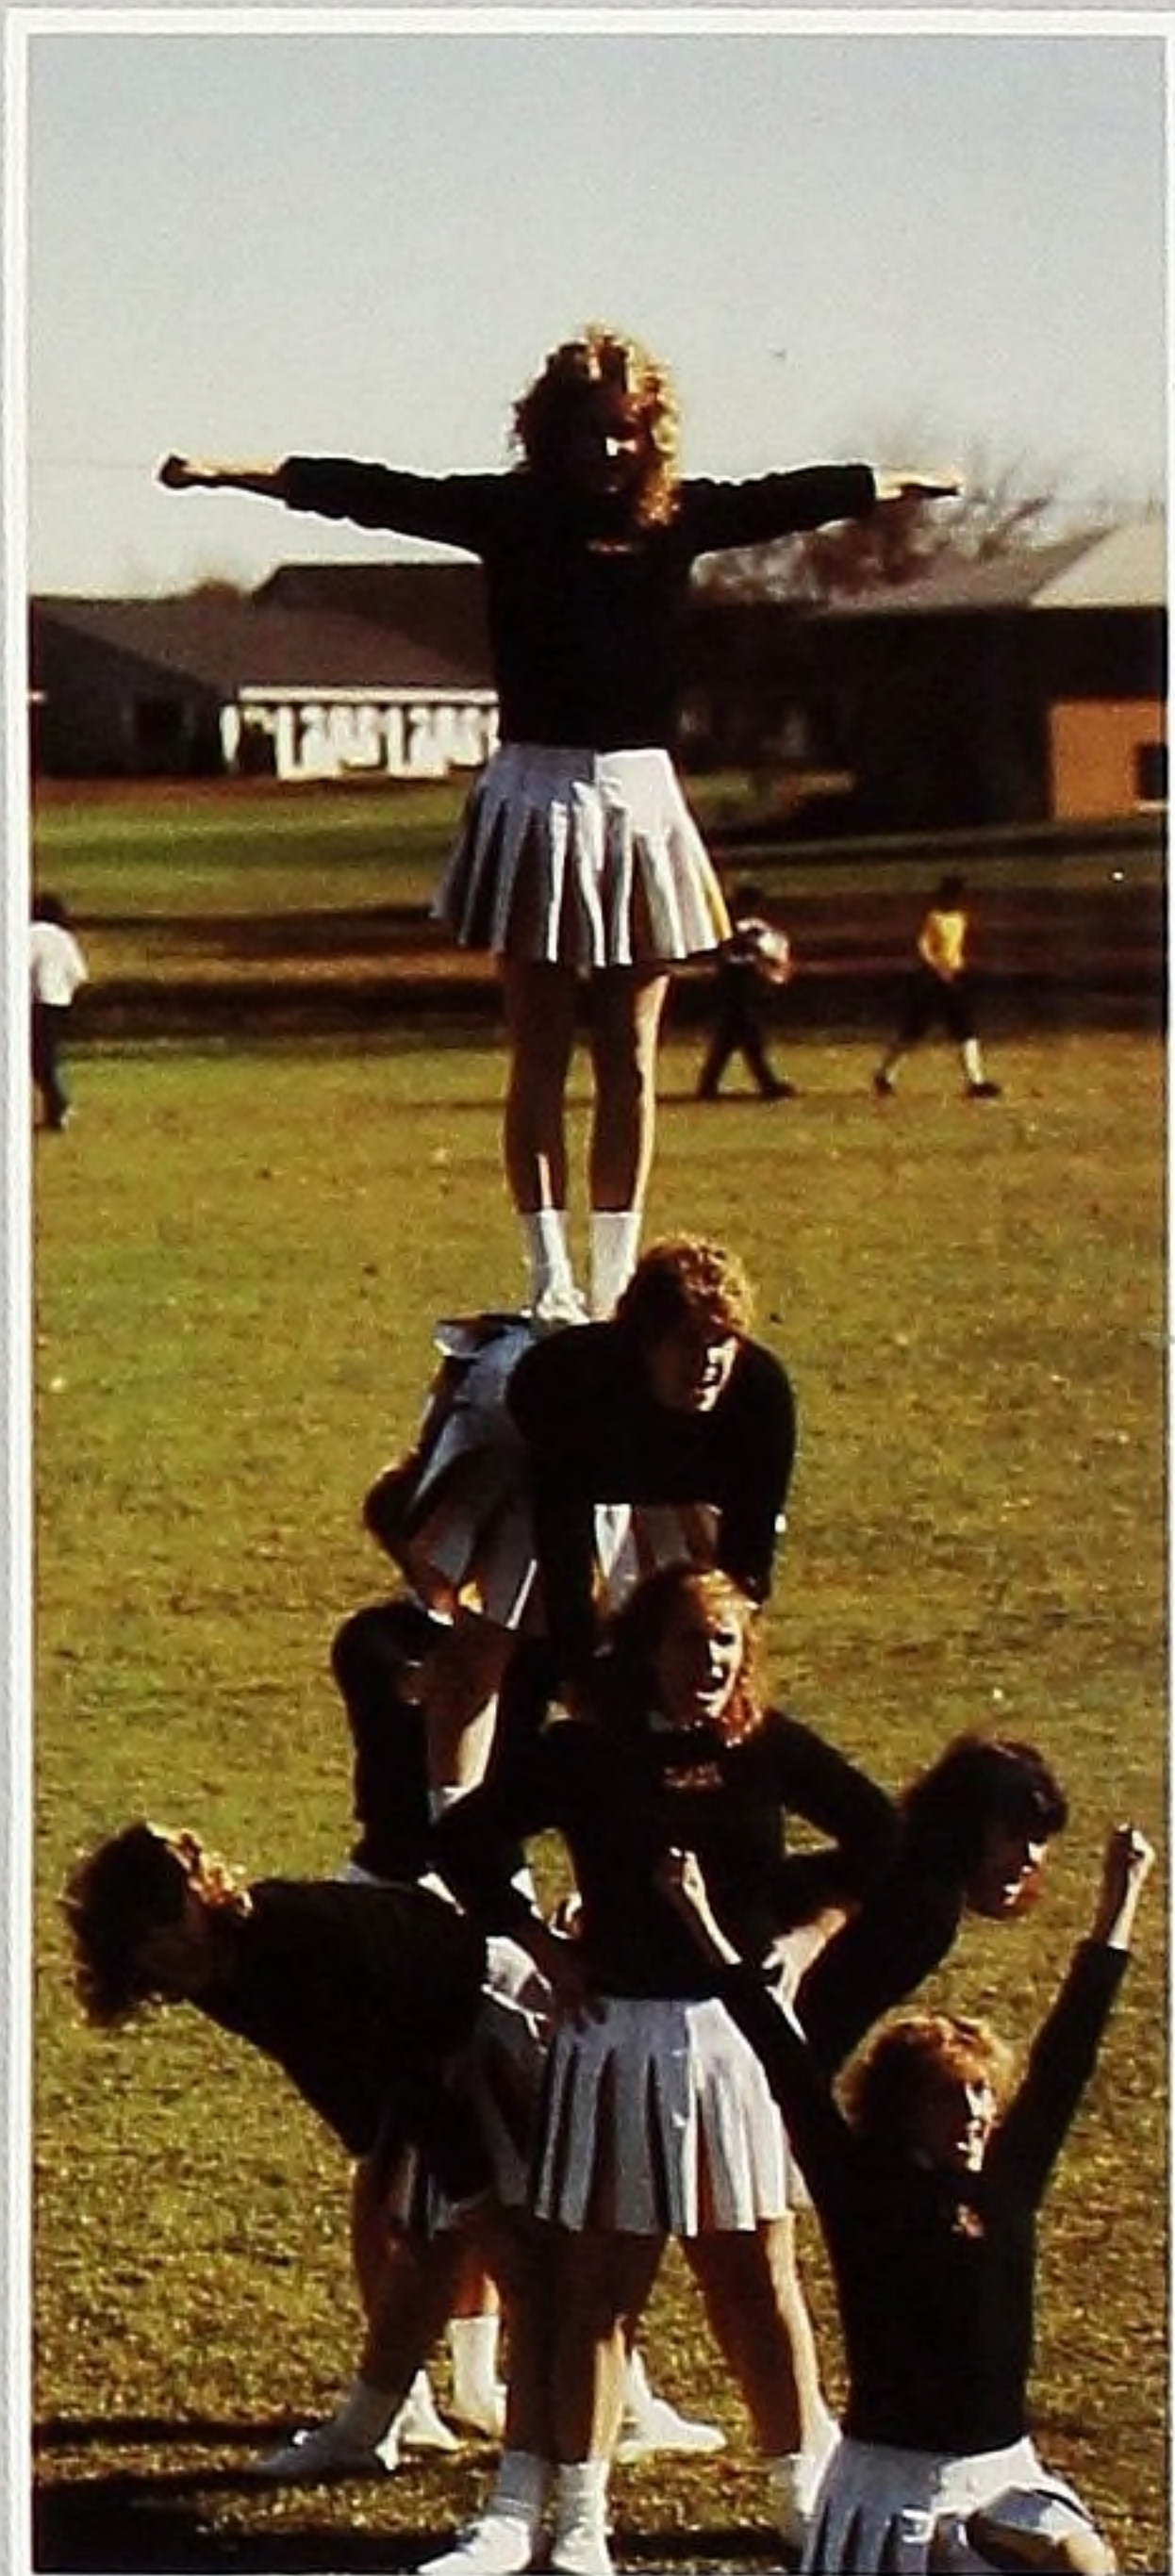

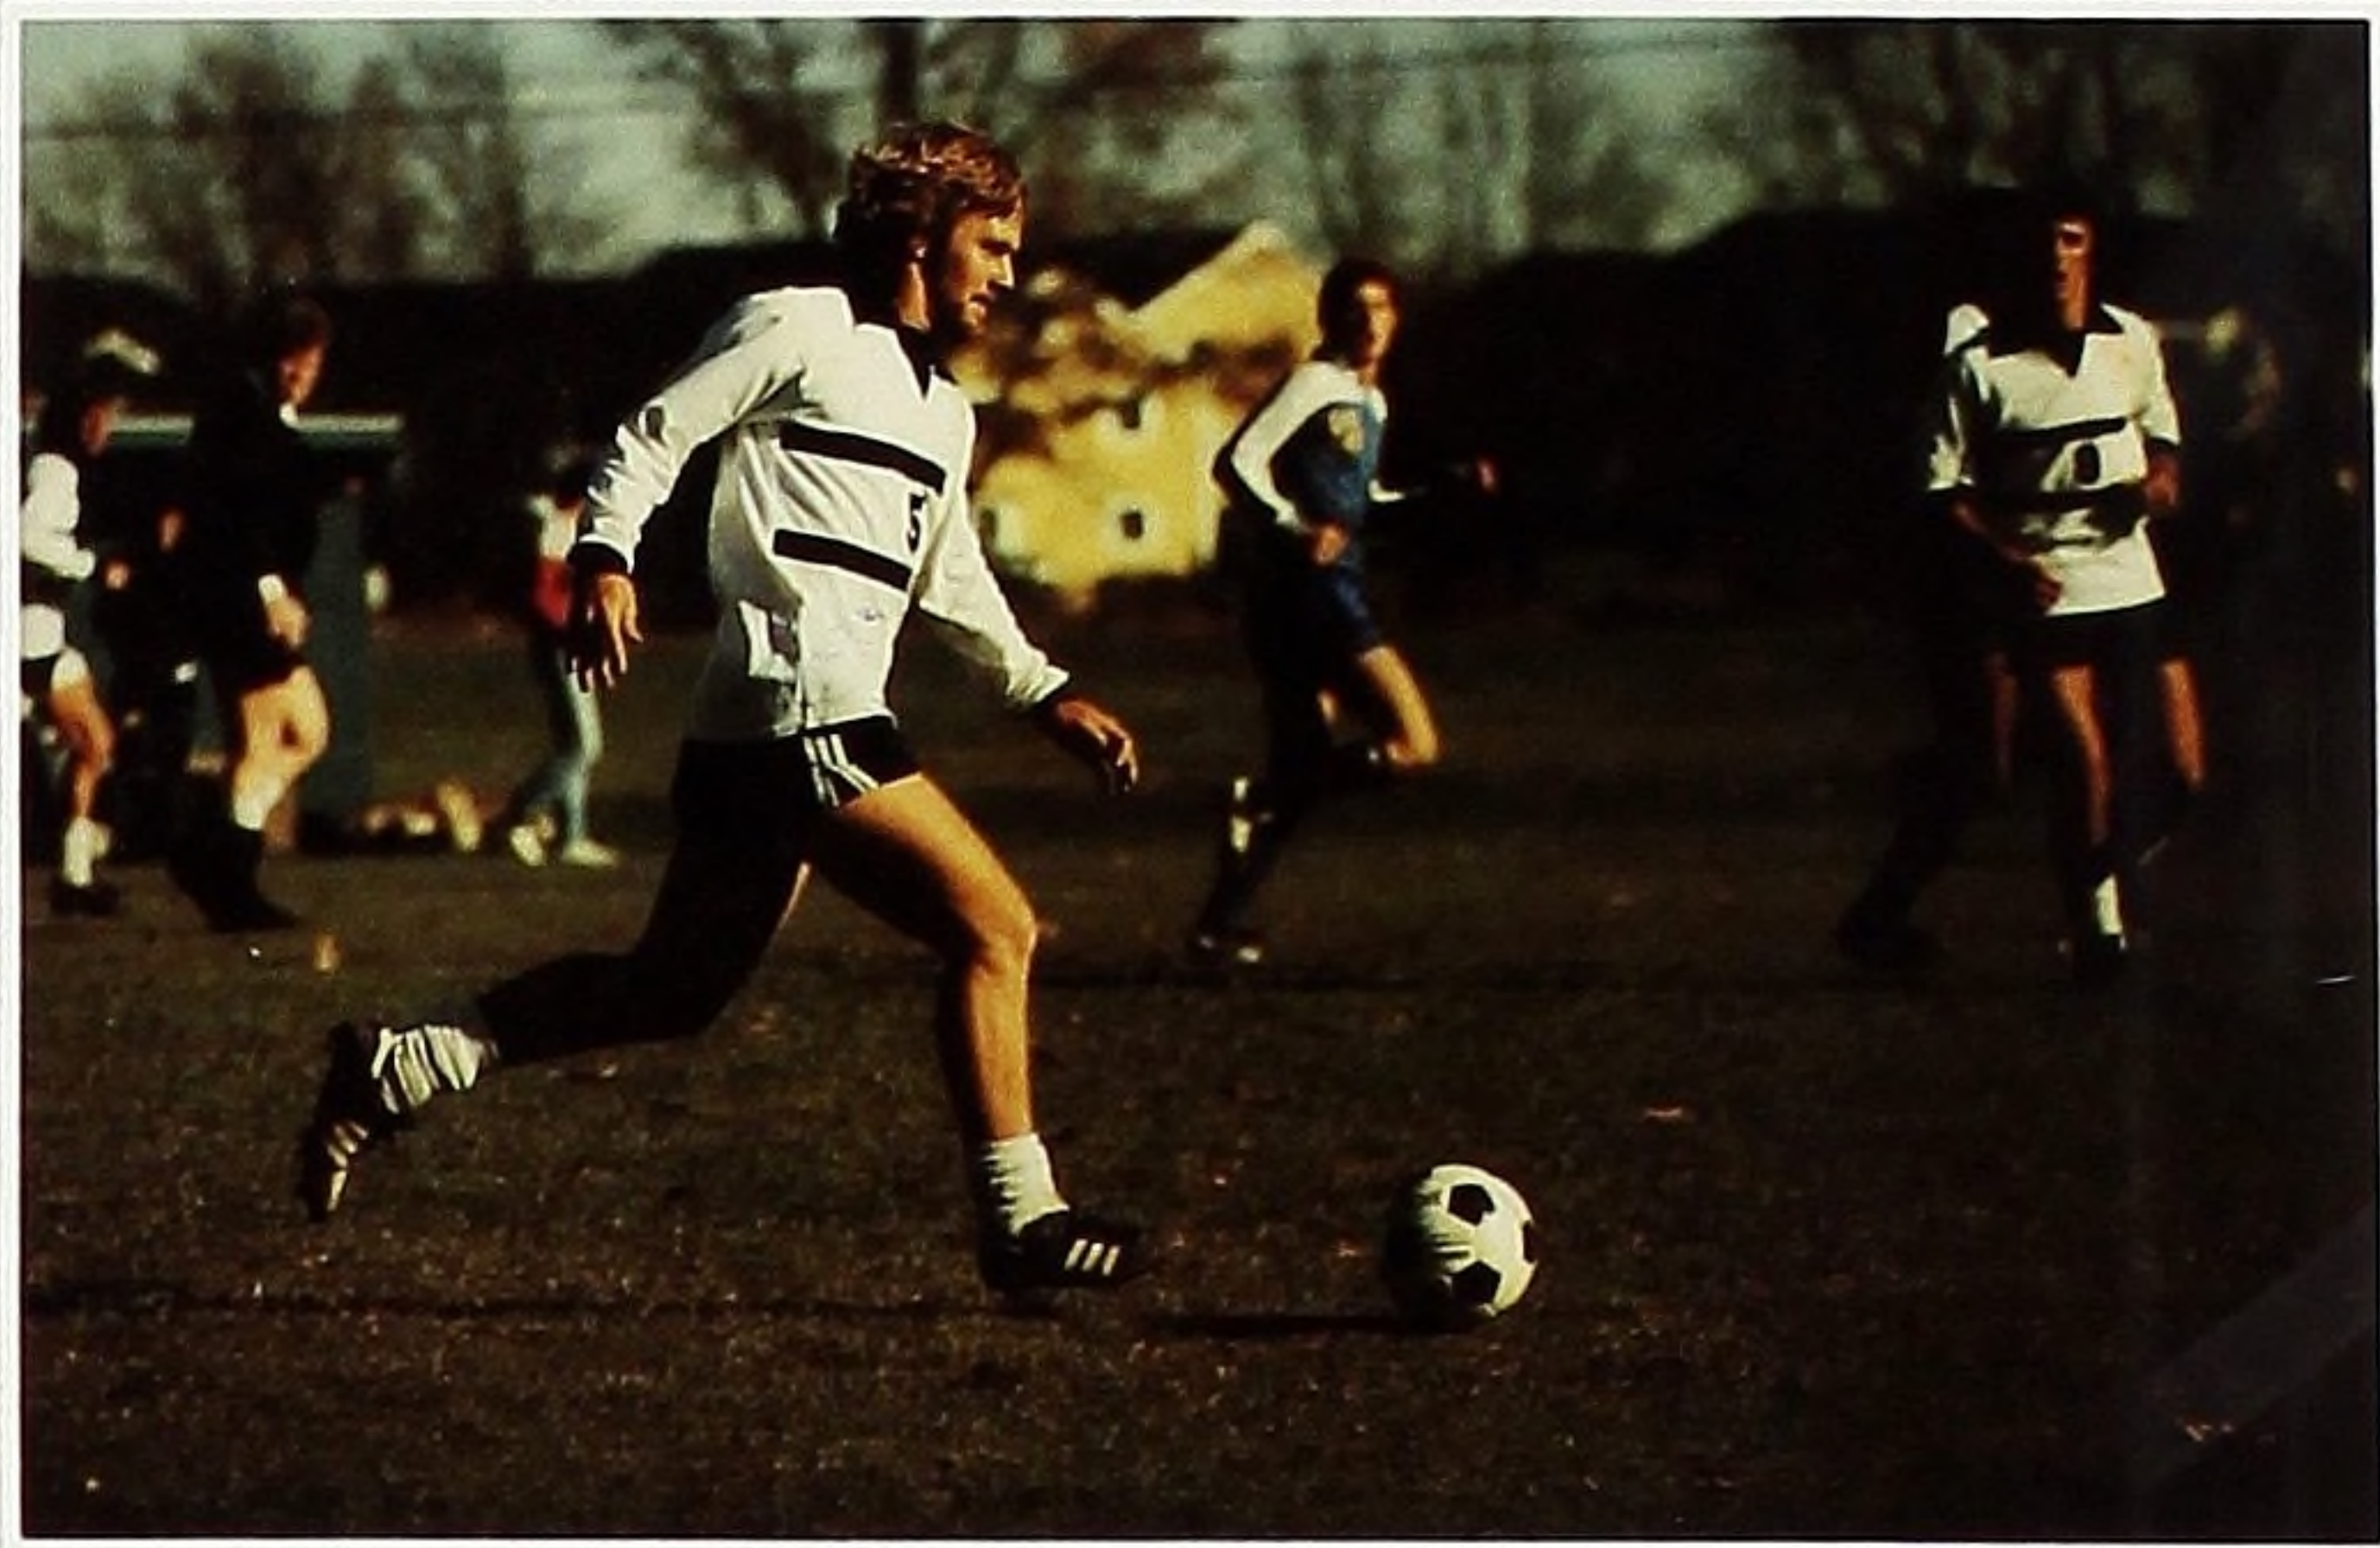

We are part of the body joined in love.
Complete in the Spirit of His Son.
We're free to live and breathe as one,
To share this new life we've begun.
We are one.

ACTIVITIES

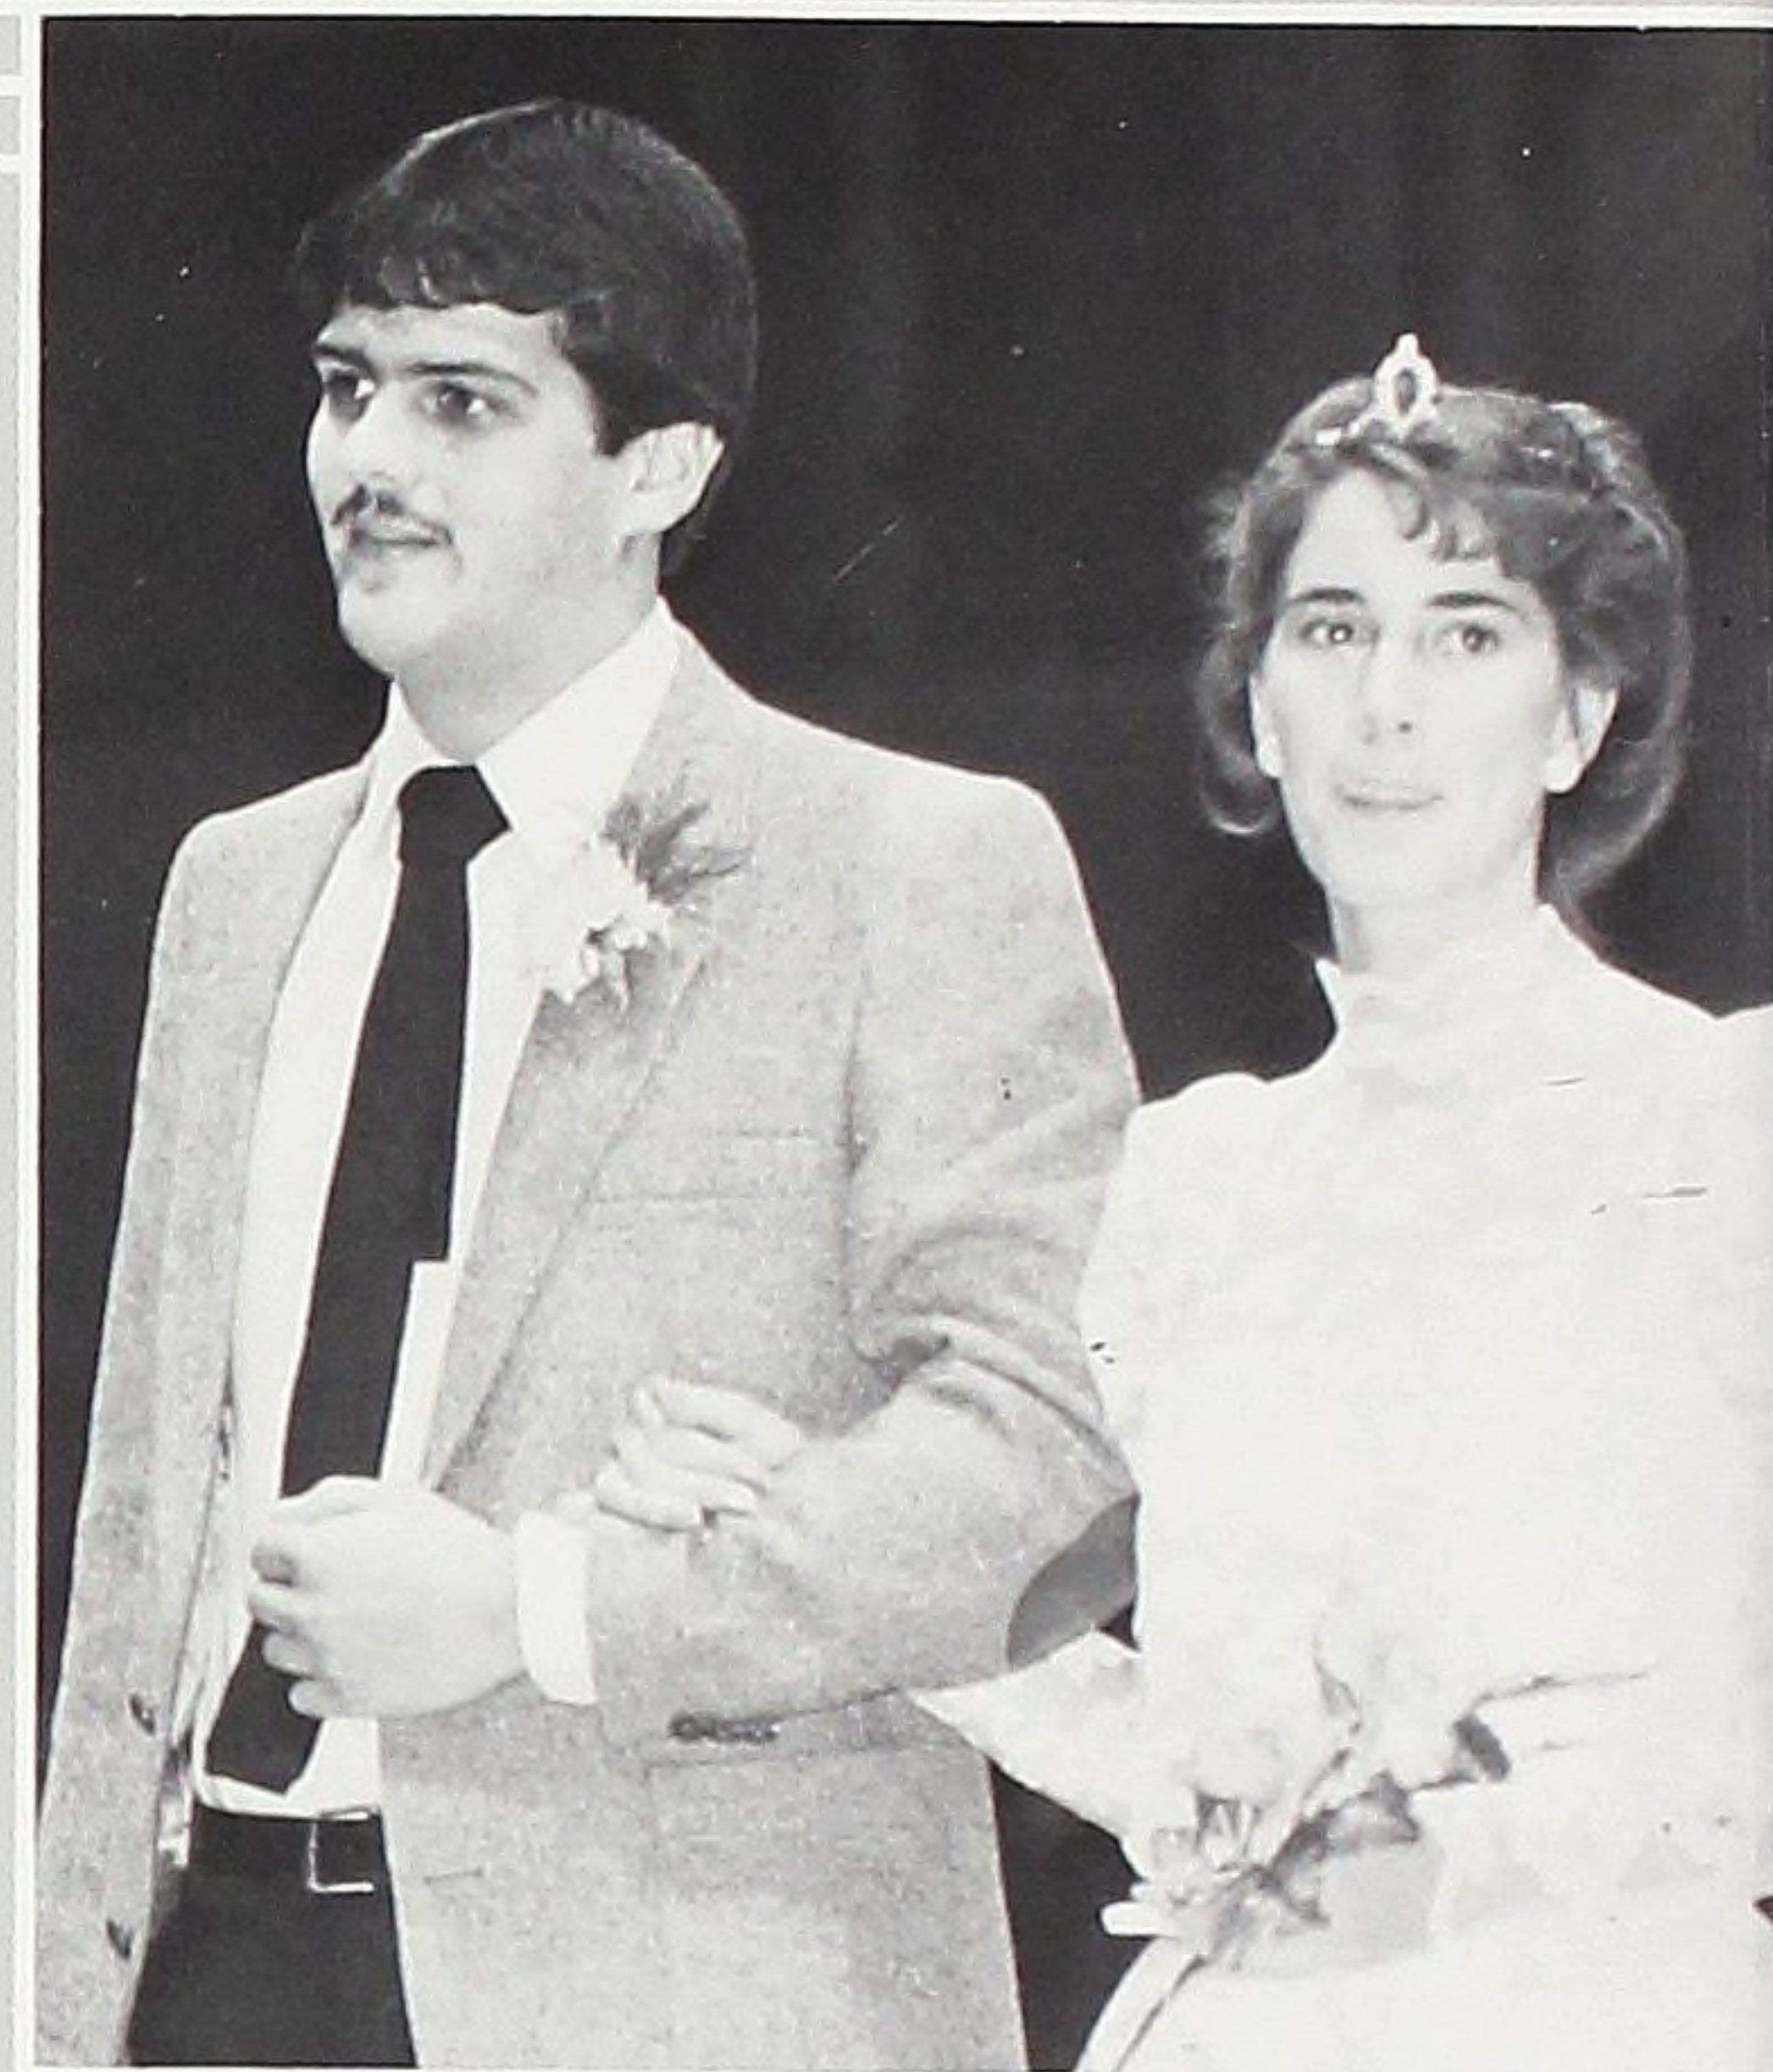

Homecoming

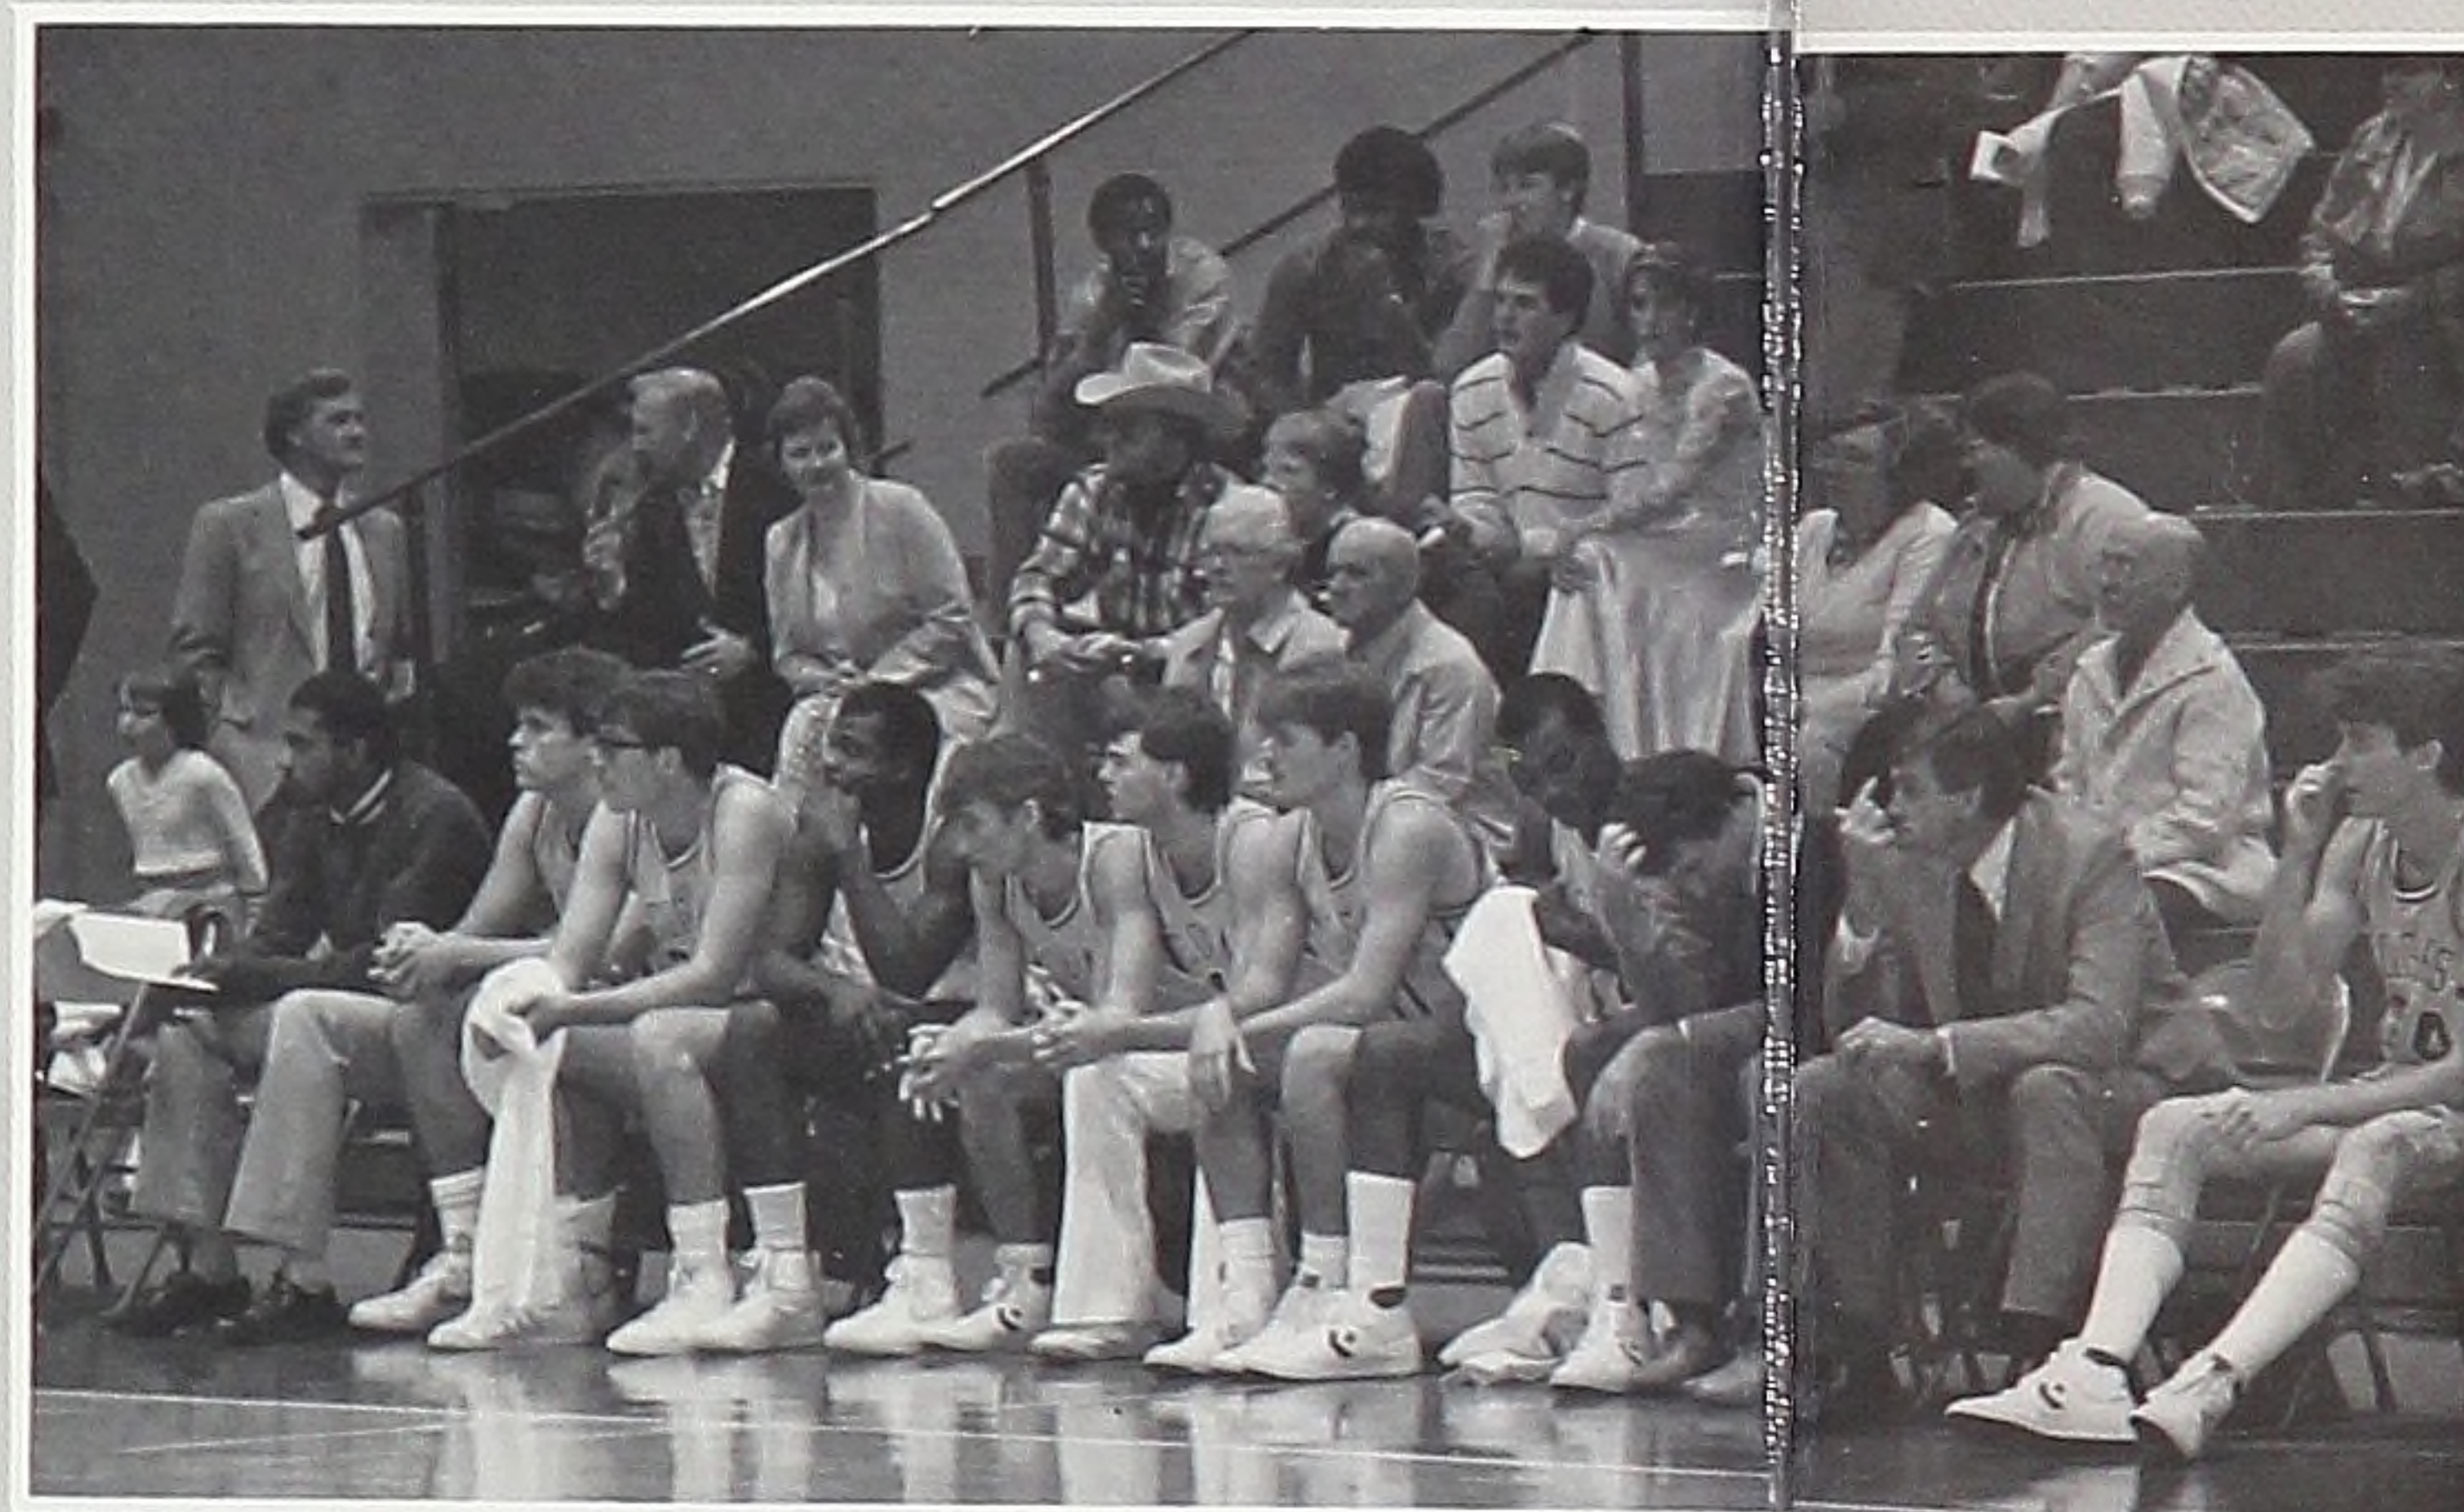

This year's Homecoming was truly "Just An Old Fashioned Dream." Friday night there was the annual banquet followed by the sweet sounds of the "Preservation Hall Jazz Band." The King, Queen and all of their court were present and dressed to perfection.

Saturday afternoon everyone came out to cheer on the Cougar Soccer team and in the evening to cheer on the Cougar Basketball team. The Cougarettas performed a routine during half time and the Cheerleaders were on hand to get the crowd rooting our teams on to victory!

This years Court included SR: Cheri Morton as Queen, Steve Flint as King, Karen Chandler, Jeff Bloodworth, Sharon Reeverts, Steve Ostrander JR: Kari Morton, John Bates, Linda Armentrout, Greg Carmer, SO: Cindy Santiago, Joe Paese, Michelle Rodenbeck, Dave Getsinger, FR: Ramona Gore, Paul Williams, Karen Burrows and Jeff Bauman.

Arbor Games

The first "Arbor Games" were held at Spring Arbor College on September 19th, 1984. The bright Wednesday afternoon was filled with fun as a large number of students and faculty participated in some very unusual games. The campus was divided into eight teams headed by R.A.'s. Each team chose their own style of dress and designed a team flag. The teams could earn points for participation, flag, costumes and for winning an event.

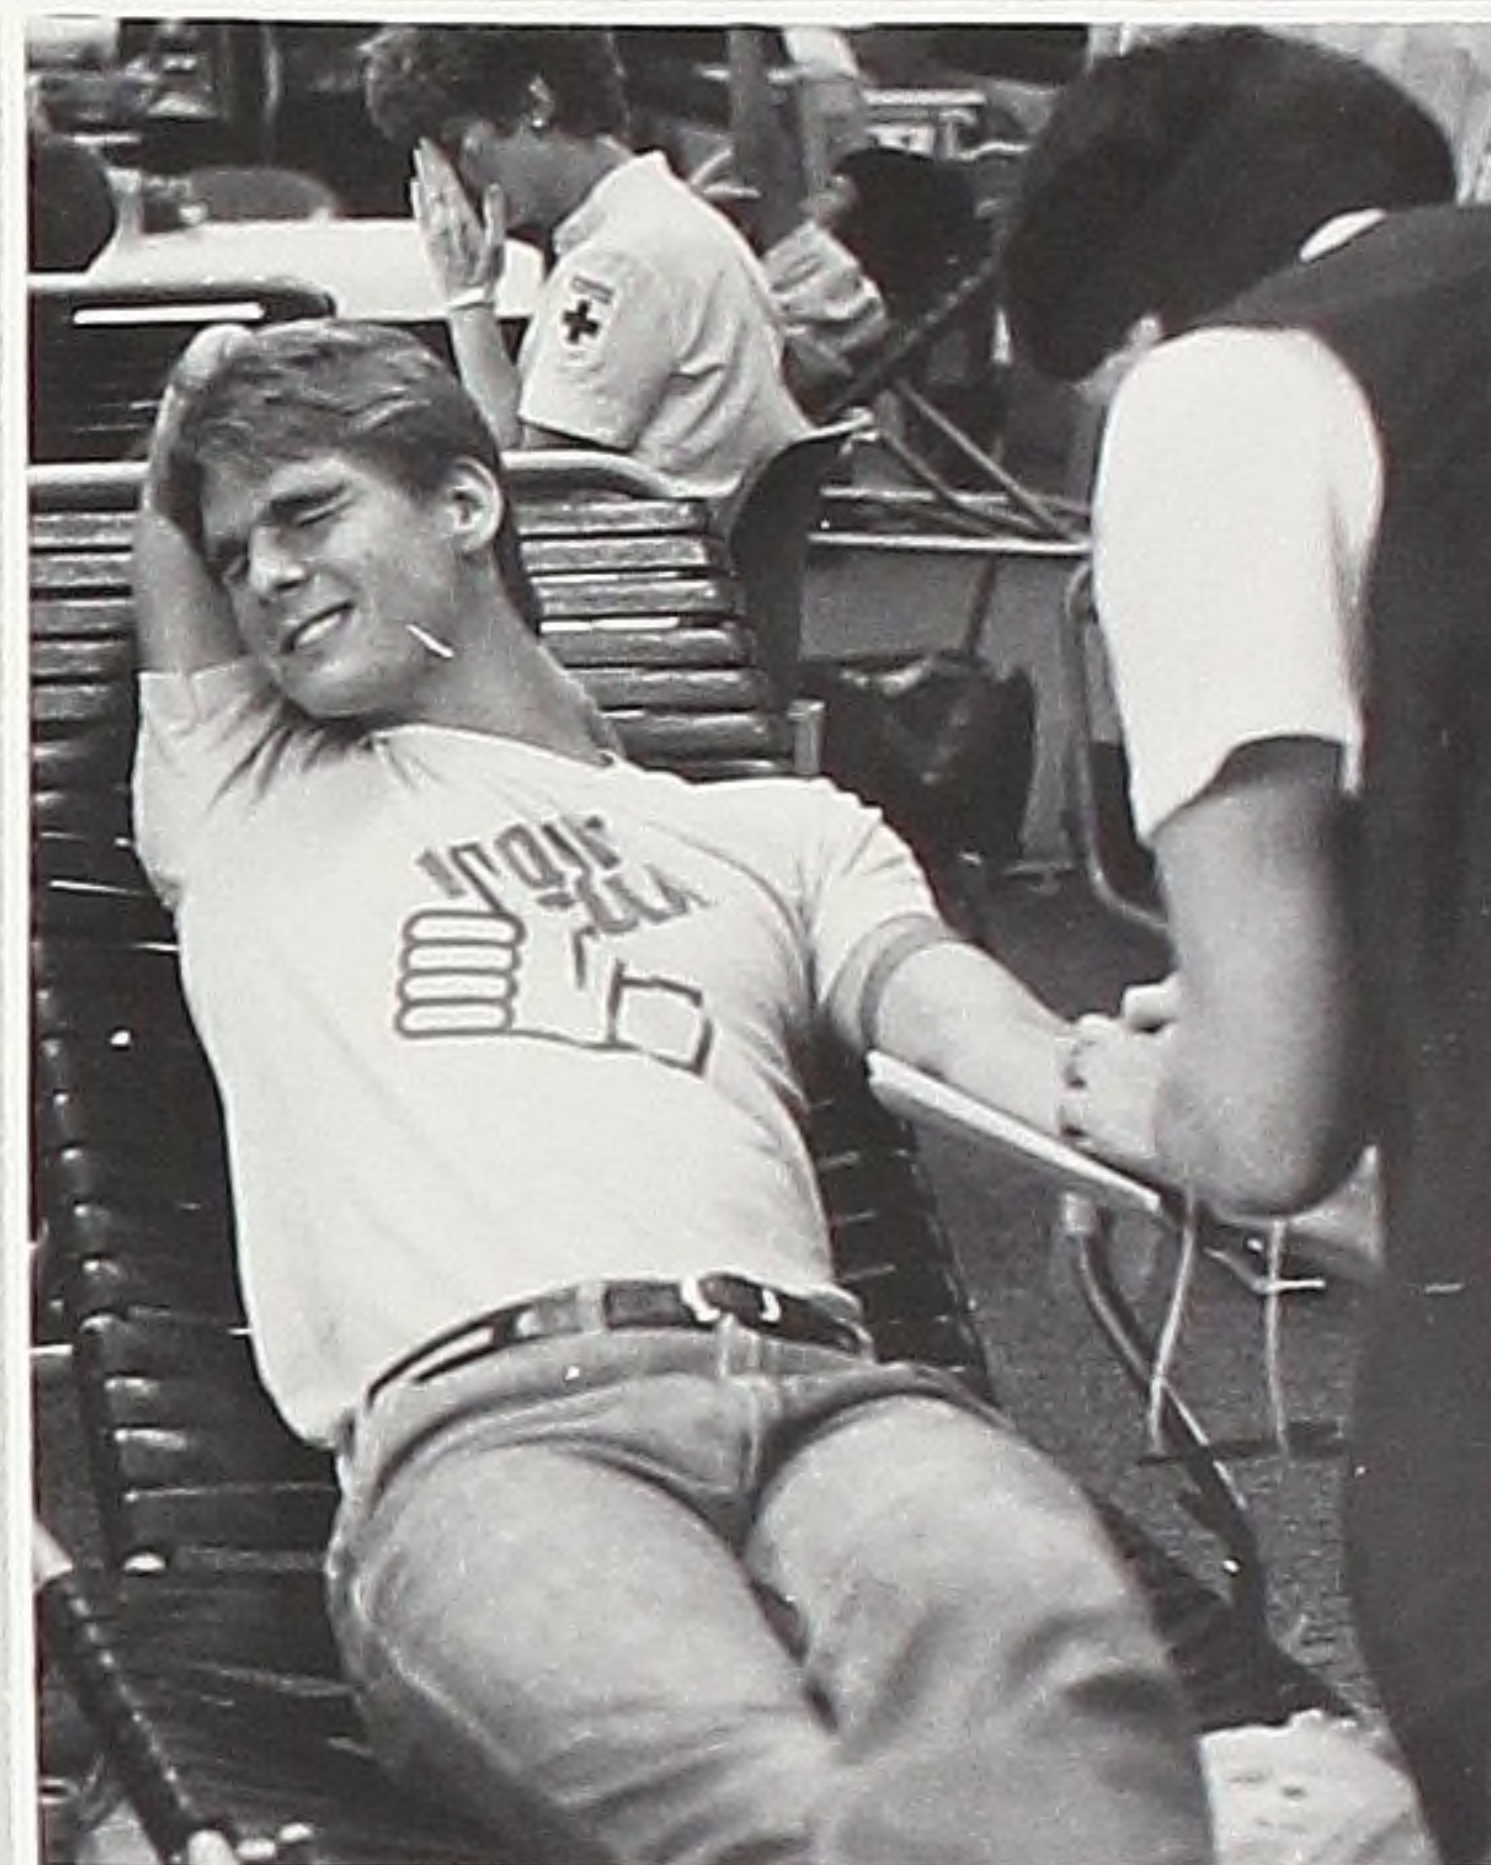

When the games ended the captains of the winning team enjoyed a balloon ride over the campus. All in all, the "Arbor Games" were a great success and plenty of fun was had by all. The games also helped to formulate a sense of community on the campus early in the year.

Blood Drive '84

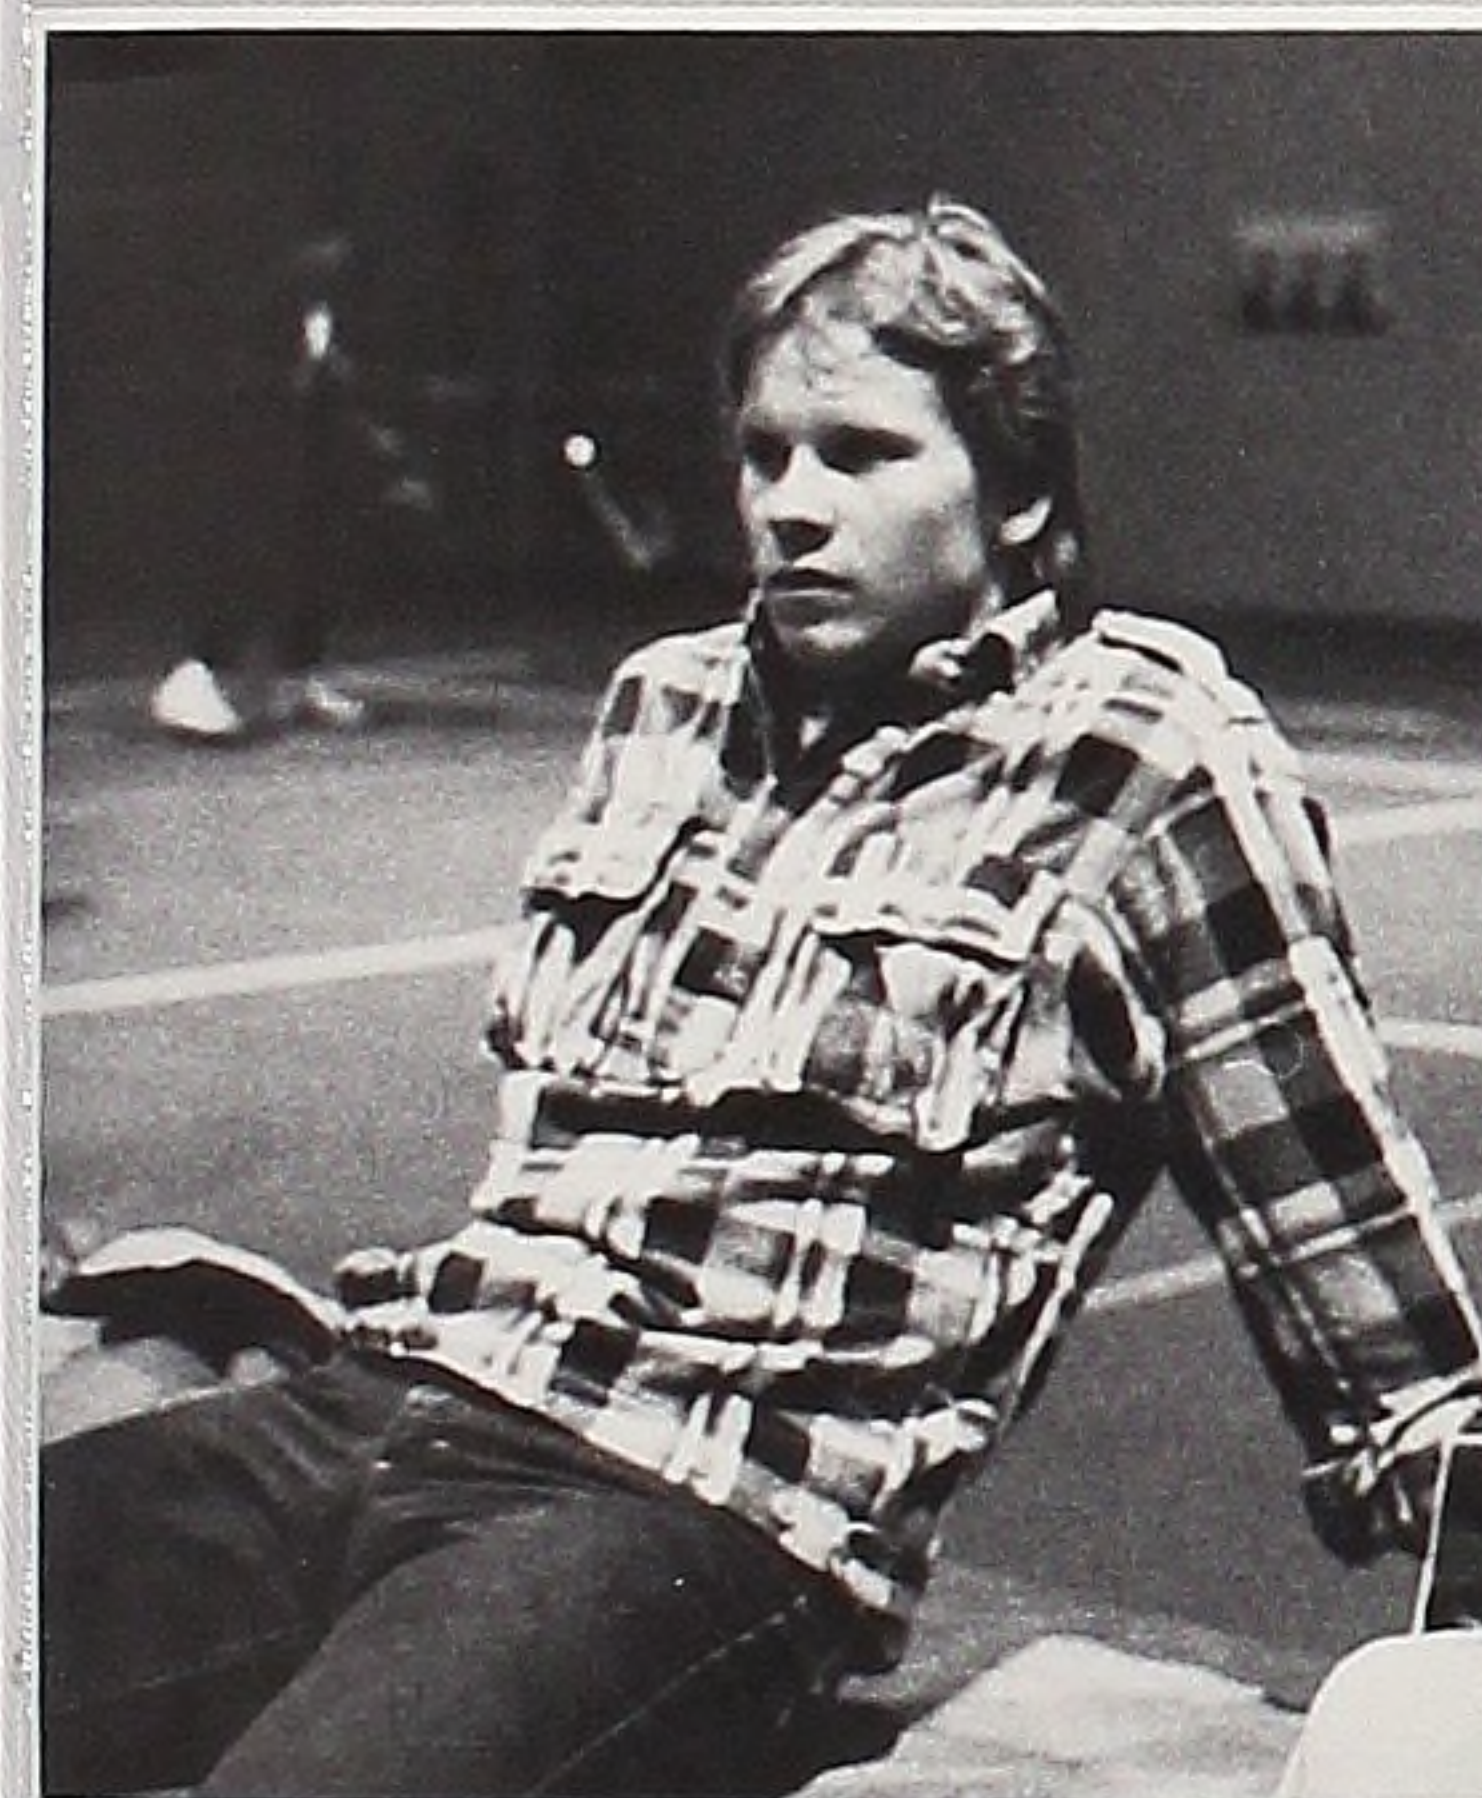

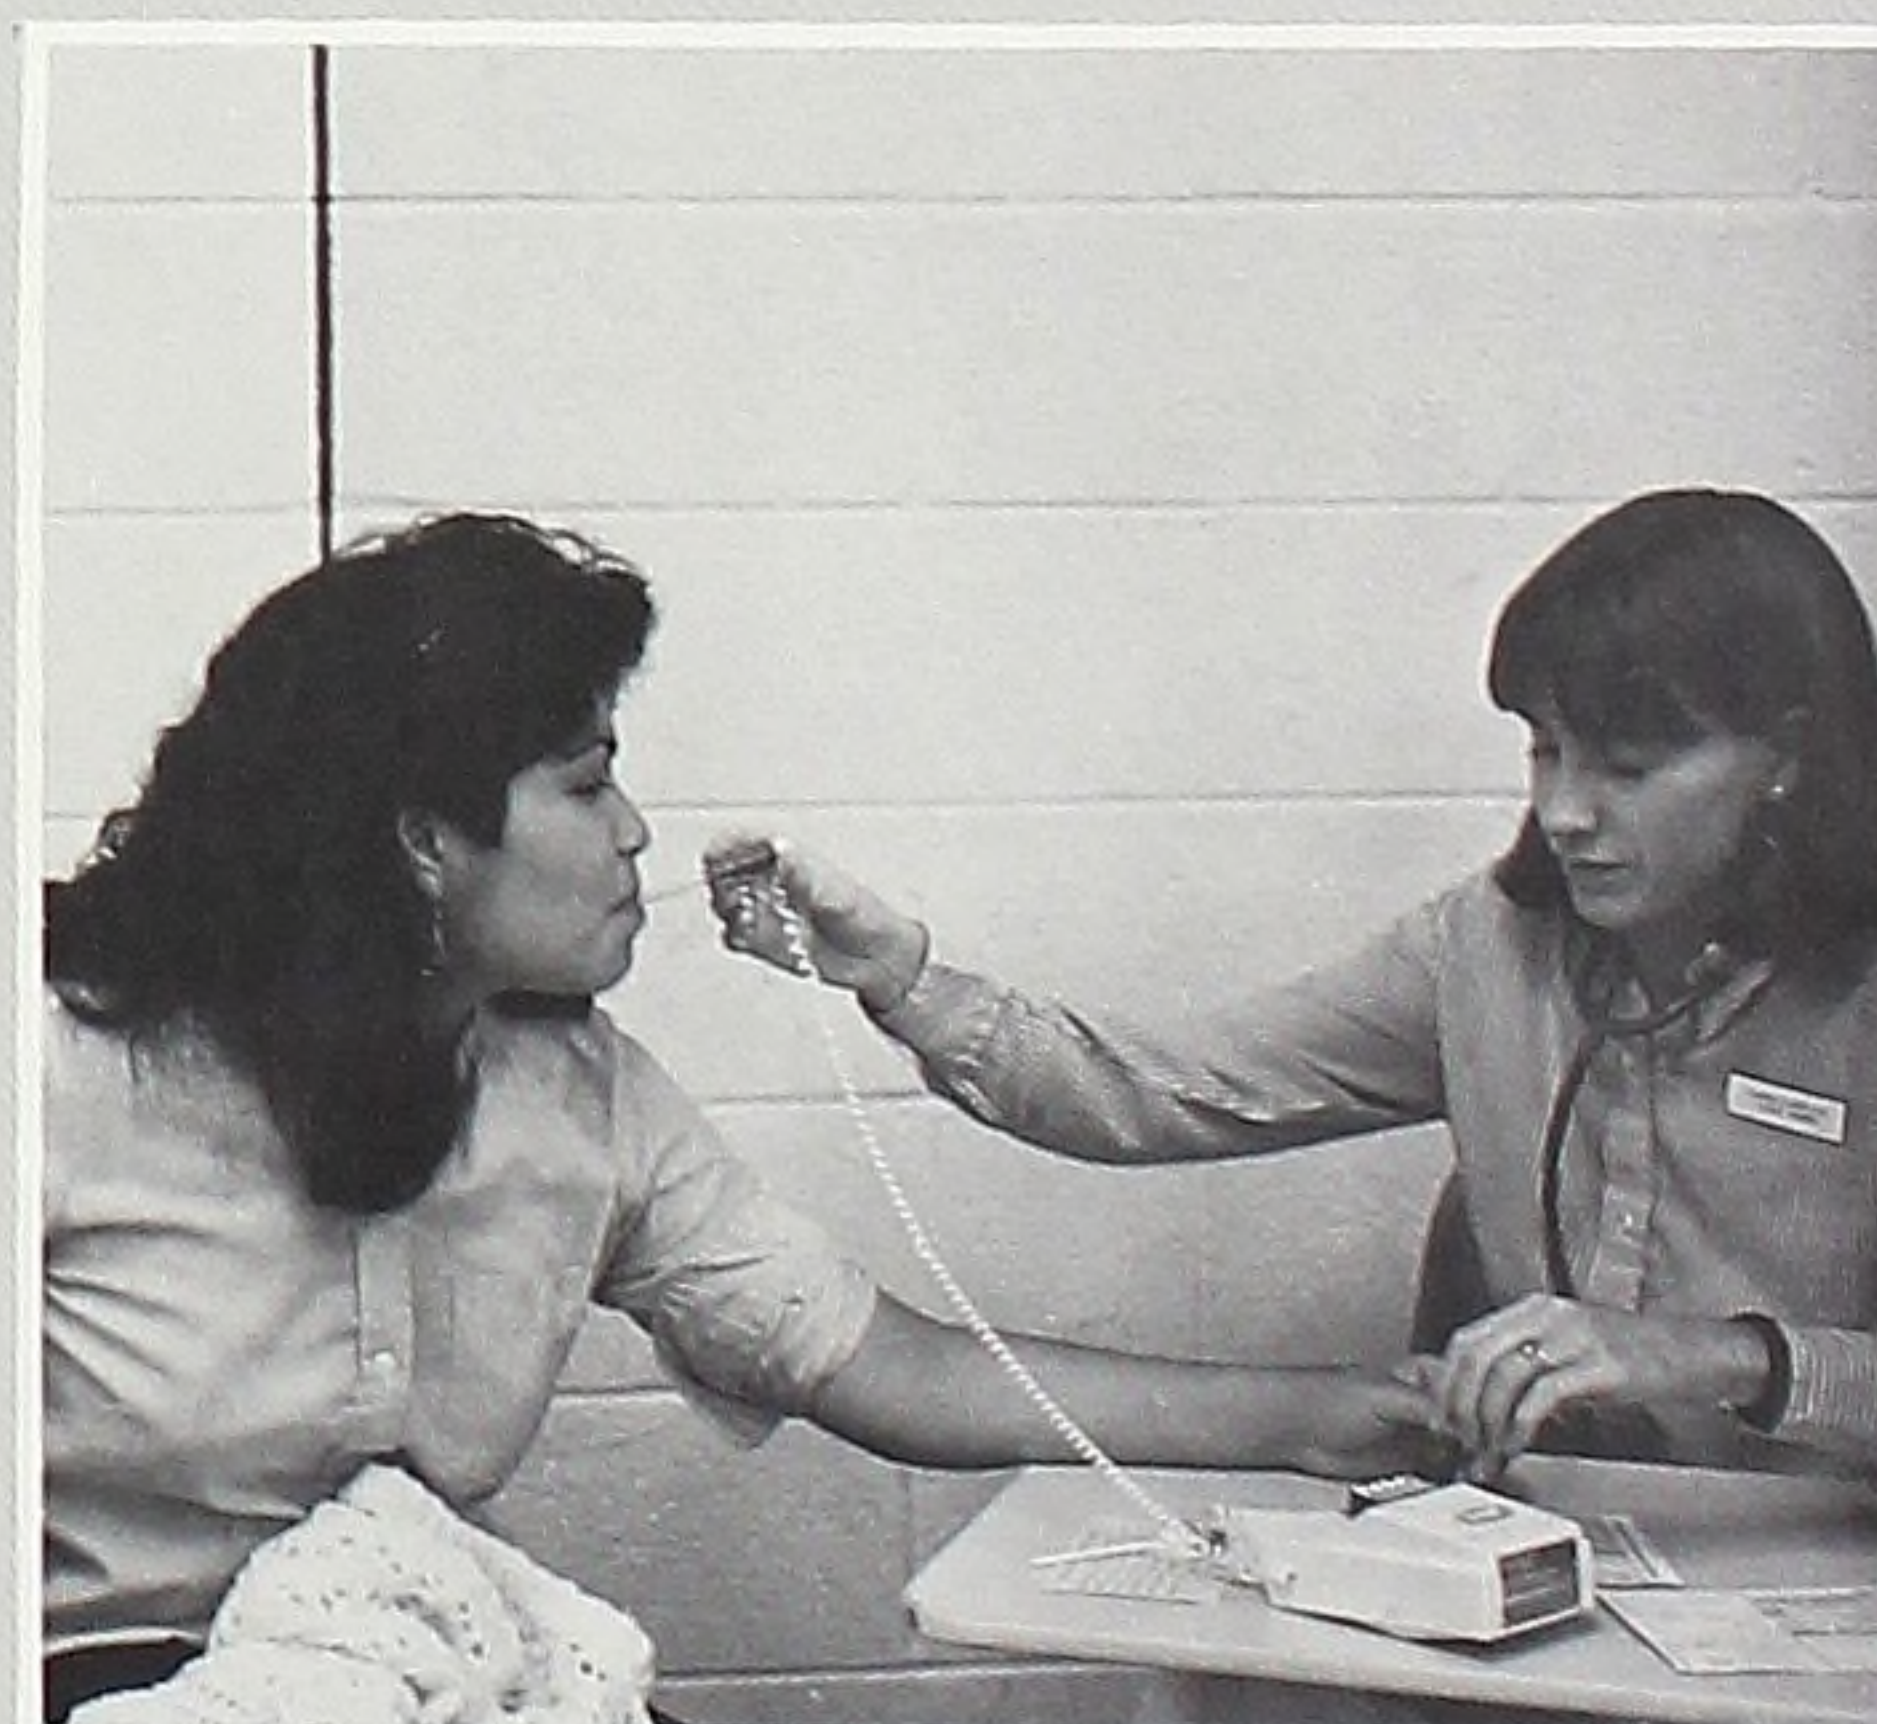

The American Red Cross Blood Unit traveled to Spring Arbor October 16. Many Spring Arbor students rolled up their sleeves to share a very special gift . . . the gift of life. A contest was held to see which floor could "pump" up the most participation, and Muffitt Two took the honors.

Well we all have a face
That we hide away forever
And we take them out and show ourselves
When everyone has gone
Some are satin some are steel
Some are silk and some are leather
They're the faces of the stranger
But we love to try them on — B. Joel

Sharing . . .

... of time, money, effort, and faith is what the WSAE Sharathon is all about. This second annual event, held March 12-15, involved d.j.'s, faculty, and listening audience in a united effort. To raise money for station support and to inform the public of WSAE's growth and purpose.

$18,000 was raised toward broadcasting scholarships, operation costs, and new equipment. Announcement was also made of the opening of Spring Arbor's new AM station — WTTG. It will begin on July 1. For the listener, Sharathon offers the opportunity to become more informed about station happenings, and to learn more about the staff of WSAE, through programs such as D.J. for a day.

But after all the long hours, hard work and late nights, the ultimate reward is eventually seen — the amount of prayer and support for the station going out from many different places.

The 1984-85 season was a tough one for the men's basketball team. The season scoreboard read 16 wins and 17 loses, but the spirits of the well-balanced team refused to be downcast. Watch for the nets to come alive in 85!

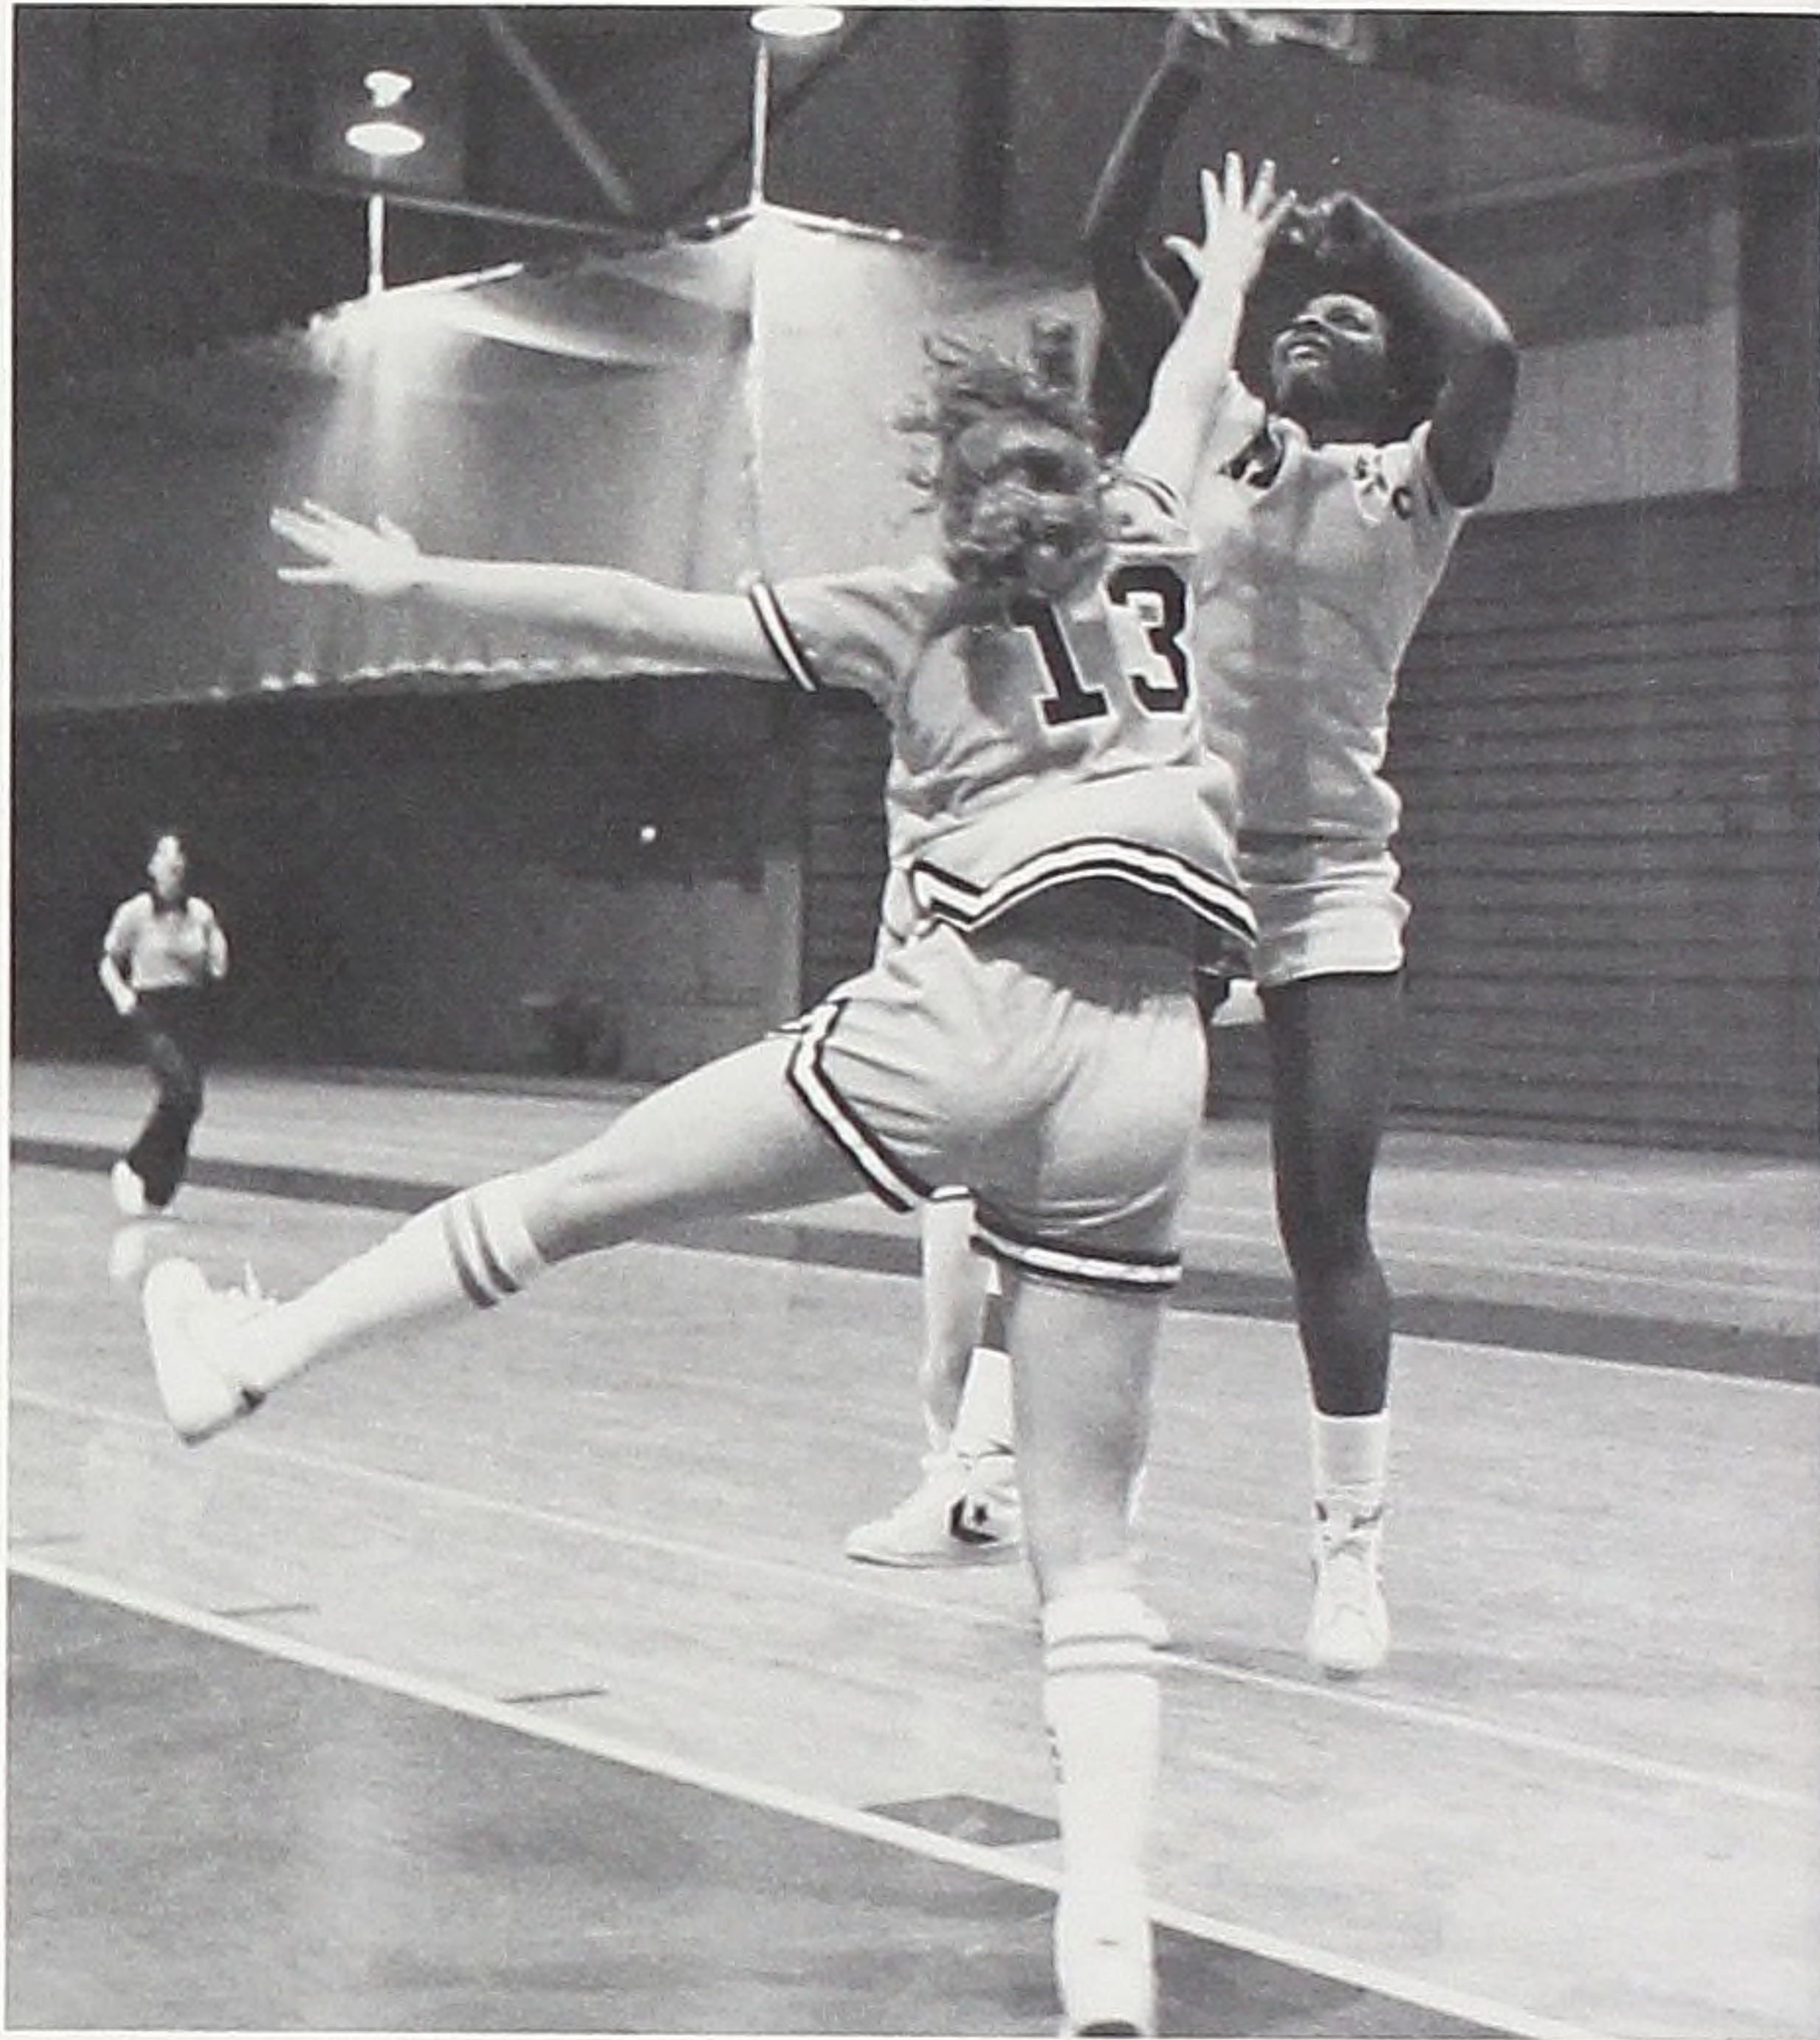

Women's Basketball

After a rebuilding season with many new starters, completing their fifth consecutive season of over 20 wins and maintaining a rank in the top 20 defensively in the NAIA, the women's basketball team finished third in the National Christian College Athletic Association (NCCAA).

Two players from the team were named to the National Christian College Athletic Association All-Tournament team at the National Tournament. They are Linda Crouch, a sophomore from Grass Lake and Pam Bowden, a senior from Saginaw.

Volleyball

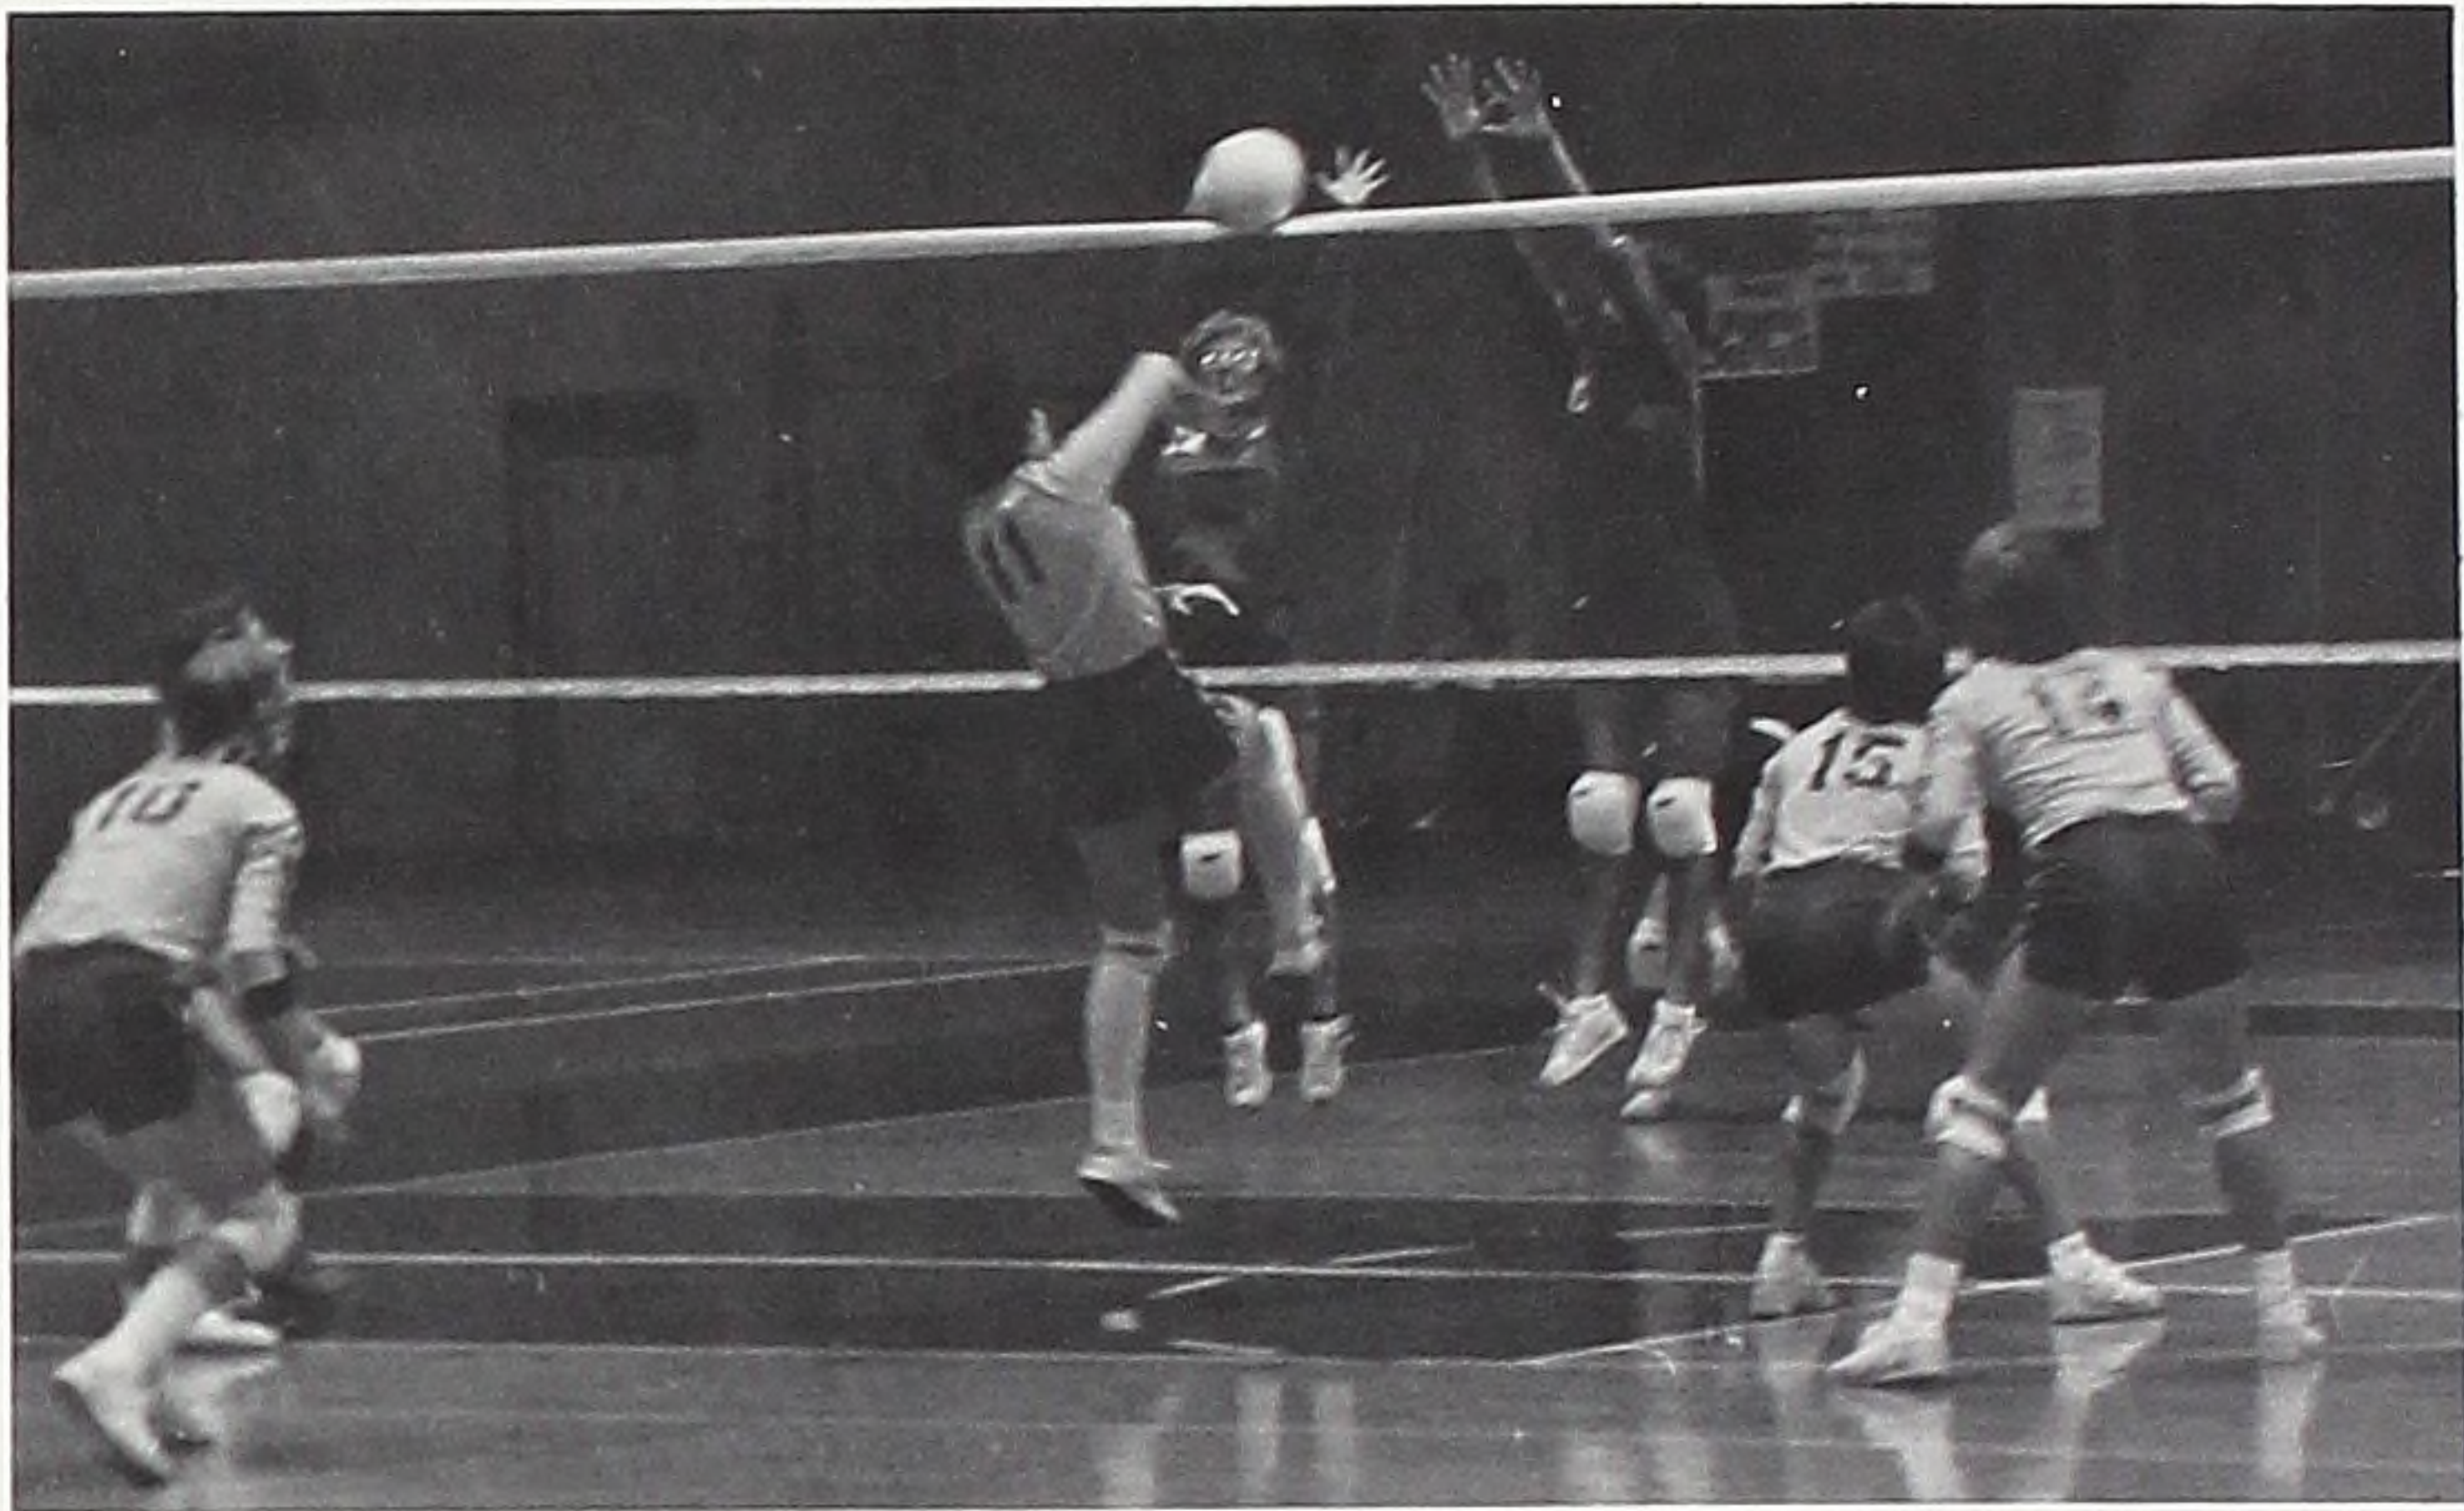

Quality, not quantity, was the thrust of this year's women's volleyball team. Said coach Jan Lane, "Although we only had ten players, each of them were good."

The lady cougars lost seven team members from last year, so this year's team was a delicate balance of experience and new blood. One senior, three juniors, two sophomores, and four freshmen took the netwomen to a 45 and 56 season.

Leaders at the serving line this season were Gail Sutherlin with a 94% good record, while Dawn Hawkin's was at 92%. Tracy Buksar was the leading spiker, hitting an average of 89%, while Dawn Hawkins recorded the most assists with 472.

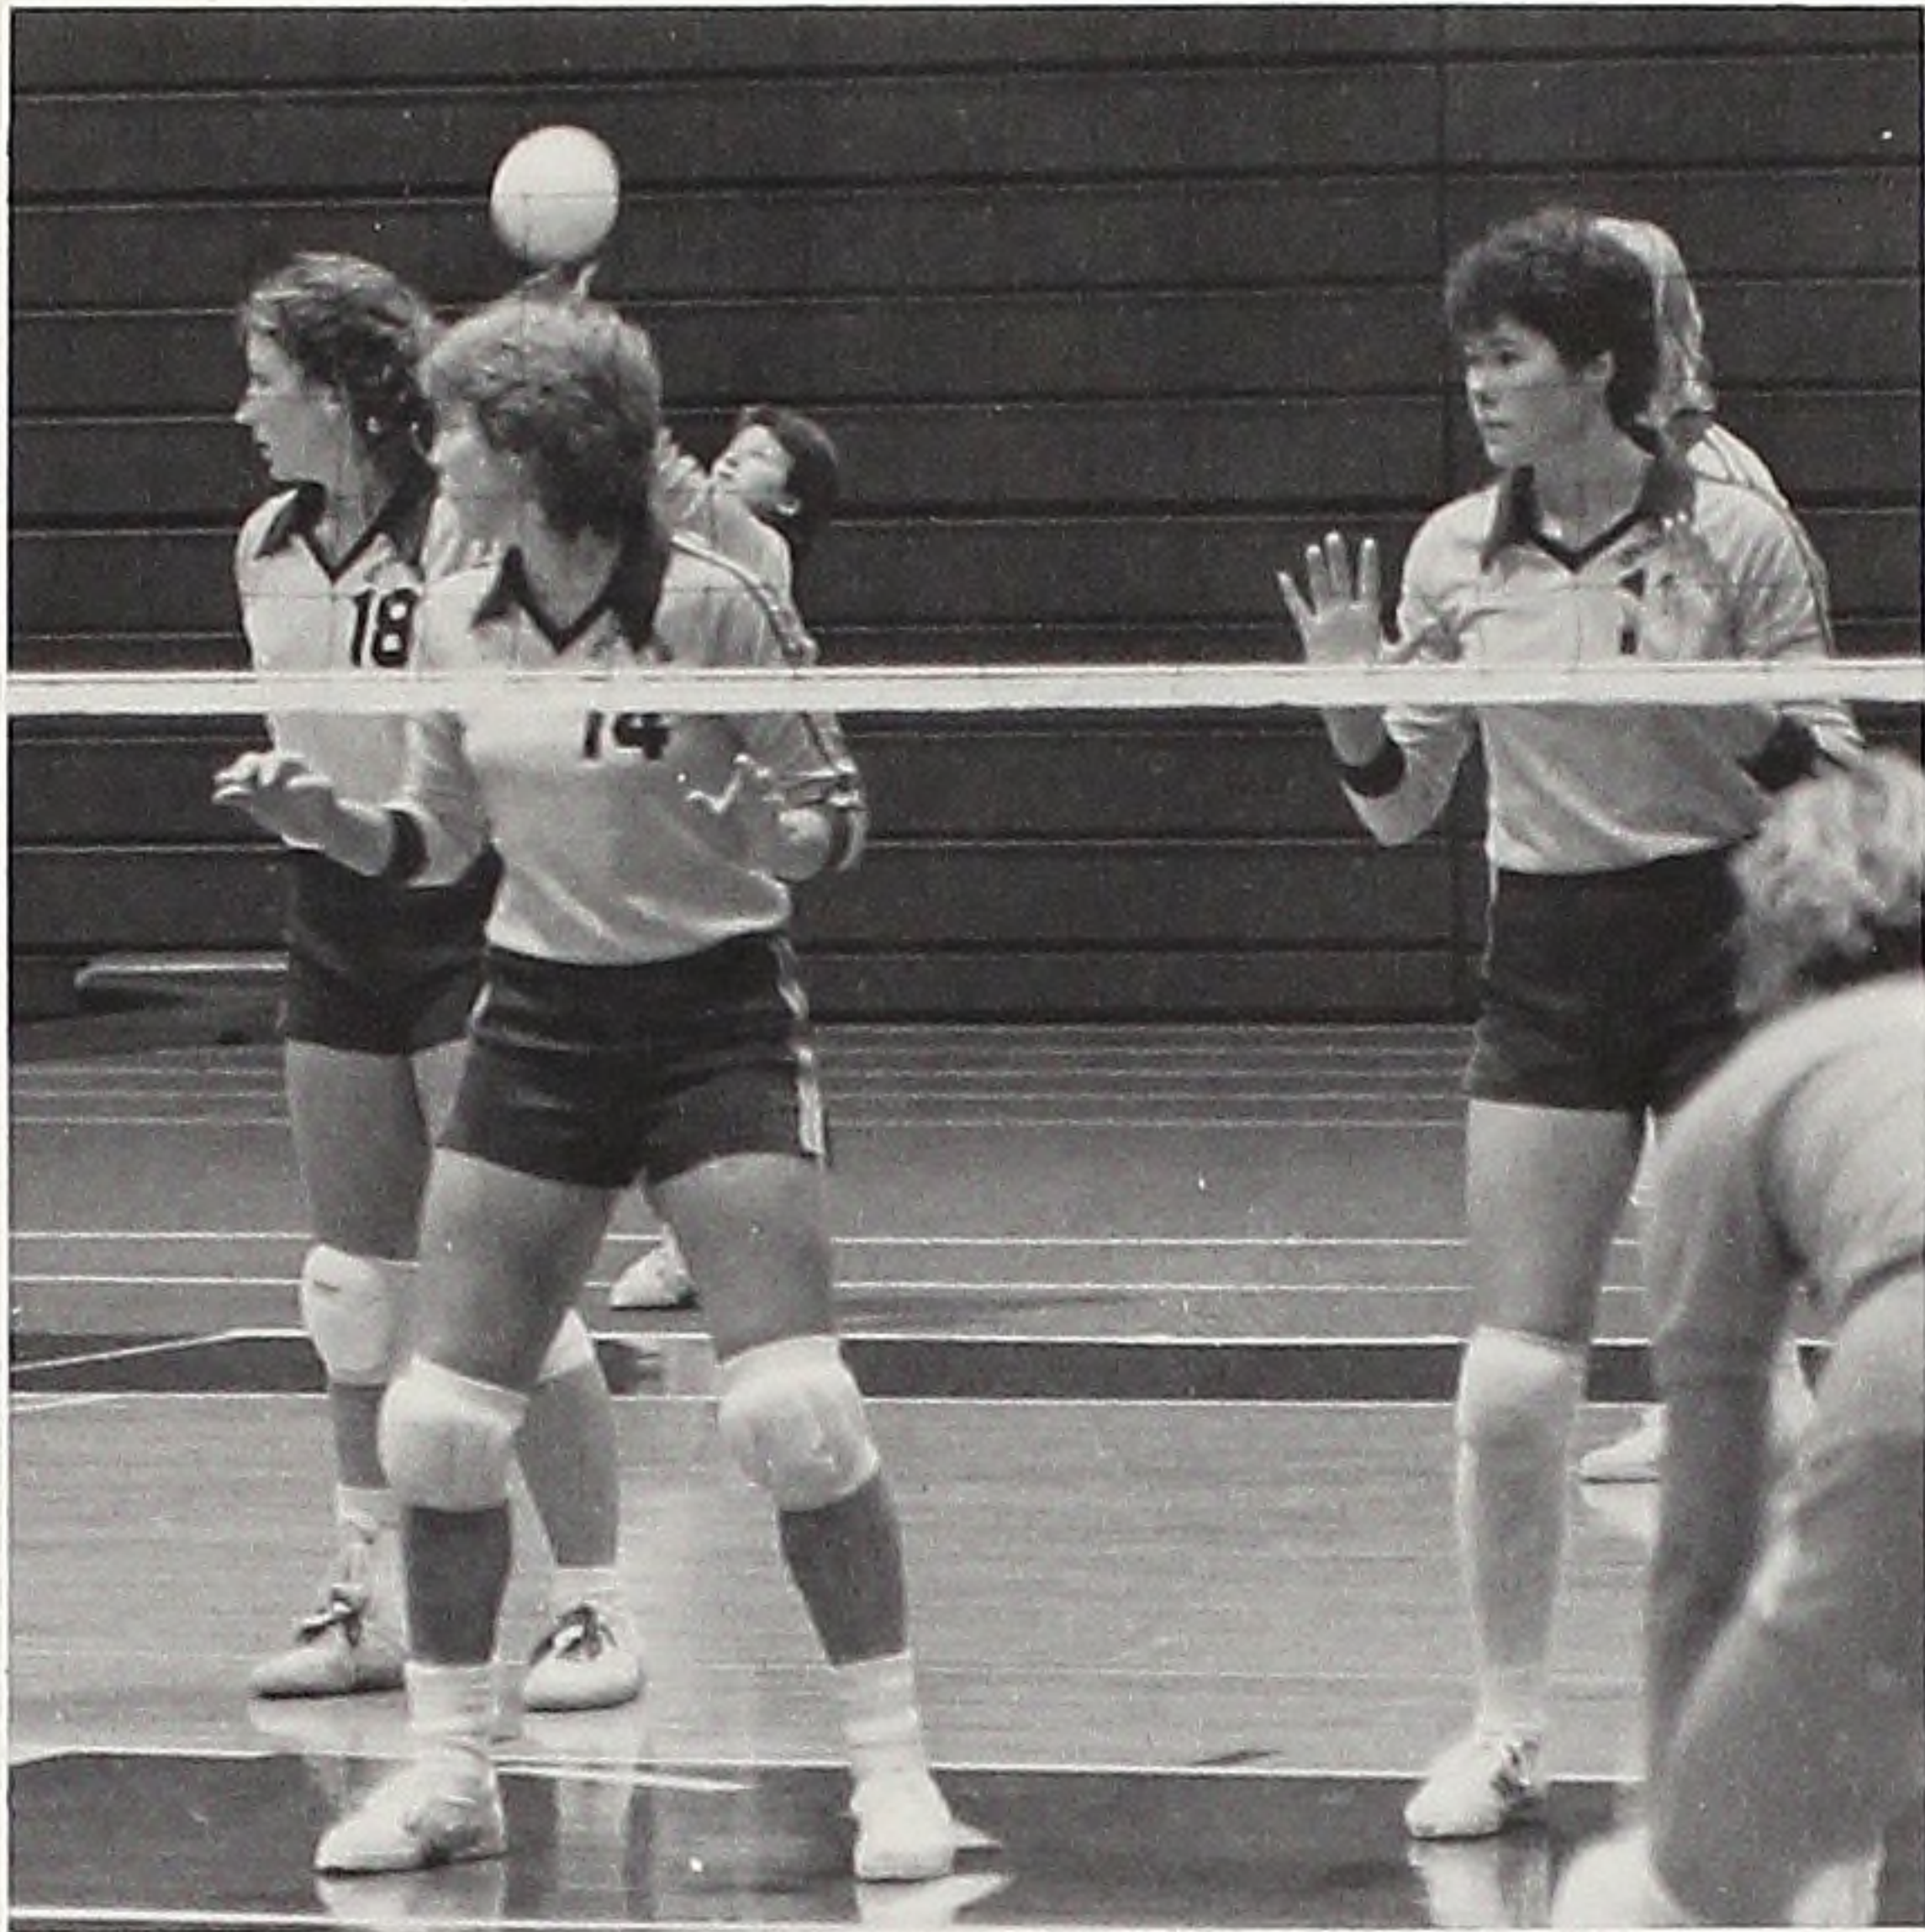

Spring Arbor also had two representatives on the NCCAA All-District Team. Linda Crouch and Lynne Johnson took that honor and Lynne was also named to the NAIA second team. Lynne set a new school record with 261 blocks as well.

Although they finished with a .475 season, the lady cougars are still a young team, and promise to be serious contenders in the 1985-86 season.

Men's Track

Last winter in a preseason meeting, a small eleven man track team decided on one main objective: to place the highest ever for the Arbor at the National Christian College Track Championship. Five months later they did just that with a fourth-place finish out of a field of nineteen teams, crowning four Christian All-Americans along the way. Track meet MVP Darrow Smith led the way with first place finishes in both the 400m open run and 400m hurdles. He also anchored the first place All-American 400m relay team of Kinney, Chapman, and Roache. Collecting the rest of the points for the Arbor were Rick Cleveland, Dave Getsinger, Lee Rogers, and Joel Thiery as 8 out of 11 men scored a team meet record of 78 points. In the NAIA district 23, the cougars continued their march with another 4th place finish, 60 points and two district champions: Rick Cleveland, javelin and Darrow Smith, 400m hurdles. In the process of the season, seven school records fell with relay teams comprising a combination of many from Getsinger, Smith, Kineey, Chapman, Rogers, Roache to Williams; other records broken were Getsinger, 1500m, Rogers, Triple jump and Roache, 100m. In the wake of all this rose captain Darrow Smith one more time to continue the roll and to cap a brilliant career with a 6th place All-American finish at the NAIA National Track Meet at Hillsdale, Michigan before the home fans and his pleased team mates.

Woman's Track

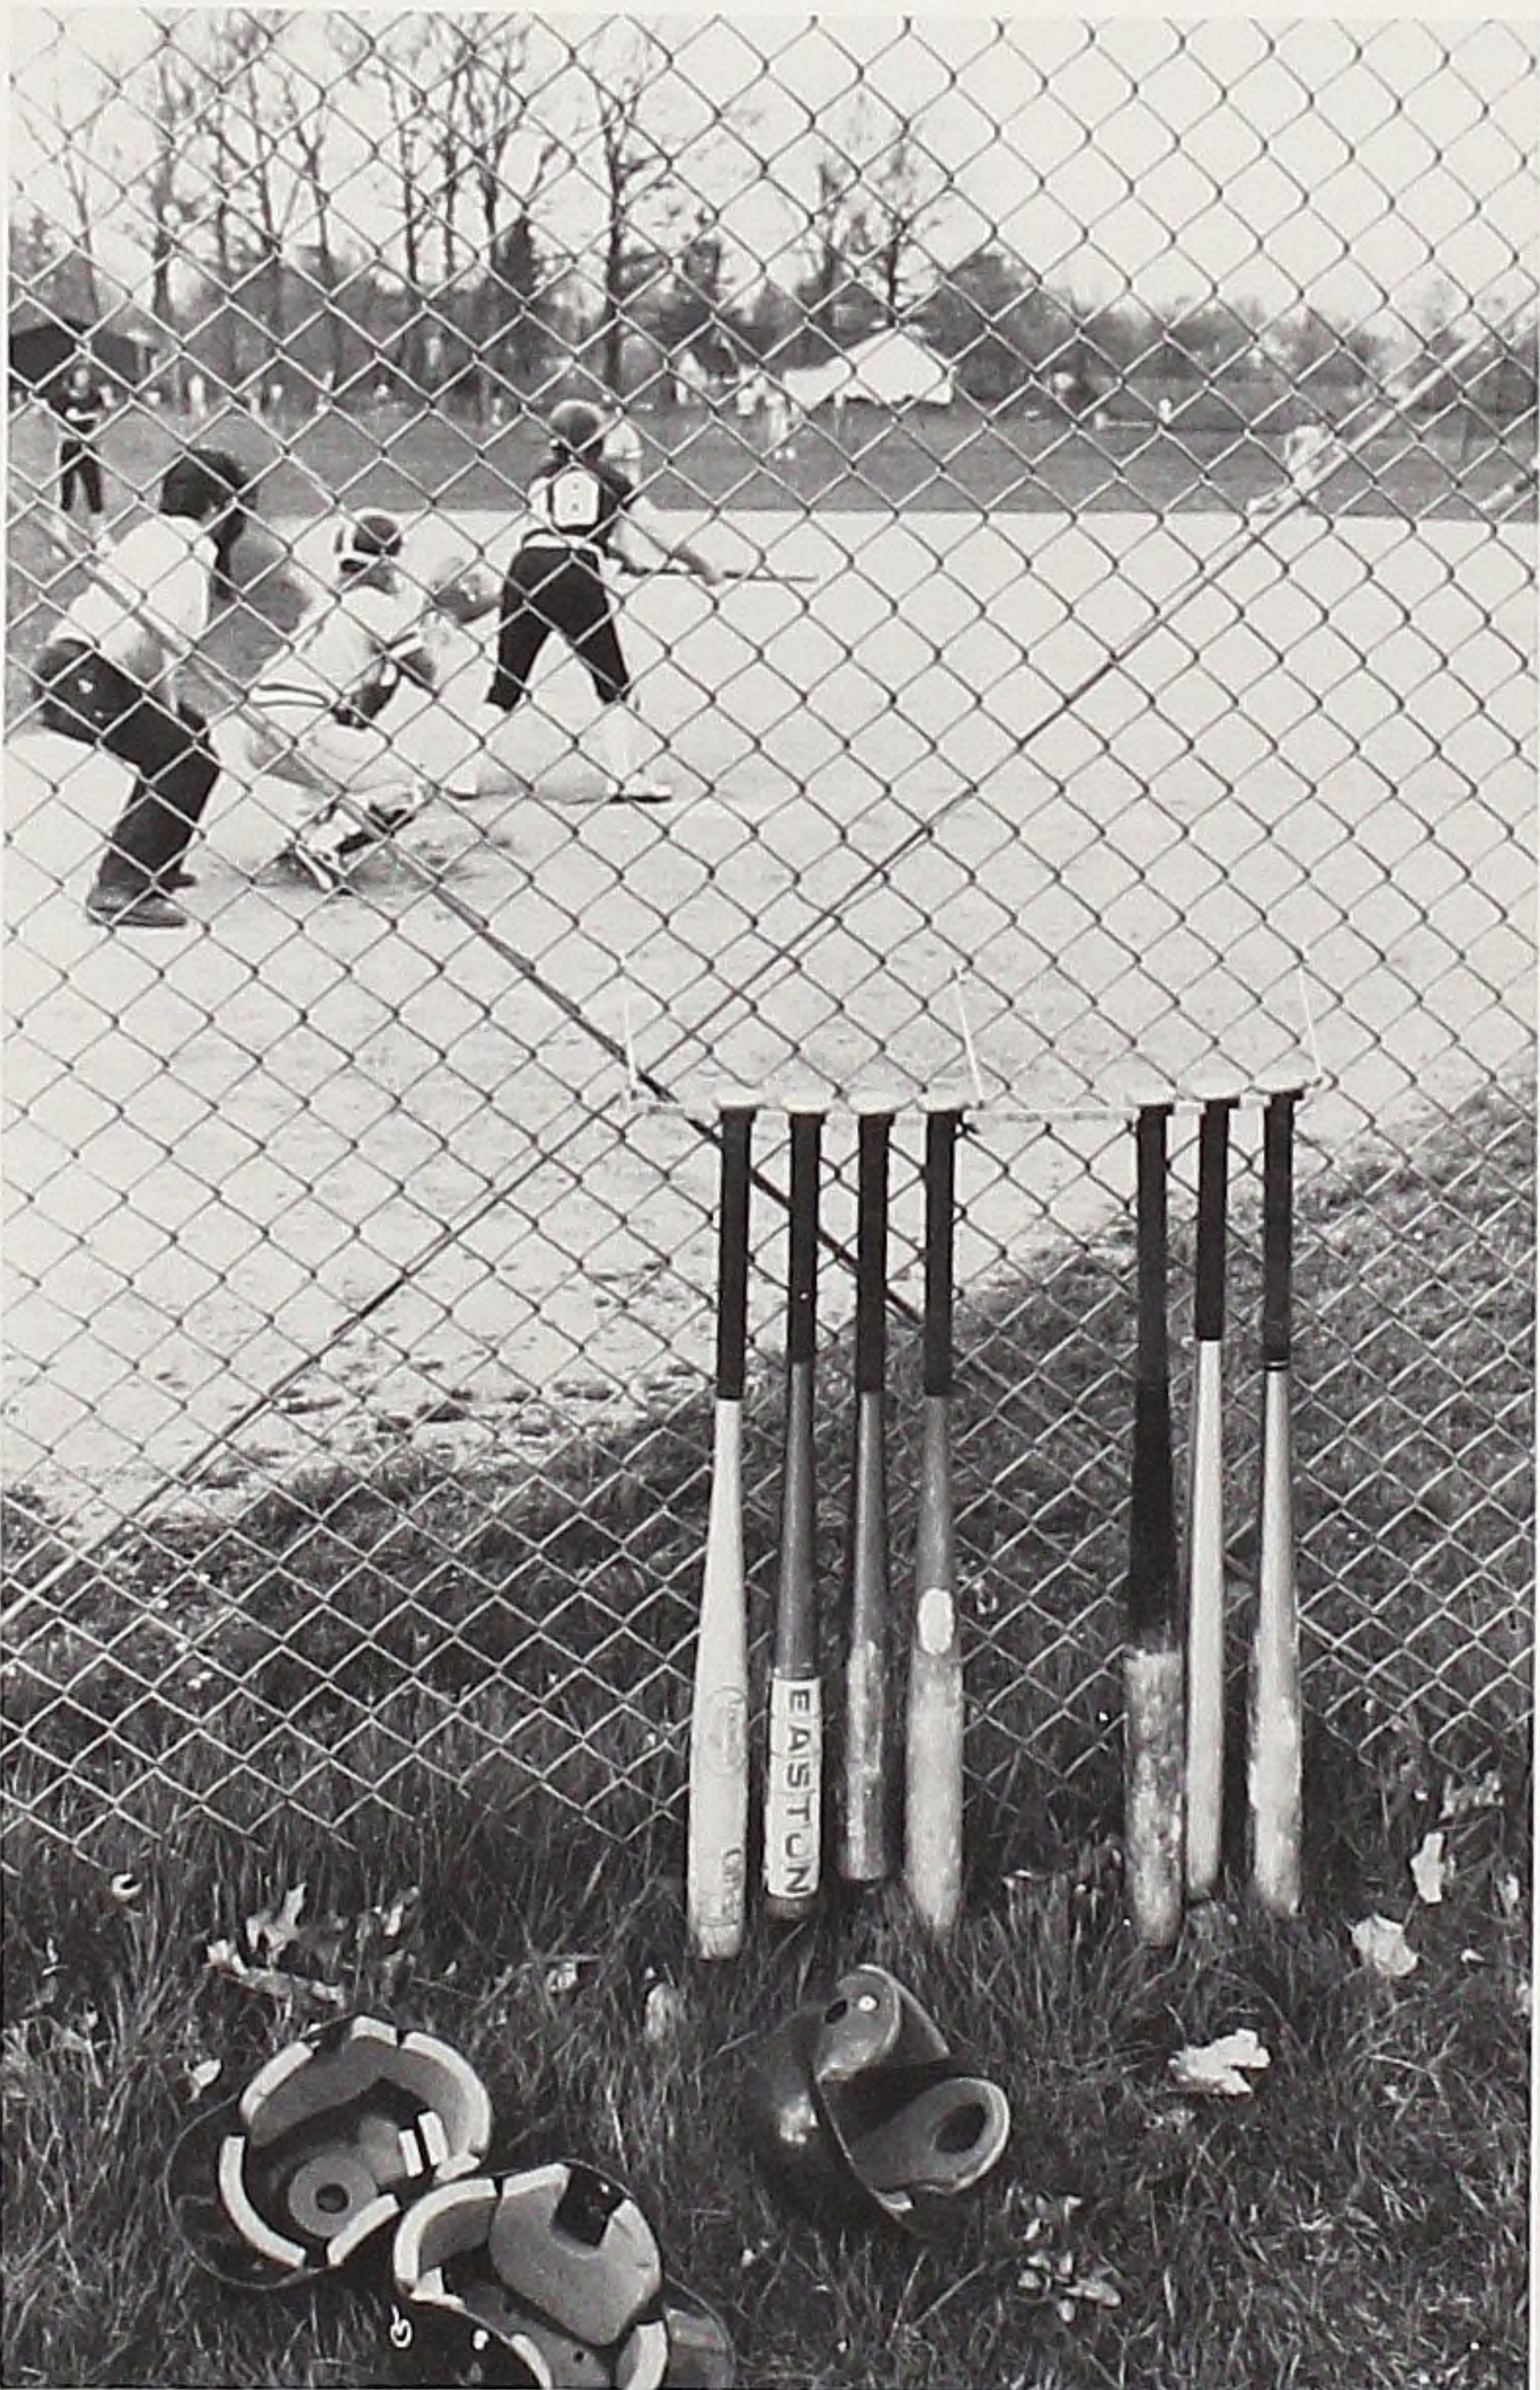

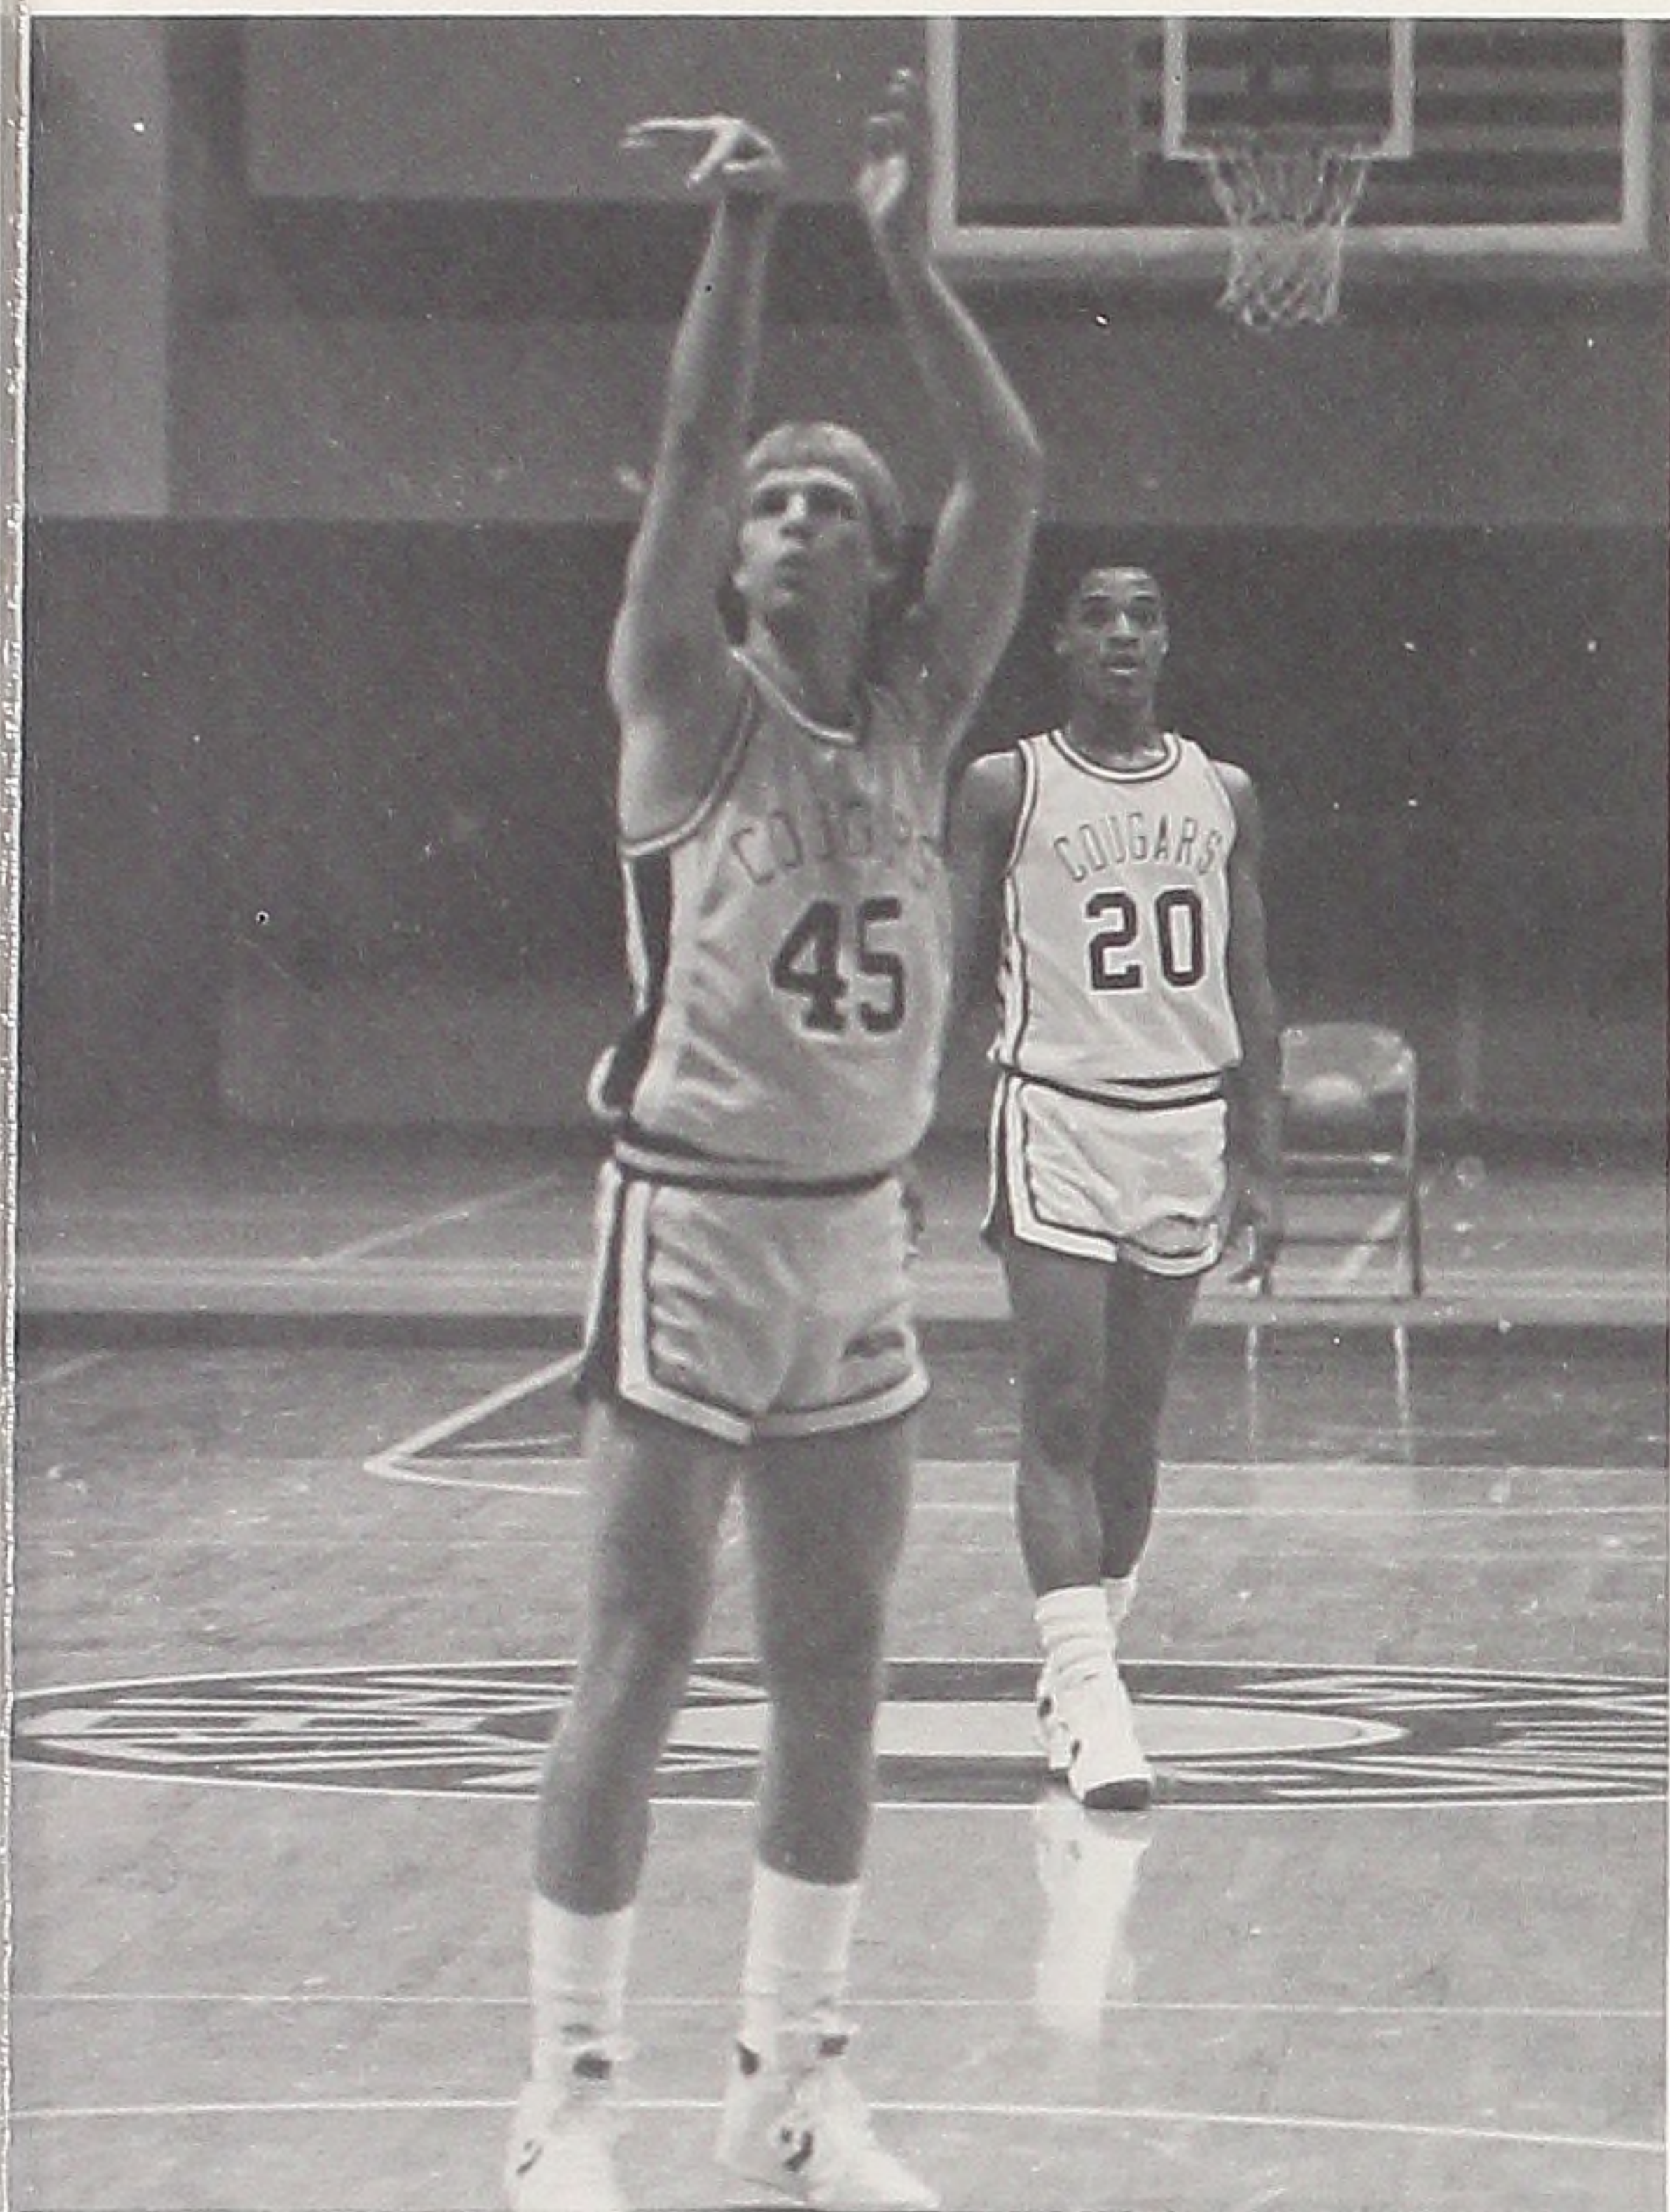

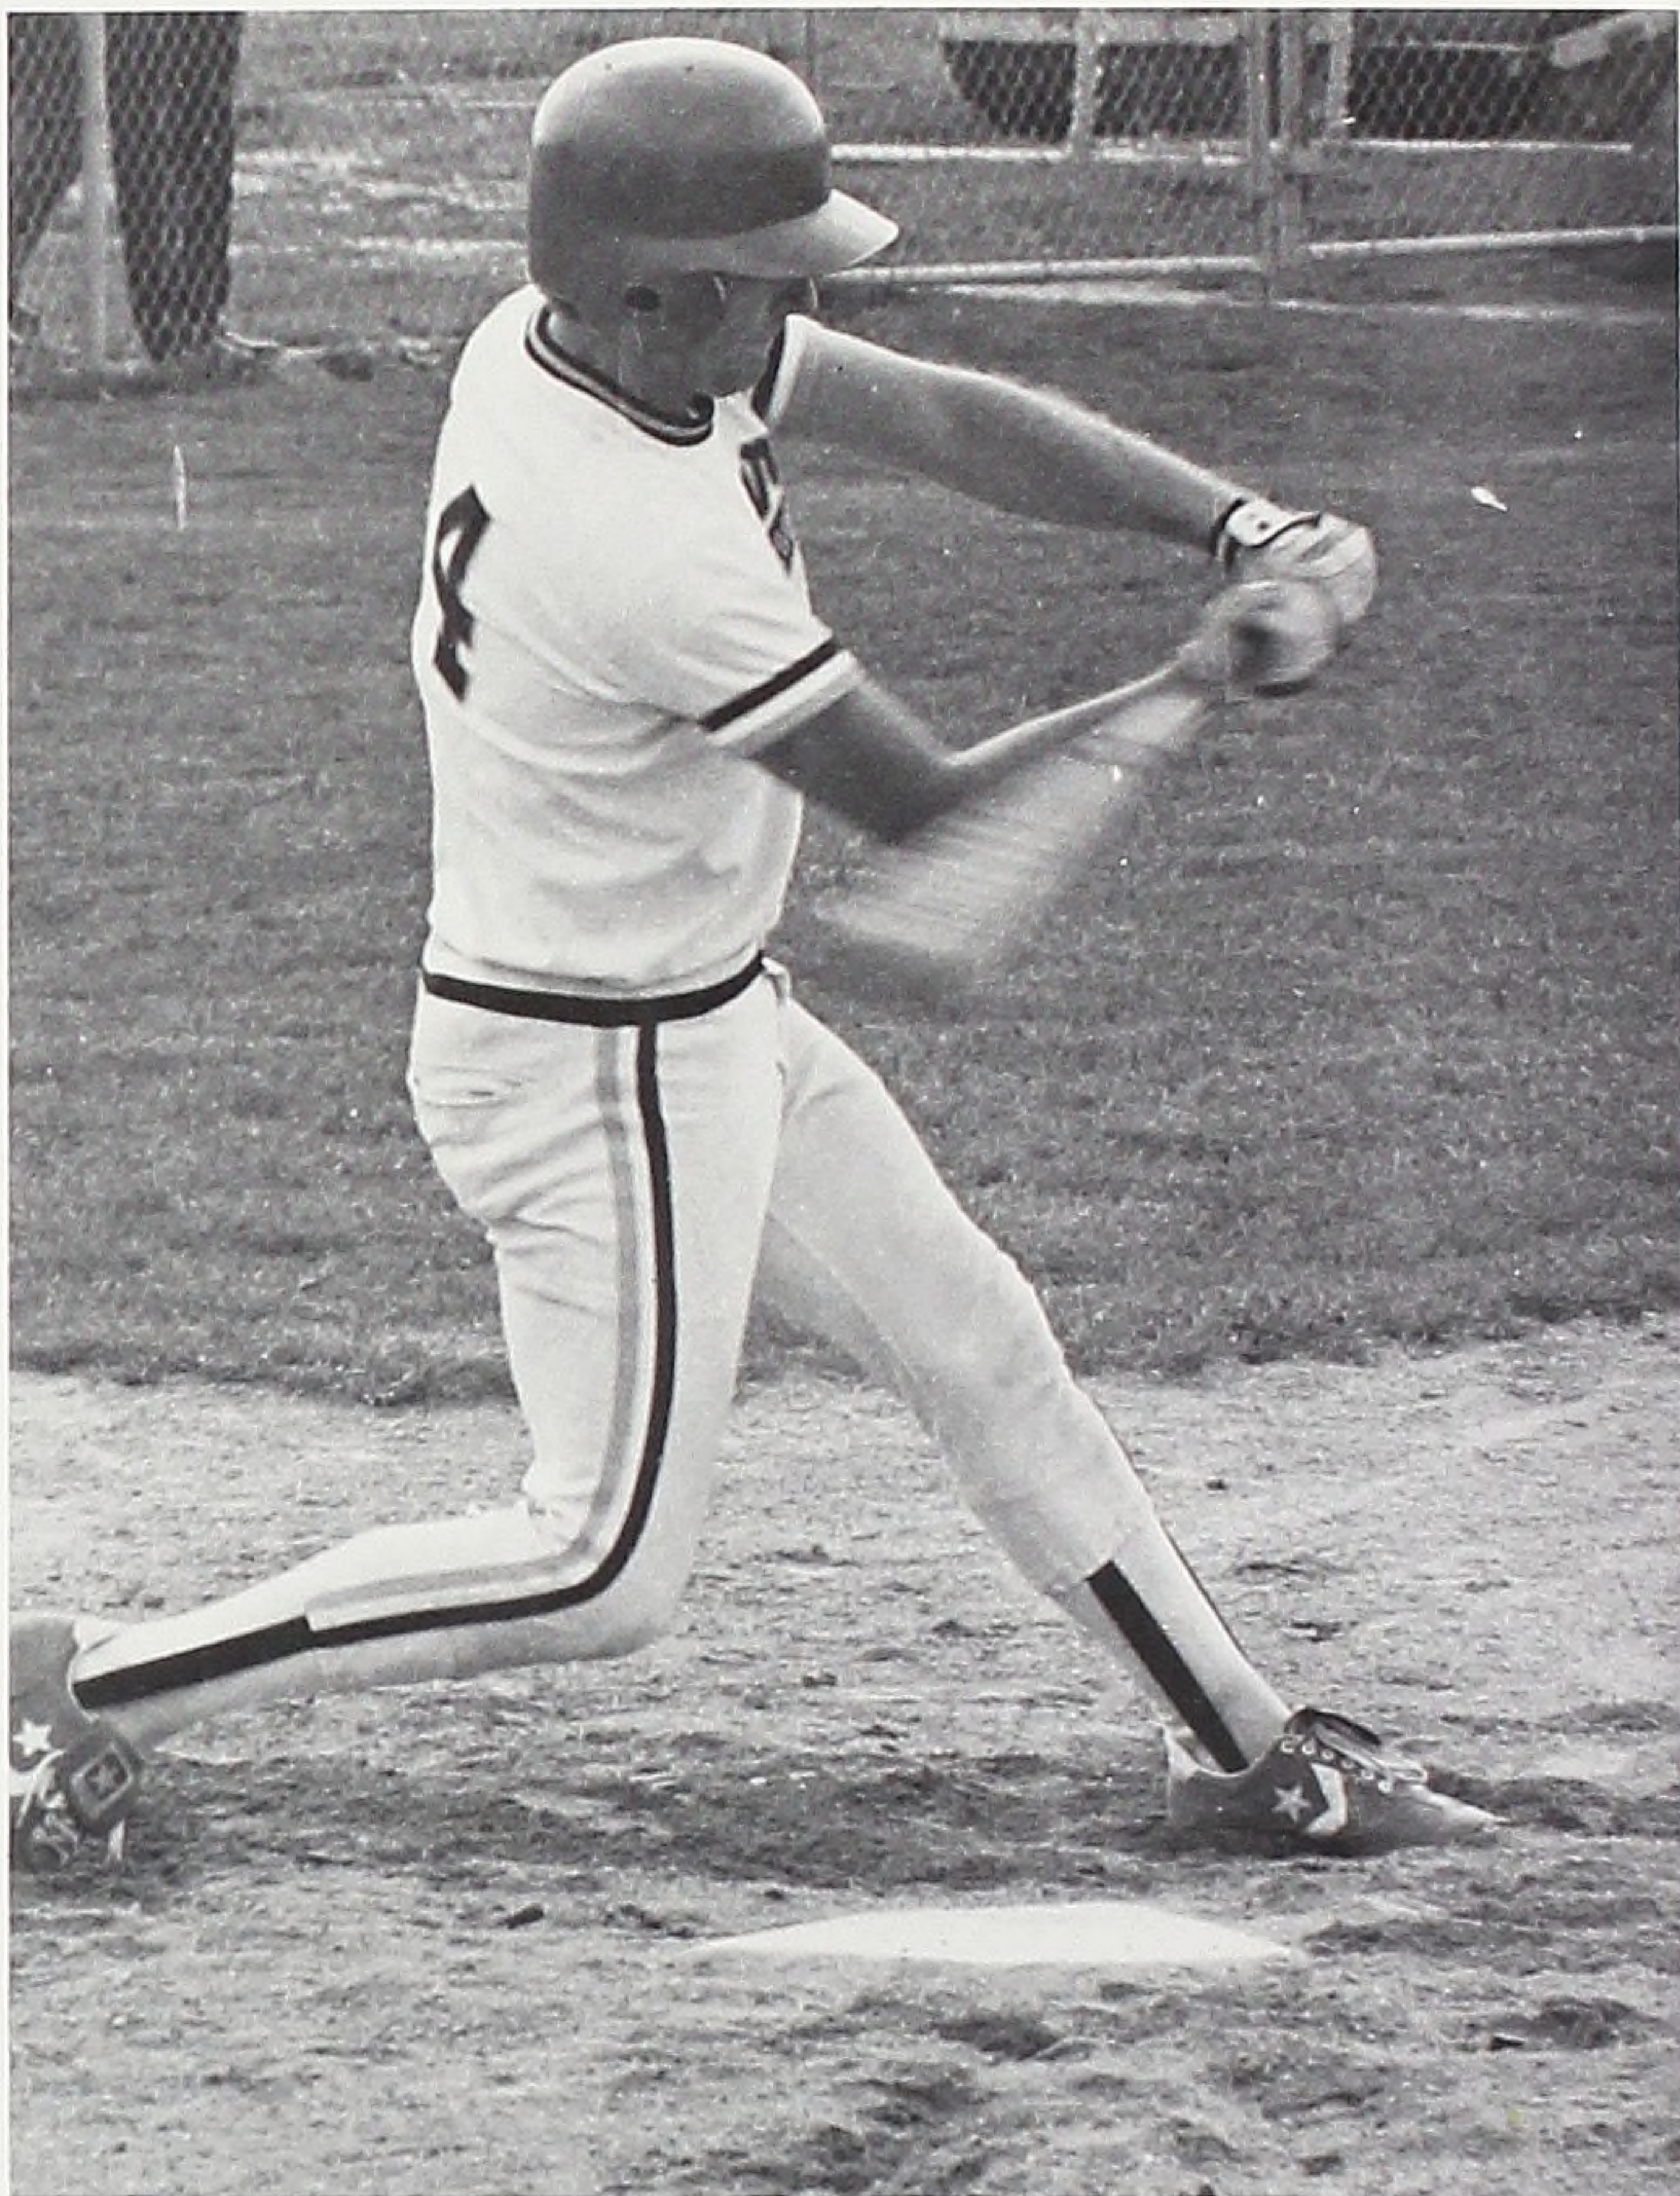

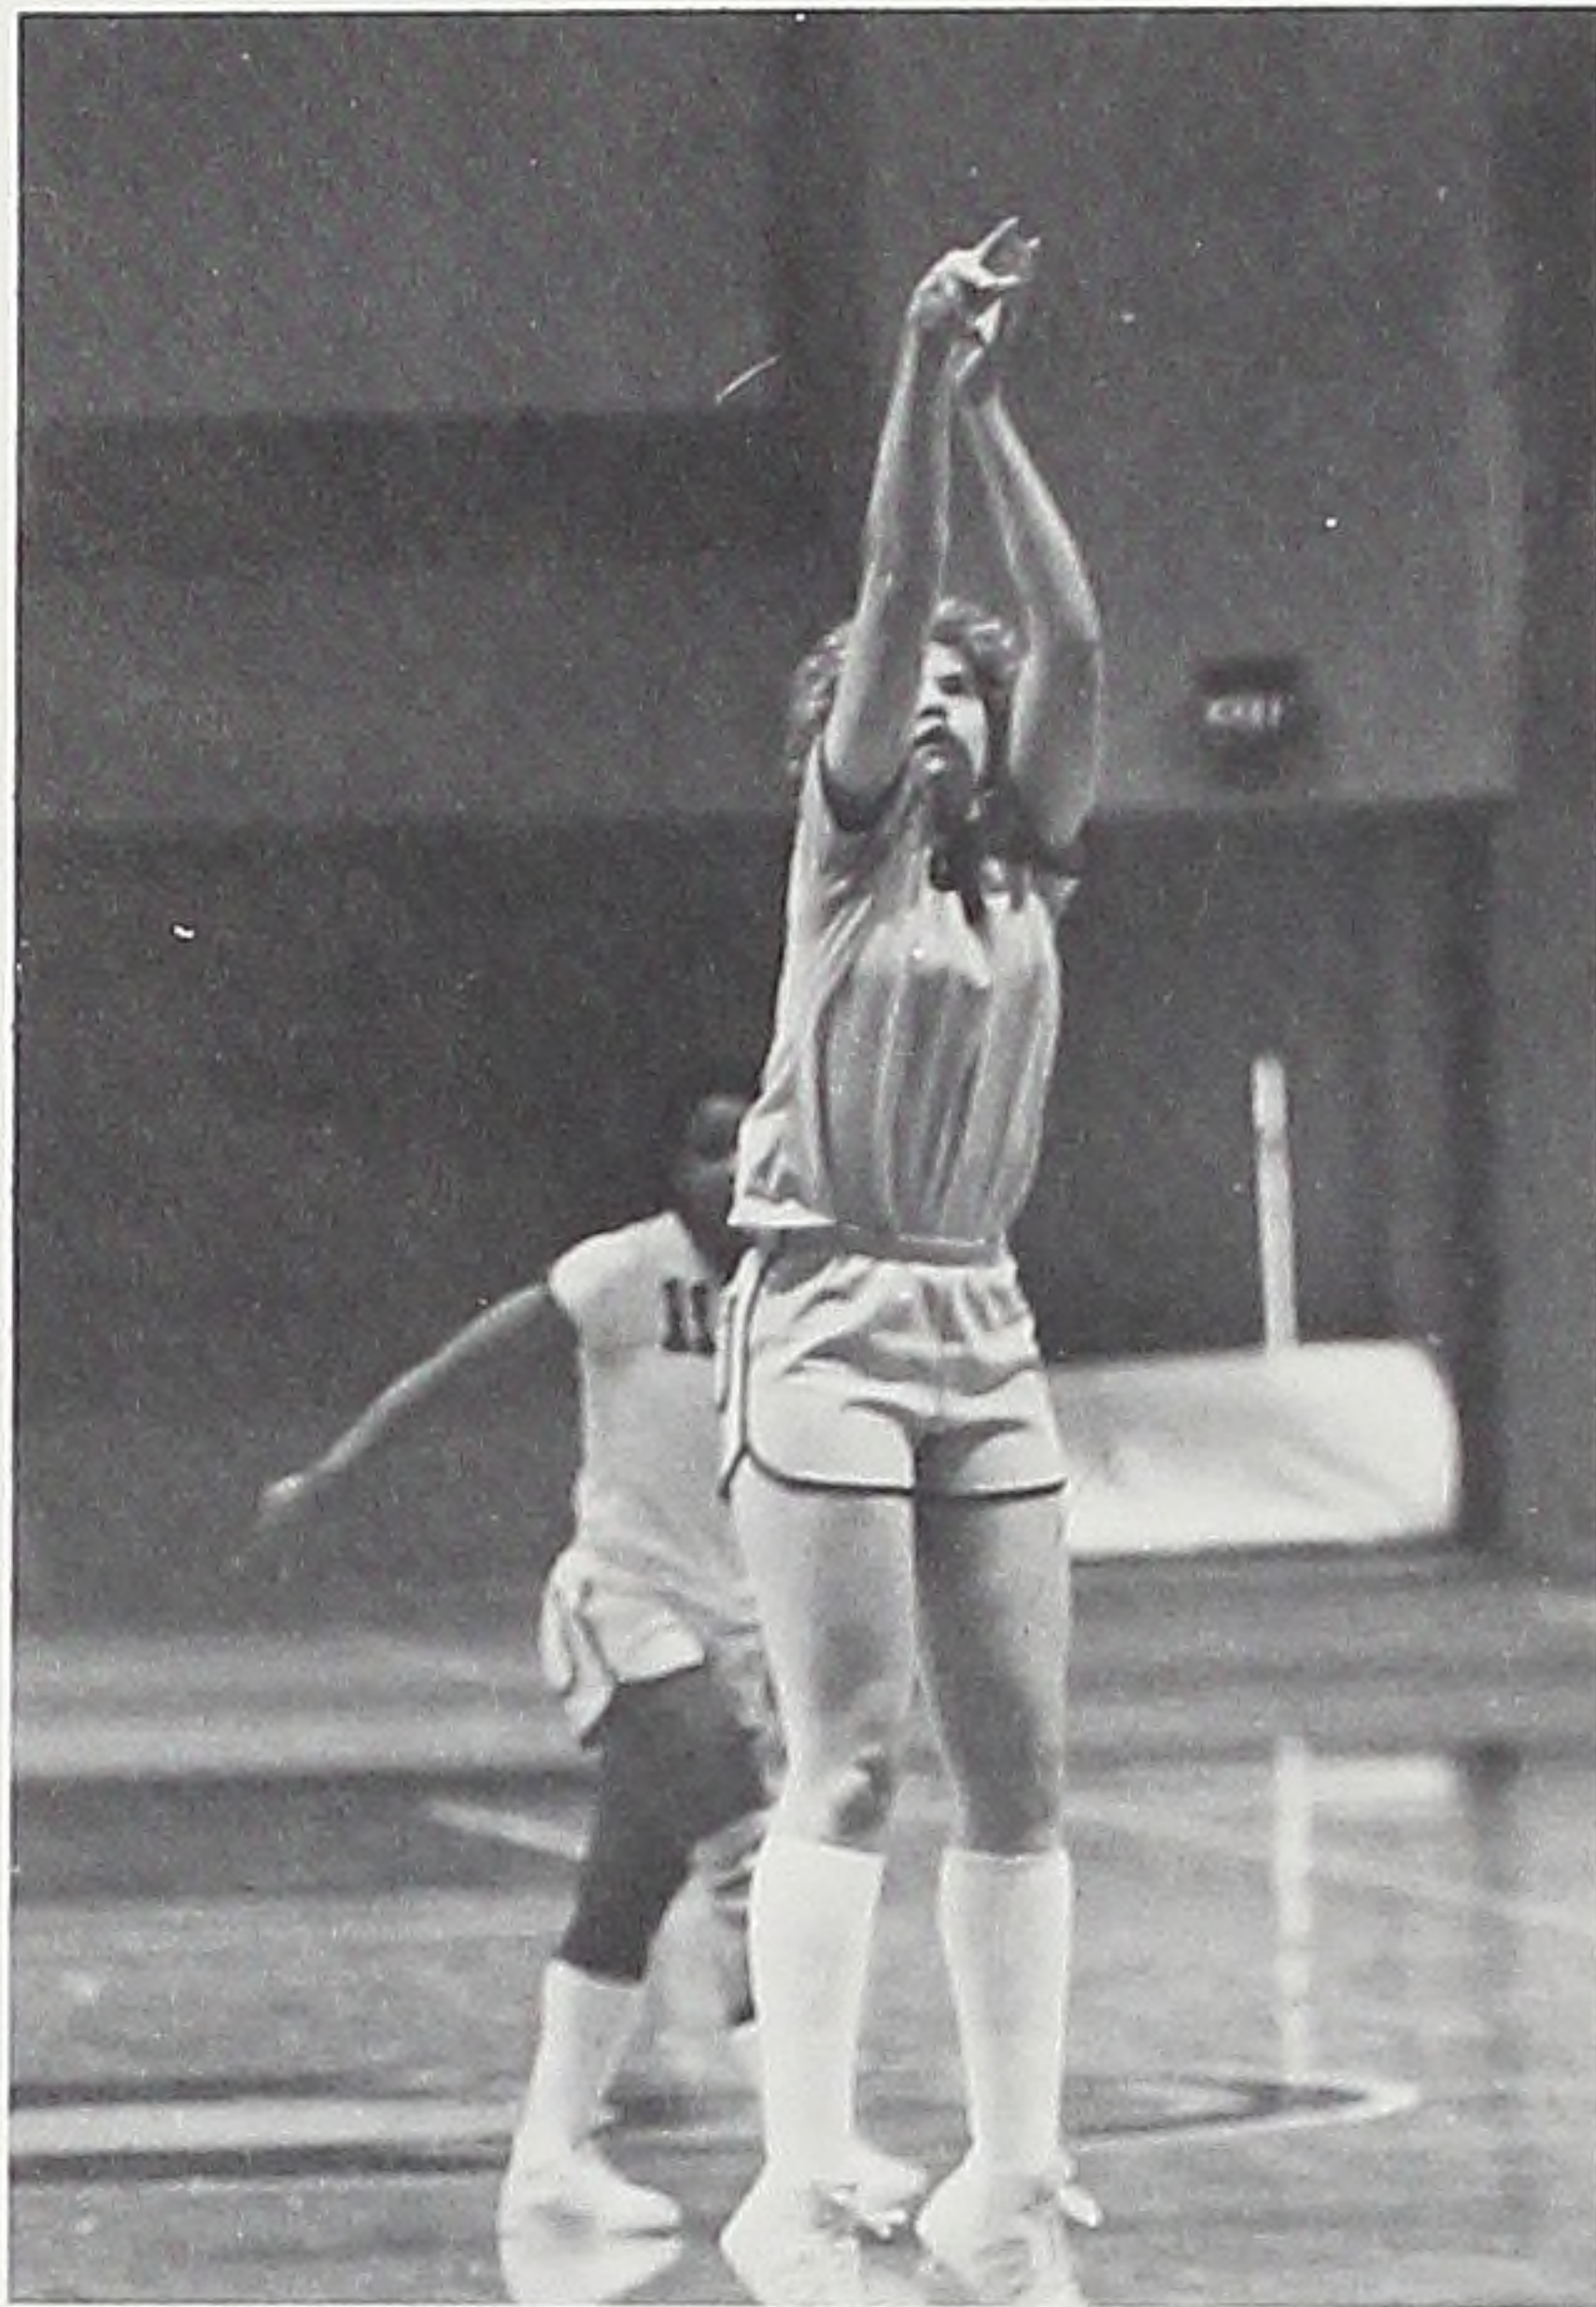

The Spring Arbor College women's track team, although smaller in numbers, was more competitive this season than last season, according to 1st year coach Wayne Mollitor. "We were building from what we had, and we lost six or seven runners to graduation last year. Although injuries plagued us, I wasn't unhappy at all with this season."

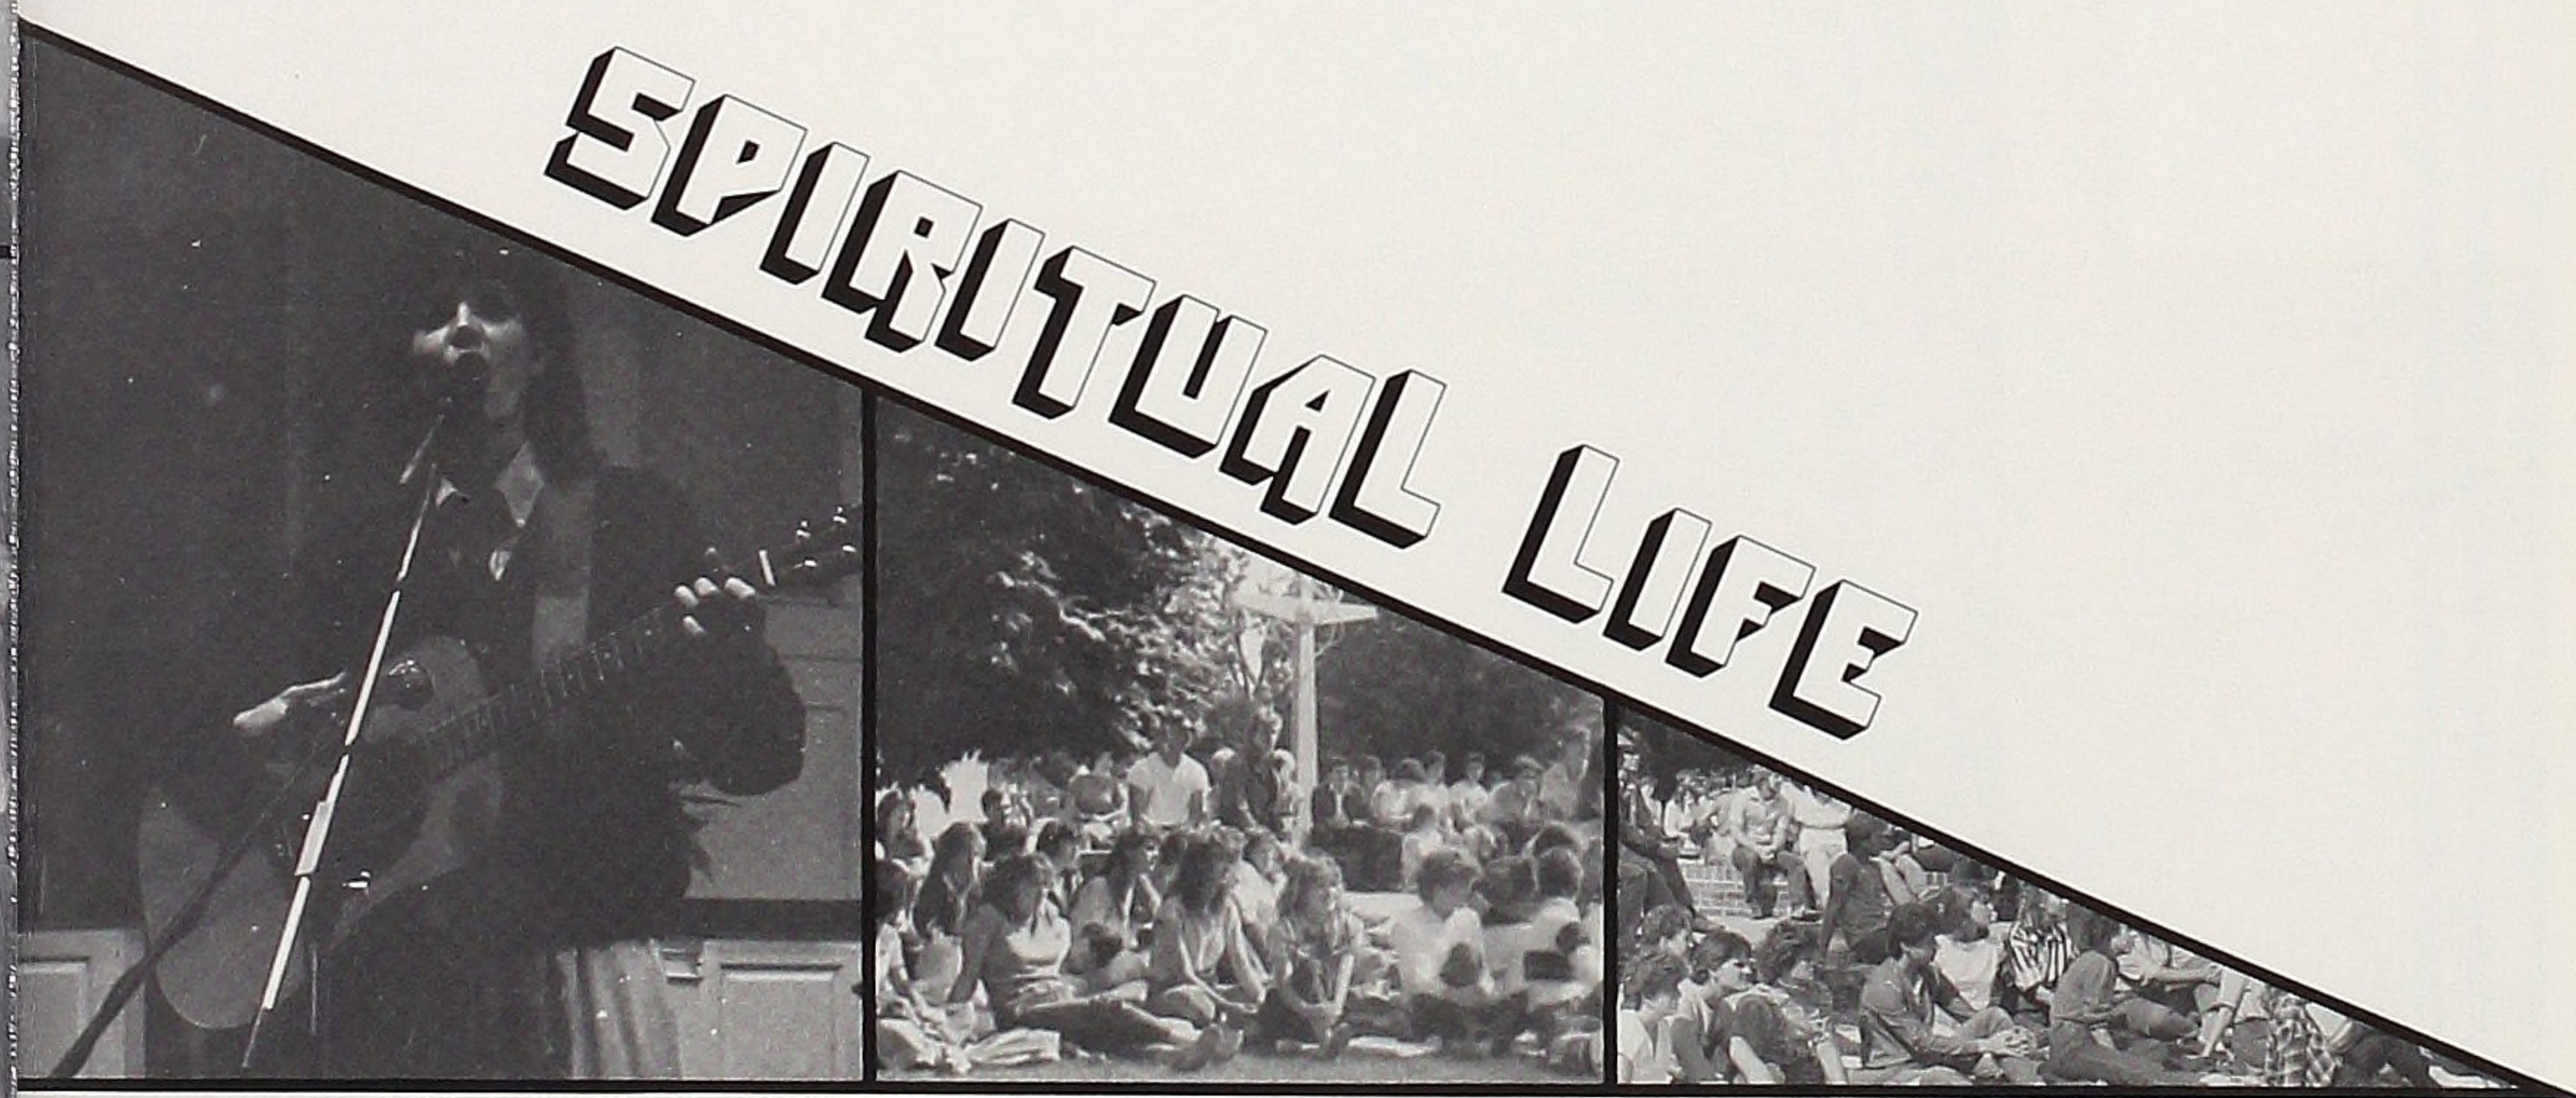

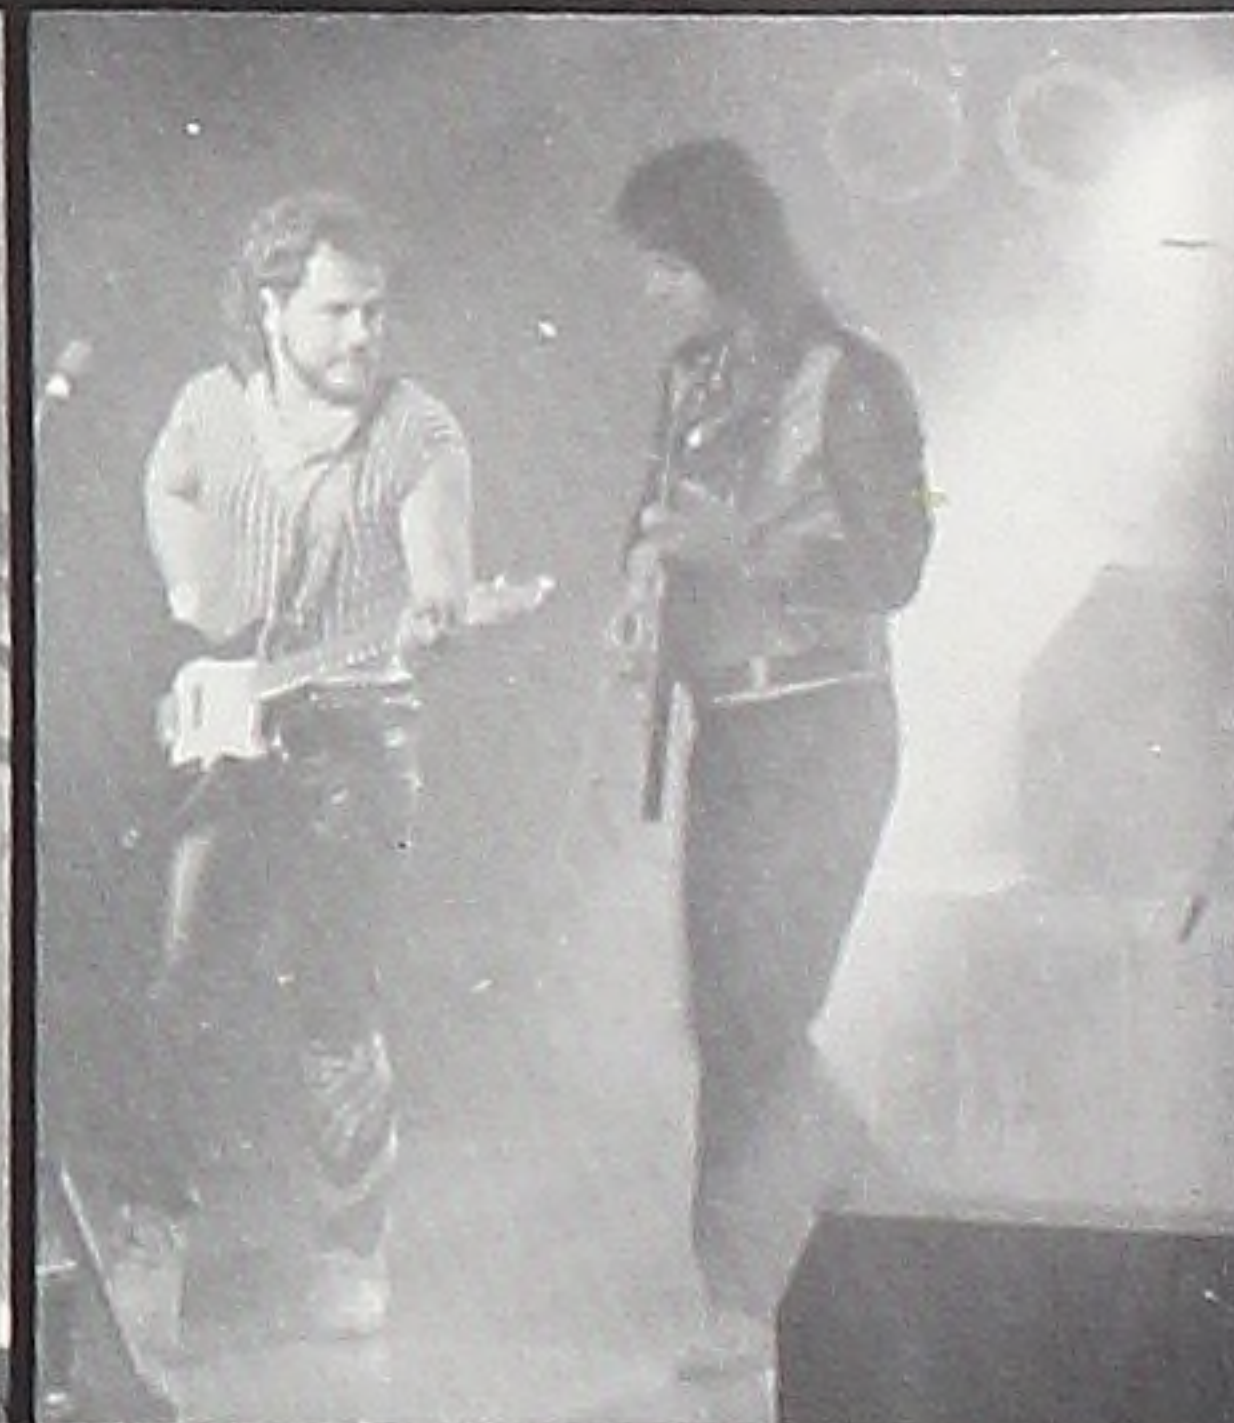

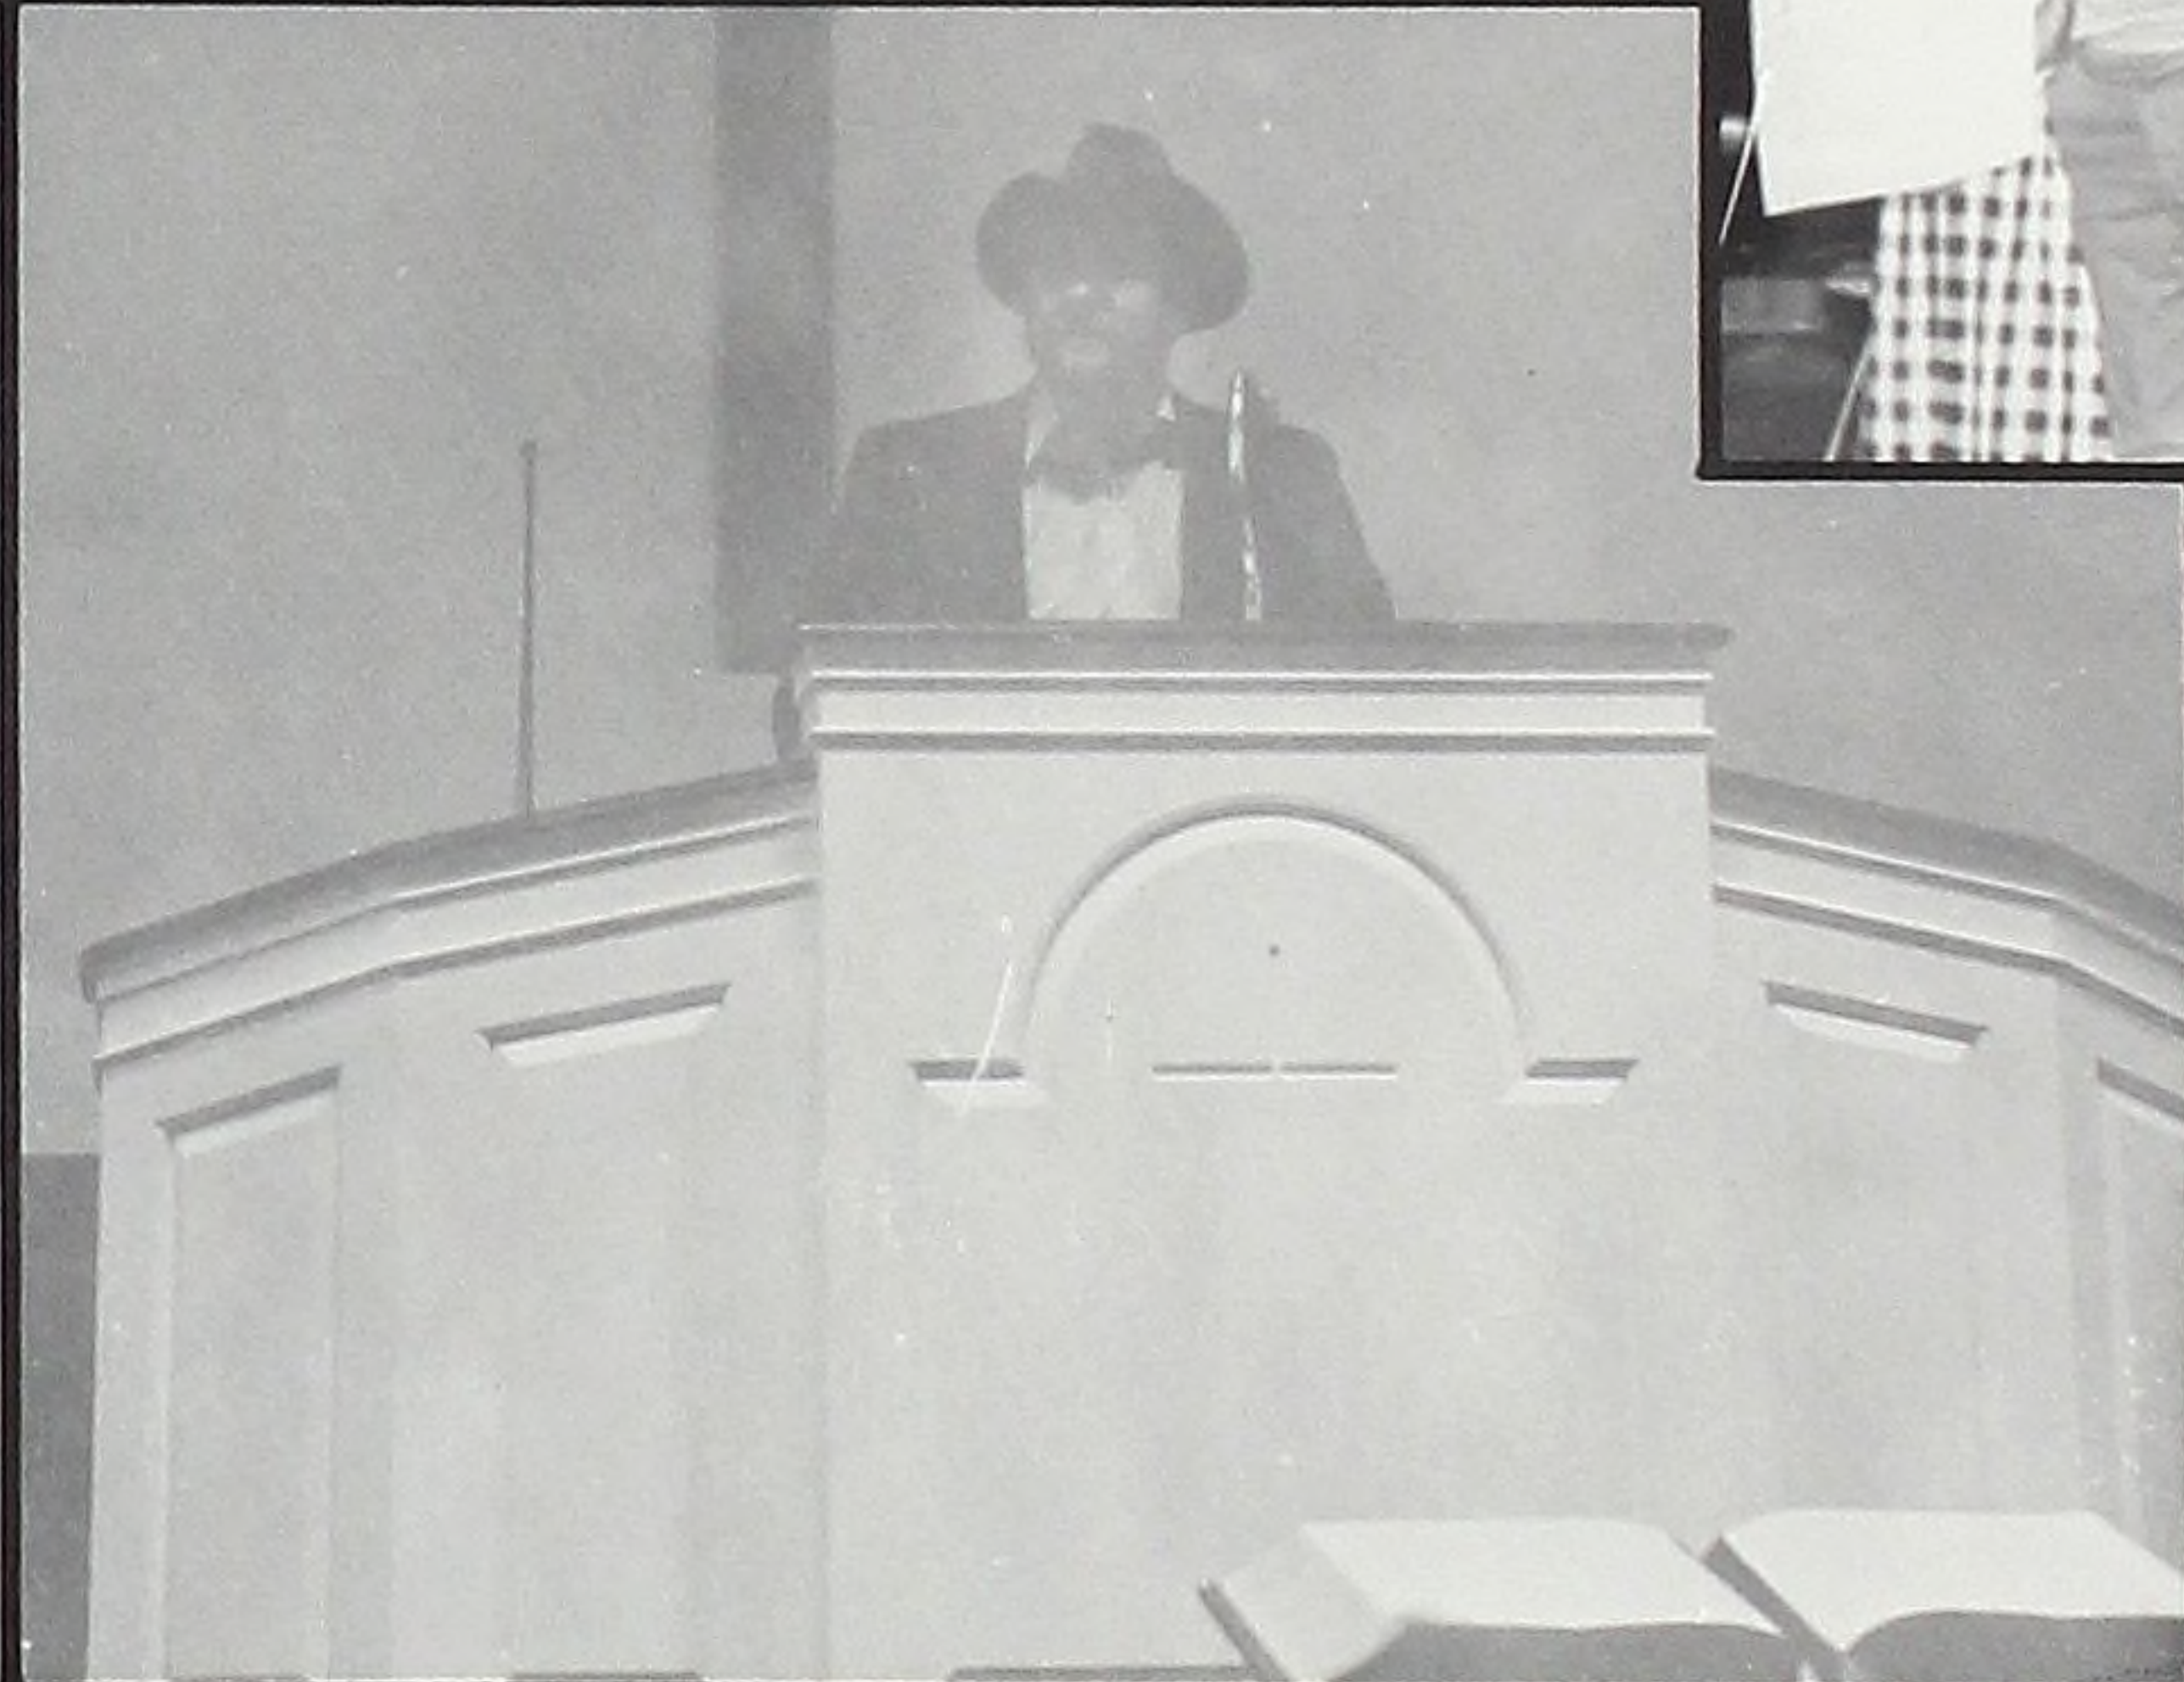

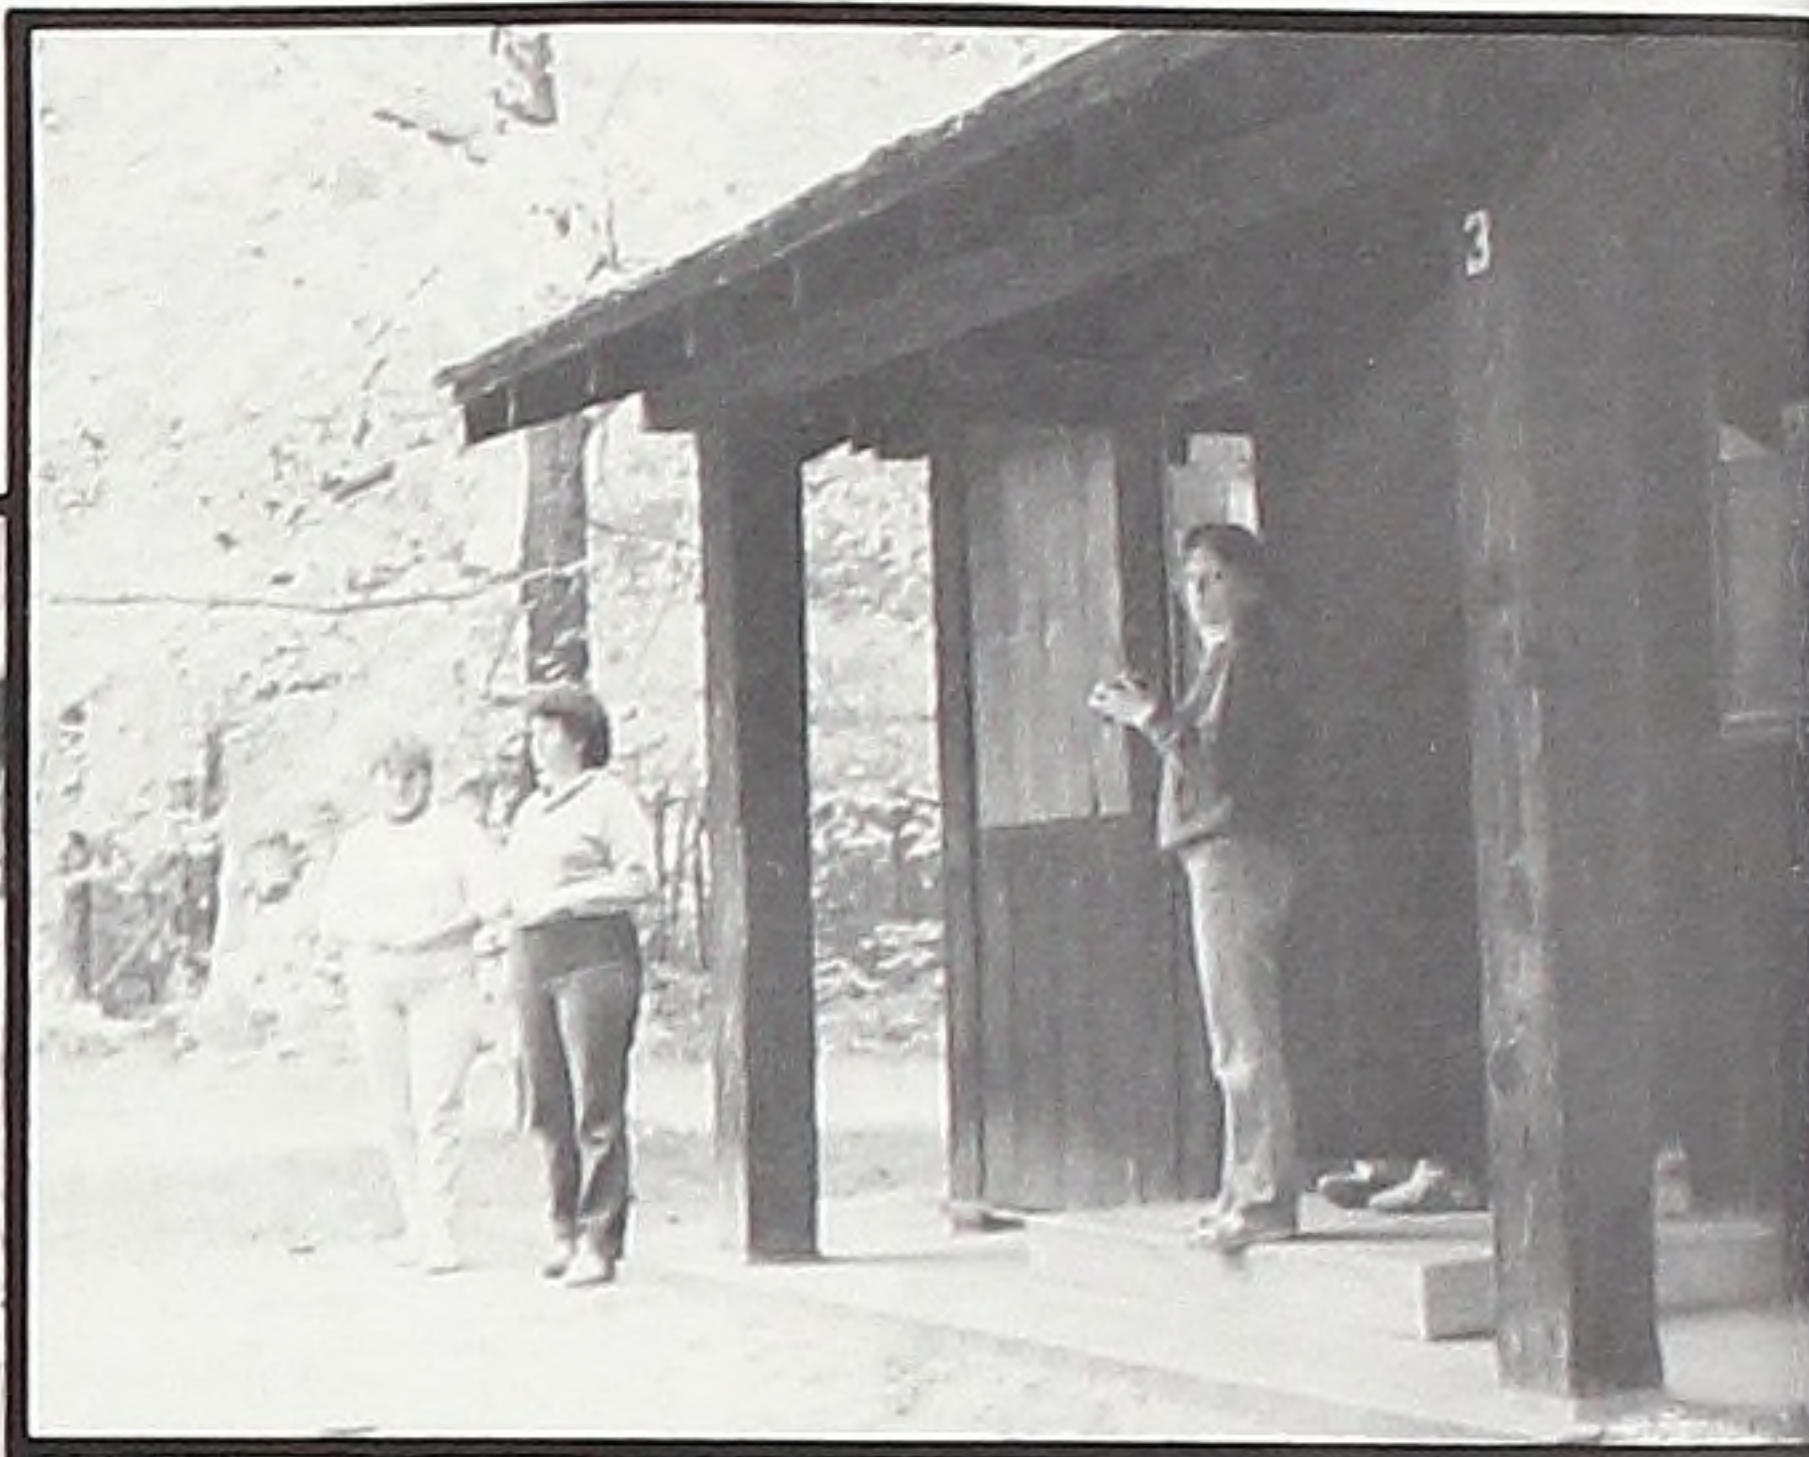

Highlights of the year came from discus and shot thrower Linda Crouch, a sophomore from Grass Lake, and distancerunner Deb Kuntzleman, a senior from Spring Arbor. At the National Christian College Athletic Association (NCCAA) Nationals, Crouch took first in the shot put with 41 feet even. Crouch holds school records in the shot put and discus and was an NCCAA All-American in 1985. Kuntzleman finished third in the NCCAA Nationals in the 1500 meter run with a time of 5:01.17. She also finished third in the 3000 meters in 11:08.53. Other team members also added a lot of momentum to the lady cougars. Junior Terry Jo Horky ran the medium-long runs. Martha Nierto, Lisa Porter, and Deana White, all seniors, showed strengthening that added much to the team.

Other team members included sophomores Dawn Probst, Ann Purdue, and LaVonya Edmonds. Freshmen Jan Vidler, Shawn Ross, Tina Simmons and Joyce Holsworth rounded out the lady trackers.

Spring Arbor sent a 4 x 800 relay team as well as marathoner Deb Kuntzleman to the NAIA Nationals in Hillsdale in May.

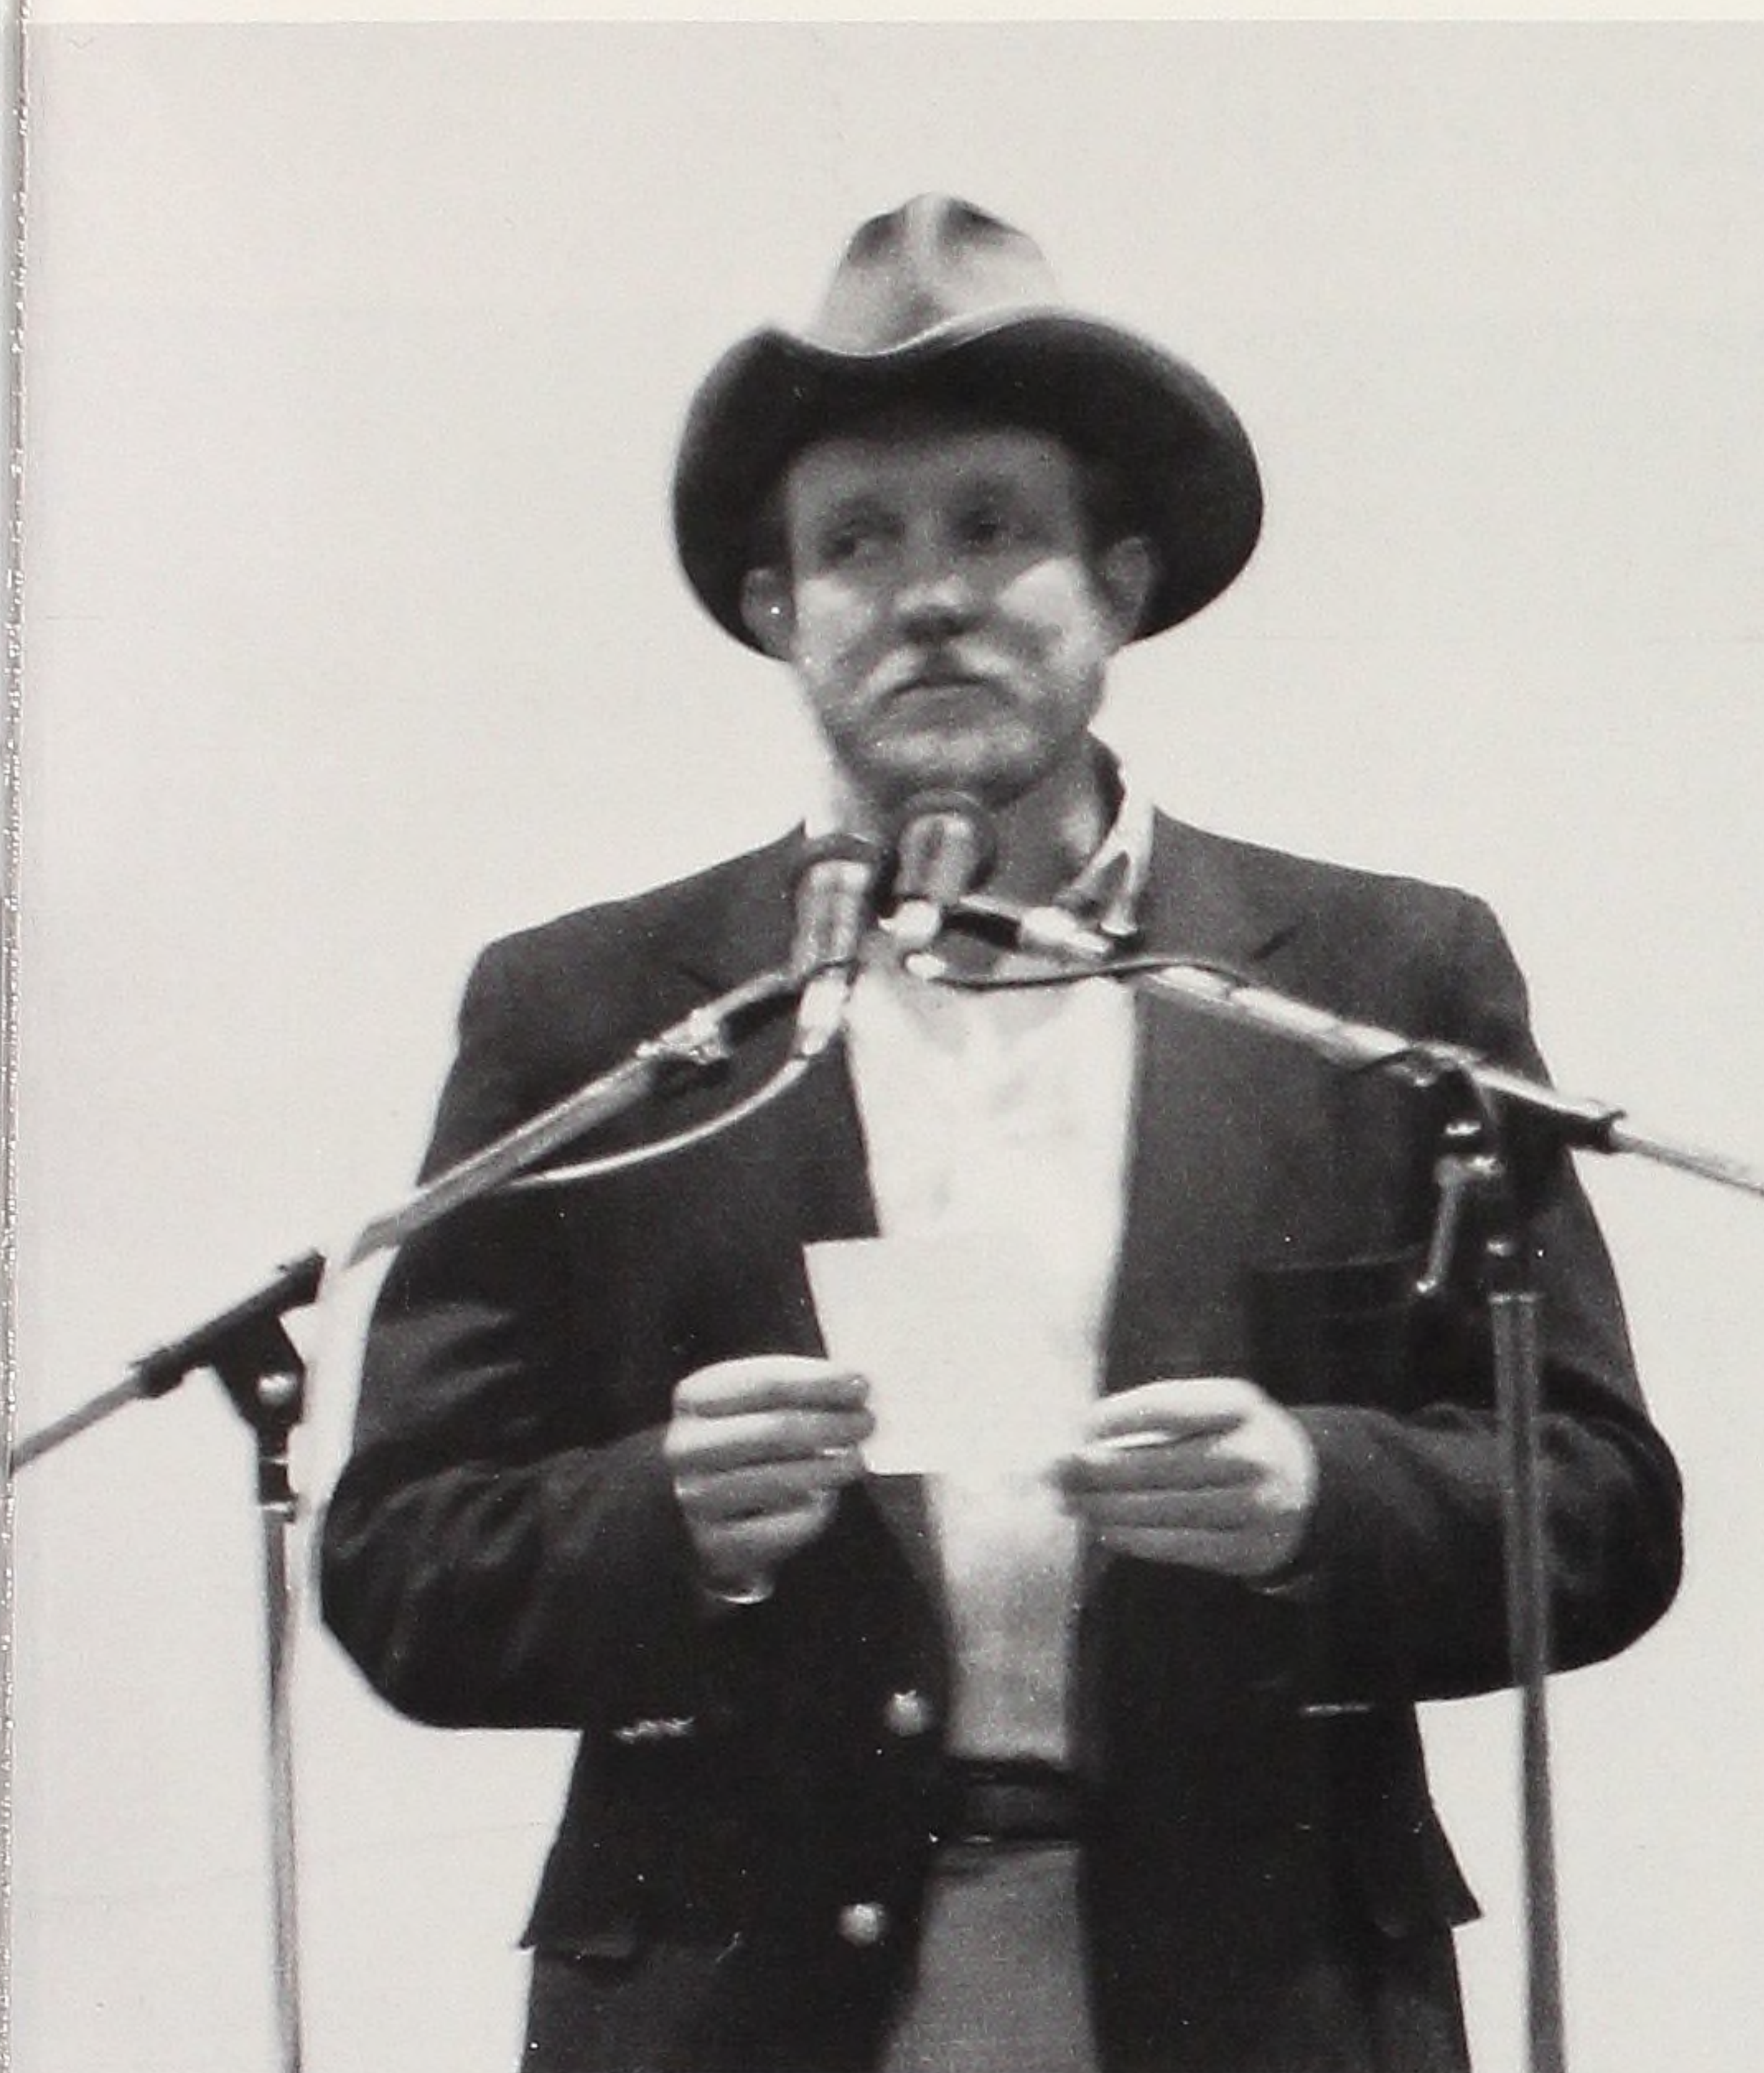

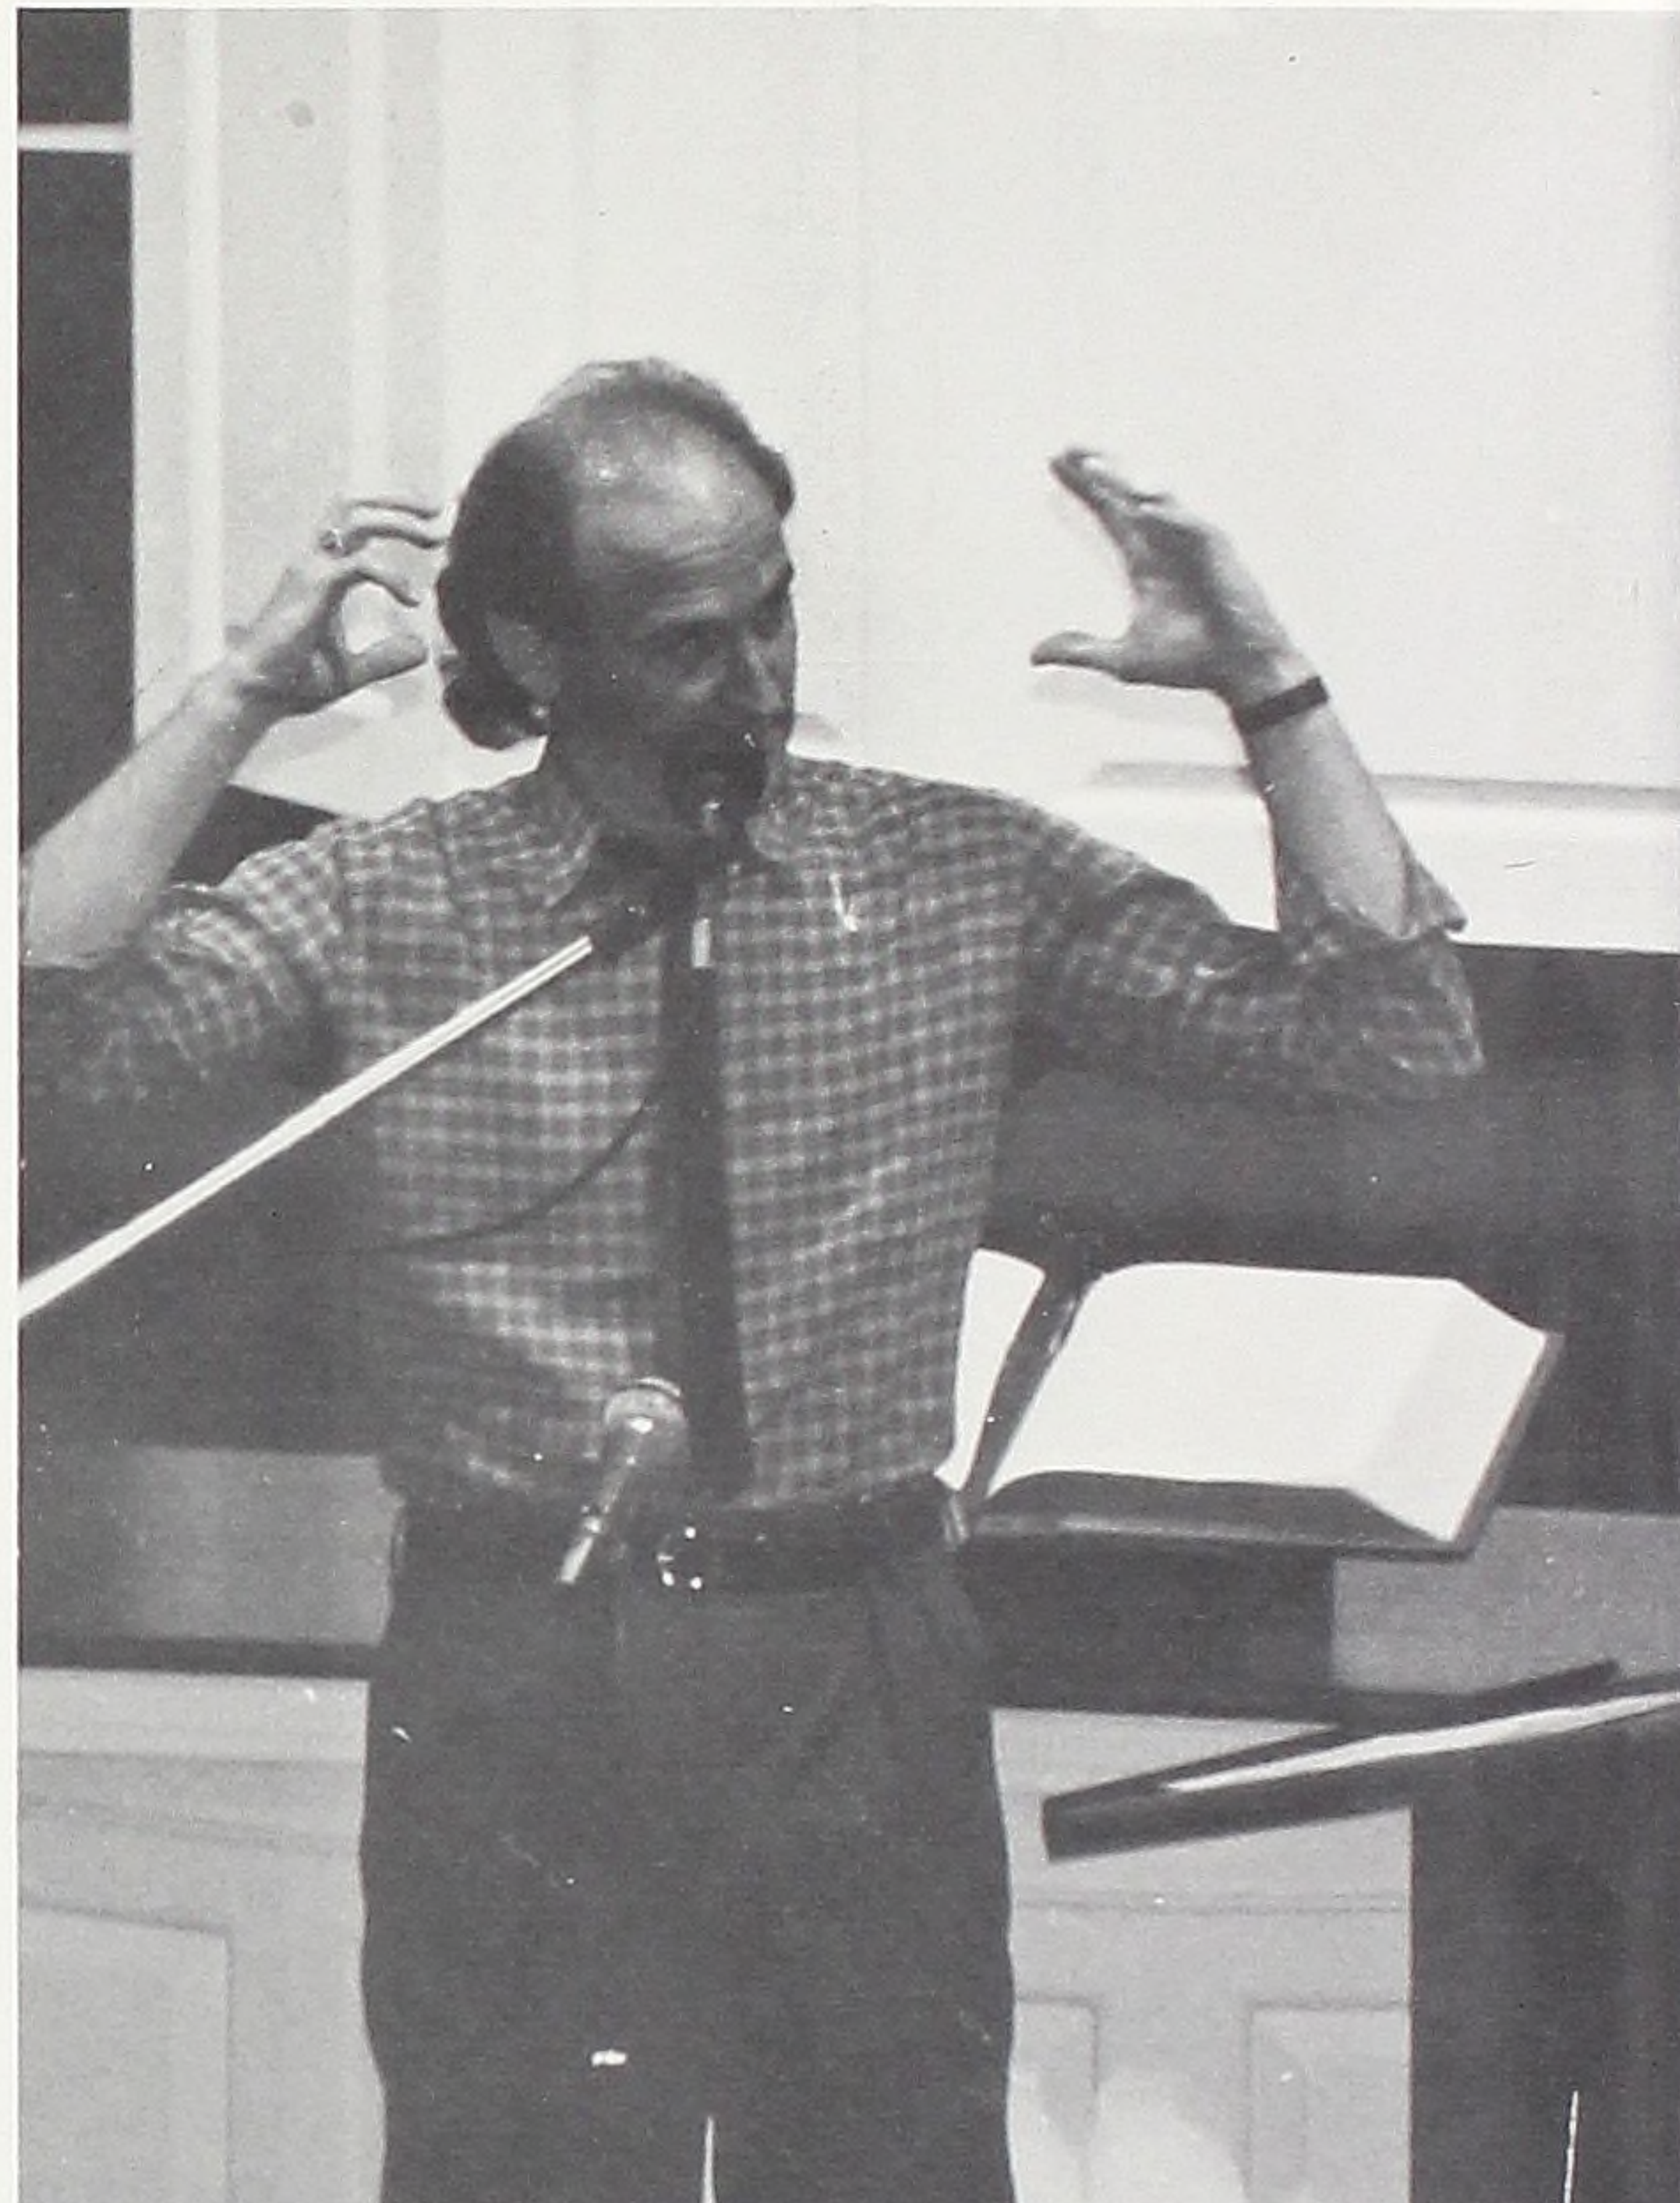

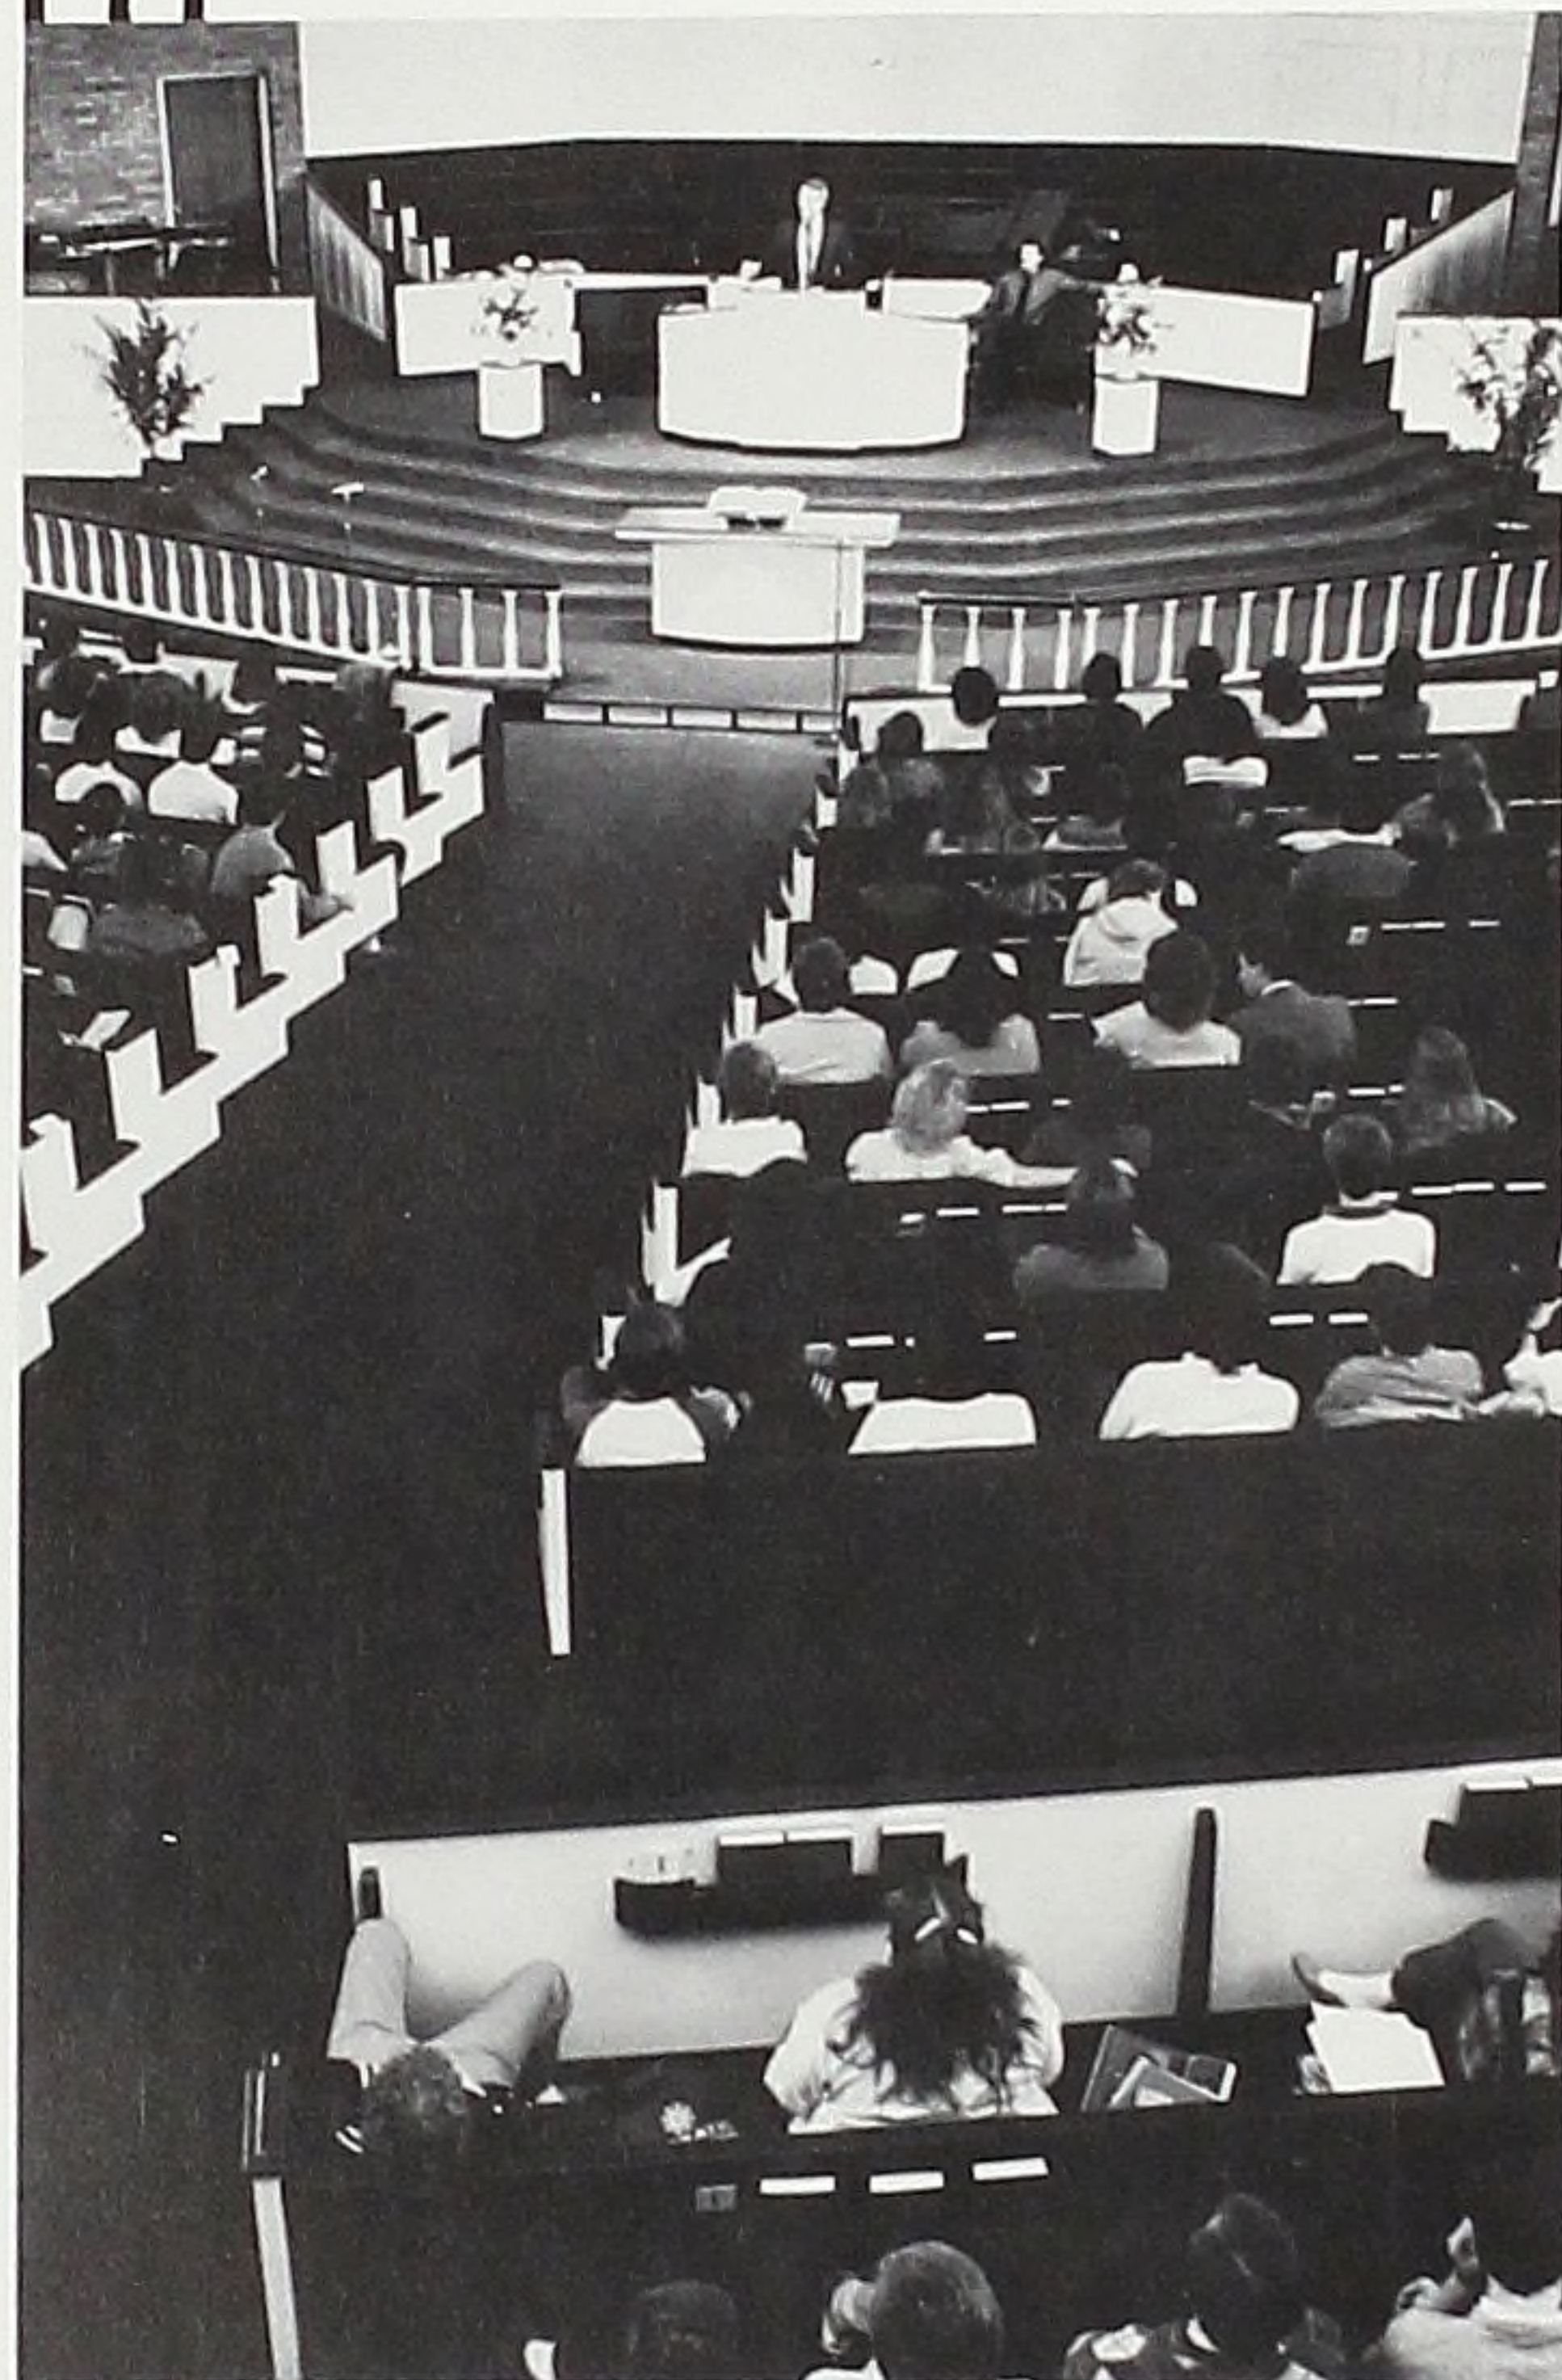

SPIRITUAL LIFE

Chapel

Chapels are a time when the college community meet together for a time of contemplation, praise, and renewal. Chapel is every Monday and Wednesday morning at 10:00. For two hours a week the students are enlightened, entertained and instructed by movies, speakers and special programs.

This years Chapels were an improvement over previous years. Many impressive, thought provoking and interesting speakers came to share their experiences, beliefs and lives. We had clowns, singers, singles, walkers and other interesting people come to speak.

Seed SAC & Company

From Left: Bruce Lawton, Michele Delamarter, Gred Cunningham, Stephanie Thrall, Mark Breen.

It takes a special kind of person to be a part of an Outreach Ministries team. You have to kind of enjoy giving up a big part of your time practicing in the basement of the Green house. You have to not mind spending three — and sometimes four — of your weekends out of the month on the road. You have to learn how to pack and unpack a van quickly, know exactly how much you can fit into a small suitcase, and how to catch up on your sleep while traveling 55 miles an hour in one of the Spring Arbor College Hilton vans.

But the members of our Outreach teams seem to manage all of this, and more. During the school year, Seed SAC and Common Bond travel to various churches and other schools proclaiming the message of Jesus Christ, and representing Spring Arbor College. But often students right here on campus take for granted the work their peers do. The comments are heard: "Oh, you play with puppets? You do kid's churches and stuff, right?" Or students often tell members of Common Bond, "Gee, it must be fun, just traveling around and singing and getting paid, huh?" True, being a part of ministry is enjoyable — and a lot of work. But there's so much more to being involved in an outreach ministry.

There's a certain satisfaction in knowing what you're doing is spreading the word of God. Seed SAC this year used the story of the call of King David to show kids of all ages that when you're open to God's call, He'll do great things in your life. And by doing this show, the members of Seed SAC themselves have grown in the knowledge and trust of the Father.

Another benefit of being involved in an Outreach is using your talents to take the message of salvation to the people. Common Bond used the medium of music to do that. This year they used such songs as "We are the reason" and "Sing your praise to the Lord" to tell people that the Lord isn't just a myth, but something real in their lives.

All fun and games? Not hardly. But in the end, if you ask most people who've been involved in an Outreach Ministry if it was worth it, they'll tell you yes — even if they groan a bit. After all, aren't we all called to minister? The outreach teams are a representation of that call in action.

Common Bond

As I sat and tried to think of something to say about the Alpha II fire that happened this year, a thousand thoughts ran through my head. Not being a member of the floor, I have a different and somewhat removed view of "Ash Wednesday". Now, it's a little easier to talk about it. But then, there wasn't anything funny about the incident.

Tuesday, February nineteenth, Alpha II caught on fire. Within a very short time, firemen were surrounding the Alpha wing of Lowell Hall and the cold February air was filled with the stench of burning. There was a lot of confusion and a lot of prayers went up in a very short time. I guess the overriding thought on everyone's mind was "Did everyone make it out?"

Soon the whole campus knew that everyone was alright, but the material tolls had been heavy: some of the girls had lost everything.

Within the next couple of hours, groups of students were canvassing the campus. Everyone pitched in. Dorm floors offered rooms, clothes, and understanding shoulders for those still shaken by the night's events.

The extended community that we boast here at Spring Arbor also jumped to action. Faculty and staff opened their doors for the night and, when the extent of the damage was known, they "adopted"

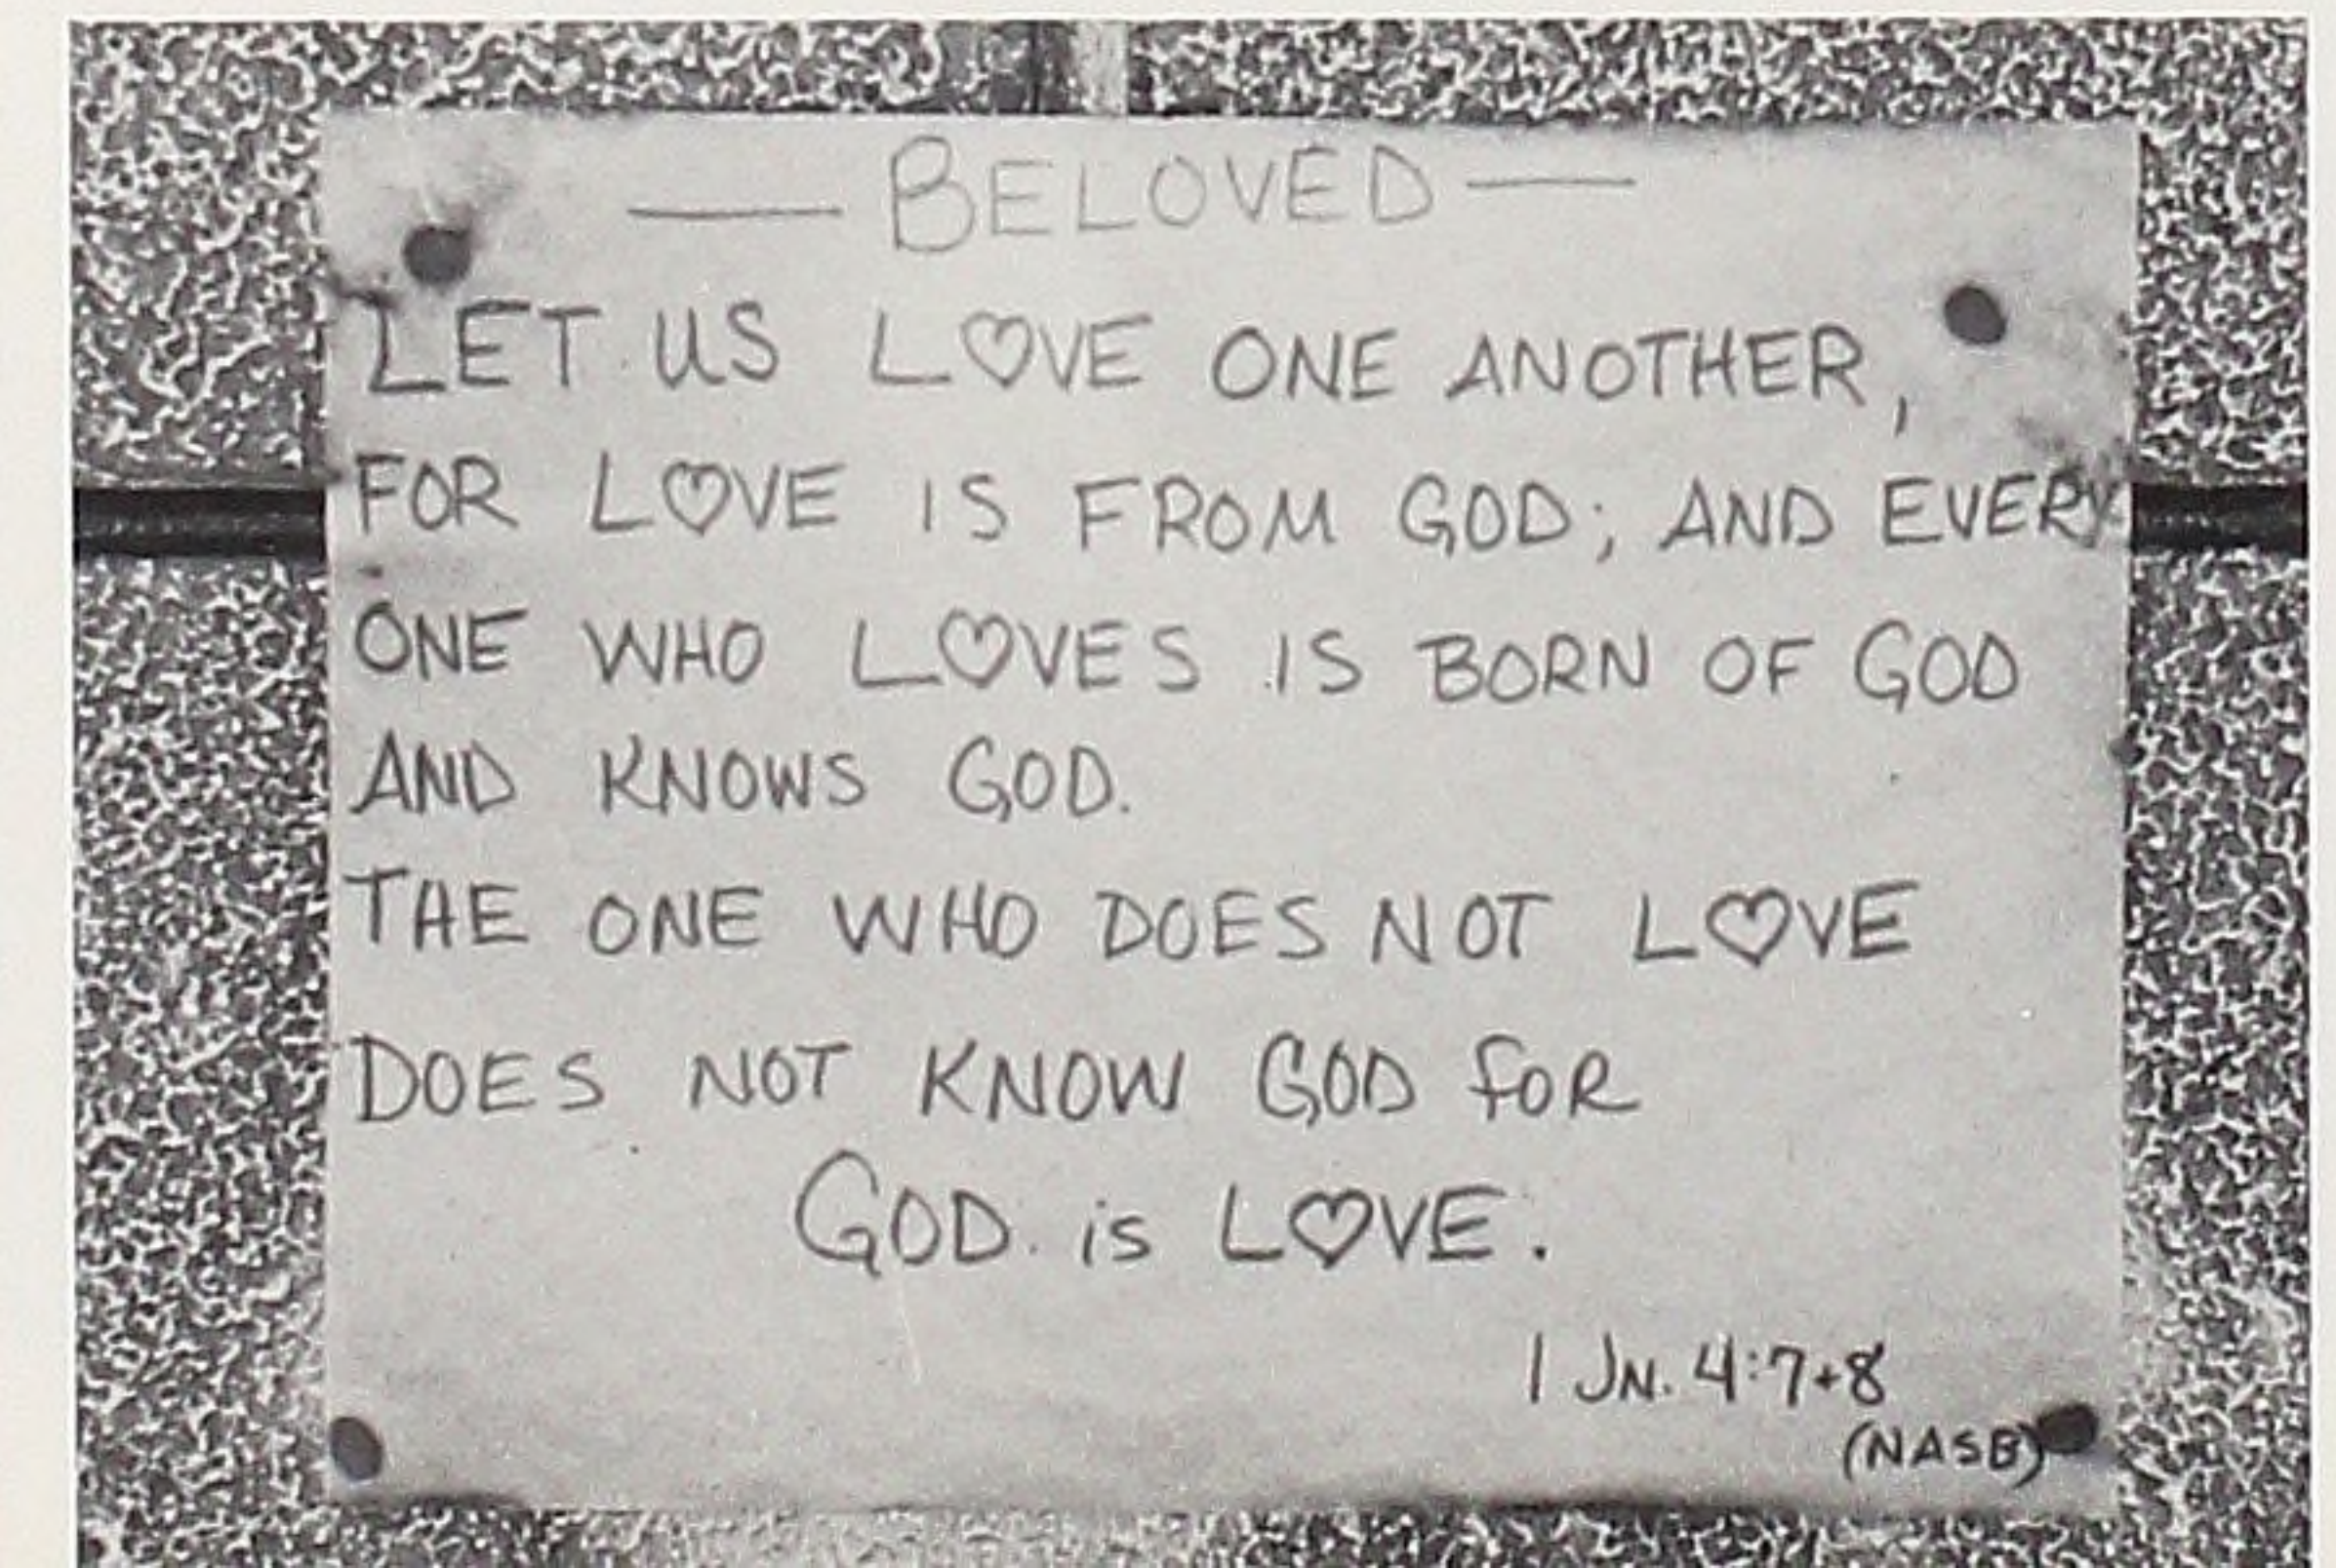

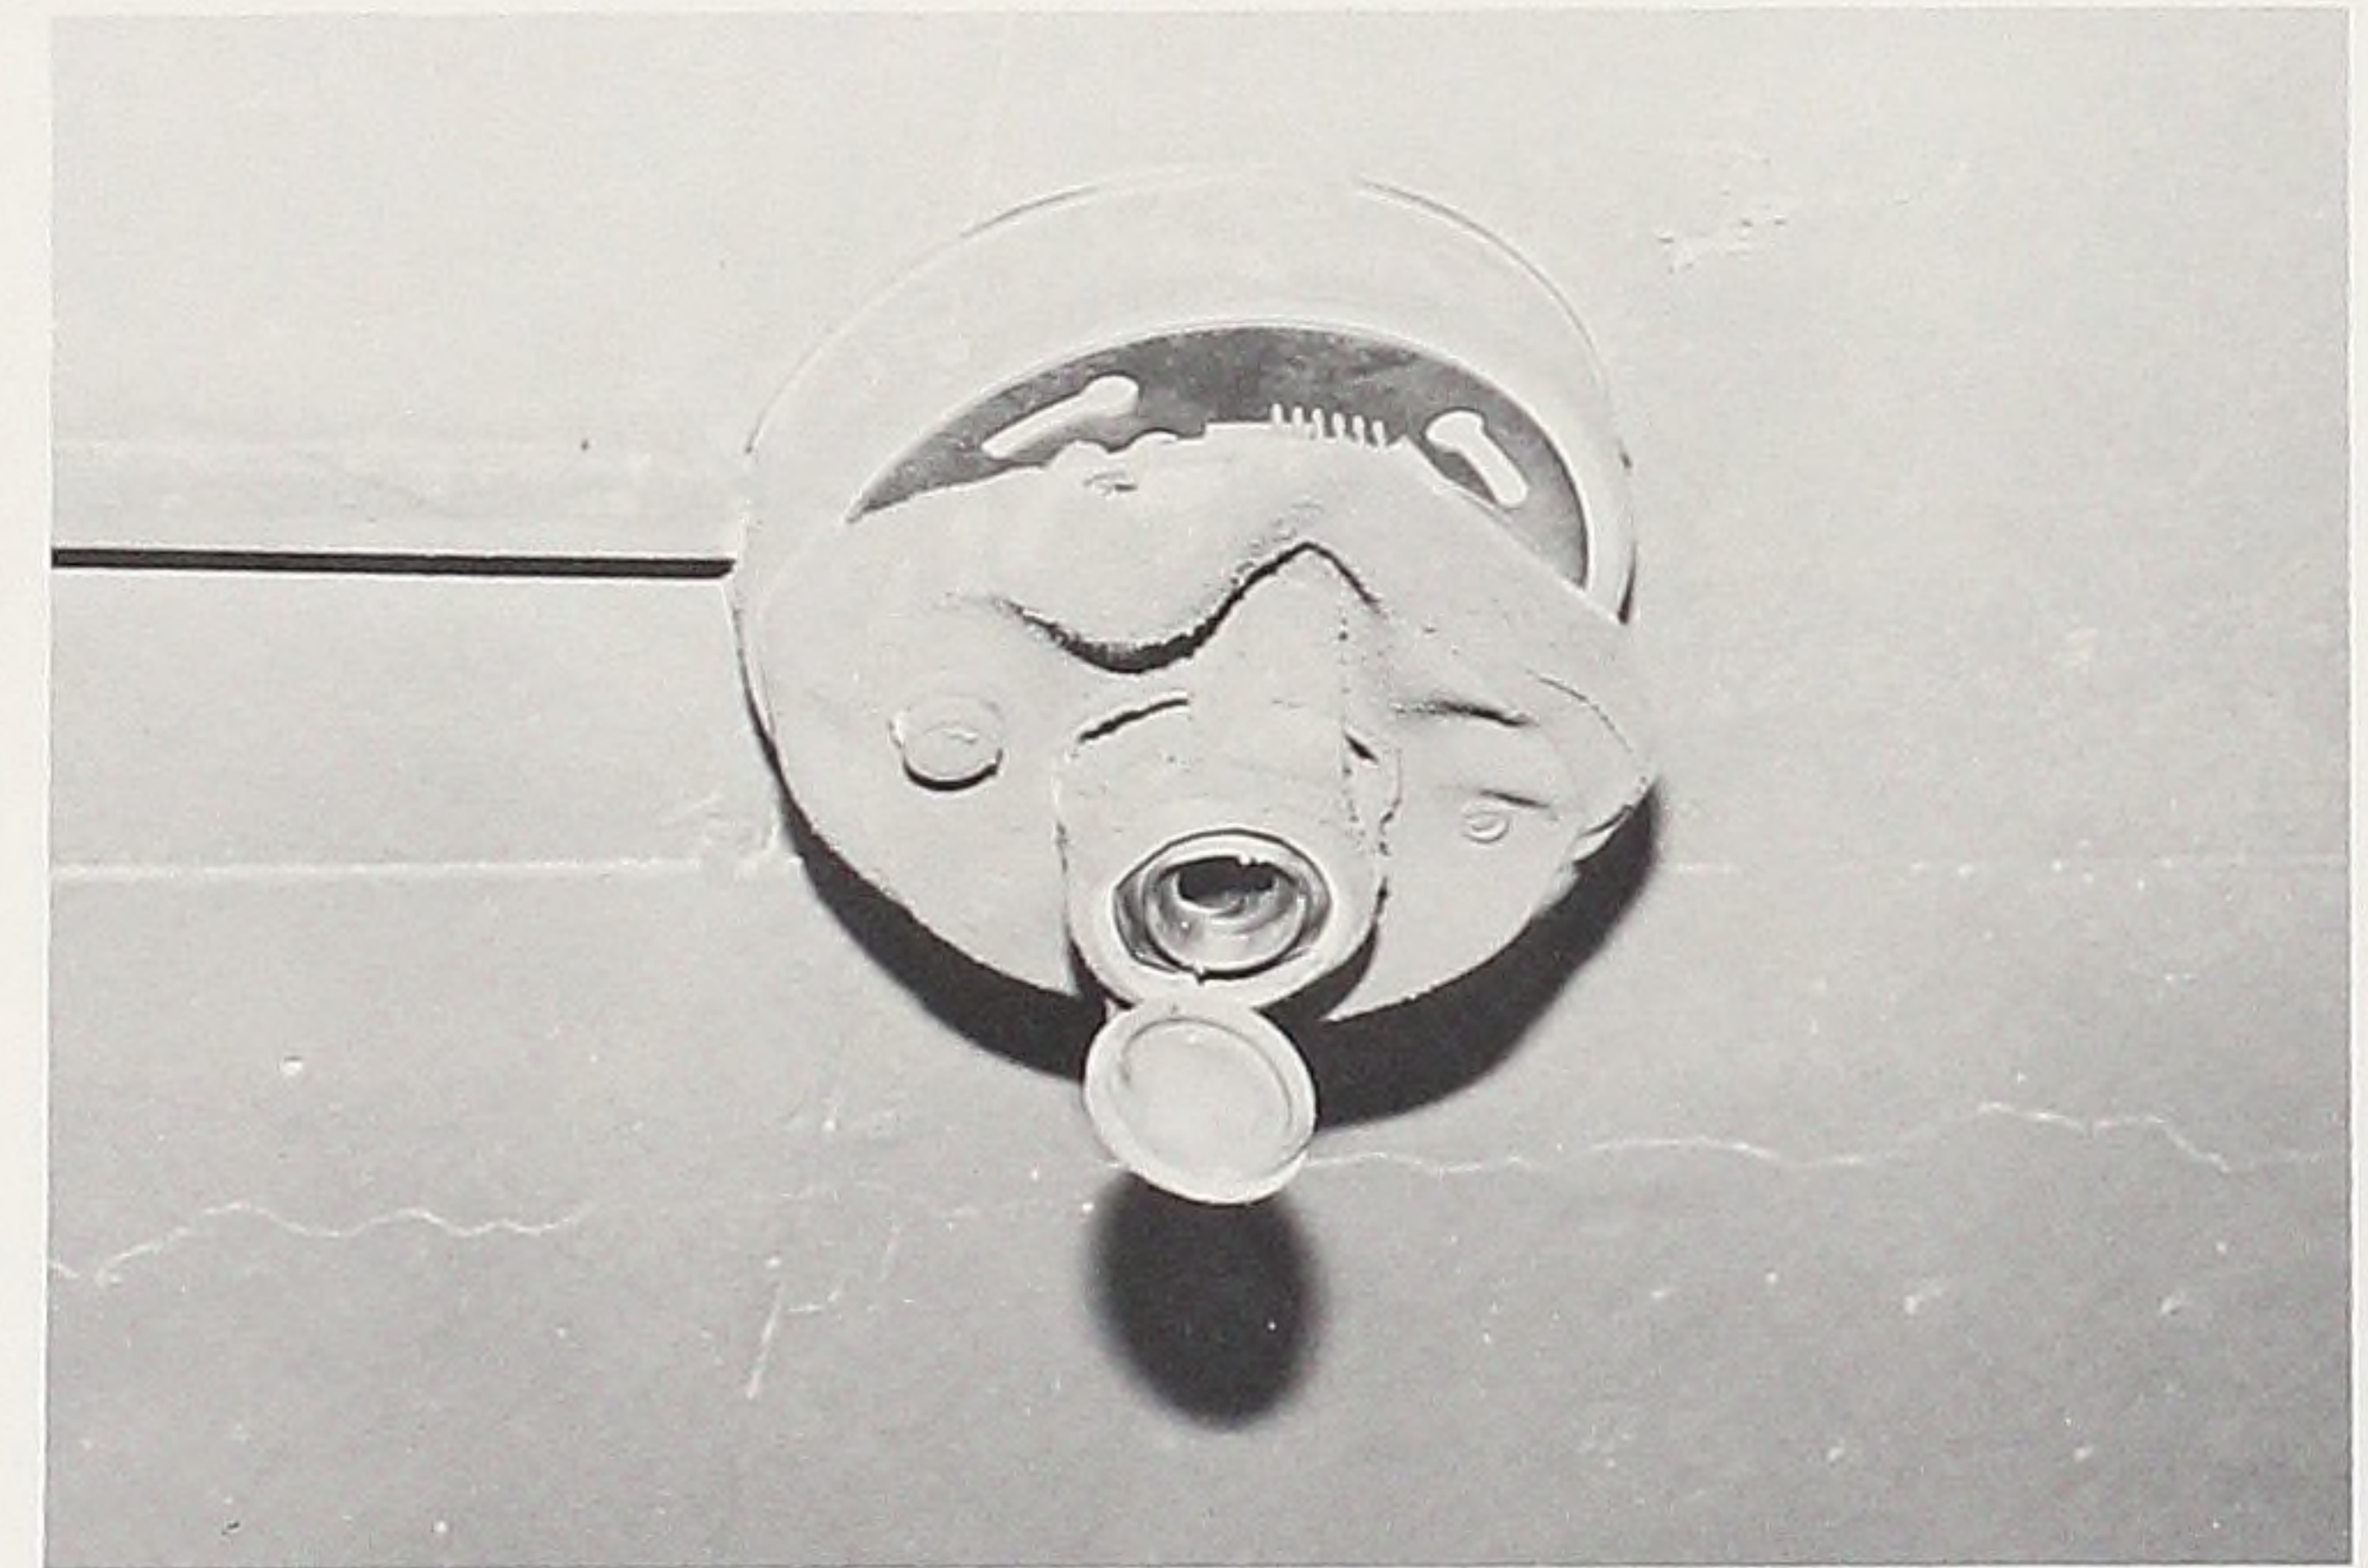

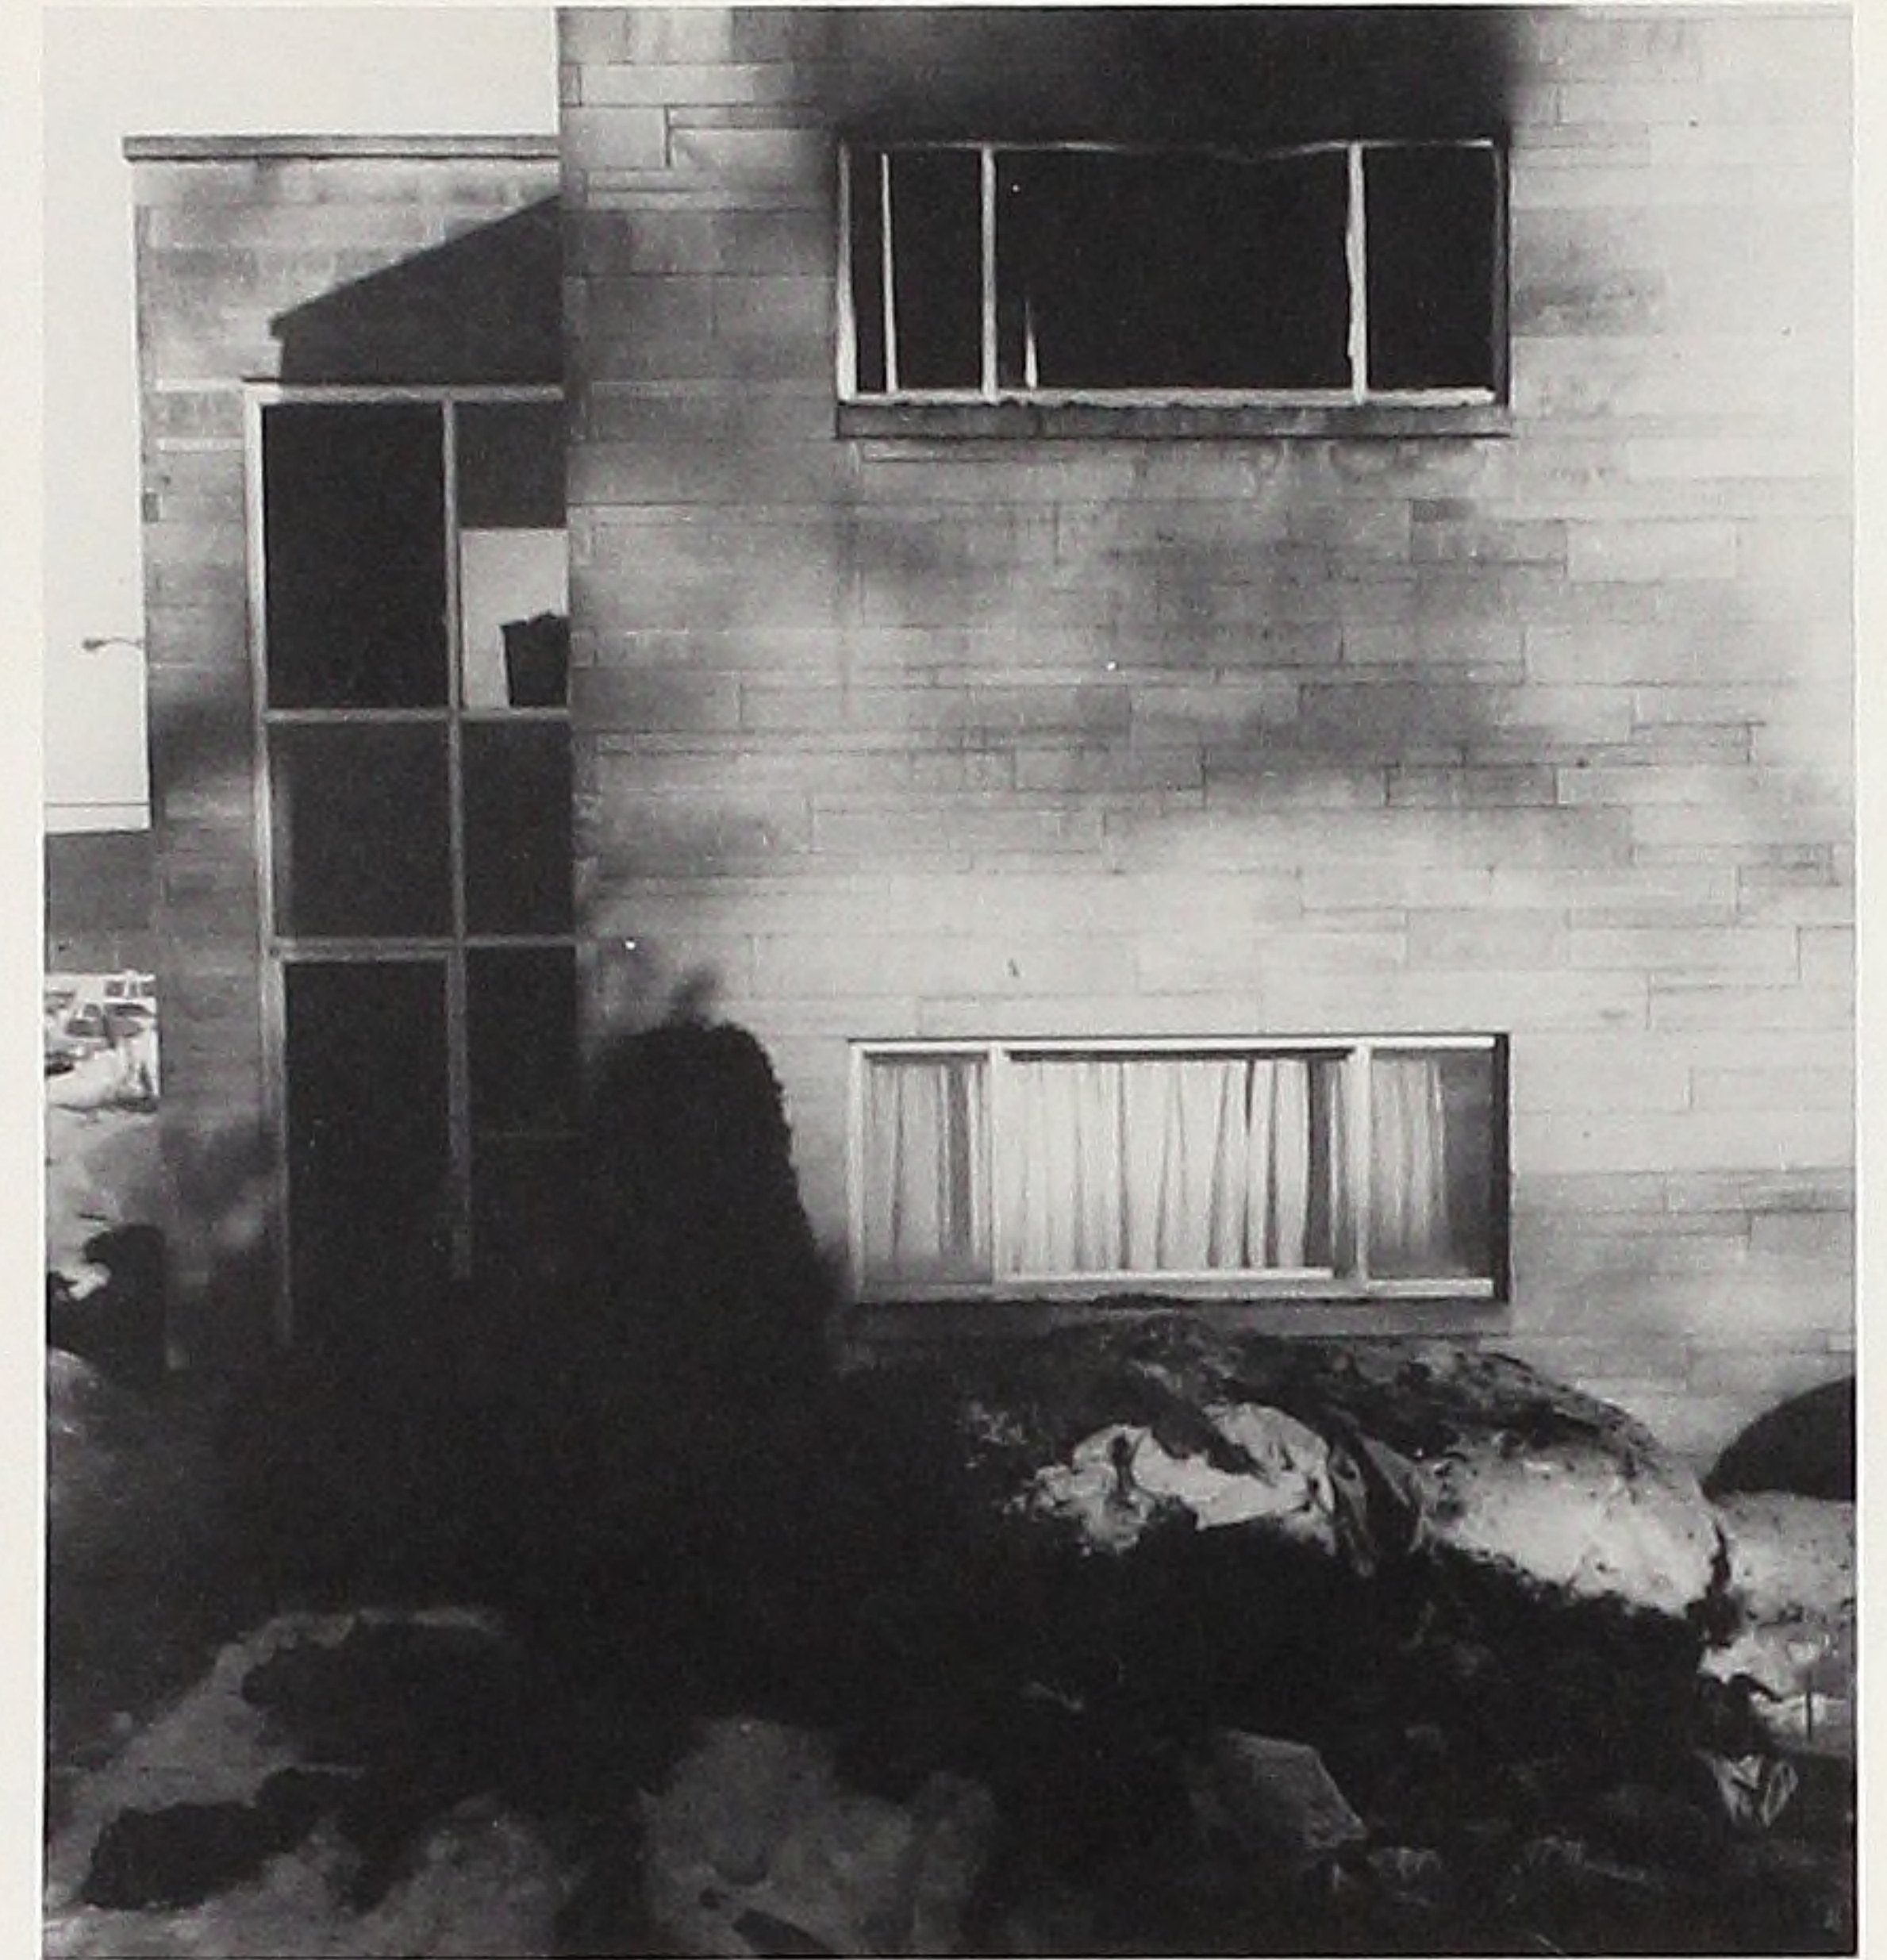

Alpha II women for the next two weeks.

Those two weeks following were trying. But a funny thing happened on campus. Through all that had happened, a new spirit was growing. For the first time in a long time, there was no "upper" or "lower" campus. Rather, there was Spring Arbor College. The needs and hurts of Alpha II became the needs and hurts of the whole campus. An offering in chapel brought in well over one thousand dollars. Students went out of their way to help — in any way — the girls of Alpha II.

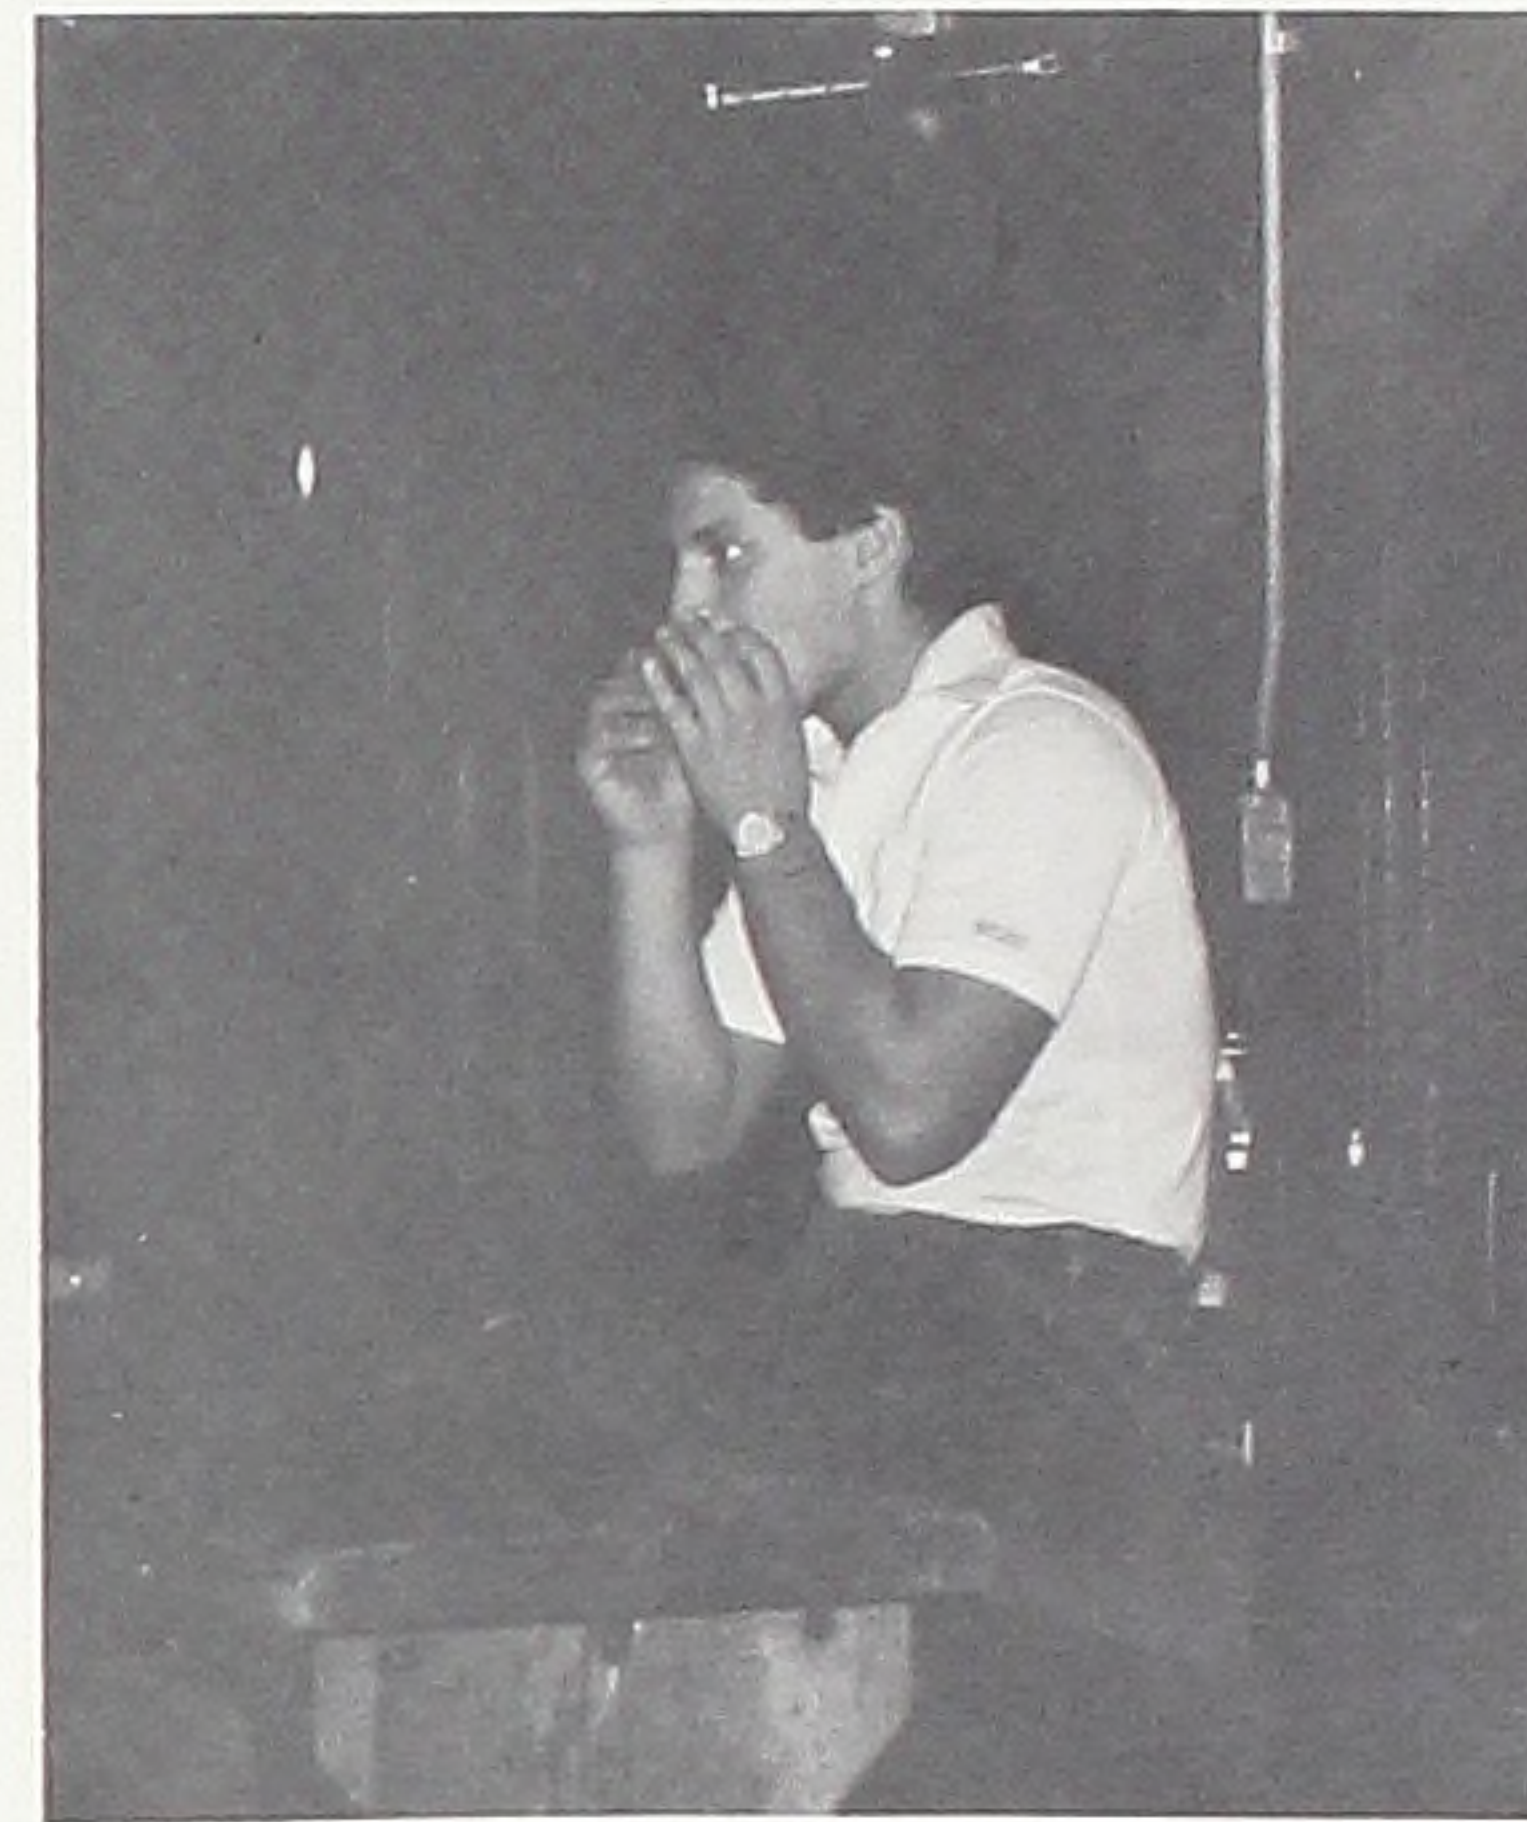

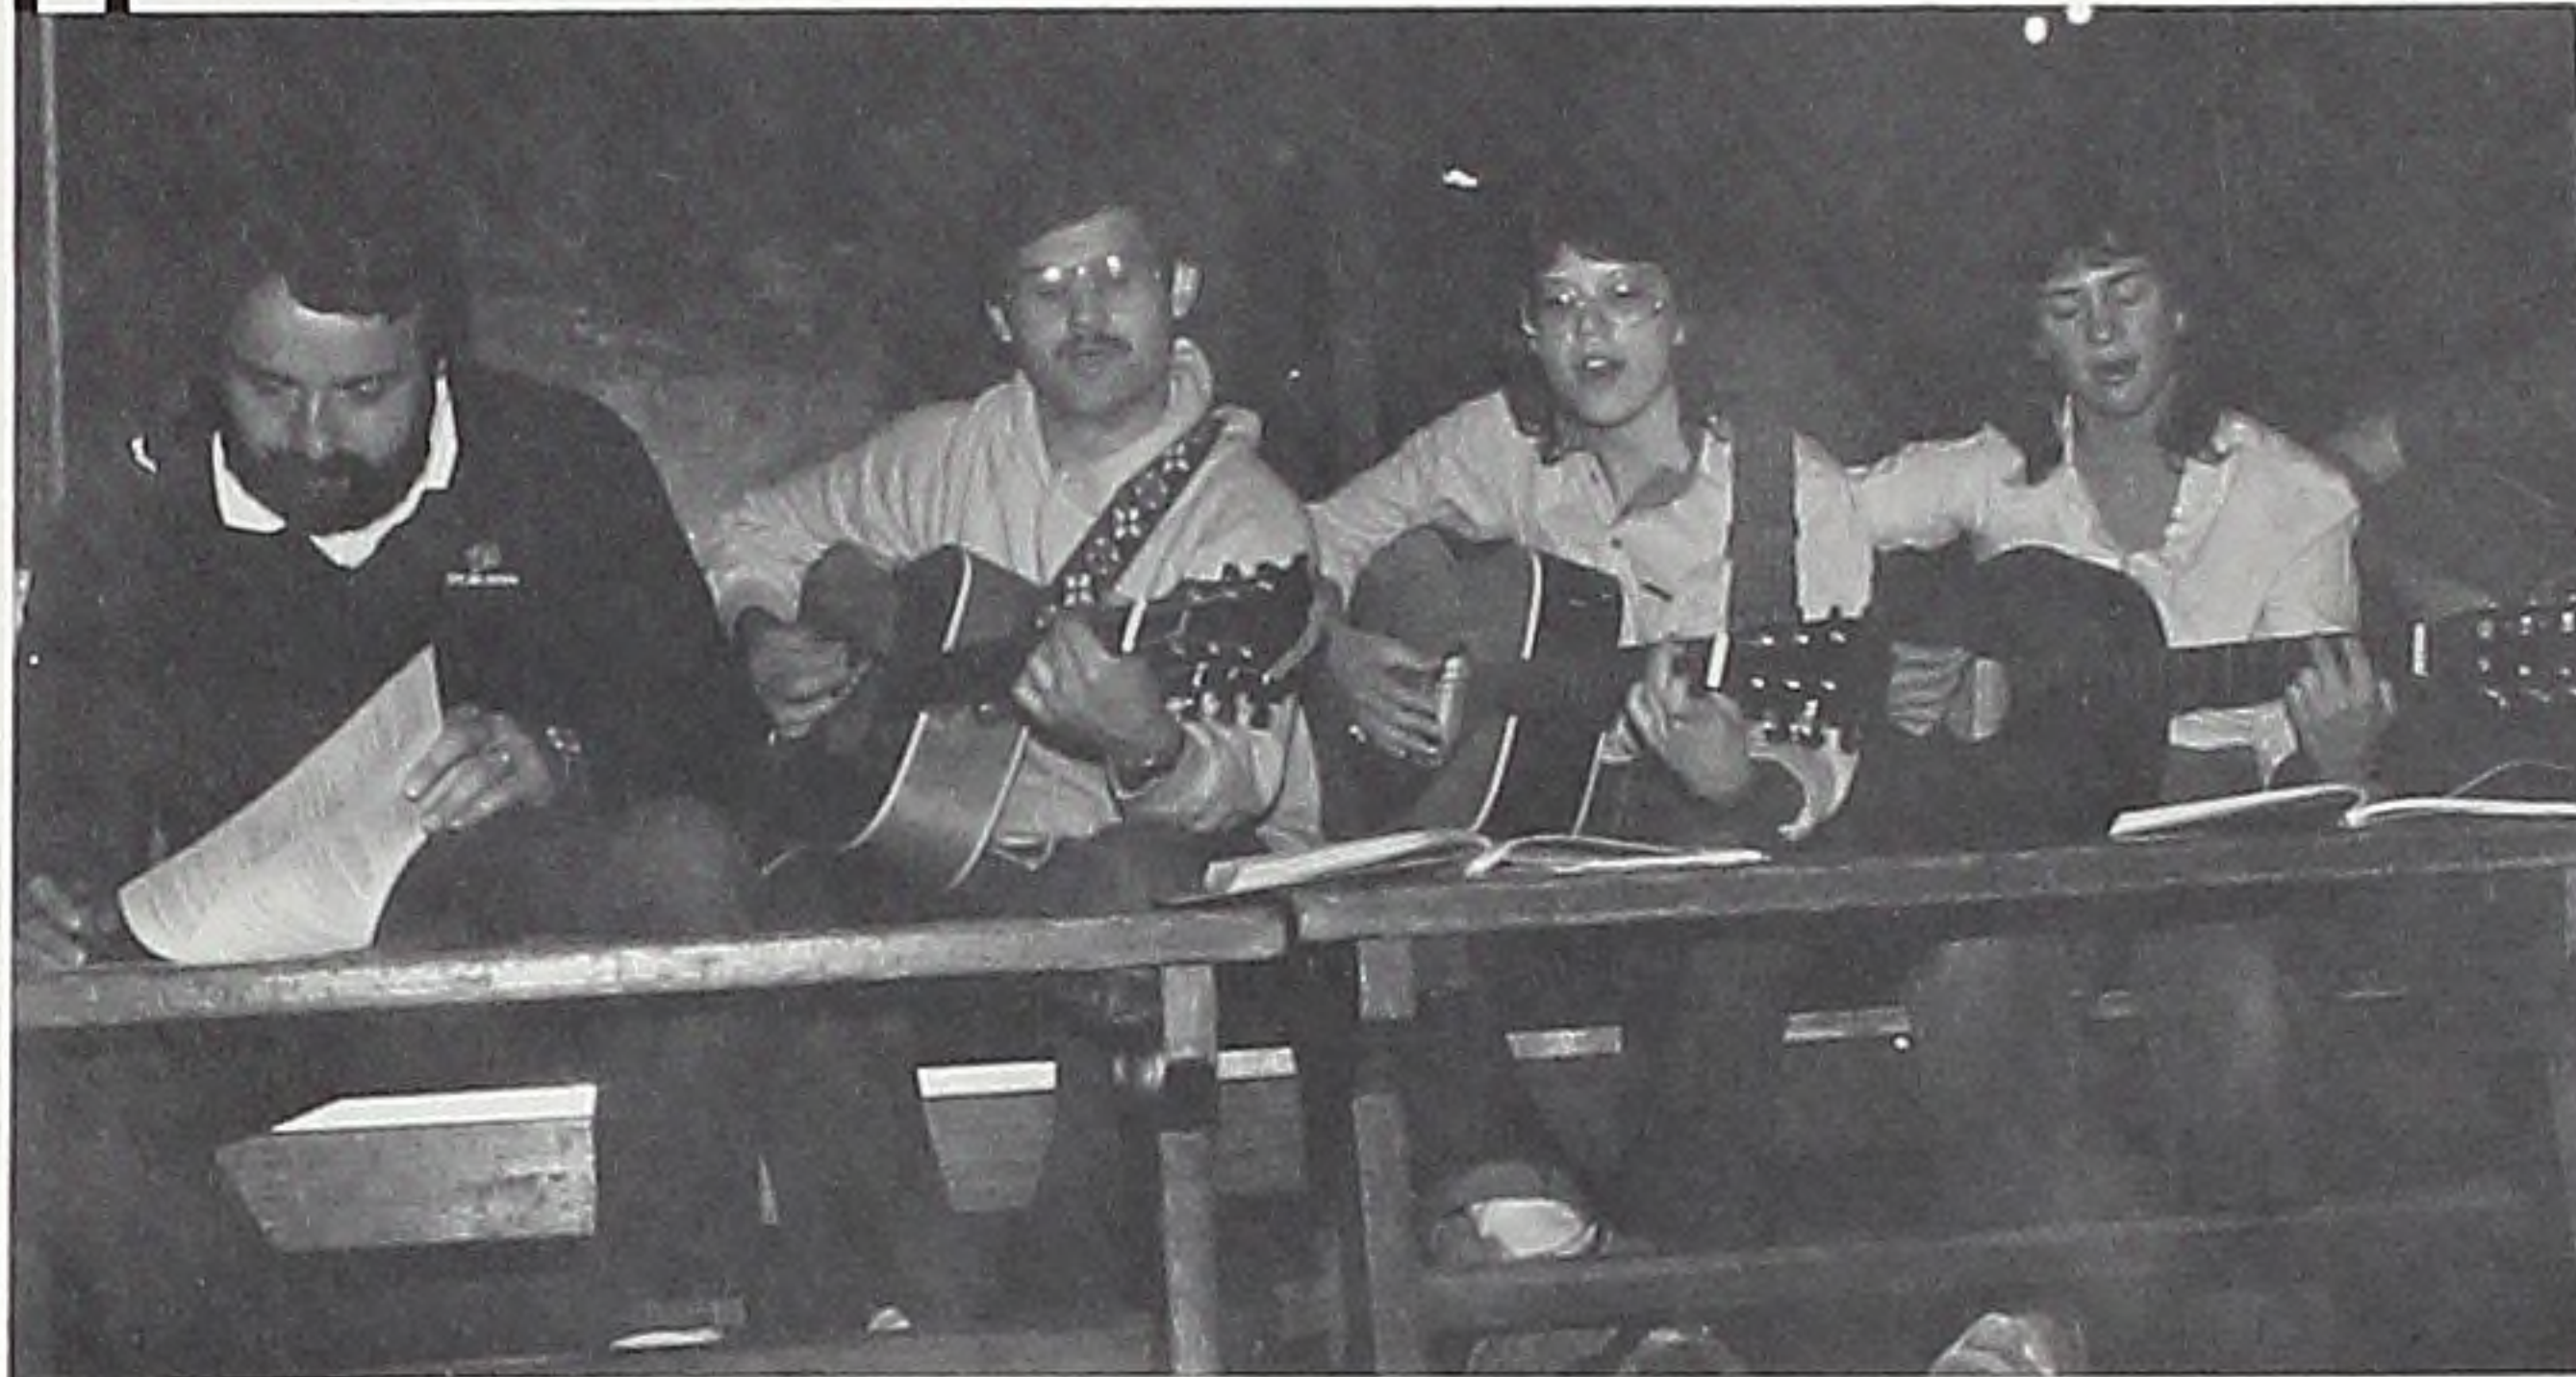

Now, we can stand back as observers and say, "We have a lot to thank God for". And it's true. The women of Alpha II now laugh about the incident, going as far as to deck out in "fire clothes" and parade around the Midnight Breakfast behind a siren. But the fear won't be soon forgotten. Thankfully, I don't think the love and true spirit of community will, either.

There's a passage in Romans that states, "All things work together for the good of them that love the Lord." The fire wasn't good; but what happened afterwards — and in a way, is still happening — proves again that there's something behind the concept that Spring Arbor stands for. And for that, we all should be thankful.

— Gina Walker

The Retreat

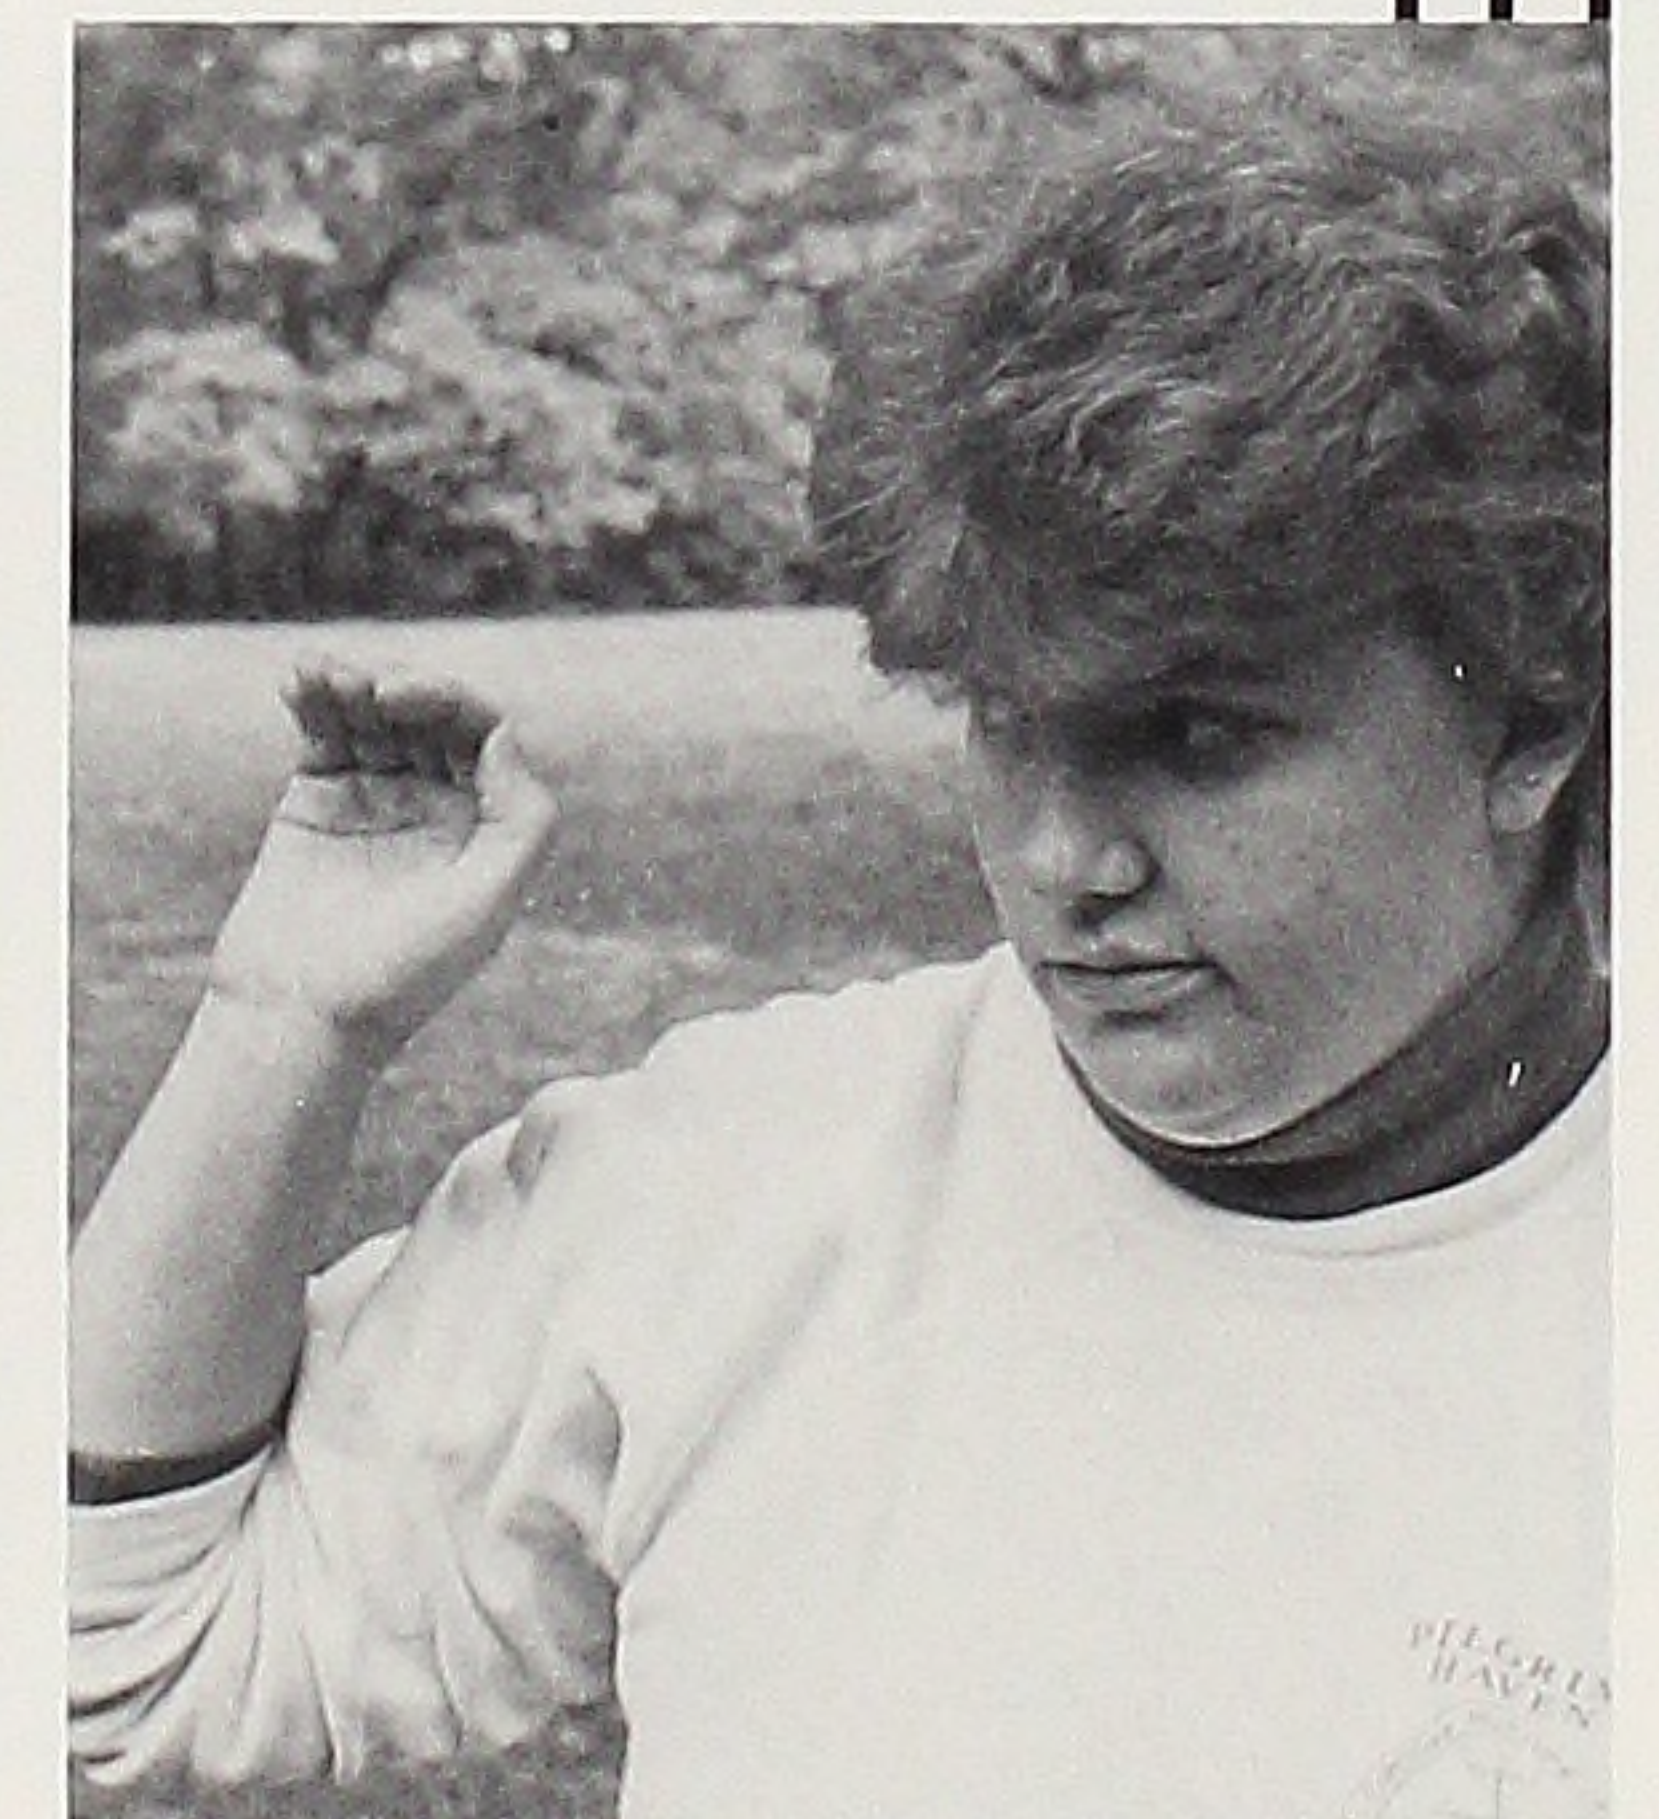

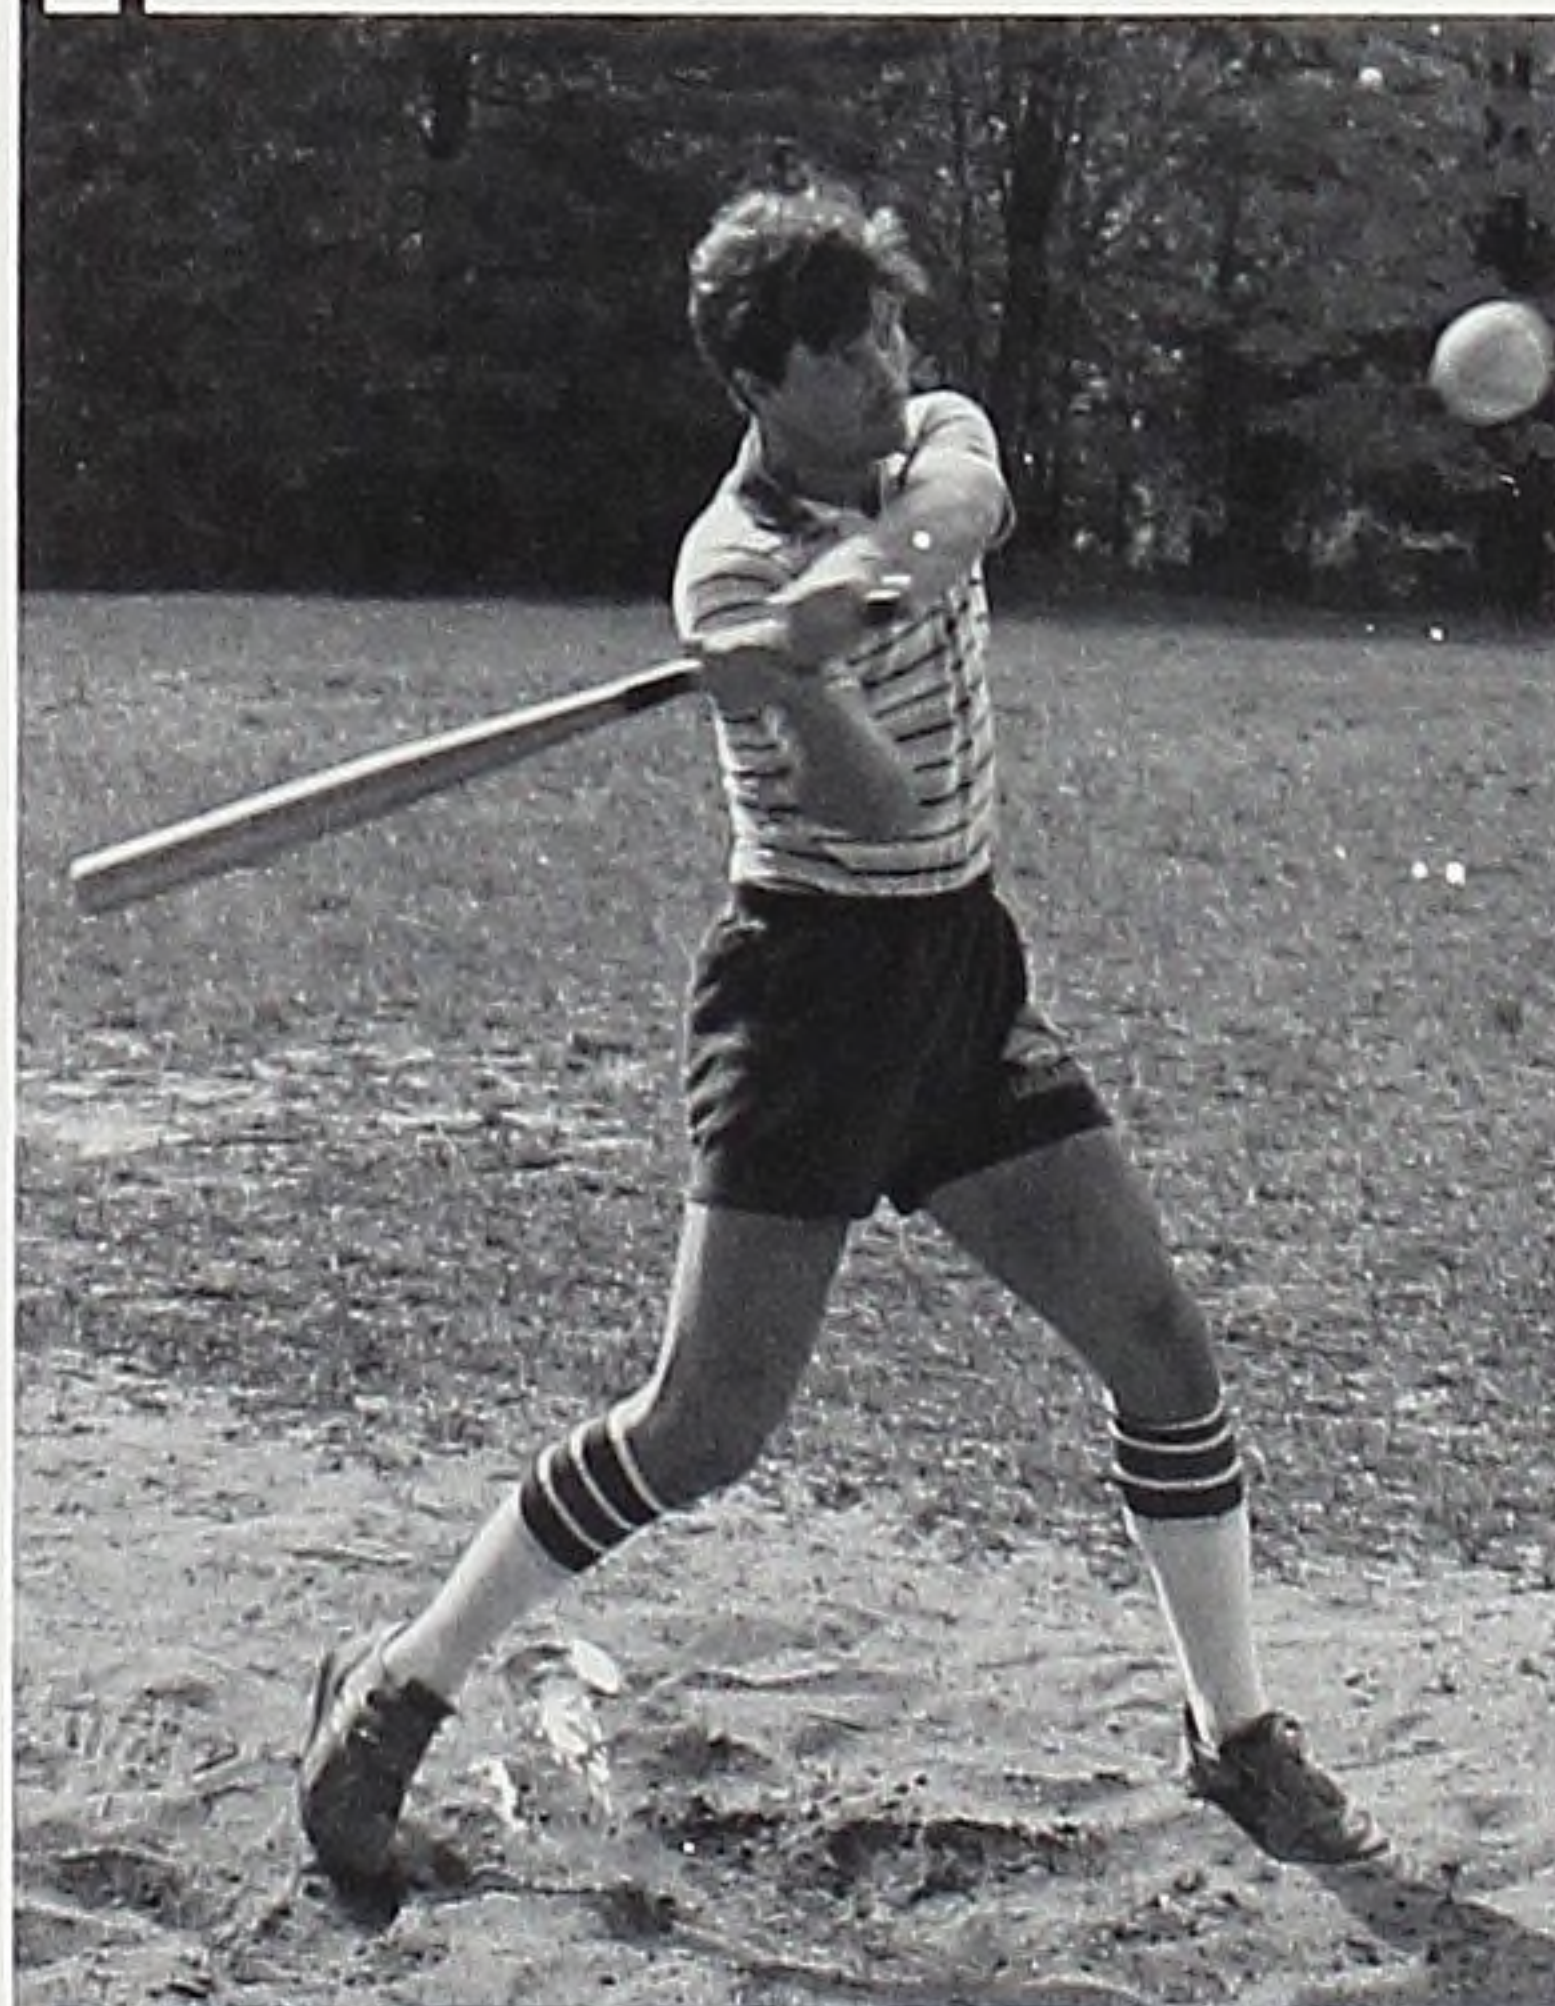

*I will bless the Lord at all times;
His praise shall continually be in my mouth.
My soul shall make its boast in the Lord;
The humble shall hear it and rejoice.
O magnify the Lord with me,
And let us exalt His name together.*

— Psalms 34:1-3

*Spiritual Life Retreat — a time of praise and celebration; and also of learning and growth.
Through songs and nature and fellowship we learn more of ourselves, each other and God.*

It is truly a time for students to get in touch with God and themselves, and learn what God has to offer for their lives. And a time to celebrate all the beauty of the world God has provided.

Concerts

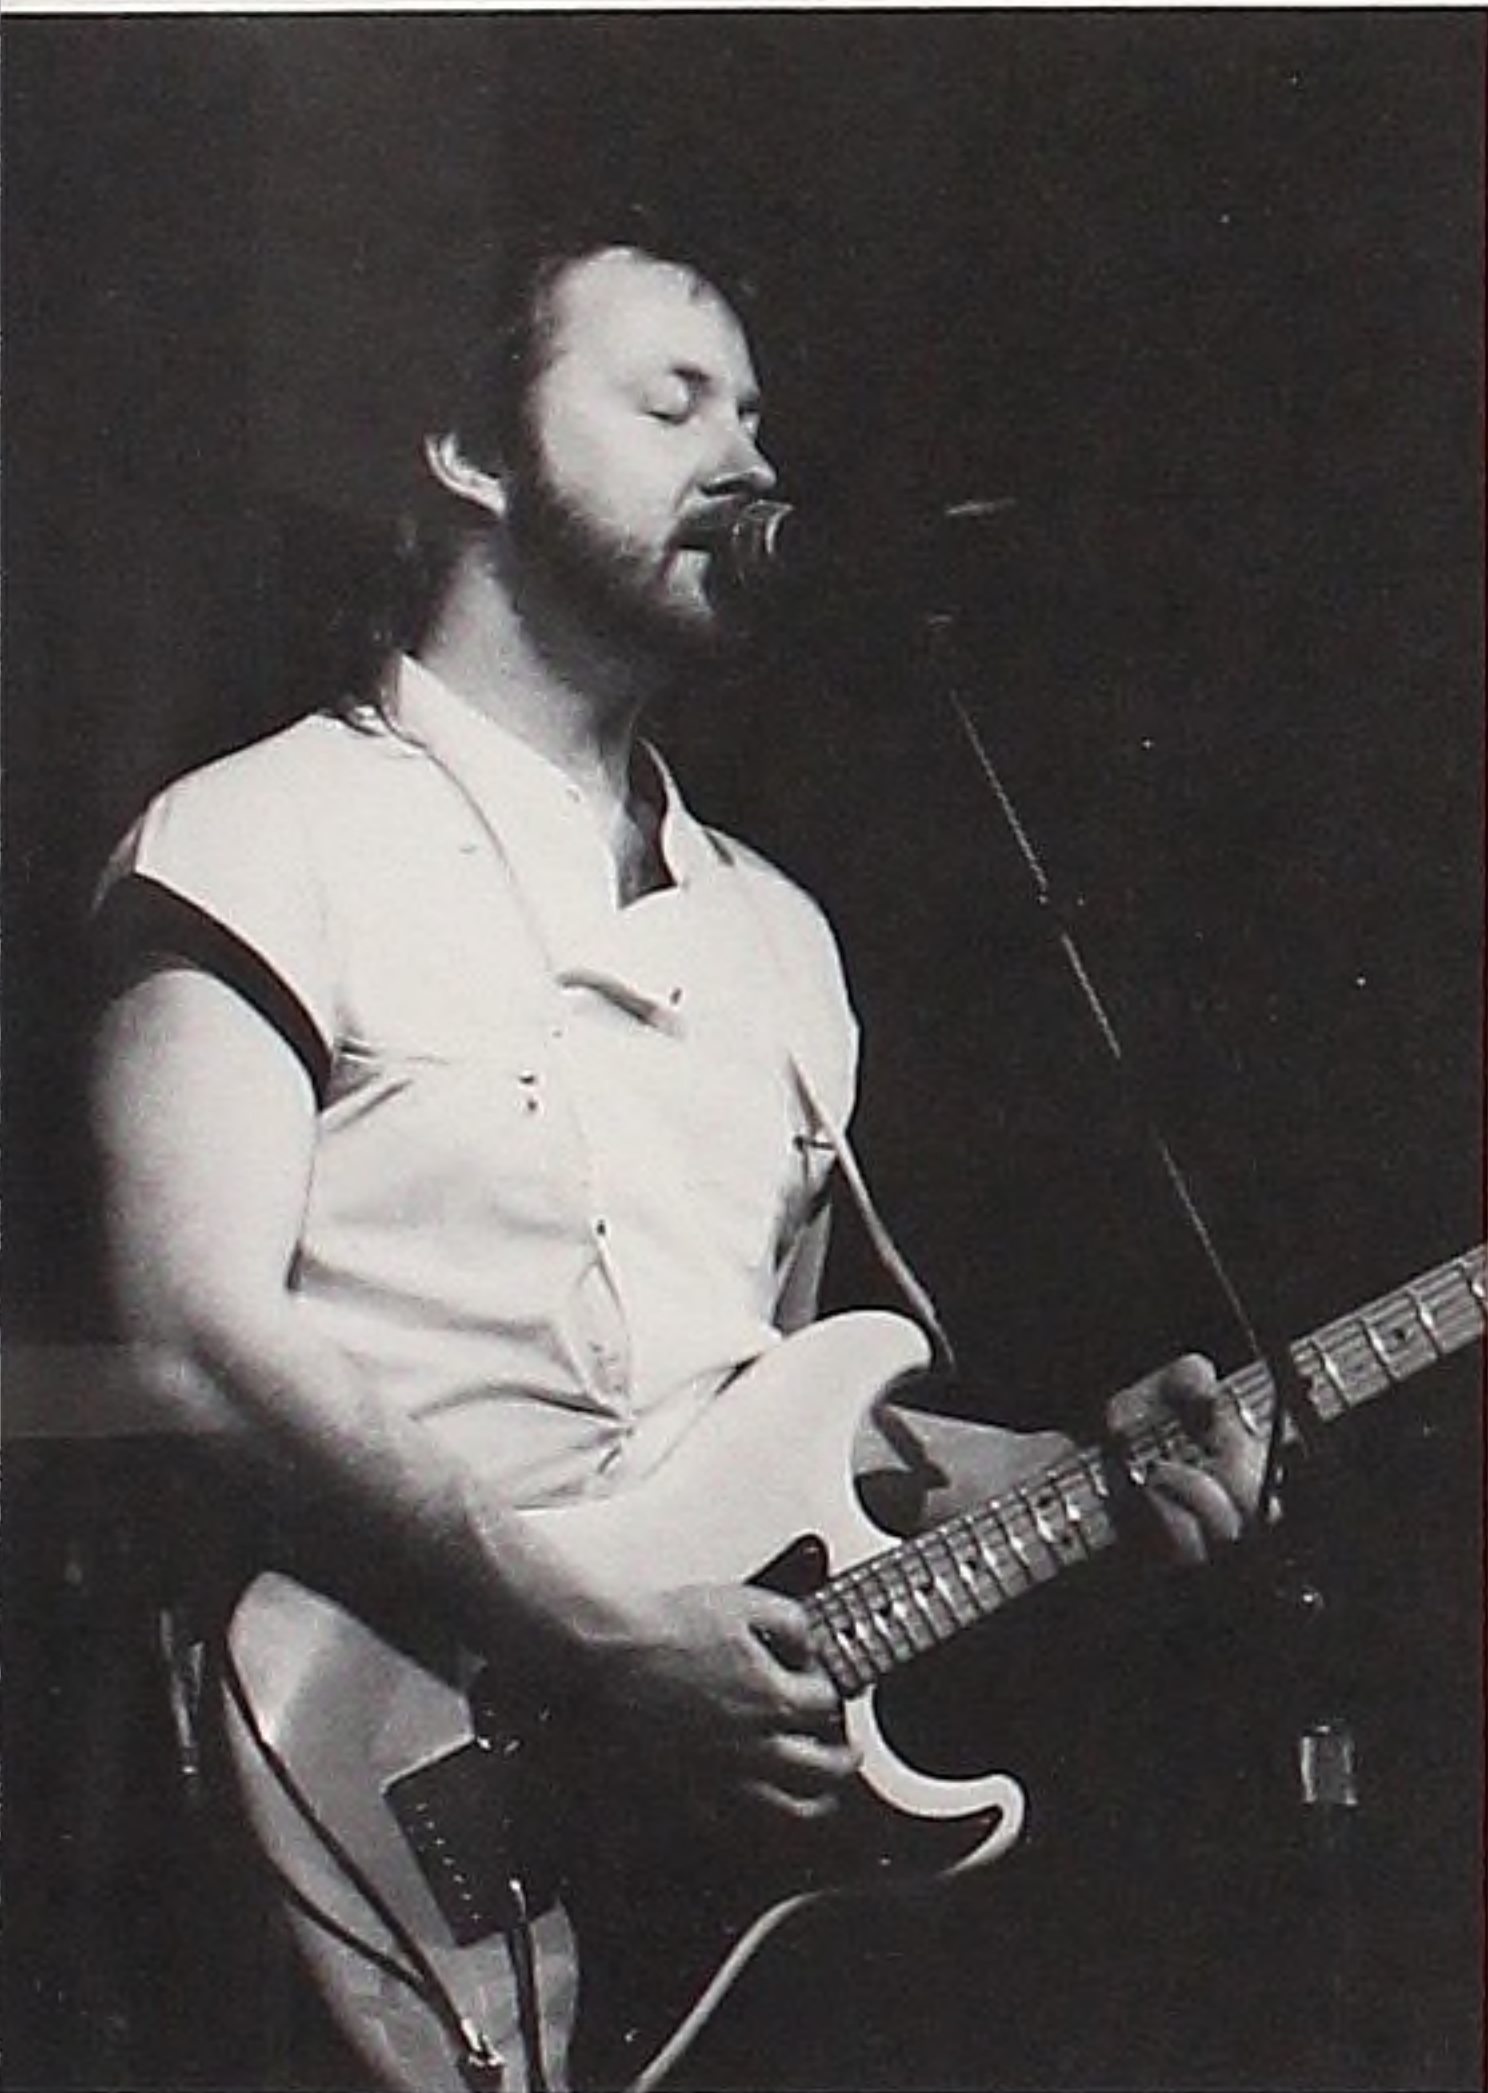

This year's concert program was possibly the best that Spring Arbor will ever see. The year started out with Steve Taylor and Some Band. John Fischer followed, performing a "Coffee House" concert series in chapel and the dining commons. The biggest concert of the year was the sold-out performance by Randy Stonehill. Stonehill's wit and ministry added to the excitement of Encounter Week-end. Our own Oreon Tricky opened for Randy.

Second semester entered with a bang. The first concert performed was Scott Wesley Brown, followed two weeks later by AD — the newly formed group comprised of former Kansas members and first call concert and studio musicians. Then, two weeks later, we saw a great performance by the group Prodigal. Although plagued by low attendance, this run of concerts provided all who attended with entertainment and blessings.

We ended the year with the finest and most musically ministering concert of the year. Mylon LeFevre and Broken Heart blew minds and hearts — as well as the roof of E.P. Hart — away. The message he preached and the lights we saw (all 168 of them) ended the year on a fantastic note.

Looking back, I just thank God for the successful year Spring Arbor experienced with the concert program.

"The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He has anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives, and recover sight to the blind, to set free those who are down-trodden, to proclaim the favorable year of the Lord." Isaiah 6:1-2.

It was Wednesday, April 3, 1985. The van was packed. We were jazzed! The Mexico '85 team was on the road, another pilgrimage to minister to the Mexican people.

Friday, April 12, 10 pm. Our work was finished. The service was held in the half-finished church. The congregation sang songs of praise and shared testimonies. They embraced us with grateful hugs and teary eyes. We drove away, painfully leaving our new friends.

Who ministered to who? After 5 days of scrubbing walls, laying bricks, washing floors and pouring cement, it was humbling to realize that our work seemed small in view of their great appreciation. We want to give, and when it was over, we realized that we were the ones who had been given to. They were patient with our "skilled" labor and "eloquent" Spanish. They showed us a life that wasn't stifled by busy schedules and big plans, but was marked with the genuine love of Christ. Truly, this will be an experience that will have a lasting effect on all of us. Thanks Ron!

Student Government — one of the most important and least participated parts of campus life here at Spring Arbor. Everyone involved from the President to programmers to floor representatives works to make life a little busier and a little happier for students on campus. They provide entertainment through movies, parties and concerts, and memories through the Echo and Crusader, and also work to solve problems, such as open hours and menu posting. A lot of time and effort on the part of everyone goes into making student government work. It's a good opportunity for any student to grow and learn, despite the trouble it may seem sometimes, even if the only thing you learn is you never want to work in student government again. Chances are though, your rewards will outshine the troubles. Student government — it has the potential to do great things on the Spring Arbor campus (and those who work do a good job). What it just needs now is a little more willingness for people to get involved.

"And then I made a great mistake. Yes, Frodo, and not the first; though I fear it may prove the worst. I let the matter be. Well, that was years ago. I have paid for it since with many dark and dangerous days. The trail was long cold when I took it up again, after Bilbo left here. And my search would have been in vain but for the help of a friend ..."

Gandolf, The Fellowship of the Ring J.R.R. Tolkien

What makes a great yearbook? A lot of the same things that make a great year: memories preserved with care, friends that shared those memories, growth, new experiences ... These are just some of the things this year's Echo staff attempted to incorporate into this edition. But, like so many staffs of the past, we often let the trail get cold before picking up again the quest for "the" book. With help from a lot of friends, however, the finished product you are now reading came about. We just hope our procrastination doesn't become a "bad hobbit."

There are a lot of words that describe the faculty of any college — intelligent, informed, intense. But Spring Arbor faculty and staff are different. There's something more. You can add to the list caring, involved, giving. There's a special quality to Spring Arbor faculty that comes from being a part of a Christian community. It gives them the goal of trying to instill in us the values that they live by, to pass on the faith they have accepted as their own. By word and deed. But most of all being on the faculty or staff at Spring Arbor means being a servant, anyway you look at it.

And Last But Not Least . . .

It's a widely held notion that a yearbook is just one of those things that comes into existence . . . snap a picture here, throw together some copy there, spend a couple late nights arranging some layout designs and, by golly, there's the Echo. People holding this view are the kind that buy swamp land in New Mexico.

This year's Echo editorial staff was a mixture of experience and enthusiasm. . . . in September. By the end of October, however, we were all experienced but about as enthusiastic as a Sunday afternoon at the Arbor. There was a lot more to the production of the Echo than any of the "rookies" had reckoned, and a lot less time than the "pro's" had counted on.

This was the first year that the Echo had been a "tag-team" effort. There were five editors, each assigned a specific task. It was an interesting experiment . . . one we doubt will be tried again next year. All in all, the year was a good one. We'd like to be able to say this book took off without a hitch, that there were no all-nighters pushing a deadline, that we enjoyed totally the college yearbook experience, and are ready to tackle the wonderful task again. But that would be stretching it a bit.

We can say that, in keeping with the goals set last year, the Echo just keeps getting better and better. The book had a couple of years that threatened its existence, but we're proud to say it's alive and thriving now . . . okay, alive at least . . . and it will just keep getting better.

That sounds like a promise, doesn't it? Well, next year will tell.

— Gina Walker, One of the five, the proud, the Echo Editors of 1985
