The Echo

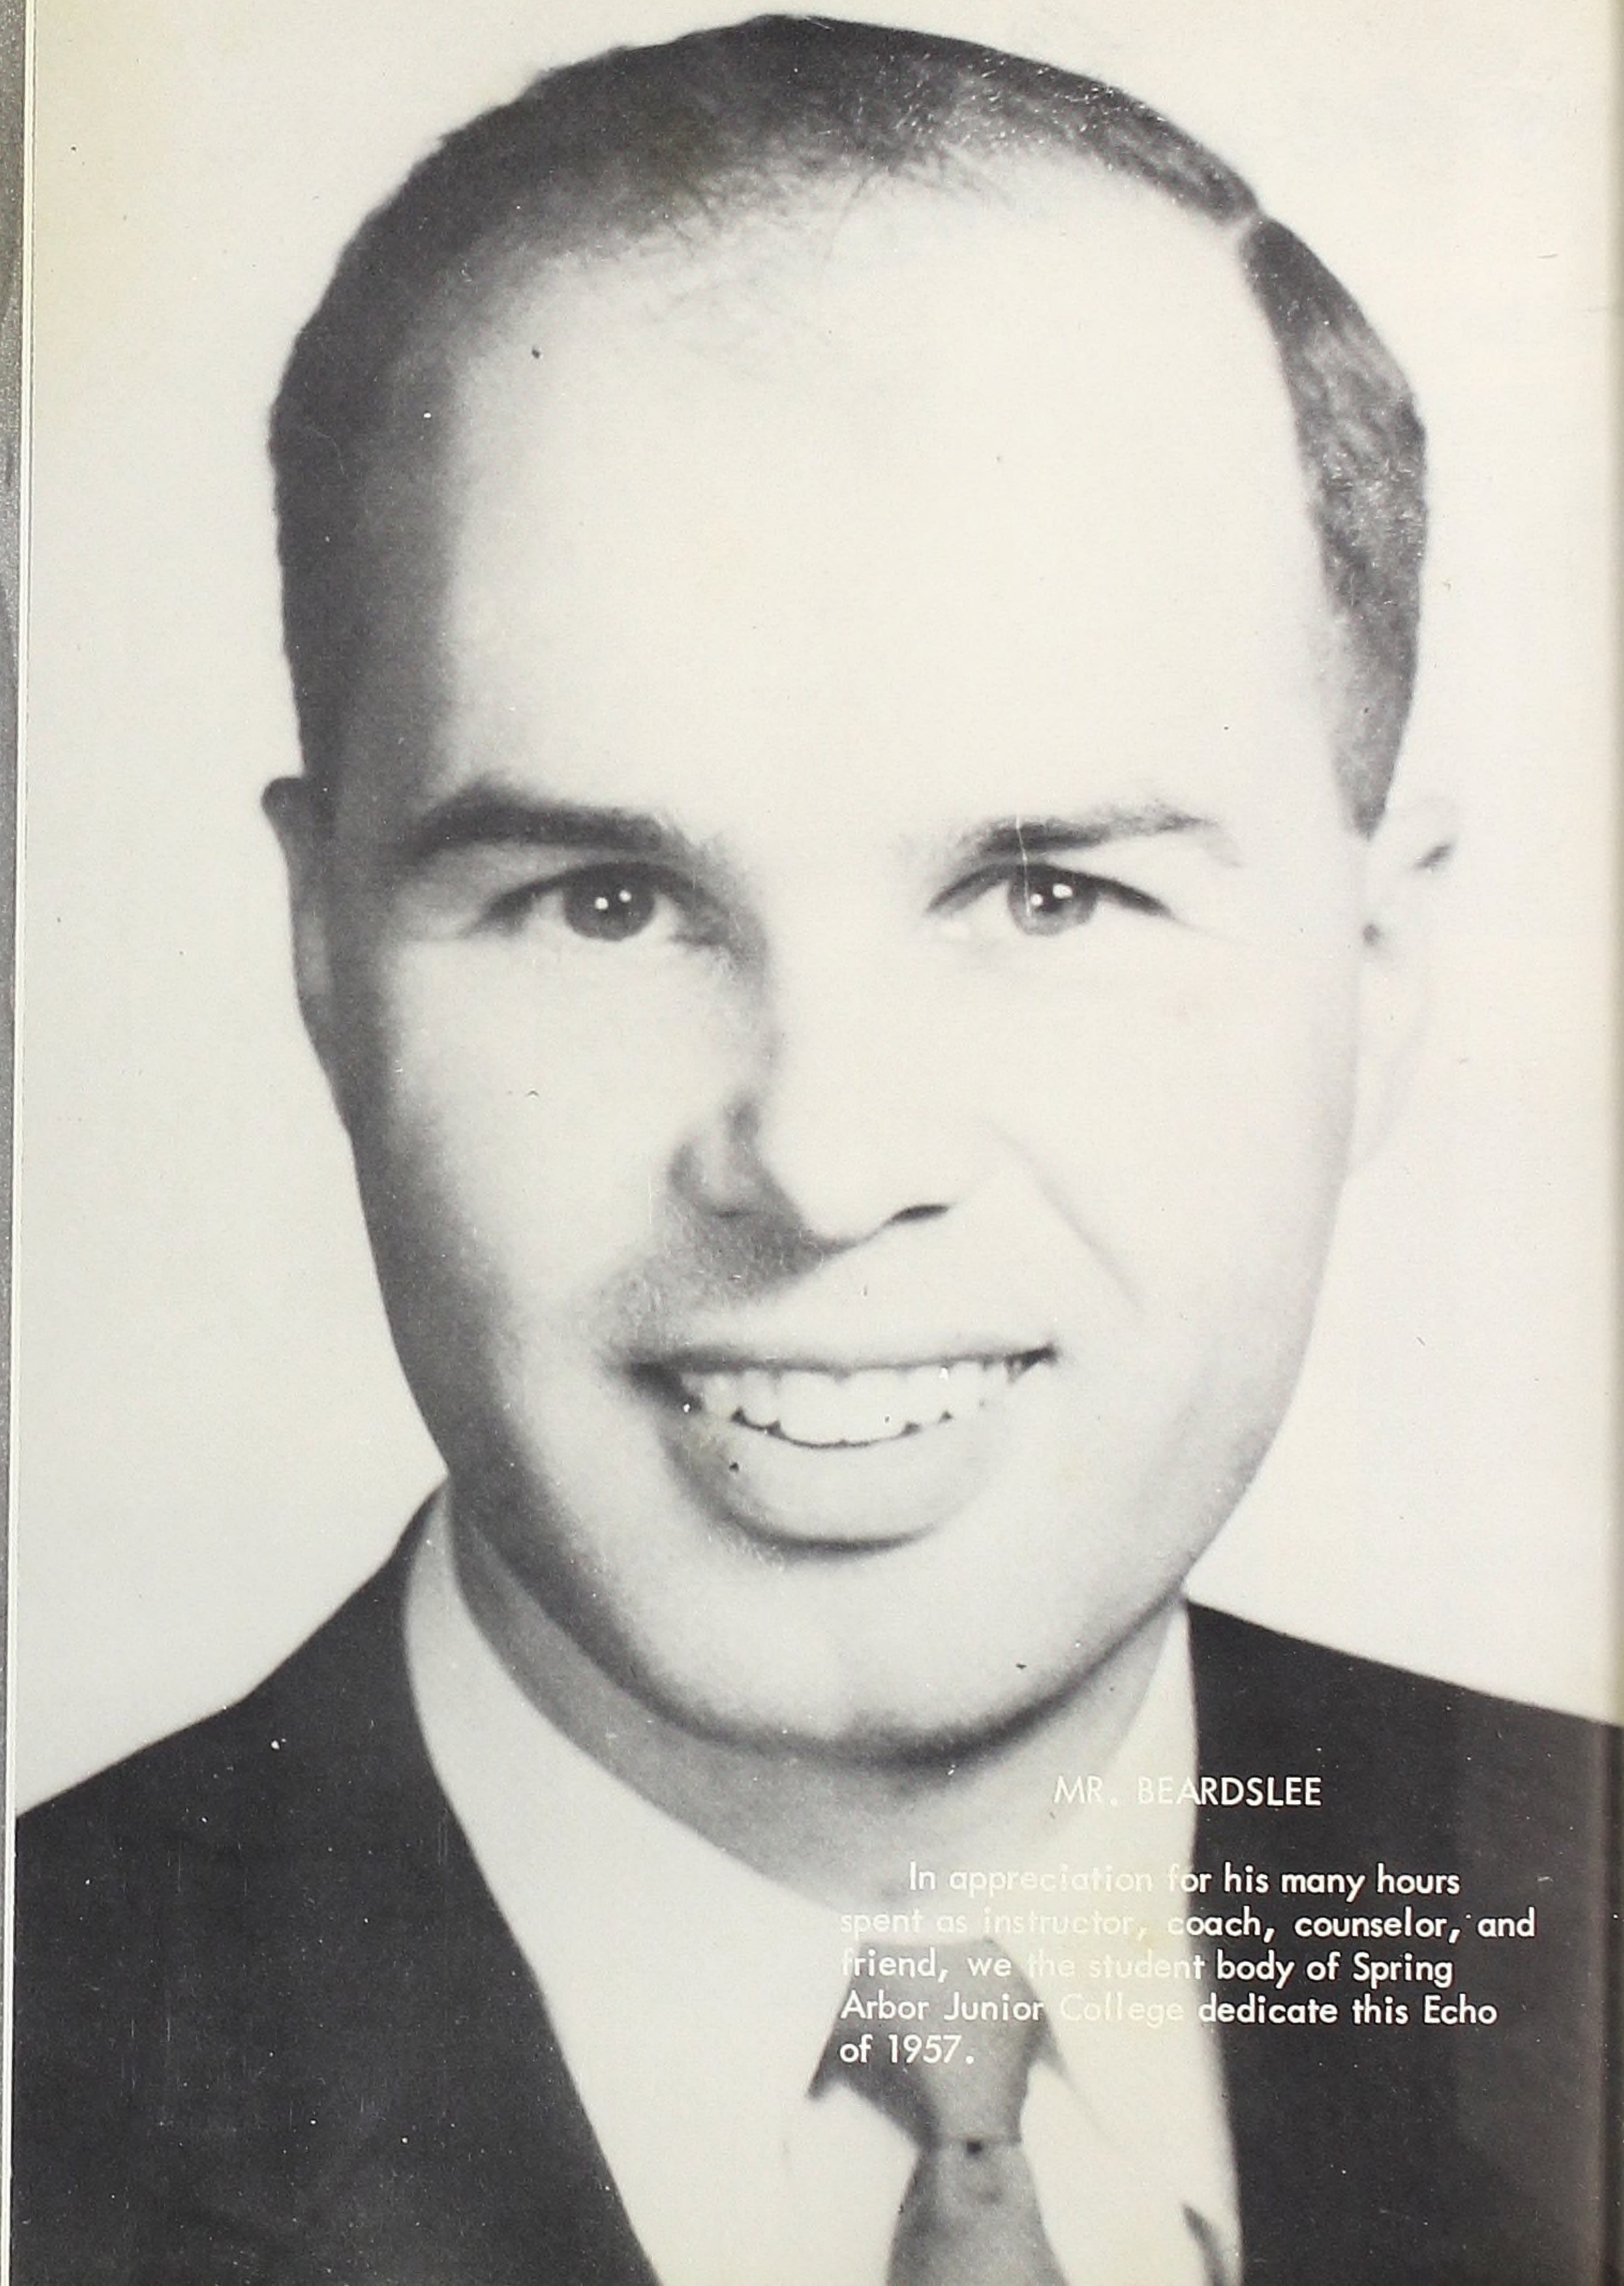

1957

It wouldn't be Spring Arbor without:

The Word

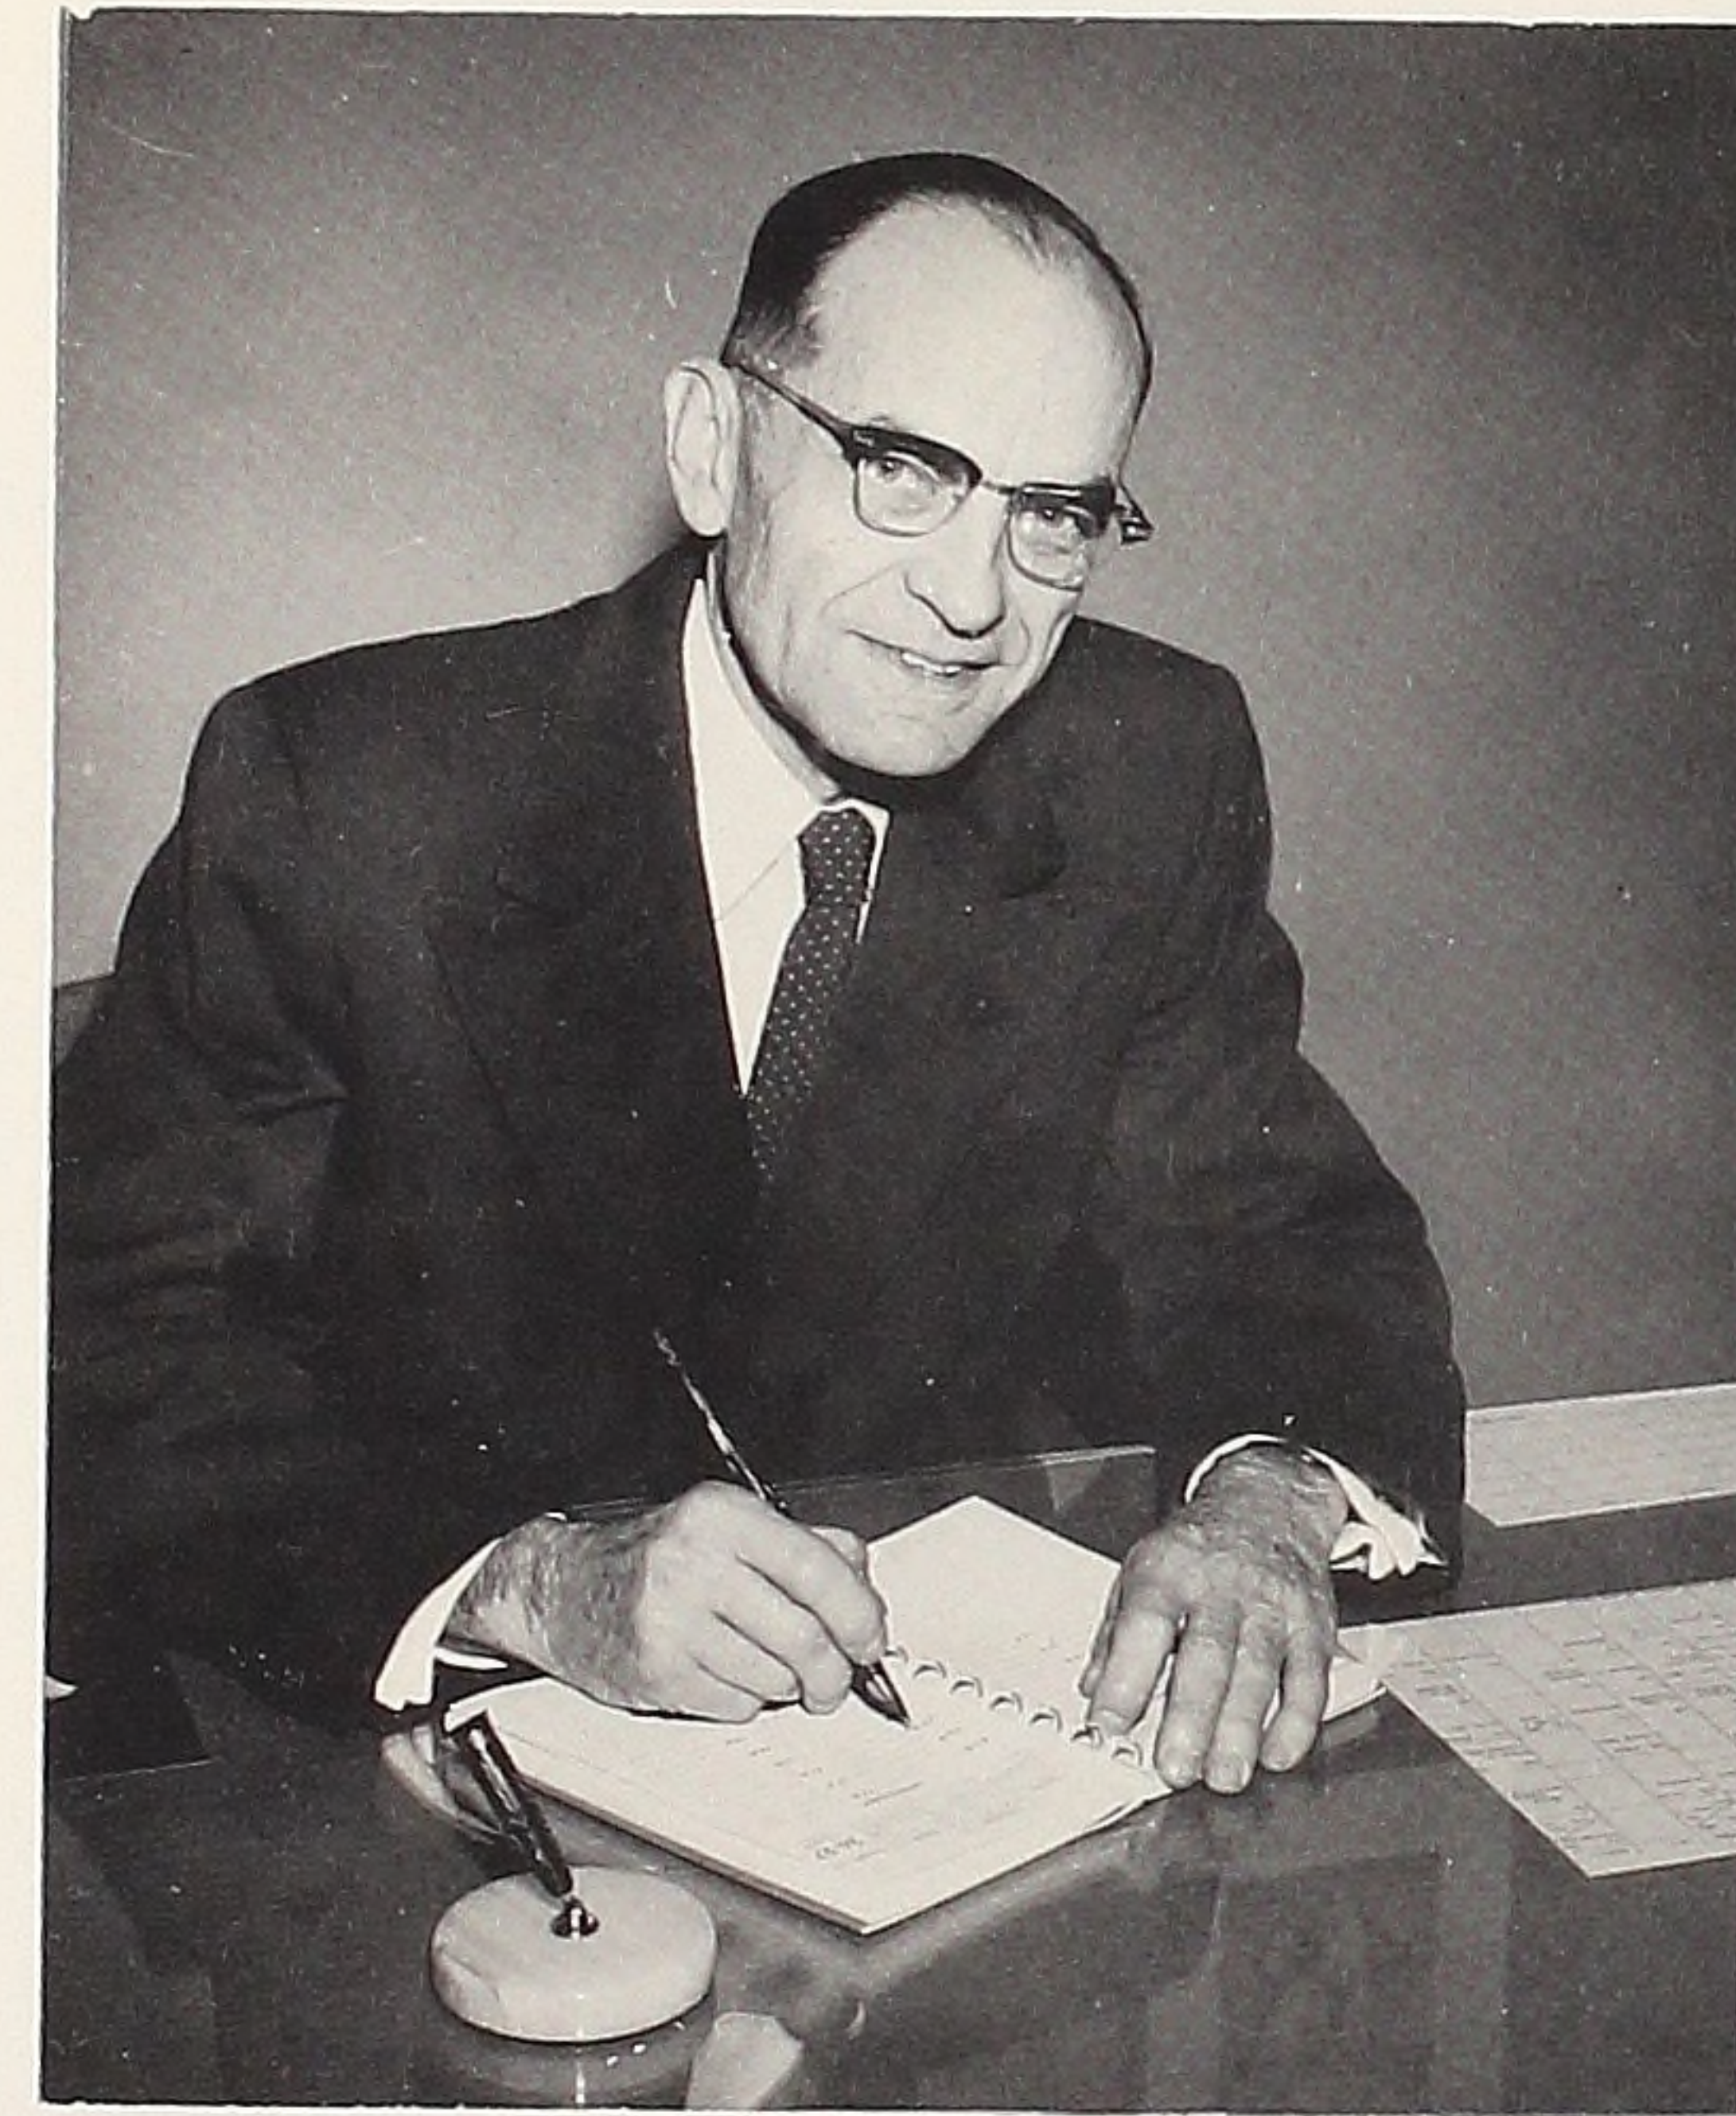

MR. BEARDSLEE

In appreciation for his many hours spent as instructor, coach, counselor, and friend, we the student body of Spring Arbor Junior College dedicate this Echo of 1957.

It wouldn't be Spring Arbor without:

Our President

Dr. Lowell

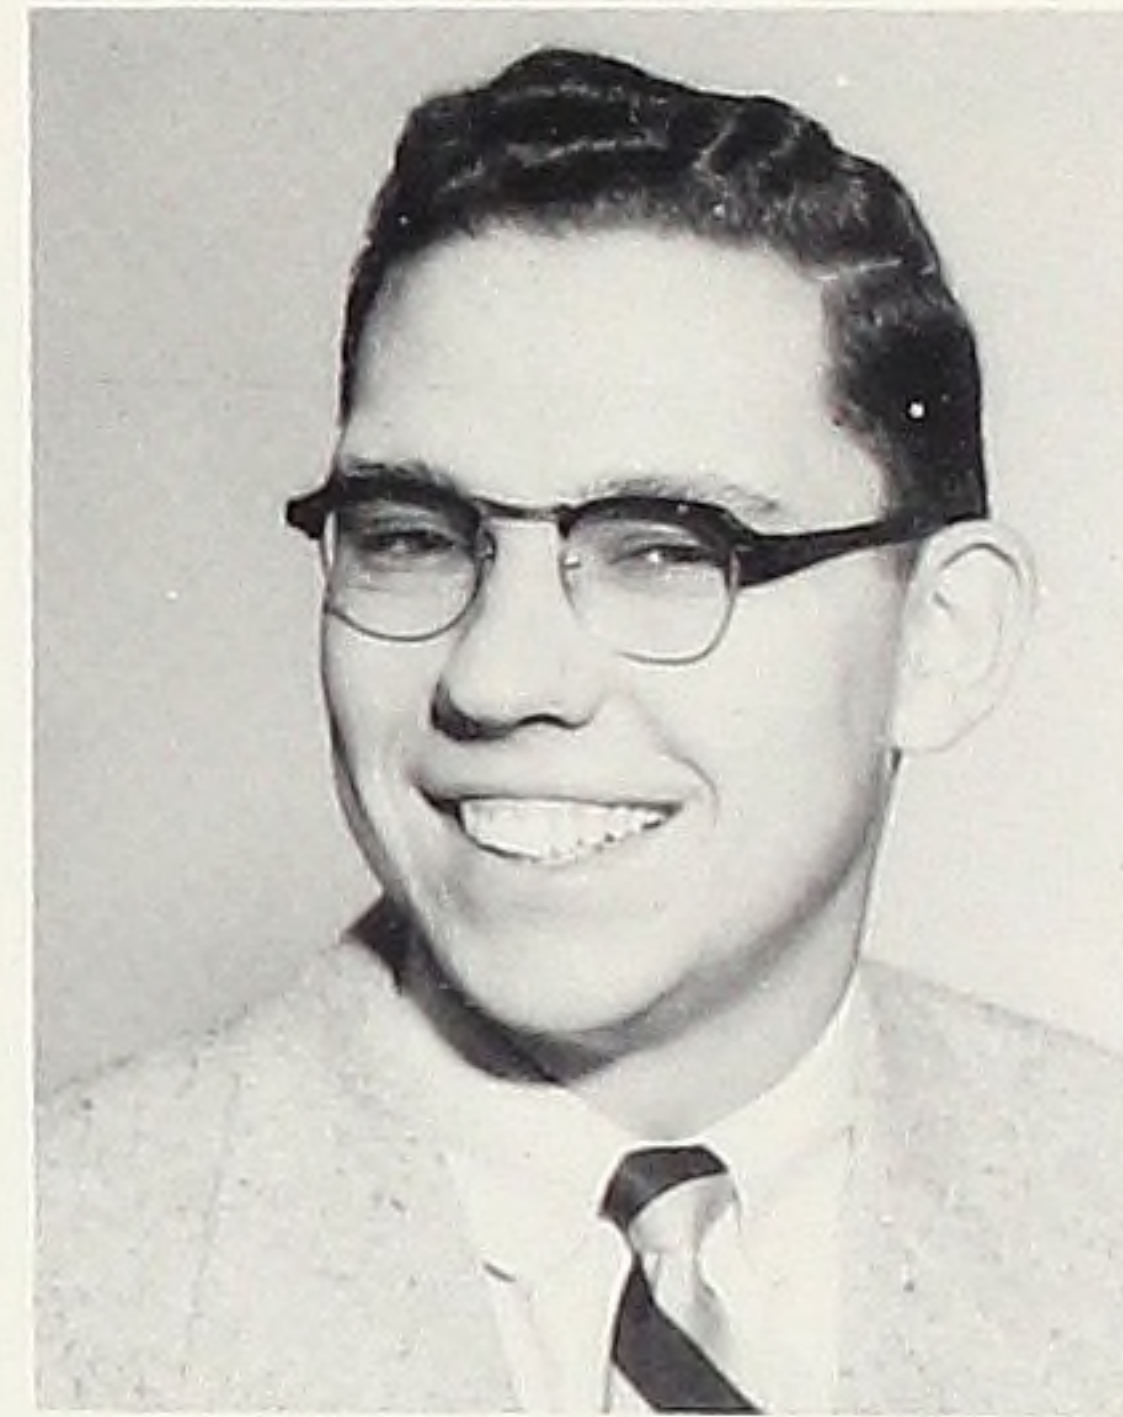

Yearbooks and Commencement just naturally go together. Which points up the fact that the penning of these words is really a farewell. I never did like to say good-by, and when it is a farewell to a group of young people like this year's students, it is doubly hard.

But enough of such sad thoughts. It has been a good year. Good because it has brought new friendships and enriched old ones. Good because there have been abundant opportunities for so much that is worth while. Even the hard things, days with low-hanging clouds and roads with hills to be climbed, have worked for good.

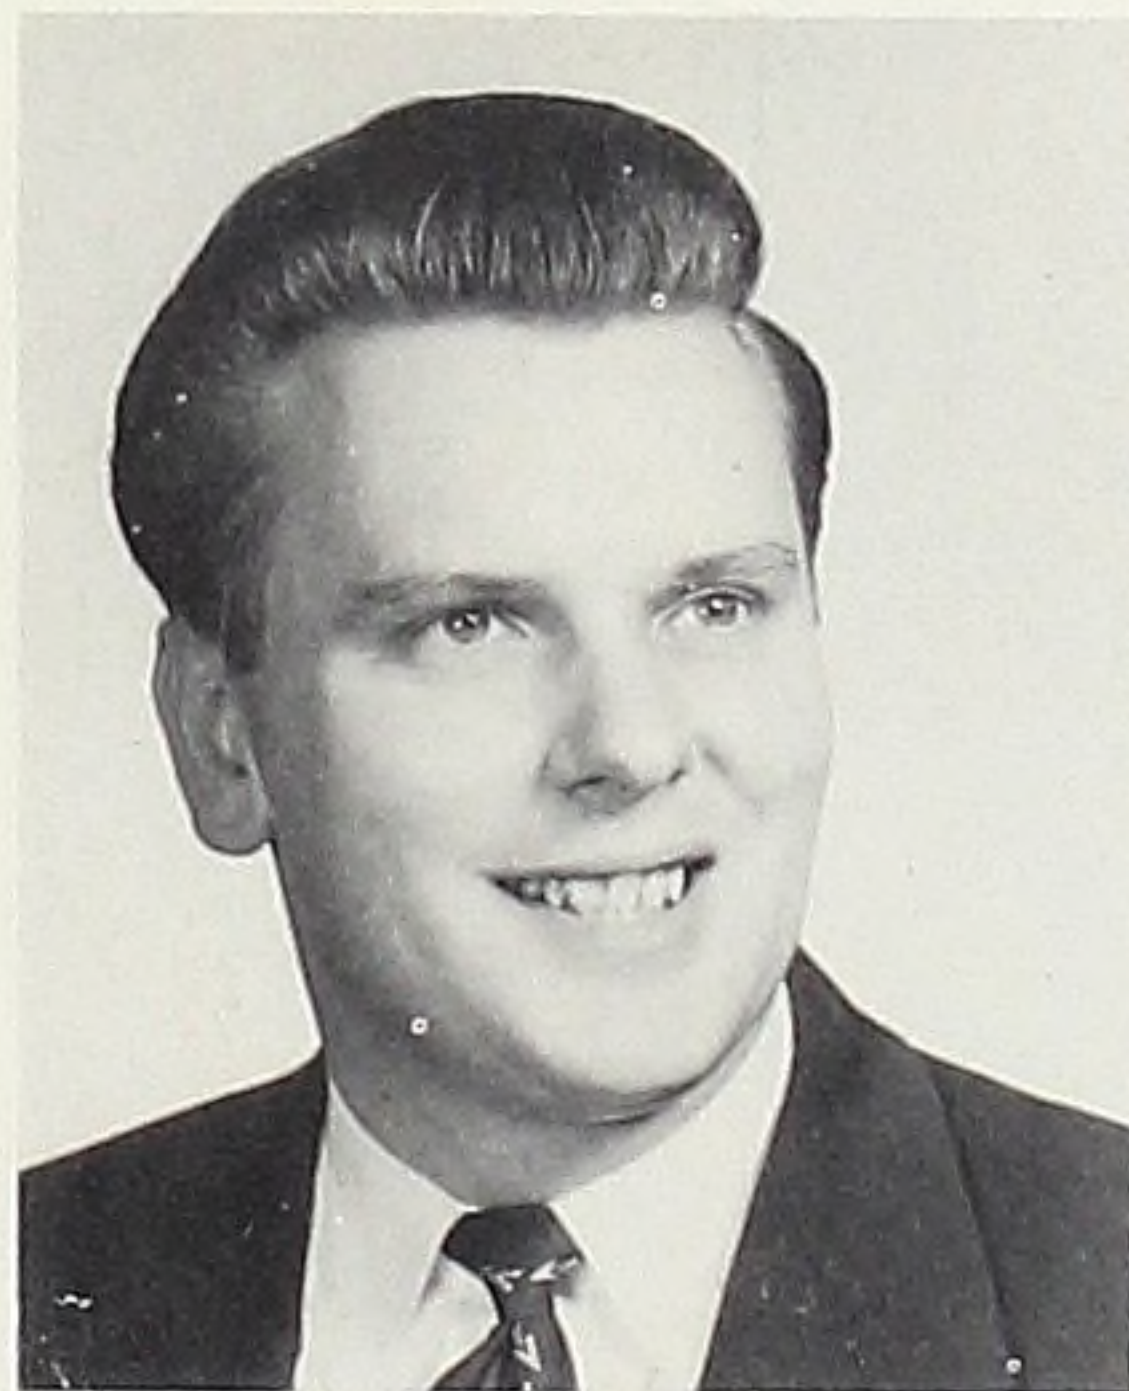

So ends another chapter in the story of life at Spring Arbor. But the book is not finished. Some of you will help write another chapter next year; others will take up the theme in a new setting. My hope for each of you is that the road will lead onward and upward. It will be so if we choose it that way. Good-by and God bless you.

LeRoy M. Lowell

In Memoriam

He was one on whom God as well as man could depend. A true friend at all times, Mr. Hath endeared himself to those who came in contact with him. His influence lives on among the youth he found joy in serving.

a matter

The enjoyment of electric and gas service depends, much like an education, on the degree to which it is used.

Wires and mains, like brain cells and nerve centers, are full of potential energies needing but to be called upon to bring to you new realms of convenience, helpfulness, and comfort.

These services are aiding in creating new standards of living, in shortening and lessening domestic labor and through the allowing of more time for relaxation, leisure and recreation, such services contribute to health, and longer and fuller lives.

These advantages, both economic and personal, are yours for but a few cents a day—one of your soundest investments.

Michigan boasts of forests and lakes;
Her beauties our hearts entwine;
But there is a spot will ne'er be forgot,
Far dearer than lake or pine.

Hail, Alma Mater! we cherish thy name,
May many more years be thine,
To spread forth thy light, with rays clear and bright,
Fulfilling thy mission divine.

Then speed the glad song and the chorus prolong,
Till the echoes reach heaven above;
Her banner unfurled shall bless the whole world,
Spring Arbor, the school we love!
