SITORRY

Something I learned this semester: college students, demographically, are the most selfish age group in America. On this campus, we protest the dining commons food. We rally for open hours on Friday night. The closest thing to passion is seen at soccer games and in the corners of Lowell Lounge.

What happened this year? We stole chips from dumpsters, we went on slurpee runs, we stayed up too late, we forgot to go to bed, we blew exams, missed too many chapels, we cursed Dr. White, (then repented) we made obvious mistakes and we kept our secrets.

We were vague, removed, stressed out, too loud, too blunt, too quiet, too focused...we felt far too alone surrounded by good intentions. We freaked out about grades, we skipped our devos, we didn't vote and when we occasionally heard about world disasters, we kept going on in our day. We lacked empathy.

"This all sounds so negative," you say. Well, let's look at what good we did: we passed the test, we finished the paper, (well, at least some of us did) we held the door open, we spent time wisely, we lifted up, we encouraged, we spoke in love, we listened to God. We went to the shelter, we mentored a child, we reached out, we hugged, we held, we prayed to intercede.

Did we make a difference? Mostly likely.

Did we change the world? Maybe, if we were lucky.

Somehow, I feel like, "maybe" isn't good enough. This is not an attack or a judgement. This is a simple call to end apathy, the Devil's most effective tool.

Ask questions. Investigate alternatives. Stop believing the newspaper. Don't take everyone at their word. Figure things out for yourself. Take chances. Laugh at risks. Get educated. Care. Find passion. Find empathy. Unite. Pray for the strength to stand and the courage to speak. And don't ever ever back down.

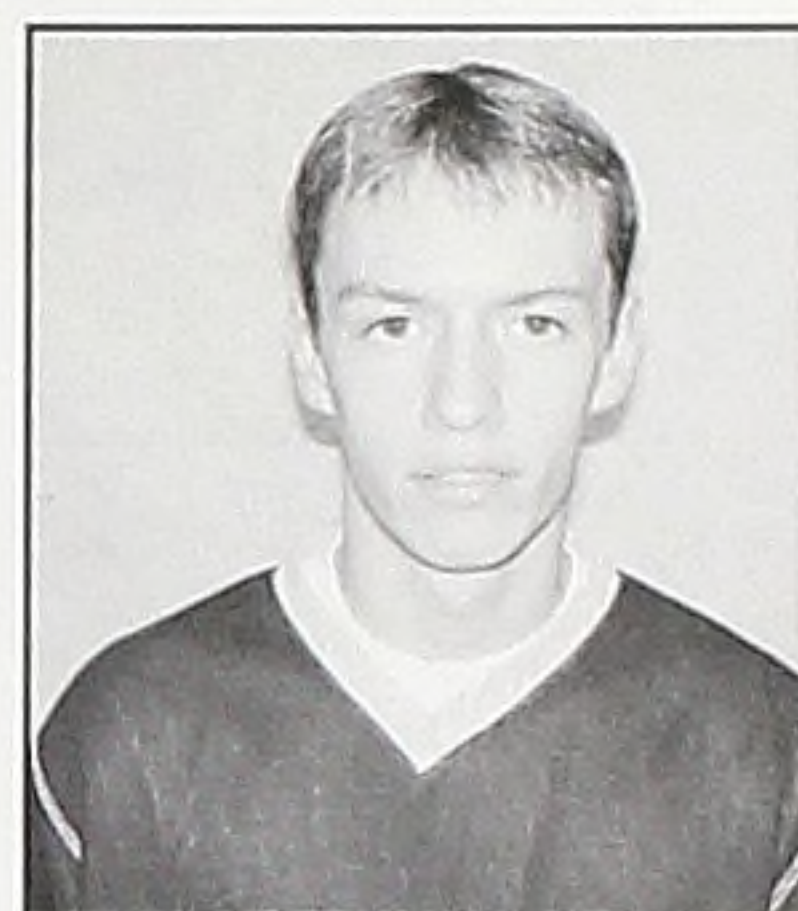

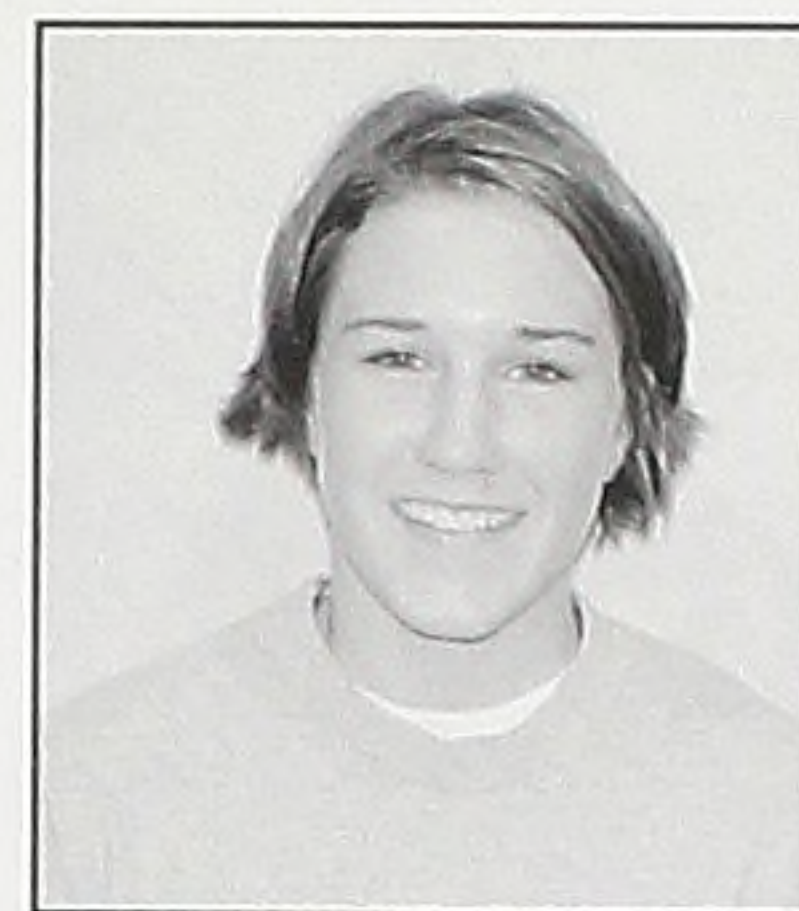

Sherry0

You now hold our "child" in your hands. Please protect her with all your heart and soul... for I fear that she is quite fragile. Love her. Care for her. Never let her out of your sight. And please... don't forget to cherish her. For like any decent woman, she desires to be cared for. As a loving parent of this dear Echo, I remind you to look through her often, get to know her (she's quite the character). Besides you never know when you just may fall head over heels for our dear and darling Echo.

I leave you with this... as we grow older and wait for things, let us be patient in our journeys for you never know how long it may take for the perfect one to come your way. Let's thank Jesus for our dear Echo.

Words that...

Every Other Weekend

Natalie Payne

Your Words

are like fresh sutures dipped in alcohol

they make you smile and make me scream

fluid from your lips and wrapped with a kiss poison on a platter

I couldn't be further

THE MOST GHOSTS I HAVE KNOWN

Kara Mallery

The ghosts in the snow in the still still street say wildly soft things to me

I stand pigeon-toed.
I am changed and crazy as
I listen to all the snowy ghosts.

I am my own unrest
but I would have nothing less.

You

Julie Conolly

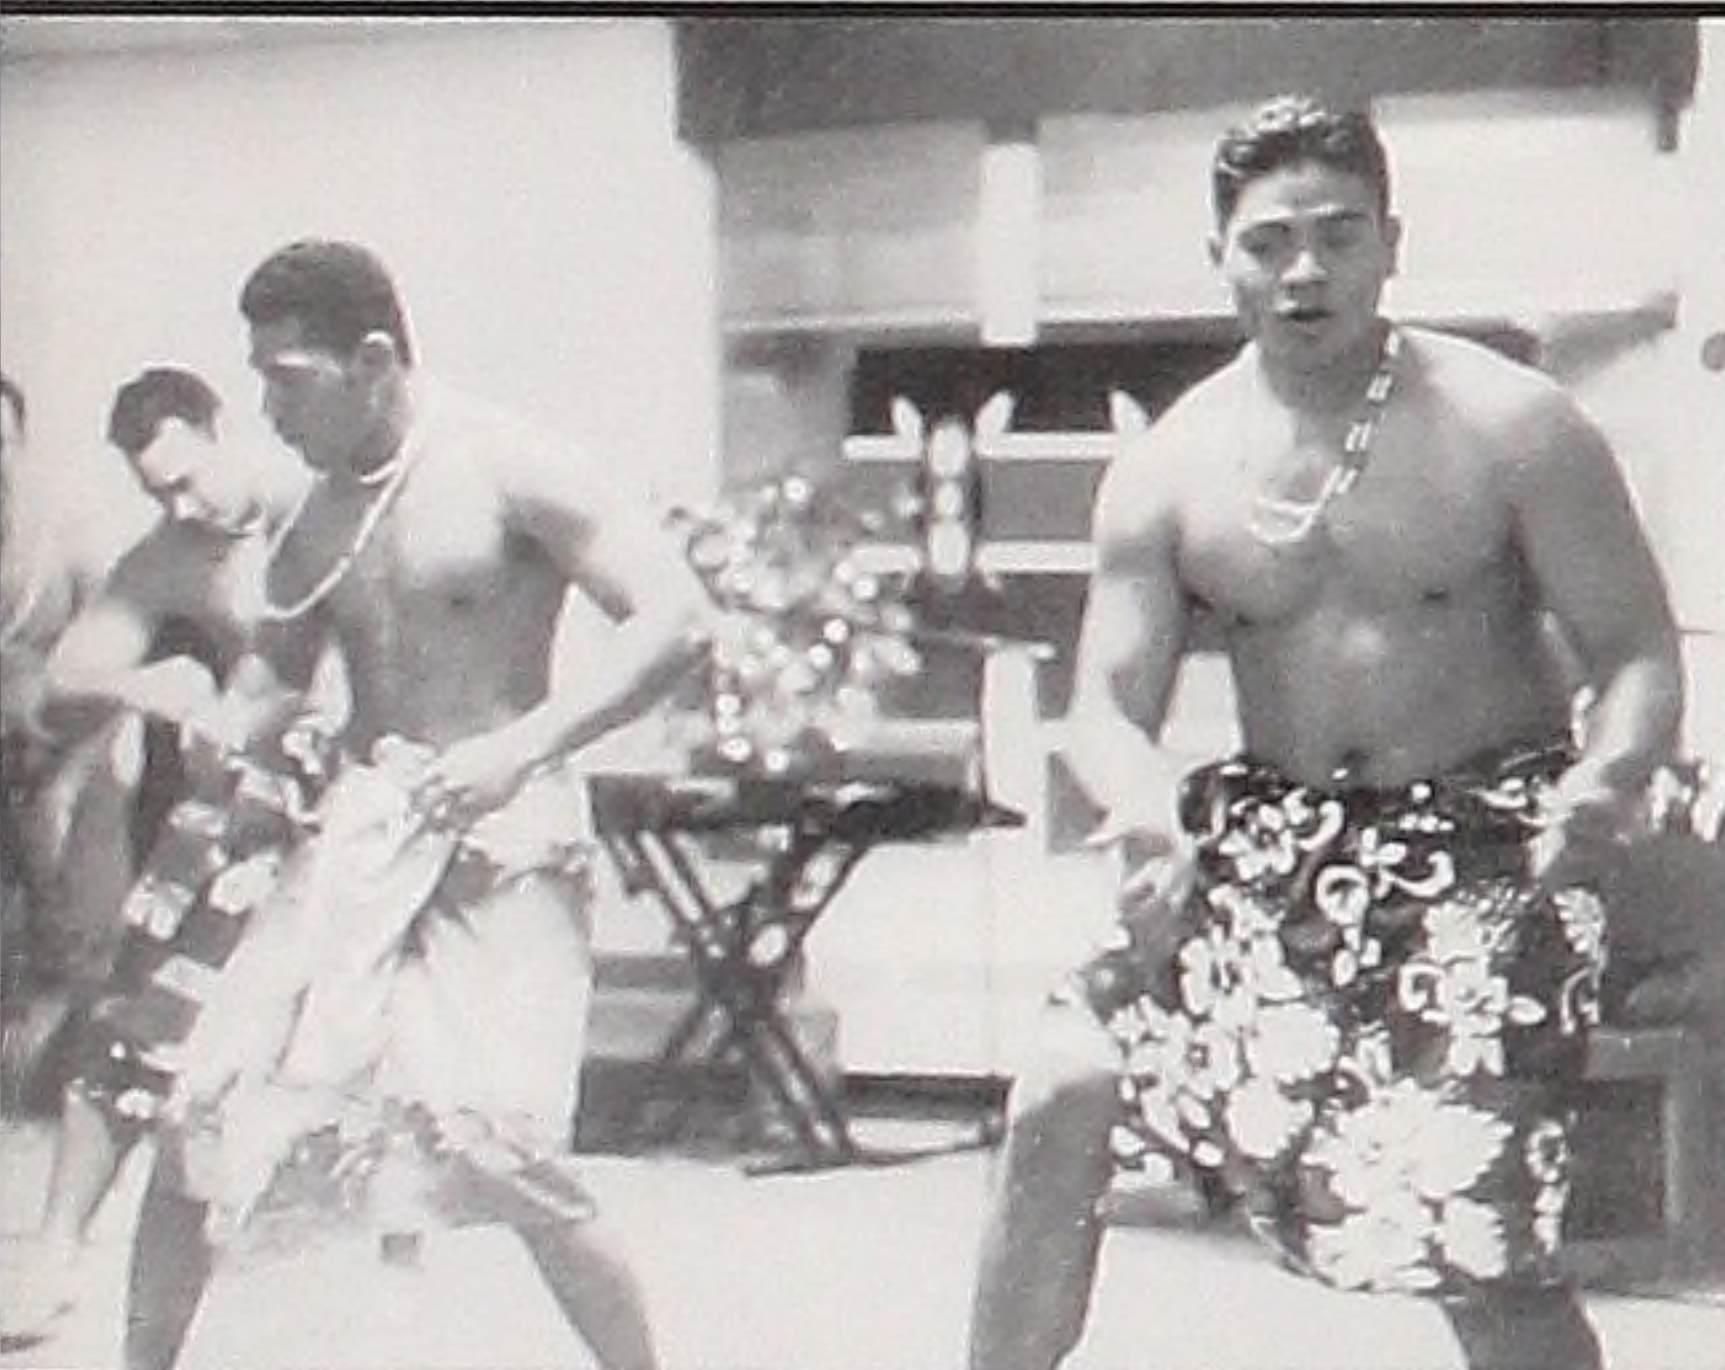

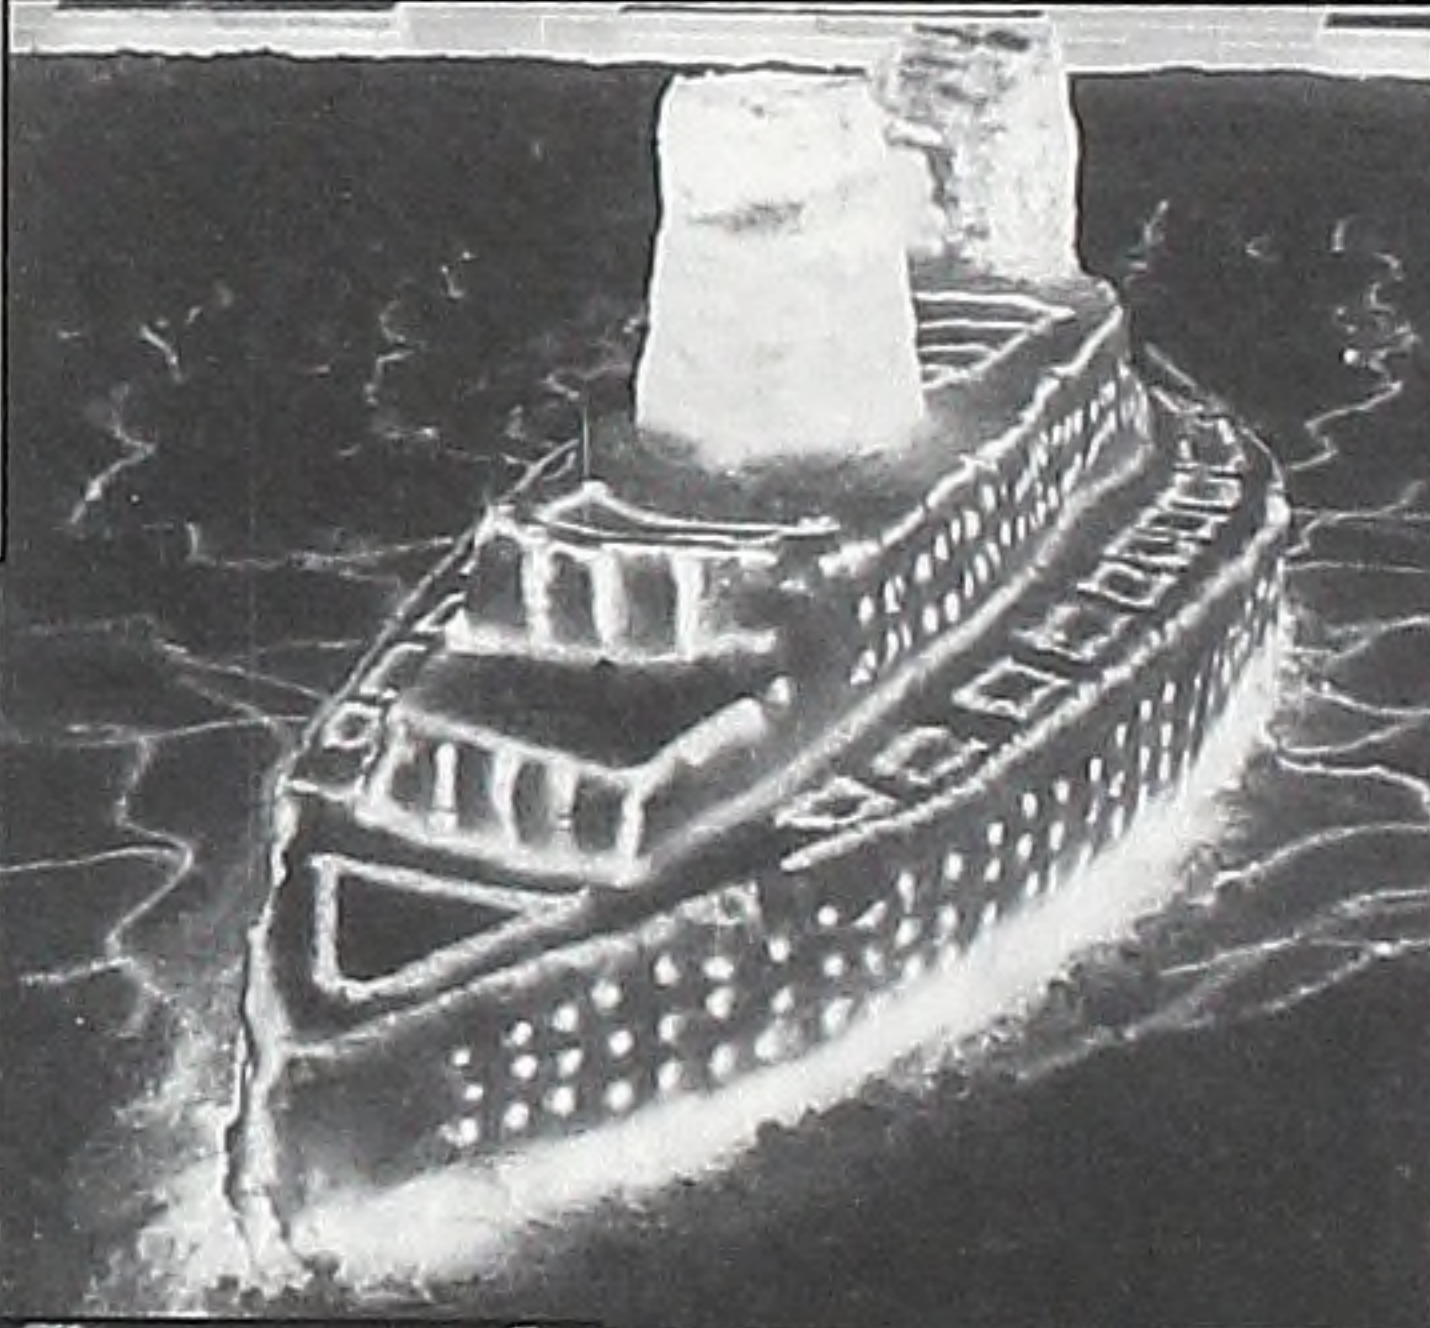

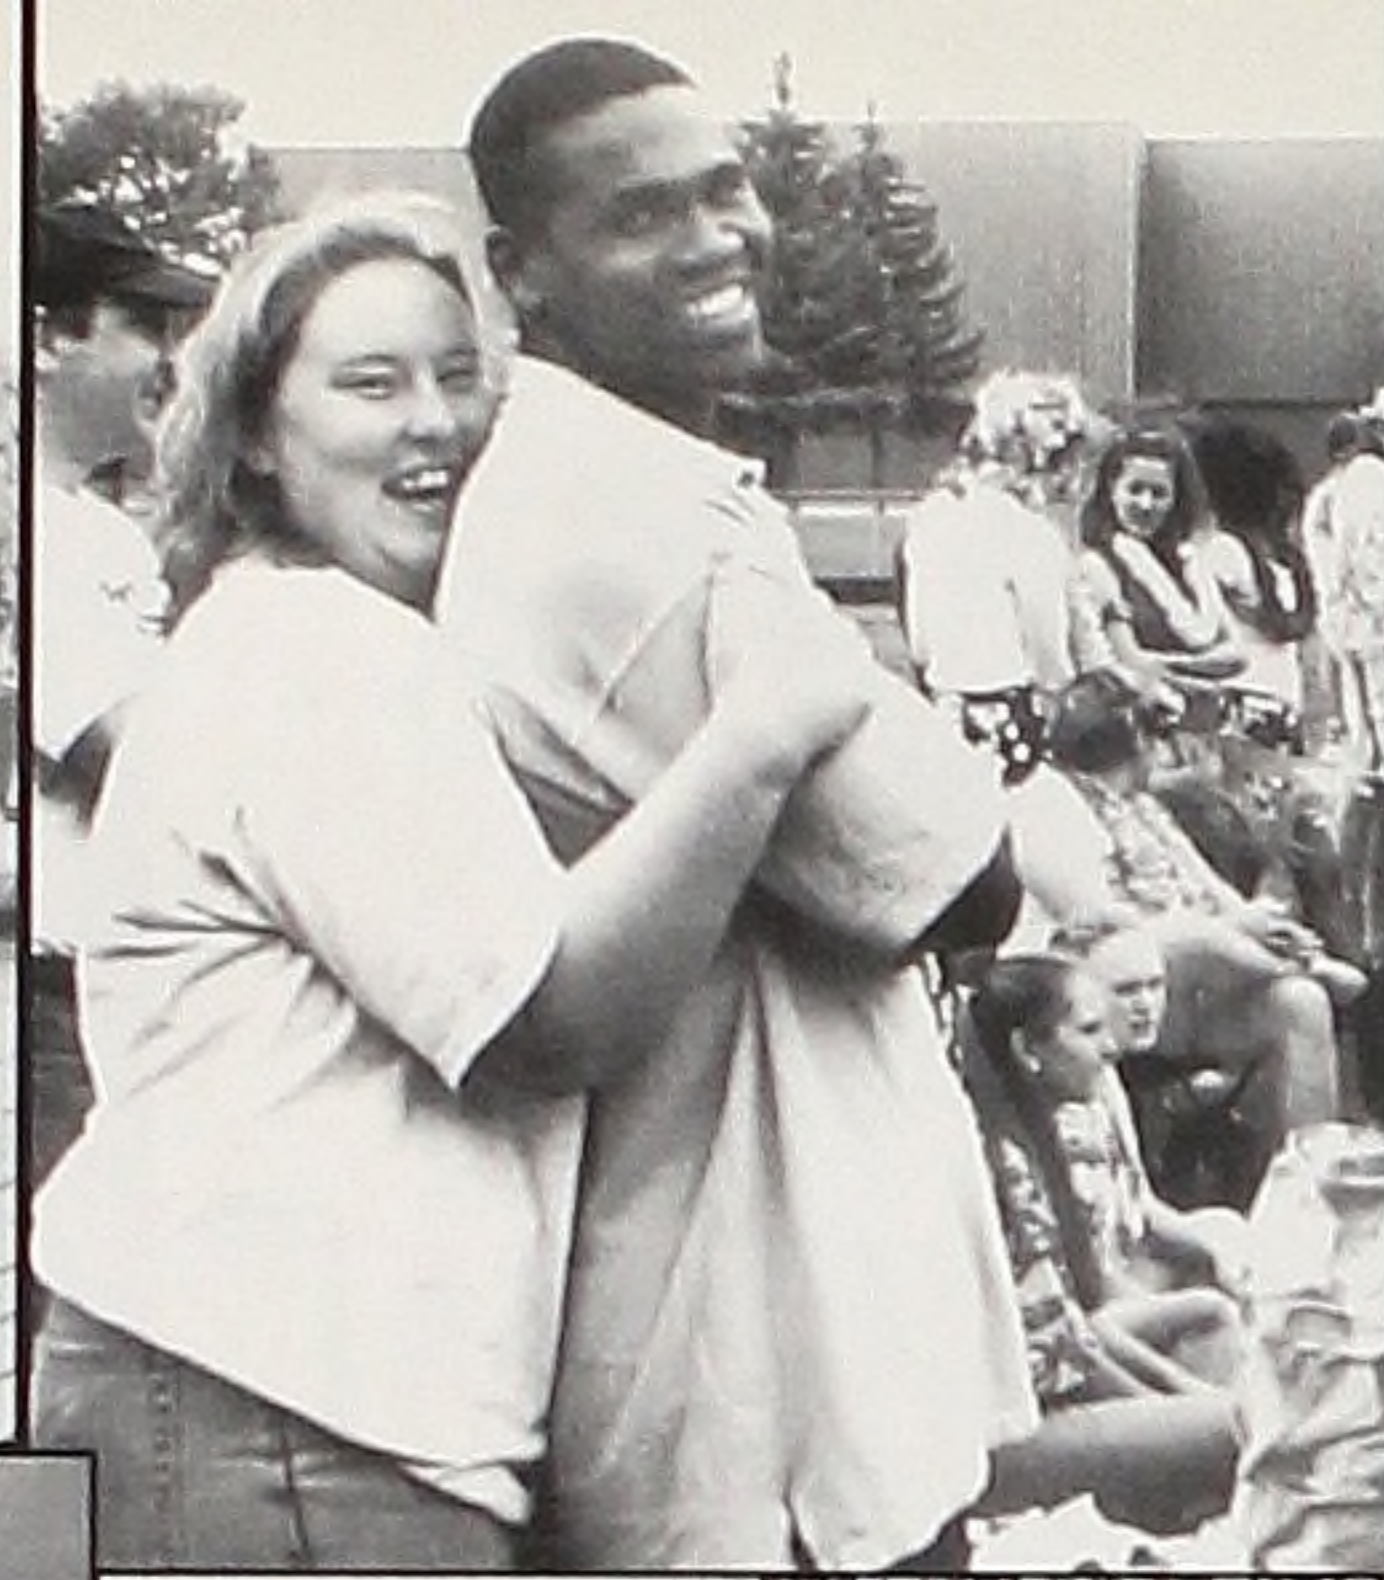

Don't make excuses
You are your vices
you are your friends and enemies.
You are the music you listen to,
And the movies you watch,
And the books you read.

You are your parents,
Whether you like it or not.
You are what you eat
You are your past
And your future.
You are your anger, your sadness,
And your joy.

You are your job.
You are your politics
You are your loves
And your hates.
You are your rights
And your wrongs.

You are all these things
But they can be changed.
Your unhappiness is not the world's burden
It is your own.

campus ministries...

Kidz Club

Jeni Jewell and Vanessa Walrath

A number of students on campus have participated in this ministry. One Saturday a month, a group of Spring Arbor students go to Wilson Elementary in inner-city Jackson and hang out with local kids. They send out flyers a week or so beforehand, letting kids know about it. There are games for the kids, prizes, face-painting and a message at the end. It's a great time to show Christ's love to kids in the inner-city.

Interfaith Bible Club

Rachel McFaden and Megan Beachy

Students meet in Lowell lounge at 6:00p.m. to go to the Interfaith Shelter to sing songs, play games and share a message with kids. Even though they only spend 70 minutes there, they make a lifetime of difference to at risk kids. You can't walk away without being blessed. The kids love having someone to hang out with and are very open to the gospel message.

Arbor Manor

Kim Degroff and Lane Buckingham

On Thursdays, students go to Arbor Manor to sing for and hang out with the residents. So often just "hanging out" with someone can be a much needed ministry. The residents are so blessed by the visiting students. Nursing homes are in just as much need of ministry as any other mission field.

Special Jackson

Maria Galaska

For this ministry, students are paired up with special needs kids. They hang out with them and are like mentors to them. It's hard for a lot of these kids to have friends to hang out with, so this is a nice opportunity to be that for them.

Interfaith Shelter

Erin Evans

The Interfaith Shelter group meets weekly. Like all the other ministries, people wanting to go can just show up. They serve dinner and talk with the people at the shelter. Students gain a new perspective on both what Christianity should be and what's really important in life.

Senior Memories

The final sentiments of the class leaving this fine institution we like to call Spring Arbor College...

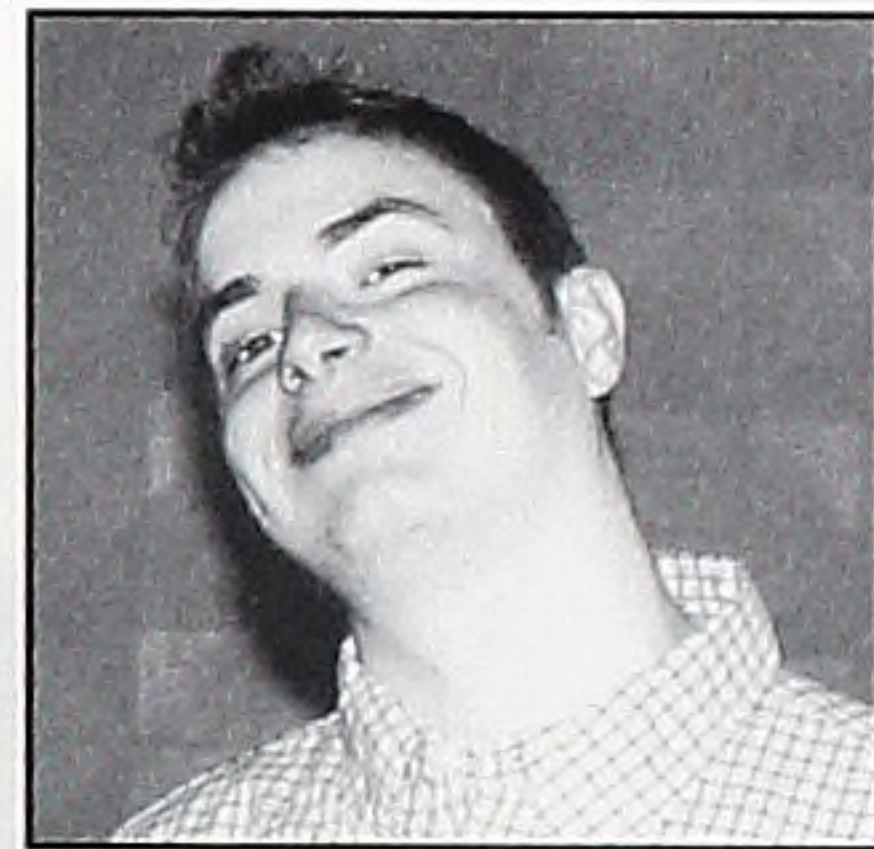

Josh Blackson

"I remember when Jeremy Funk's loft fell and almost killed Dan, Aaron and I."

Aaron Hathaway

"I remember when Beta II won the Intramural Championship at both ends of my college career."

Adam Davidson

"I remember how the people in admissions snickered when they said that the rooms in O-4 were 'bigger than a bread box'. They were wrong."

Chris Arbrouet

"I remember sophomore year when Sherry Owens and I had a prank war- she ended up stealing my couch and hanging my scarecrow decoration!"

Zach Sweet

"One memory I have is going swimming in what used to be the fountain. Now all I can hope for as a return would be to be buried there."

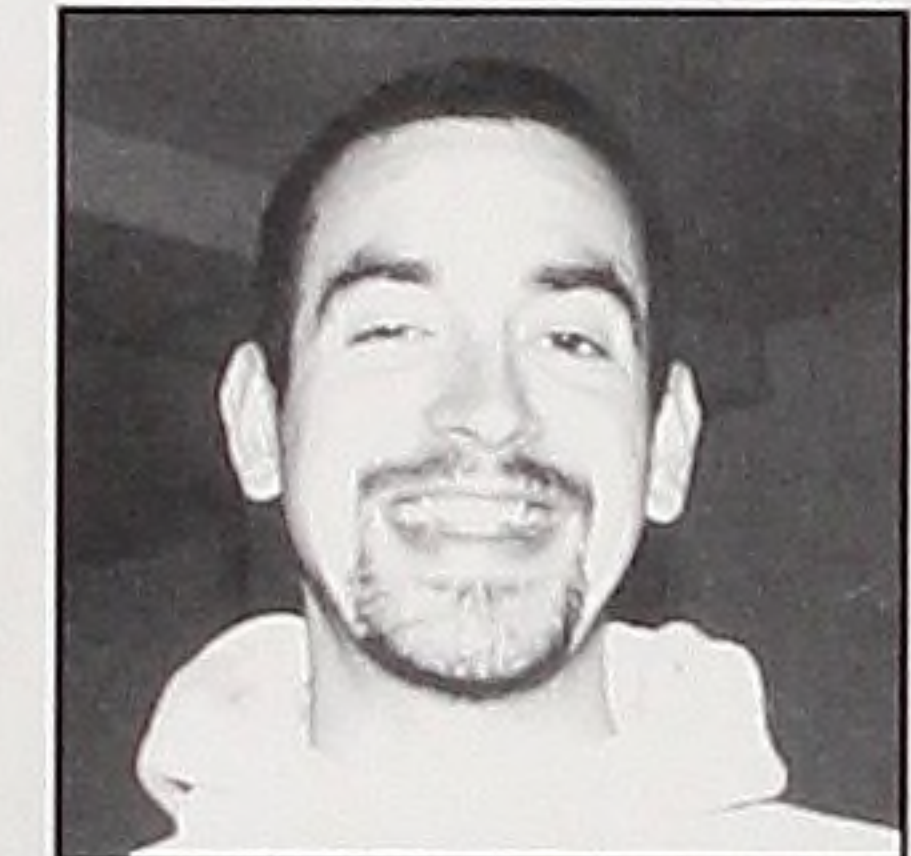

Tara Wright

"One of my favorite memories is every year when a group of us go to Shannon Jackson's house for the weekend. We eat a lot of ice-cream, play a lot of games, go to the cider mill and of course have our infamous road rally!"

Dan Gisel

"I remember the first time I saw Laurie Wilhite...She was soooo HOT!"

Rachel Melton

"My favorite memories in all of my years here would have to be spending time with my core group...We all bonded very well and loved spending time together."

Emily Jones

"My grandma had passed away the day I moved in. Those next couple of weeks I got so many hugs and everyone told me they were praying for me and thinking about me. That year I made the best friends that I will ever have!"

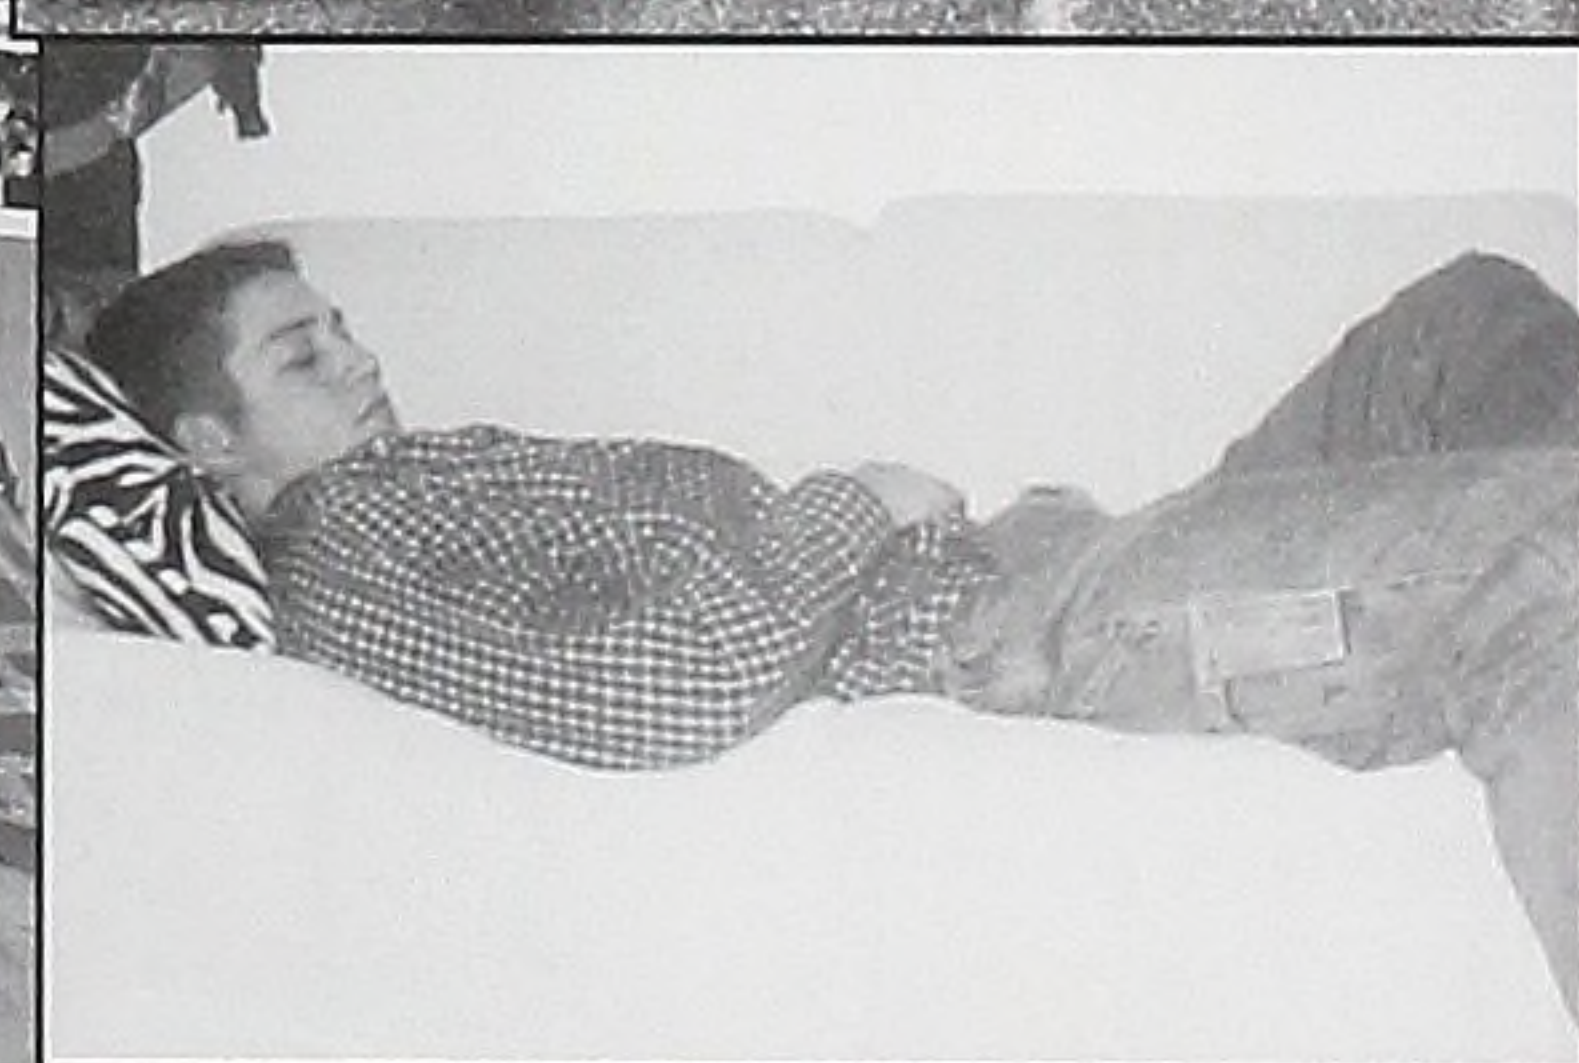

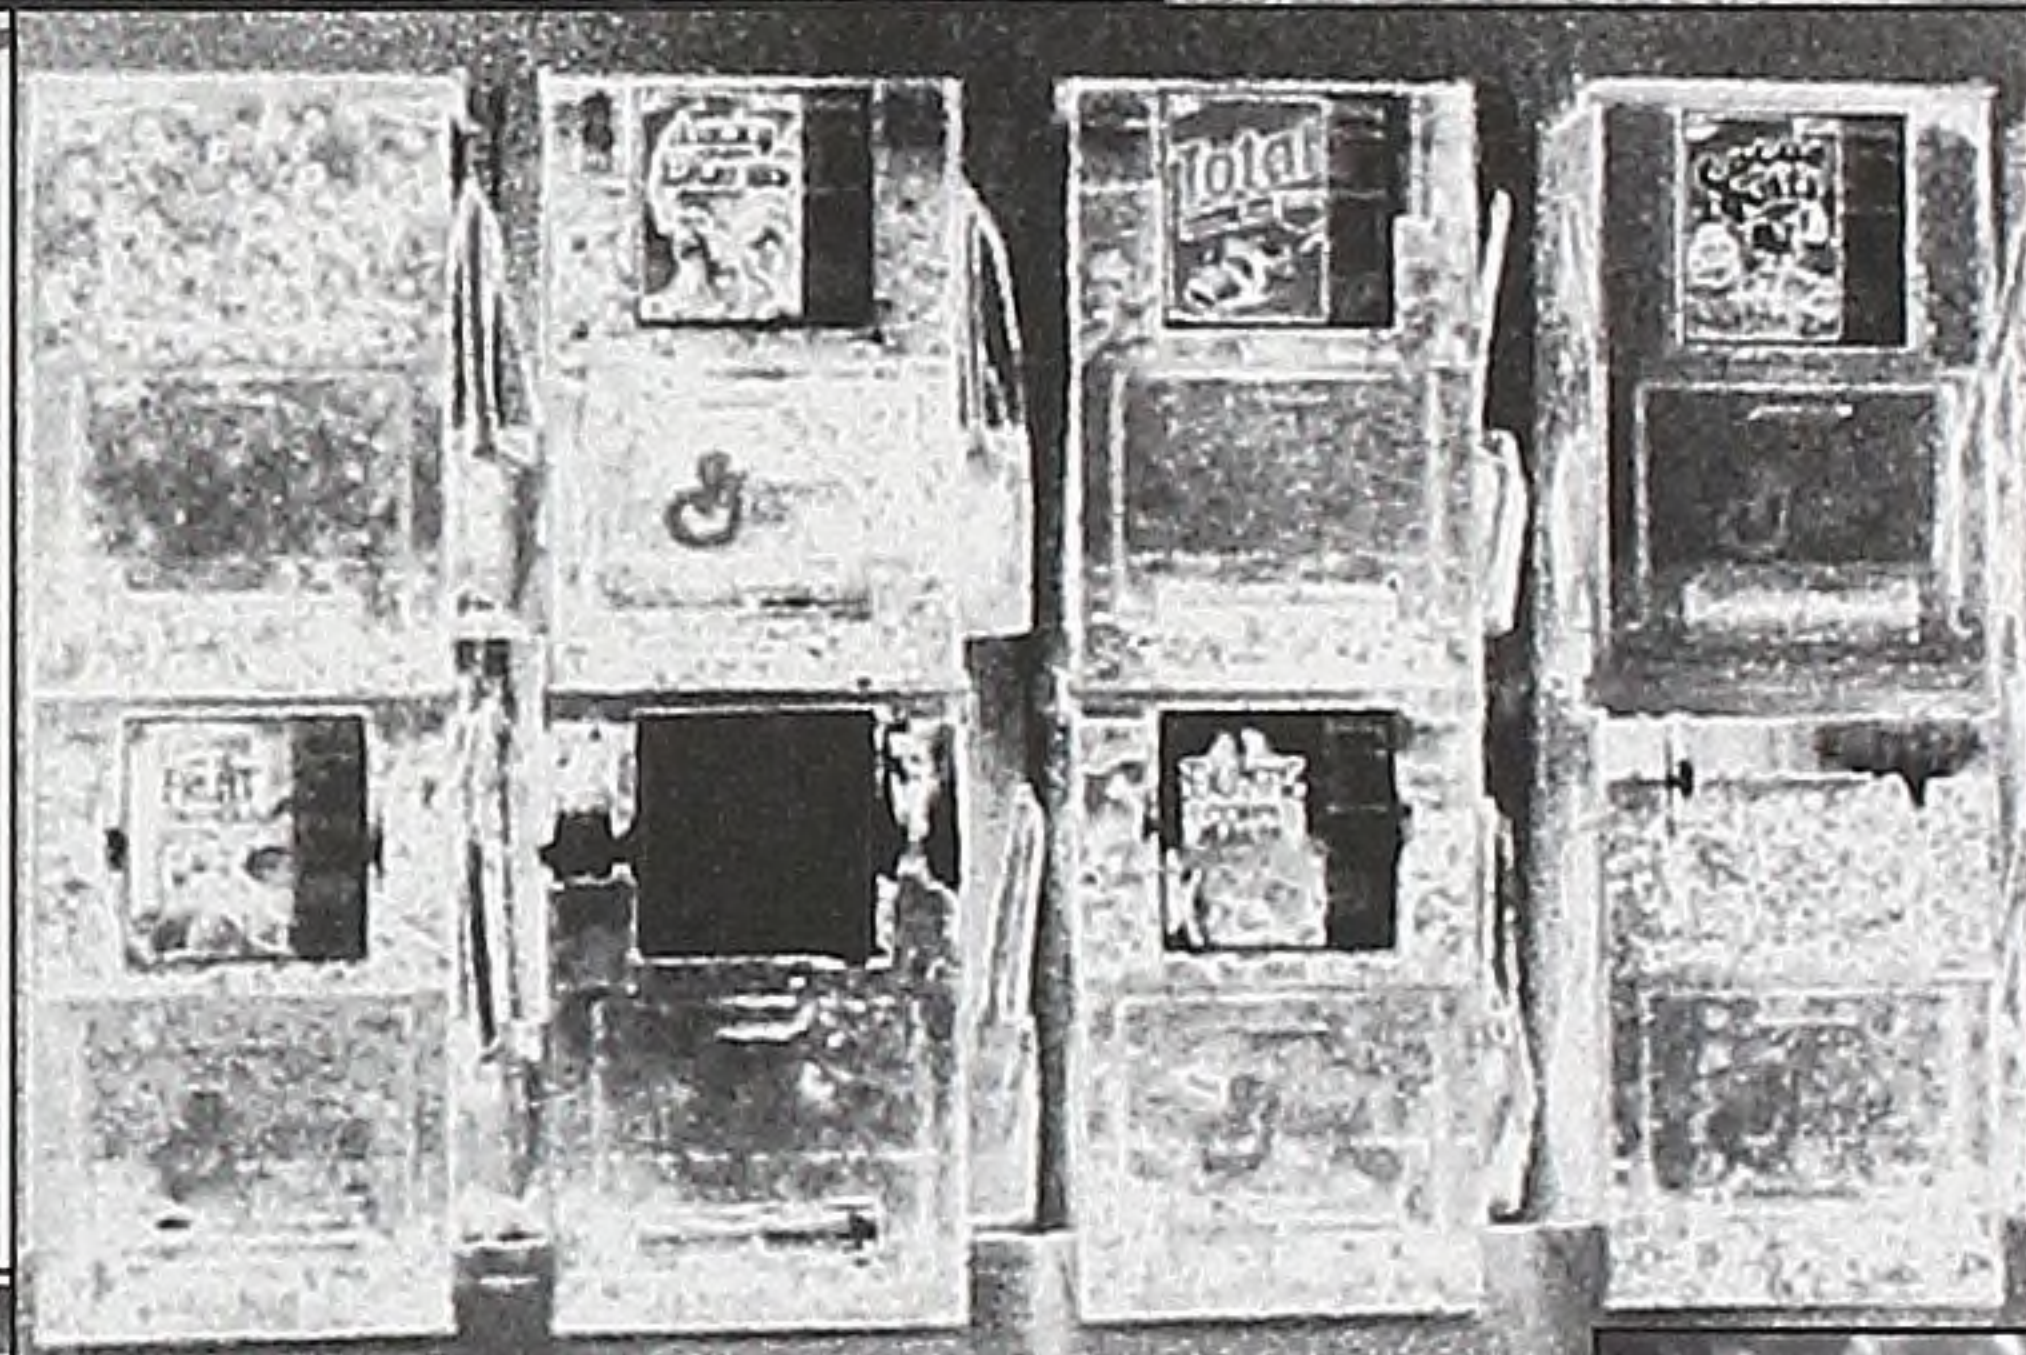

Bethany DenHerder

"One of my most memorable experiences while at SAC was the missions trip to Florida for Habitat for Humanity. It was an awesome experience where new friendships developed. I learned about life, but also how to build a house!"

Carrie Pratt & Jill DeWyre

"Our favorite memory from SAC is definitely the 80's dances. Our favorite outfit was the 80's prom dresses we wore our junior year. The 80's dances are so memorable because it brought so many friends together."

This would just have to be the "Burn me page"

So you have two choices. cut out this page and burn it or put it to good use. this page was especially designed for those who wish to have autographs like cheezy high-school yearbooks, and quotes to go along with it. enjoy. much love - echo editors.

"Throughout your life people will make you mad, disrespect you and treat you bad. Let God deal with the things they do, 'cause hate in your heart will consume you too."

-Will Smith

EMPTY SPACE

FILL ME

"I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived. I did not wish to live what was not life, living is so dear; nor did I wish to practice resignation, unless it was quite necessary. I wanted to live deep and suck out all the marrow of life, to live so sturdily and Spartan - like as to put to rout all that was not life."

-Henry David Thoreau

PLEASE SIGN ME

I'M LONELY

"Luck is the by-product of busting your fanny."

- Don Sutton

"Dreaming permits each and every one of us to be quietly and safely insane every night of our lives."

- Charles William Dement

cut along this line

This must be the back of the "Burn me page" aren't you just the luckiest little children that there ever could be? Not only do you get one page to cut out and burn or autograph like mad you get two! So enjoy this little gift your dear echo editors have bestowed upon you! muchas lovas - echo editors.

UM... COULD YOU...

SIGN MY YEARBOOK?

"Nothing takes the taste out of peanut butter quite like unrequited love."

- Charlie Brown

VERY SPECIAL SPOT

The Last Year in the Life of Spring Arbor College

For the last 38 years, Spring Arbor has enjoyed the comfort of being a College, but now that is all about to change. With the inauguration of president Gayle Beebe and the building of the new village housing, Spring Arbor is experiencing just the beginning of a huge cycle of change. With the University status, Spring Arbor will continue to grow. This has been a year of change, success, joys and also loss for Spring Arbor. Aren't we lucky that we got to be a part of it all?

September 19, 2000

After years of steady growth, Spring Arbor continues to expand in numbers. The number of freshmen, transfers and non-traditional student enrollment reaches over 500 students; Spring Arbor hit an all-time high! The campus has been blessed with the influx of new students.

October 20, 2000

Gayle D. Beebe becomes the 27th president at Spring Arbor College 10:30 a.m. at the Spring Arbor Free Methodist Church. The search for our new president was long and difficult.

November 22, 2000

The college approves plan for new village housing after five years of steady growth in new students. New dormitory/apartment style housing will accommodate 36 students, who will share a kitchen and living room in a home-like environment.

January 8, 2001

As one of his first orders of business, President Gayle Beebe opens an ice rink for students, and residents of Spring Arbor. The ice rink, which provides entertainment for students in the winter months, may be used in the summer time as a court for outdoor basketball.

January 18, 2001

Spring Arbor inducts three alumni into the hall of fame for various athletic achievements. Thomas Kragt (graduate of 1979) for basketball, Tony Luttrell (graduate of 1977) for track and Christine Chaney Miller (graduate of 1975) for basketball, all receive recognition for their participation in sports.

February 27, 2001

WSAE, the college radio station, gears up for their annual Share-a-thon. With listeners from all over the globe WSAE, received a little over 33,000 dollars to help support the operations of the station.

February 28, 2001

President Gayle Beebe announces in chapel that Spring Arbor has been approved to move to University status. This move will open up more masters programs for Spring Arbor... uh... University.

March 2, 2001

Spring Arbor secures all four of the top art awards in the Michigan Small Private College Art Competition. Beating out competitors from neighboring colleges Albion and Hillsdale. Angela Lopez takes first place for her wooden sculpture "Giraffe".

March 7, 2001

Seeing that the influx of students has been so large, Spring Arbor gives the "ok" for the construction of a third village housing unit for females for next year. All three of the village units will be open at the beginning of next year.

THE END
THE ECHO IS OVER NOW. GO AWAY.
