homecoming

We should place
in our permanent memories
a picture of what happened in chapel on
May 12

Moments of this kind, however,
are worth more than pictures.
Let your mental image
remind you of how God spoke to us.

sophomores

As life continues on its rigorous course, we gradually gain new insights on WHO we are. This process is often altered and revised, but we continue to grow. This year as sophomores, we have been confronted with various occasions to branch out and become more independent. We have less free time to mess around, and everyone expects more from us.

This year we grew. We have become responsible participants in this game called life. We will go on, we will succeed with the help of our God, and our friends.

Winston Churchill once said, "Men occasionally stumble onto knowledge; but most of them pick themselves up and hurry off as if nothing had happened."

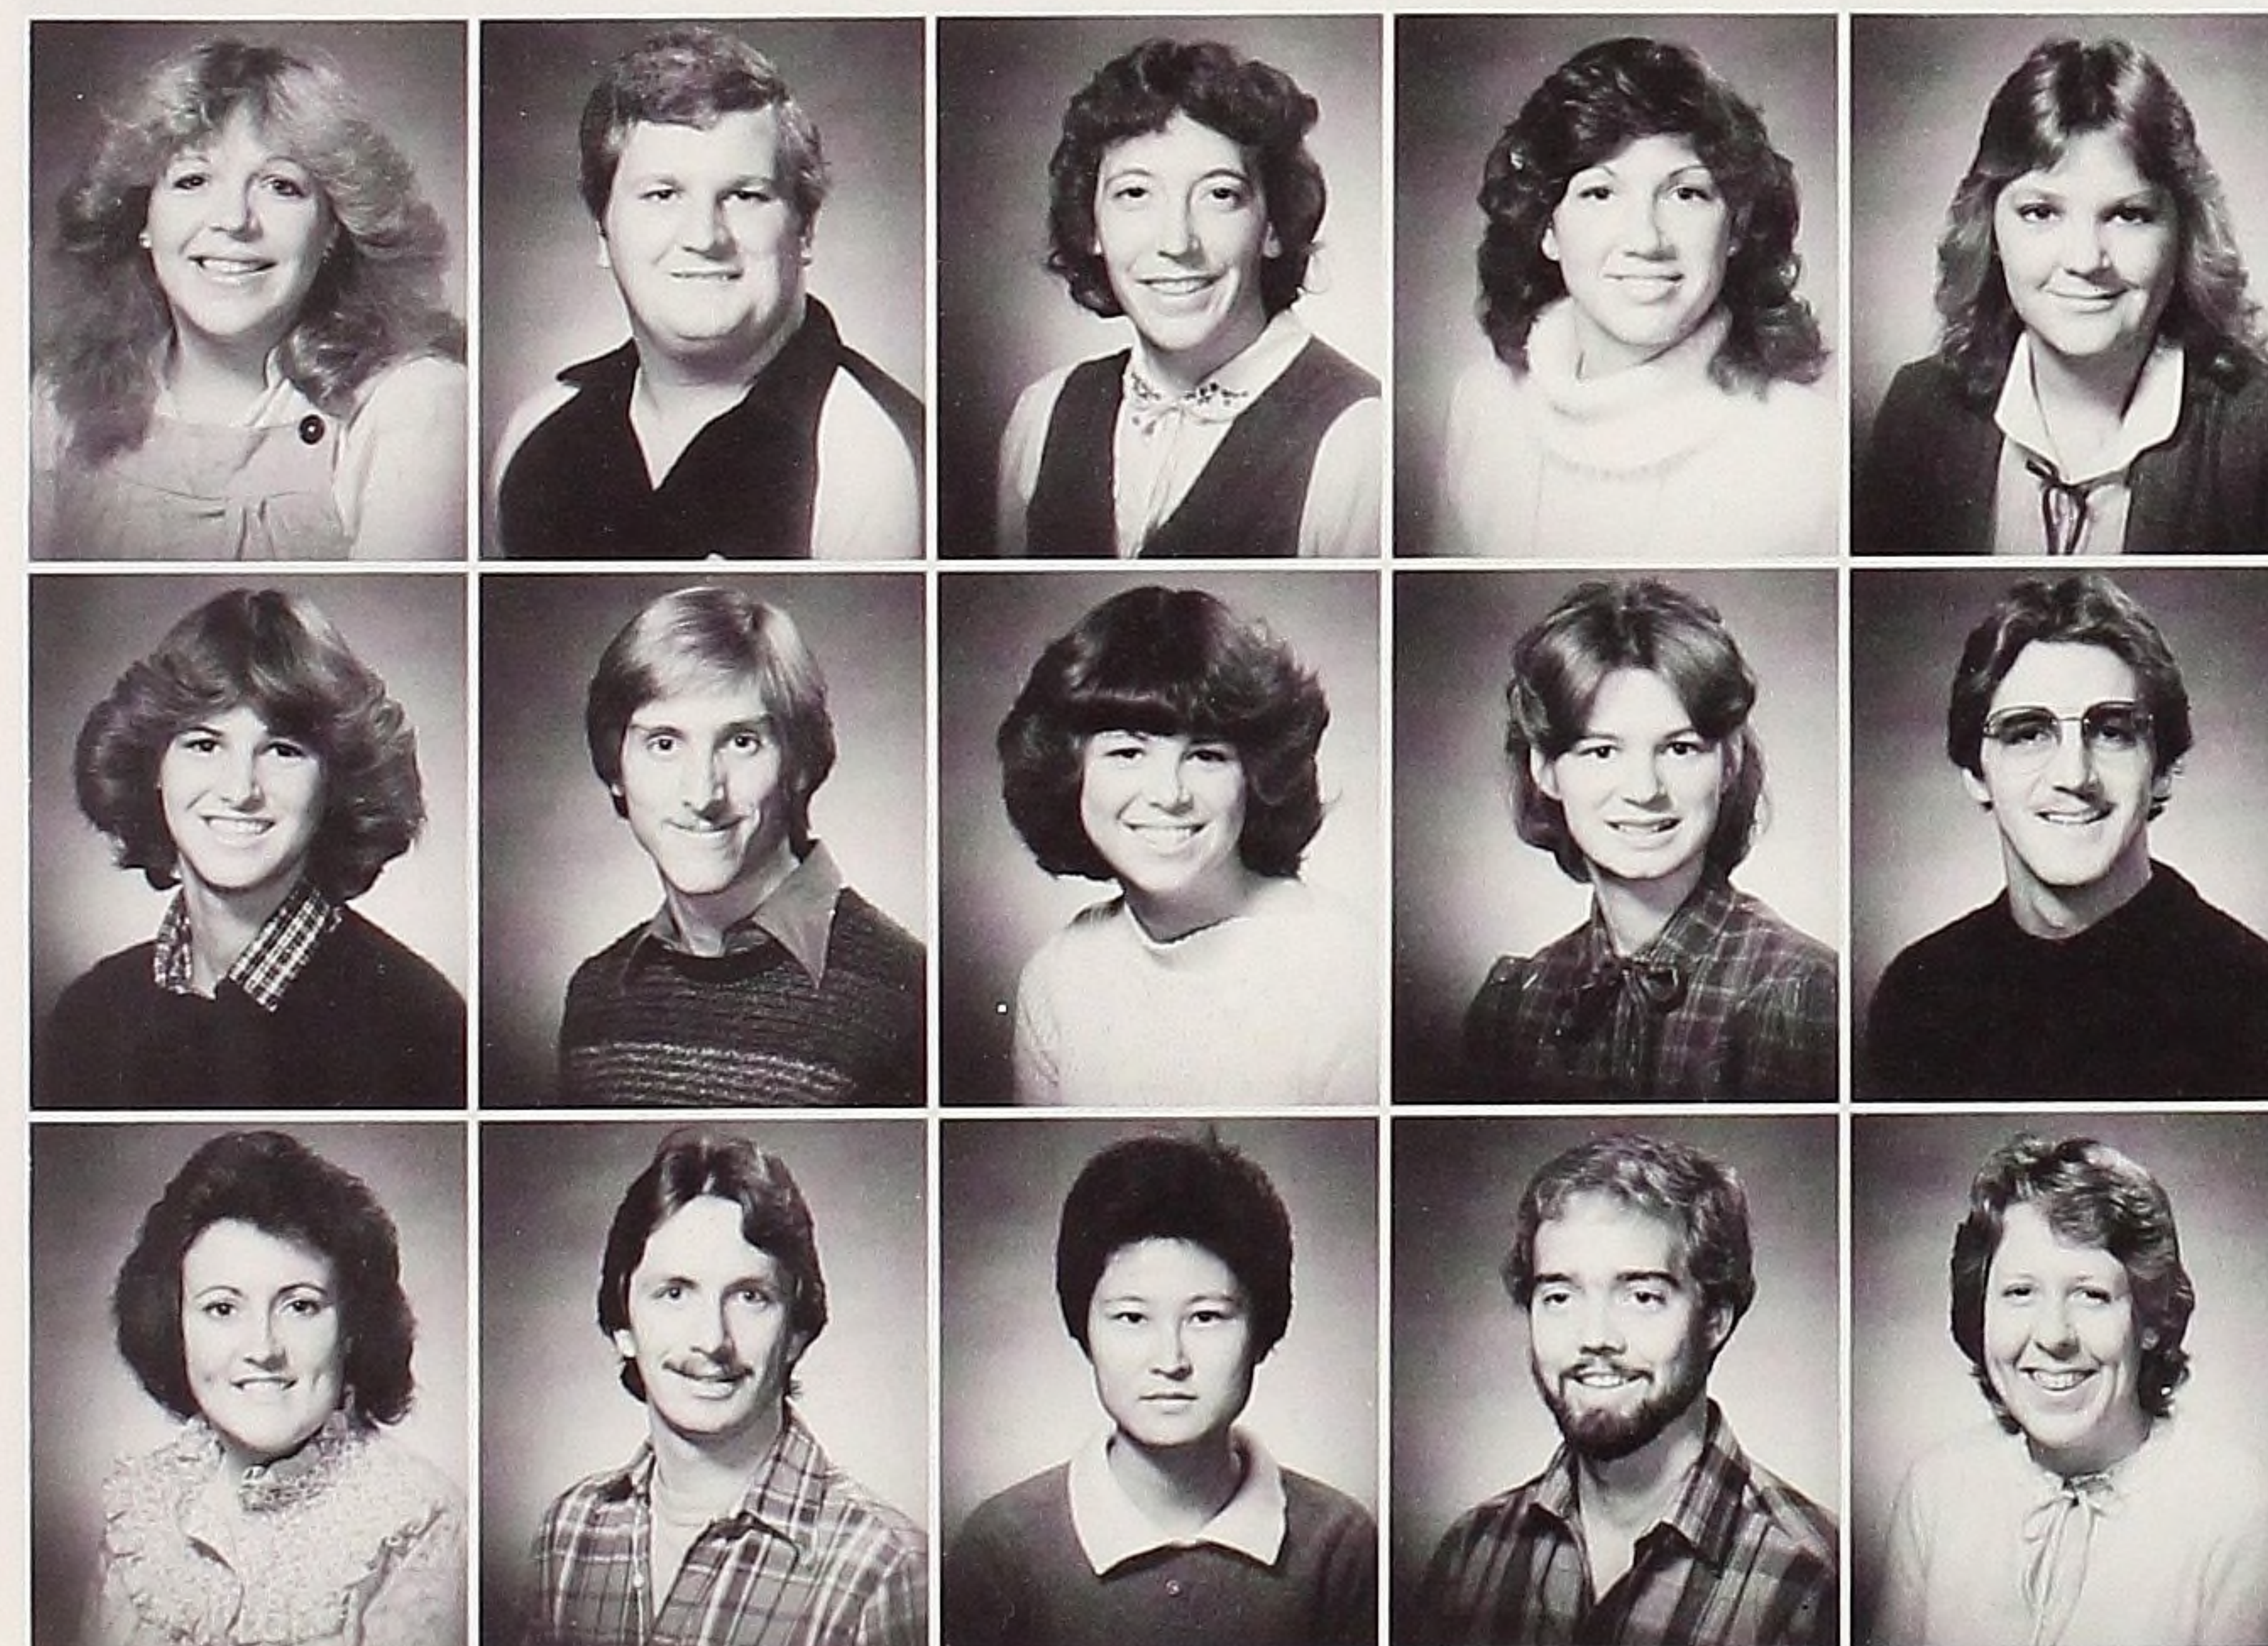

What have I learned this year? I know what I've done, but what have I learned that will have a lasting impact on my life and my world?

It's when we forget that Holocausts, Vietnams, and Kent States happen again.

I long and pray for a better memory.

Just four short years ago, I remember when we were all jammed into trucks and driven off campus to survive overnight, outside. Freshmen Development survival night, although four years ago, is still vivid in my memory as I stare out my Beta III window just thinking about the past.

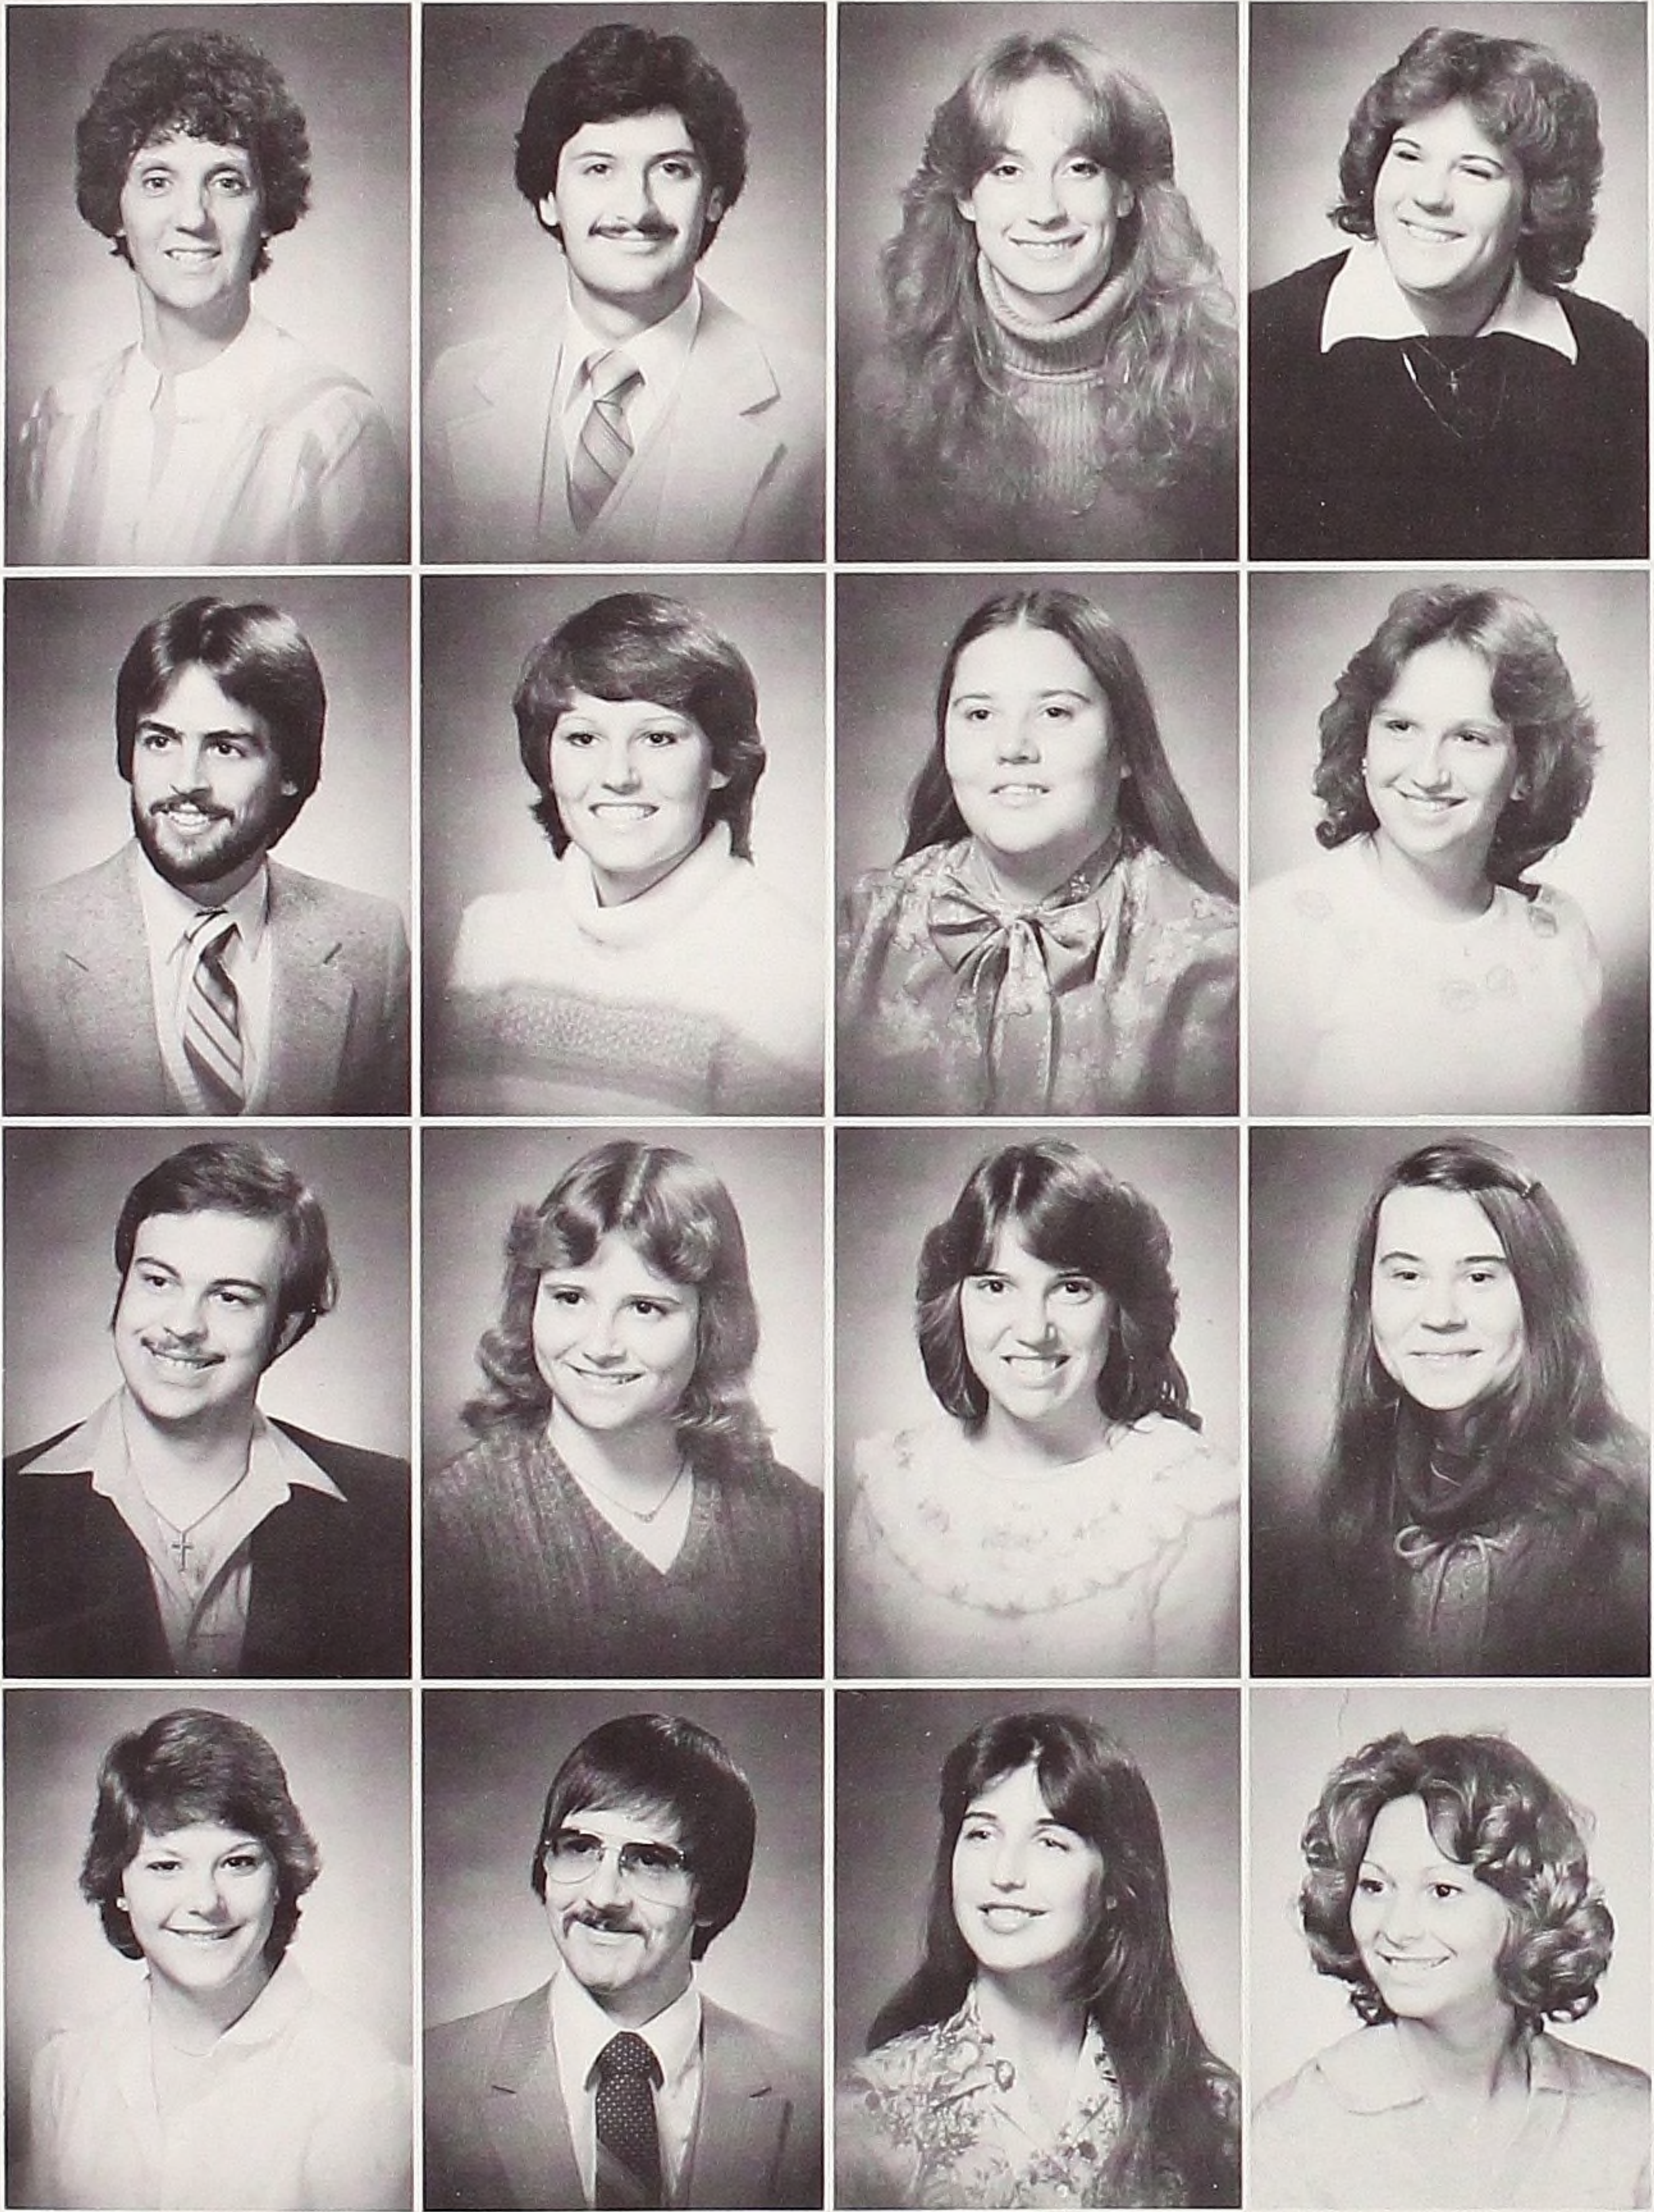

Most of us knew only a small handful of students during those first few days. For the most part, we felt as if the security blanket of our own home was taken away and our new school environment seemed unfamiliar and frightening.

We have now completed our CORE classes, philosophy, and many other requirements, and it is time to graduate. We will take with us many memories, both happy and sad.

Now as we leave Spring Arbor, some of us feel as if once again the security blanket is being taken away leaving another unfamiliar and frightening future.

UNIQUE PROGRAMS FOR PRACTICAL SCHOLARSHIP.

The Graduate School is an integral part of the distinguished 121 year history of Wheaton College. Each program leads to the M.A. degree and is designed for those seeking new levels of maturity and achievement in practical scholarship. Learning is rooted in the authority of the Scriptures, so that students are equipped to relate to the needs of contemporary society. Qualified faculty assures academic excellence in each of four departments.

WHEATON COLLEGE GRADUATE SCHOOL

PSYCHOLOGICAL STUDIES

Provides professional training in counseling psychology, emphasizing the integration of psychological and biblical perspectives of man.

COMMUNICATIONS

Offers professional training for developing and implementing communication strategy and skills. Majors include Journalism, Broadcasting, General, and Missions/Cross-Cultural Communications.

THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

Allows students to investigate biblical and theological issues in the light of recent study and discovery—all within the framework of biblical Christianity.

Other academic options:

- Interdisciplinary Program
- Certificate in English Bible
- Extension Studies

As a student at Wheaton you'll find rich opportunity for personal growth and development. But, you must take the next step. Let us hear from you today!

Evangelical Seminary

A Graduate School of Theology and Christian Ministries

WES accepts the Bible as the Word of the Living God—inspired and infallible. The centrality of the Word is emphasized in preaching, teaching, and living. The Scriptures are regarded as the supreme guide in all matters of doctrine and practice.

WES has a deep concern for the spiritual growth and maturation of every student. Bible study, prayer, worship, and other spiritual exercises are important components in the curriculum.

WES is committed to teaching and promoting the biblical message of holiness. We believe a Spirit-filled life is the privilege of every Christian and a prerequisite to effective ministry.

WES is located in the suburbs of Portland just ten miles from city center, along the east bank of the beautiful Willamette River.

Accreditation?

Association of Theological Schools and Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges

WES exists to proclaim and propagate the good news of salvation through faith in Jesus Christ. We believe that a sinner can be transformed by God's grace—forgiven, reconciled, born again. This is a vital experience everyone needs and may receive.

WES encourages personal research and personal discovery by the inductive method. Students are required to develop and articulate their own theological convictions, philosophies in ministry, and personal goals.

This little book here almost didn't happen. The dying horse stumbled into my barn about the time of Spring Break, which is not a good time to get pictures of basketball. Hence, this ECHO suffers acutely from being a last minute effort. Hopefully, future editors will grab the reins and stick with it.

The ECHO has the potential of becoming something worth looking at if only a small percentage of the talkers would become doers. One of our greatest curses as victims of higher education is that we learn how to talk more and more, but we act less and less. I'm convinced nothing irks God more.
